9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 which have been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 and guaranteed fully and unconditionally by the subsidiary guarantors listed on pages (i) and (ii) of this prospectus for any and all of the outstanding AMERCO unregistered 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009

THE EXCHANGE OFFER AND WITHDRAWAL RIGHTS WILL EXPIRE AT 5:00 P.M., NEW YORK TIME, ON _____, 2004, UNLESS EXTENDED.

We are offering to exchange up to $80,000,000 of our 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 (the “exchange notes”), which have been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, for the identical principal amount of our outstanding unregistered 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 (the “outstanding notes” or the “Series B Notes”). The aggregate principal amount at maturity of the outstanding notes, and therefore, the principal amount at maturity of exchange notes which would be issued if all the outstanding notes were exchanged, is $80,000,000. The terms of the exchange notes will be substantially identical with the terms of the outstanding notes, except that the issuance of the exchange notes is being registered under the Securities Act of 1933, and therefore the exchange notes will not be subject to the restrictions on transfer which apply to the outstanding notes.

Prior to the exchange offer, there has been no public market for the exchange notes. We do not currently intend to list the exchange notes on a securities exchange or seek approval for quotation of the exchange notes on an automated quotation system. Therefore, it is unlikely that an active trading market for the exchange notes will develop.

The exchange agent for the exchange offer is Wells Fargo Bank, N.A.

See “Risk Factors,” which begin on page 13, for a discussion of certain factors that should be considered in evaluating the exchange offer.

Neither the Securities and Exchange Commission nor any state securities commission approved or disapproved of these securities or passed upon the adequacy or accuracy of this prospectus. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

The date of this prospectus is _____, 2004.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

This prospectus incorporates important business and financial information about us that is not included in or delivered with the prospectus. This information is available without charge to security holders upon written or oral request. You may request a copy of this information, at no cost, by calling us or by writing to us at our principal executive offices in Nevada at the following address: AMERCO, 1325 Airmotive Way, Suite 100, Reno, Nevada 89502-3239, Attention: Investor Relations. Our telephone number is (775) 688-6300. In order to obtain timely delivery, you must make your request no later than five business days before the expiration of the exchange offer. The exchange offer will expire on _____, 2004, unless extended.

Our obligations under the Exchange Act to file periodic reports and other information with the SEC may be suspended, under certain circumstances, if our common stock and exchange notes are each held of record by fewer than 300 holders at the beginning of any fiscal year and are not listed on a national securities exchange. We have agreed that, whether or not we are required to do so by the rules and regulations of the SEC, for so long as any of the exchange notes remain outstanding we will furnish to the holders of the exchange notes, and if required by the Exchange Act, file with the SEC, all annual, quarterly and current reports that we are or would be required to file with the SEC pursuant to Section 13(a) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act. In addition, we have agreed that, as long as any of the outstanding notes remain outstanding, we will take such further action as any holder may reasonably request to enable such holder to sell exchange notes without registration under Rule 144(k) or Rule 144A of the Securities Act.

No person has been authorized to give any information or to make any representations, other than those contained in this prospectus. If given or made, that information or those representations may not be relied upon as having been authorized by us. This prospectus does not constitute an offer to or solicitation of any person in any jurisdiction in which such an offer or solicitation would be unlawful.

PROSPECTUS SUMMARY

The following summary highlights selected information contained elsewhere in this prospectus and may not contain all of the information that is important to you. This summary is not complete and does not contain all of the information you should consider before investing in the notes. For a more complete understanding of this exchange offer, we encourage you to read this entire document and the documents to which we have referred you.

The Company

AMERCO, a Nevada corporation (AMERCO), is the holding company for U-Haul International, Inc. (U-Haul), Amerco Real Estate Company (Real Estate), Republic Western Insurance Company (RepWest) and Oxford Life Insurance Company (Oxford). Throughout this prospectus, unless the context otherwise requires, the term “Company” refers to AMERCO and all of its legal subsidiaries. AMERCO’s executive offices are located at 1325 Airmotive Way, Suite 100, Reno, Nevada 89502-3239, and the telephone number is (775) 688-6300. As used in this prospectus, all references to a fiscal year refer to AMERCO’s fiscal year ended March 31 of that year. RepWest and Oxford are consolidated on the basis of calendar years ended December 31. Accordingly, all references to the years 2002, 2001 and 2000 for RepWest and Oxford correspond to AMERCO’s fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The Company has four industry segments represented by Moving and Storage Operations (U-Haul), Real Estate, Property and Casualty Insurance (RepWest) and Life Insurance (Oxford). See Note 22 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included in this prospectus for financial information regarding the industry segments and geographic areas.

SAC Holding Corporation and SAC Holding Corporation II, Nevada corporations (collectively, SAC Holdings), are the holding companies for several individual corporations that own self-storage properties managed by AMERCO subsidiaries in the ordinary course of business. The Company has made significant loans to SAC Holdings and is entitled to participate in certain SAC Holdings’ excess cash flows (after senior debt service). Mark V. Shoen, a significant shareholder of AMERCO and executive officer of U-Haul, owns through its parent company substantially all of the equity interest of SAC Holdings. The Company does not have an equity ownership interest in SAC Holdings, except for minority investments made by RepWest and Oxford in a SAC Holdings-controlled limited partnership, which holds Canadian self-storage properties. SAC Holdings is not a legal subsidiary of AMERCO. The Company is not liable for the debts of SAC Holdings. U-Haul currently manages the properties owned by SAC Holdings under management agreements and receives a management fee. SAC Holdings operates in one business segment — moving and storage operations. For financial reporting purposes, SAC Holdings is consolidated in our consolidated financial statements.

We are the largest do-it-yourself moving and storage company in North America. Since 1945, our moving and self-storage subsidiary, U-Haul, has developed the most recognized brand in the rental of trucks, trailers and support items to the do-it-yourself moving customer. We are the leading “one-stop shop” for customers’ residential moving and self-storage needs. As of March 31, 2003, U-Haul moving equipment was available for rent at 15,624 locations in 50 states and Canada, which we believe is more than twice the number of locations of our national competitors combined. Through the U-Haul network, do-it-yourself movers have access to the largest fleet of moving equipment available for rent. We also offer our customers an extensive line of moving and storage supplies such as boxes, tape and tow dollies. We are the second-largest operator of self-storage facilities in North America with over 1,000 locations and approximately 32.5 million square feet of total rentable self-storage space as of March 31, 2003. We also own real estate and insurance businesses that complement our U-Haul business.

We believe that our focus on do-it-yourself moving and storage customers, whose moving and self-storage needs are not necessarily correlated with general economic conditions, provides us with an operating profile that is less vulnerable to economic downturns. A substantial majority of U-Haul’s rental revenues are generated from residential do-it-yourself movers. Demand for our products and services is driven primarily by the mobility of the population resulting from, among other things, changes in employment, housing preference and marital status. Our self-storage business also provides us with a predictable revenue stream given that the duration of the industry average storage space rental is over 13 months.

As of March 31, 2003, we had over 92,000 trucks, 73,000 trailers and 19,000 tow dollies available for rent, a majority of which are owned by us.

Our real estate and insurance businesses support our core do-it-yourself moving and storage focus. Real Estate acquires properties for the development of, or conversion into, U-Haul Centers and/or self-storage facilities. RepWest provides property and casualty insurance to us and insures U-Haul's customers, dealers and independent third parties. The majority of our U-Haul customers purchase RepWest products. We believe that these business lines assist us in maintaining our competitive advantages in the do-it-yourself moving and storage businesses. In addition, RepWest's business activities include direct and assumed reinsurance underwriting. Oxford originates and reinsures annuities, credit life and disability, life insurance and supplemental health products.

Recent Developments

Emergence From Chapter 11 Restructuring. On June 20, 2003, AMERCO filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. Amerco Real Estate Company also filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 on August 13, 2003. AMERCO's other subsidiaries were not included in either of the filings. The Chapter 11 filing was undertaken to facilitate a restructuring of AMERCO's debt in response to liquidity issues, which developed in the second half of 2002. These liquidity issues began when our prior independent auditors advised the Company in 2002 that its financial statements would have to be restated to consolidate, for reporting purposes, SAC Holdings. This consolidation, and the resulting lack of clarity regarding AMERCO's operating results and financial condition, contributed substantially and directly to a series of significant developments adversely impacting the Company's access to capital. The consolidation of SAC Holdings resulted in a material decrease in the Company's net worth and a corresponding increase in its leverage ratios. Consolidating SAC Holdings also required a costly and time-consuming restatement of prior period results that led to the untimely filing of quarterly and annual reports with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

As this situation was occurring, AMERCO was attempting to negotiate and replace its then existing revolving credit facility and complete a $275 million bond offering. Although we were able to successfully renegotiate our revolving credit facility, the amount of the facility was substantially reduced. We were not able to successfully complete the $275 million bond offering, exemplifying AMERCO's significantly reduced access to the capital markets to meet its financial needs due to, among other things, the confusion and adverse perception resulting from the SAC Holdings consolidation. As a result of our failure to complete the $275 million bond offering, we did not have sufficient funds to meet our maturity obligations for our Series 1997-C Bond Backed Asset Trust (BBAT) and related SWAP agreements which were due on October 15, 2002. Our inability to meet these maturity obligations resulted in a default on BBAT obligations, which led to cross-defaults and an acceleration of substantially all of the other outstanding instruments in the Company's debt structure. Although we worked diligently with our creditors to resolve and cure or restructure these defaults, we were left with no viable alternative but to seek Chapter 11 protection, which we did on June 20, 2003.

On March 15, 2004, we emerged from Chapter 11 (less than nine months from our petition date) with full payment to our creditors and with no dilution to our stockholders. In connection with our emergence from bankruptcy, we believe our balance sheet is strengthened, having restructured over $1.2 billion in debt and lease obligations. Following is a summary of the highlights of our completed plan of reorganization and new financial structure. For a more detailed description of our new capital structure, see "Description of the Exchange Notes"; "Description of Other Indebtedness and Other Obligations"; and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations — Liquidity and Capital Resources."

Table of Contents

Exit Financing Facility

We entered into a new $550 million credit facility with a banking syndicate led and arranged by Wells Fargo Foothill, a part of Wells Fargo & Company (the “Exit Financing Facility”). The Exit Financing Facility consists of two components, a $200 million revolving credit facility (including a $50 million letter of credit sub-facility) and a $350 million amortizing term loan. The proceeds we received from the Exit Financing Facility were used primarily to satisfy the claims of the creditors in our Chapter 11 proceeding and pay related fees and expenses incurred in connection therewith.

The $350 million amortizing term loan calls for monthly principal payments of $291,667 and monthly interest payments with the balance due on maturity in 2009. Advances under the revolving credit facility are based on a borrowing base formula which is based on a percentage of the value of our eligible real estate and rental vehicles. On March 15, 2004 (the date of our Chapter 11 emergence), outstanding advances under the revolving credit facility totaled $165 million and $35 million was available to borrow. The Exit Financing Facility is secured by a first priority position in substantially all of the assets of AMERCO and its subsidiaries, except for our notes receivable from SAC Holdings, real estate subject to synthetic leases, certain real property held for sale on the date of our emergence from bankruptcy (which property secures the New AMERCO Notes) and the capital stock of our insurance subsidiaries.

9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes

AMERCO issued $200 million aggregate principal amount of 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009. AMERCO issued an aggregate principal amount of $120 million of these notes to our existing creditors in connection with our emergence from Chapter 11 bankruptcy and we issued $80 million aggregate principal amount to new investors in a private placement exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act. This prospectus is for the purpose of offering to exchange $80 million aggregate principal amount of registered 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 for an identical amount of the unregistered 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 that were issued to the new investors in connection with our emergence from bankruptcy. These notes represent our senior secured obligations and rank pari passu in right of payment to all other indebtedness of AMERCO, including our obligations under the Exit Financing Facility. These notes are secured by a second priority position in the same collateral which secures our obligations under the Exit Financing Facility. See “Description of the Exchange Notes.”

New AMERCO Notes

AMERCO issued 12% senior subordinated notes due 2011 in the aggregate principal amount of $148,646,137 (the “New AMERCO Notes”) to our unsecured creditors in the Chapter 11 proceeding. No principal payments are due on the New AMERCO Notes until maturity. These notes, which are subordinated to all of AMERCO’s senior indebtedness (including the Exit Financing Facility and the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009), are secured by certain assets of AMERCO, including the capital stock of our life insurance subsidiary (Oxford Life Insurance Company), real property having an approximate book value of $7.7 million that is under contract for sale on March 15, 2004 (the date of our emergence from Chapter 11), 75% of the net proceeds in excess of $50 million associated with the settlement, judgment or recovery related to our litigation against PricewaterhouseCoopers (after deduction of attorneys’ fees and costs and taxes payable with respect to such proceeds), and payments from notes receivable from SAC Holdings having an aggregate outstanding principal balance at March 15, 2004 of approximately $203.8 million.

New SAC Holdings Senior Notes

In connection with AMERCO’s Chapter 11 bankruptcy restructuring, our SAC Holdings affiliates agreed to issue to creditors in our Chapter 11 proceeding 8.5% senior notes due 2014 in aggregate principal amount of $200 million (the “New SAC Holdings Notes”). The issuance of these notes by SAC Holdings was part of an agreed upon set of transactions in connection with our bankruptcy reorganization plan which had the effect of eliminating $200 million of notes receivable from SAC Holdings that were previously held by AMERCO.

Restructuring of Synthetic Lease Arrangements

At the time of our emergence from bankruptcy, Amerco Real Estate restructured approximately $249.5 million of our obligations under synthetic lease arrangements (the “Synthetic Leases”). As part of this restructuring we paid down approximately $31 million of obligations under the Synthetic Leases and entered into new lease agreements with the lessors. Our obligations under the new Synthetic Leases are approximately $218.5 million. The new lease agreements are for a term of three years, and include four one year renewal options.

The purpose of these leases was to finance the purchase of self-storage properties and construct self-storage facilities on existing properties. AMERCO continues to guarantee each of these restructured Synthetic Leases. Title to the real property subject to these leases is in the name of off balance sheet special purpose entities. These entities are lessors who then lease the properties to one or more subsidiaries of AMERCO.

Our approved Chapter 11 plan of reorganization contemplates that our obligations under the Synthetic Leases will be satisfied when the real property subject to the leases is sold to a third party. We anticipate that such a transaction will be closed into escrow by March 31, 2004. As a result of such transaction, we expect that over approximately the next 24 months we will be reimbursed for capital improvements we made to the leased properties. In addition, as part of this transaction U-Haul will enter into arrangements to manage these properties that will allow us to continue to operate them as part of the U-Haul moving and self-storage system.

Upgraded Ratings of AMERCO Life Insurance Subsidiaries. A.M. Best Co. recently upgraded the financial strength ratings to B- (fair) from C+ (weak) of Oxford Life Insurance Company and its subsidiaries Christian Fidelity Life Insurance Company and North American Insurance Company. The rating outlook for all three companies is positive. Although our life insurance subsidiaries continue to face challenges to regain their marketing momentum, we believe these rating upgrades will favorably impact the operations of our life insurance subsidiaries.

Financial Statement Re-audit and Resulting Restatement of 2002 and 2001 Financial Statements. BDO Seidman, LLP (BDO) has completed the re-audit of the financial statements of AMERCO and its subsidiaries and SAC Holdings and its subsidiaries for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2002 and 2001. In connection with this re-audit, it was determined that there was a need for the Company to record adjustments relating to insurance reserves for prior periods at AMERCO and its subsidiary, RepWest; to adjust for recognizing losses of Private Mini pursuant to the equity method; as well as other significant adjustments. These adjustments have resulted in the restatement of the Company’s financial statements for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2002 and 2001.

	As Previously Reported	Restated	As Previously Reported	Restated
	(In thousands)
Revenues	2,058,506	2,193,579	1,882,447	2,029,480
Net earnings (loss)	2,721	(47,440)	1,012	(42,110)

This report contains restated consolidated financial statements for the years ended March 31, 2002 and 2001, and for the quarters ended in the periods ended March 31, 2002 and December 31, 2002.

The major components for the restatement were related to 1) insurance and 2) the equity loss recognition of Private Mini by AMERCO. For 2002 the insurance related after tax adjustment was $45 million and for 2001 it was $38 million. The Private Mini related adjustment for 2002 was $7 million and for 2001 it was $5.7 million.

As a result of the restatement, total assets as of March 31, 2002 decreased from $3,773,455 to $3,732,317 and total stockholders’ equity as of March 31, 2002 decreased from $499,106 to $381,524.

For more information about the reinstatements, see Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in this prospectus.

SEC Investigation. The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has issued a formal order of investigation to determine whether the Company has violated the Federal securities laws. On January 7, 2003, the Company received the first of four subpoenas issued by the SEC. SAC Holdings, the Company's current and former auditors, and others have also received one or more subpoenas relating to this matter. The Company is cooperating fully with the SEC and is facilitating the expeditious review of its financial statements and any other issues that may arise. The Company has produced a large volume of documents and other materials in response to the subpoenas, and the Company is continuing to assemble and produce additional documents and materials for the SEC. Although the Company has fully cooperated with the SEC in this matter and intends to continue to fully cooperate, the SEC may determine that the Company has violated Federal securities laws. We cannot predict when this investigation will be completed or its outcome. If the SEC makes a determination that we have violated Federal securities laws, we may face sanctions, including, but not limited to, significant monetary penalties and injunctive relief.

Arizona Department of Insurance Supervision of Republic Western. On May 20, 2003, RepWest consented to an Order for Supervision issued by the Arizona Department of Insurance (DOI). The DOI determined that RepWest's level of risk based capital ("RBC") allowed for regulatory control. Pursuant to this order and Arizona law, during the period of supervision, RepWest may not engage in any of the following activities without the prior approval of the DOI:

- a. dispose of, convey or encumber any of its assets or its business in force;
- b. withdraw any of its bank accounts;
- c. lend any of its funds;
- d. invest any of its funds;
- e. transfer any of its property;
- f. incur any debt, obligation or liability including the issuance of all new and renewal business;
- g. merge or consolidate with another company;
- h. enter into any new reinsurance contract or treaty; or
- i. enter into any affiliate transactions

In order to abate the DOI's order, RepWest must establish that it possesses surplus in compliance with Arizona law and as the Arizona Director of Insurance may require based on type, volume or nature of its business pursuant to Arizona law and establish that certain credit risks associated with the exposures to AMERCO and its affiliates have been eliminated.

If RepWest fails to satisfy the requirements to abate DOI's concerns, the DOI may take further action, including, but not limited to, commencing a conservatorship.

In April 2003, RepWest announced that in connection with the Company's overall restructuring efforts, it is redirecting its operating focus. In particular, RepWest is exiting non-U-Haul related lines of business. This exit has resulted in near term losses as these lines were eliminated.

Issuance of the Outstanding Notes

The outstanding $80 million principal amount 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 were sold by us to investors on March 15, 2004 pursuant to a purchase agreement dated March 1, 2004, between the initial purchasers and us. We and the initial purchasers also entered into a registration rights agreement pursuant to which we agreed to offer to exchange the exchange notes registered under the Securities Act for the outstanding notes and also granted holders of outstanding notes rights under some circumstances to have resales of outstanding notes registered under the Securities Act. The exchange offer is intended to satisfy certain of our obligations under the registration rights agreement. See "Description of the Exchange Notes — Registered Exchange Offer; Registration Rights" and "The Exchange Offer — Purposes and Effects."

Table of Contents

The outstanding notes were issued under an indenture dated as of March 1, 2004, between AMERCO, its subsidiary guarantors and Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., as trustee. The exchange notes also are being issued under the indenture and are entitled to the benefits of the indenture. The form and terms of the exchange notes will be identical in all material respects with the form and terms of the outstanding notes, except that (1) the exchange notes will have been registered under the Securities Act and, therefore, will not bear legends describing restrictions on transferring them, and (2) holders of exchange notes will not be, and upon the completion of the exchange offer, holders of outstanding notes will no longer be, entitled to certain rights under the registration rights agreement intended for the holders of unregistered securities. The exchange offer will be deemed completed upon the delivery by us to the exchange agent under the indenture of exchange notes in the same aggregate principal amount as the aggregate principal amount of outstanding notes that are validly tendered and not withdrawn by holders of them in response to the exchange offer. See “The Exchange Offer — Termination of Certain Rights” and “— Procedures for Tendering” and “Description of the Exchange Notes.”

We will receive no proceeds from completion of the exchange offer. The proceeds we received from the issuance of the outstanding notes were used to satisfy the claims of existing creditors and provide working capital in connection with our Chapter 11 plan of reorganization.

Our principal executive office in Nevada is located at 1325 Airmotive Way, Suite 100, Reno, Nevada 89502-3239, and our telephone number there is (775) 688-6300. Information about our company is provided through our website www.amerco.com. Information on this website is not incorporated by reference in or otherwise part of this prospectus.

Summary Description of the Exchange Offer

The Exchange Offer	We are offering to exchange $80 million of our 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 for identical principal amounts of our outstanding unregistered 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009. At the date of this prospectus, $80 million principal amount at maturity of outstanding notes are outstanding. See “The Exchange Offer — Terms of the Exchange Offer.”
Expiration of the Exchange Offer	5:00 p.m., New York time, on _____, 2004, unless the exchange offer is extended (the day on which the exchange offer expires being the expiration date). See “The Exchange Offer — Expiration Date; Extension; Termination; Amendments.”
Conditions of the Exchange Offer	The exchange offer is not conditioned upon any minimum principal amount of outstanding notes being tendered for exchange. However, the exchange offer is subject to certain customary conditions, which we may waive. See “The Exchange Offer — Conditions of the Exchange Offer.”
Accrued Interest on the Outstanding Notes	The exchange notes will bear interest at the rate of 9.0% per annum from and including their date of issuance. When the first interest payment is made with regard to the exchange notes, we will also pay interest on the outstanding notes which are exchanged, from the date they were issued or the most recent interest date on which interest had been paid (if applicable) to, but not including, the day the exchange notes are issued. Interest on the outstanding notes which are exchanged will cease to accrue on the day prior to the day on which the exchange notes are issued. The interest rate on the outstanding notes may increase under certain circumstances if we are not in compliance with our obligations under the registration rights agreement or the indenture. See “Description of the Exchange Notes.”
Procedures for Tendering the Outstanding	A holder of outstanding notes who wishes to accept the exchange offer must complete, sign and date a letter of transmittal, or a facsimile of one, in accordance with the instructions contained under the “The Exchange Offer — Procedures for Tendering” and in the letter of transmittal, and deliver the letter of transmittal, or facsimile, together with the outstanding notes and any other required documentation to the exchange agent at the address set forth in “The Exchange Offer – Exchange Agent.” Outstanding notes will be delivered physically. By executing a letter of transmittal, a holder will represent to us that, among other things, the person acquiring the outstanding notes will be doing so in the ordinary course of the person’s business, whether or not the person is the holder, that neither the holder nor any other person is engaged in, or intends to engage in, or has an arrangement or understanding with any person to participate in, the distribution of the exchange notes and that neither the holder nor any such other person is an “affiliate,” as defined under Rule 405 of the Securities Act. Each broker or dealer that receives exchange notes for its own account in exchange for outstanding notes which were acquired by the broker or dealer as a result of market-making activities or other trade activities, must acknowledge that it will deliver a prospectus in connection with any resale of the exchange notes. See “The Exchange Offer — Procedures for Tendering.”

Guaranteed Delivery Procedures

Eligible holders of outstanding notes who wish to tender their outstanding notes and (1) whose outstanding notes are not immediately available or (2) who cannot deliver their outstanding notes or any other documents required by the letter of transmittal to the exchange agent prior to the expiration date, may tender their outstanding notes according to the guaranteed delivery procedures described in the letter of transmittal. See “The Exchange Offer — Guaranteed Delivery Procedures.”

Acceptance of the Outstanding Notes and Delivery of the Exchange Notes

Upon satisfaction or waiver of all conditions to the exchange offer, we will accept any and all outstanding notes that are properly tendered in response to the exchange offer prior to 5:00 p.m., New York time, on the expiration date. The exchange notes issued pursuant to the exchange offer will be delivered promptly after expiration of the exchange offer. See “The Exchange Offer — Procedures for Tendering.”

Withdrawal Rights

Tenders of outstanding notes may be withdrawn at any time prior to 5:00 p.m., New York time, on the expiration date. See “The Exchange Offer — Withdrawal of Tenders.”

The Exchange Agent

Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. is the exchange agent. The address and telephone number of the exchange agent are set forth in “The Exchange Offer — Exchange Agent.”

Fees and Expenses

We will bear all expenses incident to our consummation of the exchange offer and compliance with the registration rights agreement. We will also pay any transfer taxes which are applicable to the exchange offer (but not transfer taxes due to transfers of outstanding notes or exchange notes by the holder). See “The Exchange Offer — Fees and Expenses.”

Resales of the Exchange Notes

Based on interpretations by the staff of the SEC set forth in no-action letters issued to persons unrelated to us, we believe exchange notes issued pursuant to the exchange offer in exchange for outstanding notes may be offered for resale, resold and otherwise transferred by the holder (other than (1) a broker-dealer who purchased the outstanding notes directly from us for resale pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act or another exemption under the Securities Act or (2) a person that is an affiliate of ours, as that term is defined in Rule 405 under the Securities Act), without registration or the need to deliver a prospectus under the Securities Act, provided that the holder is acquiring the exchange notes in the ordinary course of business and is not participating, and has no arrangement or understanding with any person to participate, in a distribution of the exchange notes. Each broker-dealer that receives exchange notes for its own account in exchange for outstanding notes, which outstanding notes were acquired by the broker as a result of market-making or other trading activities, must acknowledge that it will deliver a prospectus in connection with any resale of the exchange notes. See “The Exchange Offer — Purposes and Effects.”

Federal Income Tax Consequences

The exchange offer will not be treated as a taxable event for United States federal income tax purposes. See “United States Federal Income Tax Considerations.”

Summary Description of the Exchange Notes

The exchange notes will evidence the same debt as the outstanding notes and will be entitled to the benefits of the indenture under which both the outstanding notes were, and the exchange notes will be, issued. The following summary is not intended to be complete. For a more detailed description of the notes, see “Description of the Exchange Notes.”

Issuer

AMERCO.

Securities Offered

$80 million aggregate principal amount of 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 that have been registered under the Securities Act. The form and term of the exchange notes are substantially identical in all material respects to the form and terms of the outstanding notes for which they may be exchanged pursuant to the exchange offer, except for certain transfer restrictions and registration rights relating to the outstanding notes and except for certain provisions providing for an increase in the interest rate on the outstanding notes under circumstances relating to the exchange offer. On March 15, 2004 in connection with the confirmation of our Chapter 11 restructuring plan, we also issued an additional $120 million aggregate principal amount of our 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 (collectively, the “exempt notes” or the “Series A Notes”). The exempt notes were issued pursuant to an exemption available under section 1145 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. The exempt notes are not part of this exchange offer but are part of the same series of debt securities under the indenture governing the outstanding notes. As of the date of this prospectus, we have outstanding $200 million aggregate principal amount of our 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes. Unless the context otherwise requires, the outstanding notes, the exempt notes and the exchange notes are sometimes referred to in this prospectus as the “notes.”

Maturity Date

February 27, 2009.

Interest

The exchange notes will accrue interest from the date of their issuance at the rate of 9.0% per year. Interest on the exchange notes will be payable quarterly in arrears on each March 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15 commencing on June 15, 2004. In connection with the issuance of the outstanding notes on March 15, 2004, we and the guarantors agreed to:

- file a registration statement to enable holders of the outstanding notes to exchange the outstanding notes for registered notes within 60 days of the original issue date of the outstanding notes, or by May 14, 2004;
- use our respective reasonable best efforts to cause the registration statement to become effective under the Securities Act within 150 days following the original issue date of the outstanding notes, or by August 12, 2004; and

- use our respective reasonable best efforts to complete the exchange offer within 180 days after the original issue date of the outstanding notes, or by September 11, 2004.

If we do not comply with these obligations (a “registration default”), we will be required to pay liquidated damages to the holders of the outstanding notes in the form of higher interest rates. Upon the occurrence of a registration default, the interest rate borne by the notes will be increased by 0.25% per annum for the first 90-day period immediately following the registration default and will continue to increase by 0.50% each subsequent 90 day period that the liquidated damages continue to accrue, up to a maximum of 2.0% per annum. After the cure of registration defaults, the accrual of liquidated damages will stop and the interest rate will revert to the original rate.

In addition, under the terms of the indenture we have 150 days after the issue date of the outstanding notes to register our vehicles and obtain new certificates of title naming Wells Fargo Foothill as first priority lienholder and the trustee as second priority lienholder. If at least 90% of the certificates of title are not registered in accordance with the terms of the indenture within 150 days after the issue date of the outstanding notes, the interest rate on the notes will automatically increase by 0.25% retroactive to the issue date and will increase an additional 0.25% each succeeding 91st day thereafter up to a maximum of 1.0% until such time as at least 90% of the certificates of title are so registered.

Optional Redemption

We may redeem the notes, in whole or in part, at any time on one or more occasions on or after March 16, 2005, at the redemption prices (expressed as percentages of principal amount) set forth below, together with accrued interest to the redemption date, if redeemed during the 12-month period beginning March 16 of the years indicated:

Calendar Year	Percentage
2006	104.50%
2007	101.00%
2008 and thereafter	100.00%

Ranking and Guarantees

The notes represent our senior secured obligations and rank pari passu in right of payment to our Exit Financing Facility, except that the notes are secured on a second-priority basis behind the first-priority basis held by the holders of the Exit Financing Facility obligations. Borrowings under our Exit Financing Facility rank senior in right of payment to all other indebtedness of AMERCO and its legal subsidiaries, except for indebtedness of our insurance subsidiaries, Oxford and RepWest and except for SAC Holdings.

The notes are guaranteed by all affiliates and subsidiaries of AMERCO, except for SAC Holdings, our insurance subsidiaries Oxford and RepWest and their respective subsidiaries, and Storage

Restrictive Covenants

The indenture governing the notes contains covenants that, among other things, limit our ability and the ability of our subsidiaries to:

- incur additional indebtedness or liens;
- enter into sale/leaseback transactions;
- consolidate or merge;
- sell our assets;
- change our name or corporate structure;
- change the nature of our business or relocate our chief executive office;
- transfer our ownership of assets to subsidiaries that are not, or do not become, guarantors under the indenture;
- pay dividends or make other distributions or repurchase or redeem our stock;
- make investments;
- enter into transactions with affiliates; and
- amend existing agreements.

These covenants are subject to important exceptions and qualifications, which are described under the heading “Description of the Exchange Notes-Certain Covenants” in this prospectus.

Financial Covenants

The indenture requires that we not allow our EBITDA minus capital expenditures (as defined), each measured on a fiscal quarter-end basis for the applicable period set forth below, to be less than the applicable amounts set forth below:

Applicable Amount	Applicable Date
$15 million	For the three month period ending June 30, 2004;
$65 million	For the six month period ending September 30, 2004;
$65 million	For the nine month period ending December 31, 2004;
$60 million	For the twelve month period ending March 31, 2005;
$48 million	For the twelve month period ending June 30, 2005;
$25 million	For the twelve month period ending September 30, 2005;
$25 million	For the twelve month period ending December 31, 2005;
$30 million	For the twelve month period ending March 31, 2006;
$80 million	For the twelve month period ending June 30, 2006;
$115 million	For the twelve month period ending September 30, 2006;

Table of Contents

Applicable Amount	Applicable Date
$110 million	For the twelve month period ending December 31, 2006; and

We are also restricted in the amount of capital expenditures we can make in any fiscal year as follows: fiscal 2005, $185 million; fiscal 2006, $245 million; and fiscal 2007, $195 million.

For each fiscal quarter after March 31, 2007, each of the above covenants will be established using the same methodology as utilized for 2004, 2005 and 2006, based on financial projections we submit to the trustee. The trustee will present the new covenants to us for approval, which we shall not unreasonably withhold. In the event we do not approve the trustee's calculations of the new covenants, the holders of 51% of the commitments for the Term A Notes under the Exit Financing Facility will establish such covenants.

Absence of a Public Market

The exchange notes will be a new issue of securities and there is currently no established market for them. The exchange notes, when issued, will generally be freely transferable (subject to restrictions discussed elsewhere herein) but will be a new issue of securities for which there will not initially be a market. Accordingly, there can be no assurance as to the development or liquidity of any market for the outstanding notes or, when issued, the exchange notes.

Use of Proceeds

We will receive no proceeds from the exchange of the exchange notes for the outstanding notes pursuant to the exchange offer. The net proceeds we received from the outstanding notes were used to satisfy the claims of existing creditors and provide working capital in connection with our Chapter 11 plan of reorganization.

Risk Factors

You should consider carefully the information set forth in the section of this prospectus entitled "Risk Factors" beginning on page 13 and all the other information provided to you in this prospectus in deciding whether to invest in the notes.

RISK FACTORS

You should consider carefully the information set forth in this section along with all the other information provided to you or incorporated by reference in this prospectus in deciding whether to invest in the notes.

Risks Relating to AMERCO

We operate in a highly competitive industry.

The truck rental industry is highly competitive and includes a number of significant national and hundreds of regional and local competitors. Competition is generally based on price, product quality, convenience, availability, brand name recognition and service. In our truck rental business, we face competition from Budget Car and Truck Rental Company and Penske Truck Leasing. Some of our competitors may have greater financial resources than we have. We cannot assure you that we will not be forced to reduce our rental prices or delay price increases.

We compete with national and regional self-storage operators as well as local operators. Competition in the market areas in which we operate is significant and affects the occupancy levels, rental rates and operating expenses of our facilities. Competition might cause us to experience a decrease in occupancy levels, limit our ability to increase rental rates and compel us to offer discounted rental rates which could have a material adverse effect on our operating results.

Entry into the self-storage business through acquisition of existing facilities is possible for persons or institutions with the required initial capital. Development of new self-storage facilities is more difficult, however, due to zoning, environmental and other regulatory requirements. The self-storage industry has in the past experienced overbuilding in response to perceived increases in demand. We cannot assure you that we will be able to successfully compete in existing markets or expand into new markets.

Control of AMERCO remains in the hands of a small contingent.

As of December 31, 2003, Edward J. Shoen, Chairman of the Board of Directors and President of the Company, James P. Shoen, a director of AMERCO, and Mark V. Shoen, an executive officer of the Company, collectively own 8,689,933 shares (approximately 42.4%) of the outstanding common shares of AMERCO. Accordingly, Edward J. Shoen, Mark V. Shoen and James P. Shoen will be in a position to continue to influence the election of the members of the Board of Directors and approval of significant transactions. In addition, 2,372,002 shares (approximately 11.5%) of the outstanding common shares of AMERCO, including shares allocated to employees and unallocated shares, are held by our Employee Savings and Employee Stock Ownership Trust.

Our operations subject us to numerous environmental regulations and the possibility that environmental liability in the future could adversely affect our operations.

Compliance with environmental requirements of federal, state and local governments significantly affects our business. Among other things, these requirements regulate the discharge of materials into the water, air and land and govern the use and disposal of hazardous substances. Under environmental laws, we can be held strictly liable for hazardous substances that are found on real property we have owned or operated. We are aware of issues regarding hazardous substances on some of our real estate and we have put in place a remedial plan at each site where we believe such a plan is necessary. We regularly make capital and operating expenditures to stay in compliance with environmental laws. In particular, we have managed a testing and removal program since 1988 for our underground storage tanks. Under this program, we spent $43.7 million between April 1988 and December 31, 2003. Despite these compliance efforts, risk of environmental liability is part of the nature of our business.

Environmental laws and regulations are complex, change frequently and could become more stringent in the future. We cannot assure you that future compliance with these regulations or future environmental liabilities will not have a material adverse effect on our business.

Table of Contents

Our business is seasonal.

Our business is seasonal and our results of operations and cash flows fluctuate significantly from quarter to quarter. Historically, revenues have been stronger in the first and second fiscal quarters due to the overall increase in moving activity during the spring and summer months. The fourth fiscal quarter is generally weakest, when there is a greater potential for adverse weather conditions.

We obtain our rental trucks from a limited number of manufacturers.

In the last ten years, we purchased all of our rental trucks from Ford and General Motors. Although we believe that we have alternative sources of supply for our rental trucks, termination of one or more of our relationships with any of these suppliers could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations.

Our property and casualty insurance business has suffered extensive losses.

Our property and casualty insurance business, RepWest, has reported losses through September 30, 2003 totaling approximately $135 million since January 1, 2000. These losses are primarily attributable to business lines that were unprofitable as underwritten. To restore profitability in RepWest, we are exiting all non-U-Haul related lines and the exit may result in near term losses as these lines are eliminated. Although we believe the changes will have a positive impact on the financial position of RepWest, we cannot assure you that we will be successful in returning RepWest to sustained profitability. Our inability to sustain profitability could have a material adverse effect on our earnings and financial position.

Our insurance businesses have suffered downgrades in their ratings from national insurance company rating agencies.

A.M. Best has downgraded RepWest and Oxford, although Oxford was subsequently upgraded in March 2004. These downgrades have affected their standing in the insurance industry and caused their premiums to decrease. Ratings have become an increasingly important factor in establishing the competitive position of insurance companies. A.M. Best ratings reflect its opinion of an insurance company's financial strength, operating performance, strategic position and ability to meet its obligations to policyholders. As of March 19, 2004, the A.M. Best ratings are C for RepWest and B- for Oxford.

Notes receivable from SAC Holdings are a significant portion of AMERCO'S total assets.

At March 15, 2004, we held approximately $203.8 million of notes due from SAC Holdings. Although these assets have been eliminated in our consolidated financial statements included in this prospectus, we have significant economic exposure to SAC Holdings. SAC Holdings is highly leveraged with total outstanding indebtedness and other obligations of $990.1 million at December 31, 2003. We hold various senior and junior unsecured notes of SAC Holdings. The senior unsecured notes of SAC Holdings that we hold rank equal in right of payment with the notes of certain senior mortgage holders, but junior to the extent of the collateral securing the applicable mortgages and junior to the extent of the cash flow waterfalls that favor the senior mortgage holders. If SAC Holdings are unable to meet their obligations to their senior lenders, it could trigger a default on their obligations to us. In such an event of default, we could suffer a significant loss to the extent the value of the underlying collateral on our loans to SAC Holdings is inadequate to repay SAC Holdings' senior lenders and us. We cannot assure you that SAC Holdings will not default on their loans to their senior lenders or that the value of SAC Holdings' assets upon liquidation would be sufficient to repay us in full.

AMERCO is a holding company and is dependent on its subsidiaries for cash flow.

As a holding company with no business operations, AMERCO's material assets consist only of the stock of its subsidiaries. AMERCO will have to rely upon dividends and other payments from its subsidiaries to generate the funds necessary to pay its obligations. The ability of AMERCO's subsidiaries to make dividend and other payments to AMERCO is subject to, among other things, the availability of funds, the terms of the indebtedness of AMERCO's subsidiaries and applicable state laws and insurance regulations.

This prospectus includes forward-looking statements and there are a number of risk and uncertainties that could cause our actual results to differ materially from these forward-looking statements.

This prospectus includes forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements include statements concerning our plans, objectives, goals, strategies, capital expenditures, financings needs and resources, the success of our Chapter 11 bankruptcy reorganization, plans and intentions regarding the payment of dividend arrearages, perceptions of AMERCO's legal positions and anticipated outcome of pending litigation against us and liquidity. When used in this prospectus, the words "believe", "expect", "anticipate", "estimate", "project", "may", "will", "intends", "plans" and variations of such words and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements are based upon our current expectations and various assumptions. Our expectations, beliefs and projections are expressed in good faith and we believe there is a reasonable basis for them. However, there can be no assurance that management's expectations, beliefs and projections will be achieved.

There are a number of risks and uncertainties that could cause our actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements contained in this prospectus. Important factors that could cause our actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements we make in this prospectus are set forth in this Risk Factors section.

We face risks related to an SEC investigation and securities litigation.

The SEC has issued a formal order of investigation to determine whether we have violated the Federal securities laws. Although we have fully cooperated with the SEC in this matter and intend to continue to fully cooperate, the SEC may determine that we have violated Federal securities laws. We cannot predict when this investigation will be completed or its outcome. If the SEC makes a determination that we have violated Federal securities laws, we may face sanctions, including, but not limited to, significant monetary penalties and injunctive relief.

In addition, the Company has been named a defendant in a number of class action and related lawsuits. The findings and outcome of the SEC investigation may affect the class-action lawsuits that are pending. We are generally obliged, to the extent permitted by law, to indemnify our directors and officers who are named defendants in some of these lawsuits. We are unable to estimate what our liability in these matters may be, and we may be required to pay judgments or settlements and incur expenses in aggregate amounts that could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition or results of operations.

Our common stock may be delisted from the NASDAQ Stock Market.

On June 24, 2003, we received a letter from NASDAQ indicating that, in light of AMERCO's Chapter 11 filing, a NASDAQ Listing Qualifications Panel (the "Panel") would consider such filing and associated concerns in rendering a determination regarding AMERCO's listing status. NASDAQ has requested, and we have provided, information regarding the Chapter 11 filing and the anticipated effect of the filing on the shareholders of AMERCO. Nasdaq has indicated that the Panel has determined to continue the listing of AMERCO's common stock on Nasdaq provided that AMERCO complies with all requirements for continued listing on Nasdaq and timely files all periodic reports with the SEC for all periods ending on or before June 30, 2004, without the benefit of any extensions provided pursuant to Exchange Act Rule 12b-25. Although we intend to take all actions available to maintain our Nasdaq listing, there can be no assurance that AMERCO will be able to do so.

RepWest has consented to an Order of Supervision issued by the Arizona Department of Insurance.

On May 20, 2003, RepWest consented to an Order of Supervision issued by the DOI. Pursuant to this Order and Arizona law, during the period of supervision, RepWest may not engage in certain activities without the prior approval of the DOI.

The requirements to abate the order are for RepWest to eliminate the specific credit risk associated with the exposures to AMERCO and its affiliates and establish that it possesses surplus sufficient with Arizona law and as the Arizona Director of Insurance may require based on type, volume or nature of its business pursuant to Arizona law. If RepWest fails to satisfy the requirements to abate DOI's concerns, the DOI may take further action, including, but not limited to, commencing a conservatorship.

Risks Associated with the Notes

Our substantial level of indebtedness could adversely affect our financial condition and prevent us from fulfilling our obligations on the notes.

As of March 15, 2004, we had approximately $997 million of indebtedness, excluding the debt of SAC Holdings. In addition, subject to restrictions in the indenture for the notes we are offering and our Exit Financing Facility and New AMERCO notes, we may incur additional indebtedness. The high level of our indebtedness could have important consequences to you, including the following:

- our ability to obtain additional financing for working capital and capital expenditures or general corporate purposes may be impaired;
- we must use a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to pay interest and principal on the notes and other indebtedness, which will reduce the funds available to us for other purposes such as capital expenditures;
- our high level of indebtedness may put us at a competitive disadvantage and reduce our flexibility in planning for, or responding to, changing conditions in our industry, including increased competition; and
- we are more vulnerable to economic downturns and adverse developments in our business.

We expect to obtain the money to pay our expenses and to pay the principal and interest on the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009, our Exit Financing Facility, the New AMERCO notes and other debt from cash flow from our operations.

Our annual debt service requirements for the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 is approximately $18 million. Because the notes carry a fixed rate of interest, we are not subject to interest rate risk for these obligations.

Our annual debt service requirements for the revolving credit portion of our Exit Financing Facility depends on a number of factors, including the level of borrowings under the facility and interest rates. Our projected annual debt service requirements relating to the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes, Exit Financing Facility and the New AMERCO notes is approximately $67.7 million based on outstanding borrowings under these facilities at March 15, 2004. For each one percent increase in interest rates, the debt service requirement on the Exit Financing Facility would increase by approximately $5.15 million per year. The scheduled maturity for the outstanding borrowings under the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes and the Exit Financing Facility is in fiscal year 2009 and the maturity date of the New AMERCO Notes is in fiscal year 2011. Our ability to meet our expenses thus depends on our future performance, which will be affected by financial, business, economic and other factors. We will not be able to control many of these factors, such as economic conditions in the markets where we operate and pressure from competitors.

We cannot be certain that our cash flow will be sufficient to allow us to pay principal and interest on our debt, including the notes, and meet our other obligations. If we do not have sufficient funds, we may be required to refinance all or part of our existing debt, including the notes, sell assets or borrow more money. We cannot guarantee that we will be able to do so on terms acceptable to us, if at all. In addition, the terms of existing or future debt agreements, including our Exit Financing Facility and the indenture, may restrict us from pursuing any of these alternatives.

The indenture for the notes we are offering, the Exit Financing Facility and the New AMERCO notes impose significant operating and financial restrictions, which may prevent us from capitalizing on business opportunities and taking some corporate actions. These restrictions limit the ability of us and our subsidiaries, among other things, to:

- incur additional indebtedness or liens;
- enter into certain sale/leaseback transactions;
- consolidate or merge;
- sell our assets;
- change our name or corporate structure;
- change the nature of our business or relocate our chief executive office;
- transfer our ownership of assets to subsidiaries that are not, or do not become, guarantors under the indenture;
- pay dividends or make other distributions or repurchase or redeem our stock;
- make investments;
- enter into transactions with affiliates; and
- amend existing agreements.

We cannot assure you that these covenants will not adversely affect our ability to finance our future operations or capital needs or to pursue available business opportunities. A breach of any of these covenants or our inability to maintain the required financial ratios could result in a default in respect of the related indebtedness. If a default occurs, the relevant lenders could elect to declare the indebtedness, together with accrued interest and other fees, to be immediately due and payable.

For a more detailed discussion of our existing indebtedness and other obligations, see the section titled “Description of Other Indebtedness and Other Obligations.” See also “Description of the Exchange Notes.”

We could enter into transactions that would increase the amount of our indebtedness outstanding.

The indenture for the notes and the agreements that govern our Exit Financing Facility and New AMERCO Notes impose significant restrictions on our ability to incur additional indebtedness or liens, make investments, and sell assets, among others. Nevertheless, we could, in the future, enter into transactions such as acquisitions, refinancings or other recapitalizations or highly leveraged transactions, that could increase the amount of indebtedness outstanding. Such transactions could affect our capital structure or credit ratings or otherwise affect the holders of the notes.

The guarantees may be voided under specific legal circumstances.

The outstanding notes are, and the exchange notes will be, guaranteed by certain of our existing subsidiaries and certain future subsidiaries. The guarantees may be subject to review under U.S. federal bankruptcy law and comparable provisions of state fraudulent conveyance laws if a bankruptcy or reorganization case or lawsuit is commenced by or on behalf of our or one of a guarantor’s unpaid creditors. Under these laws, if a court were to find in such a bankruptcy or reorganization case or lawsuit that, at the time any guarantor issued a guarantee of the notes:

- it issued the guarantee to delay, hinder or defraud present or future creditors; or

Table of Contents

- it received less than reasonably equivalent value or fair consideration for issuing the guarantee at the time it issued the guarantee and:
 - it was insolvent or rendered insolvent by reason of issuing the guarantee; or
 - it was engaged, or about to engage, in a business or transaction for which its remaining unencumbered assets constituted unreasonably small capital to carry on its business; or
 - it intended to incur, or believed that it would incur, debts beyond its ability to pay as they mature;

then the court could void the obligations under the guarantee, subordinate the guarantee of the notes to that guarantor's other debt or take other action detrimental to holders of the notes and the guarantees of the notes.

The measures of insolvency for purposes of fraudulent transfer laws vary depending upon the law of the jurisdiction that is being applied in any proceeding to determine whether a fraudulent transfer had occurred. Generally, however, a person would be considered insolvent if, at the time it incurred the debt:

- the present fair saleable value of its assets was less than the amount that would be required to pay its probable liability on its existing debts, including contingent liabilities, as they become absolute and mature; or
- it could not pay its debts as they become due.

We cannot be sure as to the standard that a court would use to determine whether or not a guarantor was solvent at the relevant time, or, regardless of the standard that the court uses, that the issuance of the guarantees would not be voided or the guarantees would not be subordinated to the guarantors' other debt. If such a case were to occur, the guarantee could also be subject to the claim that, since the guarantee was incurred for our benefit, and only indirectly for the benefit of the guarantor, the obligations of the applicable guarantor were incurred for less than fair consideration.

Based upon financial and other information currently available to us, we believe that the debt evidenced by the guarantees is being incurred for proper purposes and in good faith. We believe that the guarantors:

- are solvent and will continue to be solvent after issuing the guarantees;
- will have sufficient capital for carrying on the business we intend to conduct after this offering is completed; and
- will be able to service their debts as they come due.

There is no established trading market for the exchange notes and you may not be able to sell the notes quickly or at the price that you paid.

We expect that there will be a limited trading market for the exchange notes, if any. Although the exchange notes will be registered, we do not intend to list the exchange notes on any securities exchange or to arrange for quotation on any automated dealer quotation systems. As a result, we cannot assure you as to the liquidity of any trading market for the exchange notes.

We also cannot assure you that you will be able to sell your exchange notes at a particular time or that the prices that you receive when you sell will be favorable. We also cannot assure you as to the level of liquidity of the trading market for the exchange notes or, in the case of any holders of outstanding notes that do not exchange them, the trading market for the notes following the offer to exchange the outstanding notes for exchange notes. Future trading prices of the outstanding notes and exchange notes will depend on many factors, including:

- our operating performance and financial condition;
- our ability to complete the offer to exchange the notes for the exchange notes;
- the interest of securities dealers in making a market; and
- the market for similar securities.

Table of Contents

Historically, the market for non-investment grade debt has been subject to disruptions that have caused volatility in prices. It is possible that the market for the outstanding notes and, if issued, the exchange notes will be subject to disruptions. Any disruptions may have a negative effect on noteholders, regardless of our prospects and financial performance.

There may be adverse consequences to holders of outstanding notes that do not tender their outstanding notes pursuant to the exchange offer.

If you fail to properly exchange your outstanding notes for exchange notes, you will continue to hold outstanding notes subject to transfer restrictions, and the liquidity of the trading market for any untendered outstanding notes may be substantially limited.

We will only issue exchange notes in exchange for outstanding notes that you timely and properly tendered. You should allow sufficient time to ensure timely delivery of the outstanding notes, and you should carefully follow the instructions on how to tender your outstanding notes set forth under the “The Exchange Offer — Procedures for Tendering” and in the letter of transmittal that accompanies this prospectus. Neither we nor the exchange agent are required to notify you of any defects or irregularities relating to your tender of notes.

The holders of outstanding notes that do not exchange them pursuant to this exchange offer will continue to be subject to restrictions on the transfer of the outstanding notes because the issuance of the outstanding notes was not registered under the Securities Act or registered or qualified under any state securities laws. We do not currently anticipate that, except in certain limited circumstances, we will register the outstanding notes under the Securities Act. To the extent that we exchange outstanding notes a result of this exchange offer, the ability to trade untendered outstanding notes may be adversely affected.

USE OF PROCEEDS

We will receive no proceeds from the exchange of the exchange notes for the outstanding notes pursuant to the exchange offer. We used the gross proceeds of $80 million from the sale of the outstanding notes to satisfy the claims of existing creditors and provide working capital in connection with our Chapter 11 plan of reorganization.

RATIO OF EARNINGS TO FIXED CHARGES

We have calculated the ratio of earnings to fixed charges by dividing earnings by fixed charges. For purposes of computing the ratio of earnings to fixed charges, “earnings” consists of pretax earnings from operations plus total fixed charges and non-cash charges excluding interest capitalized during the period and “fixed charges” consists of interest expense, preferred stock dividends capitalized interest, amortization of debt charges and discounts, and one-third of AMERCO’s annual rental expense (which we believe is a reasonable approximation of the interest factor of such rentals).

BUSINESS

The Company

We are the largest do-it-yourself moving and storage company in North America. Since 1945, our moving and self-storage subsidiary, U-Haul, has developed the most recognized brand in the rental of trucks, trailers and support items to the do-it-yourself moving customer. We are the leading “one-stop shop” for customers’ residential moving and self-storage needs. As of December 31, 2003, U-Haul moving equipment was available for rent at 15,624 locations in 50 states and Canada, which we believe is more than twice the number of locations of our national competitors combined. Through the U-Haul network, do-it-yourself movers have access to the largest fleet of moving equipment available for rent. We also offer our customers an extensive line of moving and storage supplies such as boxes, tape and tow dollies. We are the second-largest operator of self-storage facilities in North America with over 1,000 locations and approximately 32.5 million square feet of total rentable self-storage space as of March 31, 2003. We also own real estate and insurance businesses that complement our U-Haul business.

We believe that our focus on do-it-yourself moving and storage customers, whose moving and self-storage needs are not necessarily correlated with general economic conditions, provides us with an operating profile that is less vulnerable to economic downturns. A substantial majority of U-Haul’s rental revenues are generated from residential do-it-yourself movers. Demand for our products and services is driven primarily by the mobility of the population resulting from, among other things, changes in employment, housing preference and marital status. Our self-storage business also provides us with a predictable revenue stream given that the duration of the industry average storage space rental is over 13 months.

As of March 31, 2003, we had over 92,000 trucks, 73,000 trailers and 19,000 tow dollies available for rent, a majority of which are owned by us.

Our real estate and insurance businesses support our core do-it-yourself moving and storage focus. Real Estate acquires properties for the development of, or conversion into, U-Haul Centers and/or self-storage facilities. RepWest provides property and casualty insurance to us and insures U-Haul’s customers, dealers and independent third parties. The majority of our U-Haul customers purchase RepWest products. We believe that these business lines assist us in maintaining our competitive advantages in the do-it-yourself moving and storage businesses. In addition, RepWest’s business activities include direct and assumed reinsurance underwriting. Oxford originates and reinsures annuities, credit life and disability, life insurance and supplemental health products. Information on industry segments is incorporated by reference to Notes 1, 21 and 22 to the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2003 and Note 6 to the unaudited consolidated financial statements for the quarter ended December 31, 2003, which are contained elsewhere in this prospectus. The notes discuss the general principles of consolidation, summarized consolidated information and industry segment and geographic data.

Chapter 11 Proceedings

On June 20, 2003, AMERCO filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. Amerco Real Estate Company also filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 on August 13, 2003. AMERCO’s other subsidiaries were not included in either of the filings. The Chapter 11 filing was undertaken to facilitate a restructuring of AMERCO’s debt in response to liquidity issues, which developed in the second half of 2002. On March 15, 2004, we emerged from Chapter 11 (less than nine months from our petition date) with full payment to our creditors and with no dilution to our stockholders. In connection with our emergence from bankruptcy, we believe our balance sheet is strengthened, having restructured over $1.2 billion in debt and lease obligations. See “Prospectus Summary — Recent Developments — Emergence From Chapter 11 Restructuring.”

Table of Contents

General

Moving and Storage Operations

Moving and self-storage operations consist of the rental of equipment such as trucks and trailers, the sale of moving and storage supplies such as boxes and the rental of self-storage spaces to both moving and storage customers. Operations are conducted using the registered tradename U-Haul throughout the United States and Canada.

Real Estate Operations

Real Estate owns approximately 90% of the Company's real estate assets, including U-Haul Center and Storage locations. Various U-Haul and Insurance companies own the remainder of the real estate assets. Real Estate is responsible for overseeing property acquisitions, dispositions and managing environmental risks of the properties.

Property and Casualty Insurance

RepWest originates and reinsures property and casualty-type insurance products for various market participants, including independent third parties, U-Haul's customers, independent dealers and the Company. In April 2003, RepWest announced that in connection with AMERCO's overall restructuring efforts, in order to reduce costs and to build upon its core strengths, RepWest is exiting non-U-Haul related lines of business. This exit has resulted in near term losses as these lines were eliminated.

Life Insurance

Oxford originates and reinsures annuities, credit life and disability, single premium whole life, group life and disability coverage, and Medicare supplement insurance. Oxford also administers the self-insured employee health and dental plans for AMERCO.

On November 13, 2000, Oxford acquired all of the issued and outstanding shares of Christian Fidelity Life Insurance Company (CFLIC) in an exchange of cash for stock. CFLIC is a Texas-based insurance company specializing in providing supplemental health insurance and is licensed in 31 states. The acquisition was accounted for using the purchase method of accounting and, accordingly, CFLIC's results of operations have been included in the consolidated financial statements since the date of acquisition. Oxford funded the acquisition from available cash and short-term funds.

History

U-Haul was founded in 1945 under the name "U-Haul Trailer Rental Company". From 1945 to 1974, U-Haul rented trailers and, starting in 1959, trucks on a one-way and In-Town® basis exclusively through independent dealers. Since 1974, U-Haul has developed a network of Company managed rental centers (U-Haul Centers) through which U-Haul also rents its trucks and trailers and provides related products and services (for example, the sale and installation of hitches, as well as the sale of boxes and other moving and storage supplies). At March 31, 2003, U-Haul's distribution network included 1,350 Company operated centers and 14,274 independent dealers.

Moving and Storage Operations

Business Strategies

The U-Haul business strategy remains focused on do-it-yourself moving and self-storage customers. U-Haul believes that customer access, in terms of truck or trailer availability and proximity of rental locations, is critical to its success. Under the U-Haul name, our strategy is to offer, in an integrated manner over an extensive and geographically diverse network of 15,624 Company operated Centers and independent dealers, a wide range of products and services to do-it-yourself moving and self-storage customers.

Moving Operations

U-Haul has a variety of product offerings. Rental trucks are designed with do-it-yourself customers in mind. U-Haul trailers are suited to the low profile of many newly manufactured automobiles. As of March 31, 2003, the U-Haul rental equipment fleet consisted of approximately 92,000 trucks, 73,000 trailers and 19,000 tow dollies. Additionally, U-Haul provides support items such as furniture pads, utility dollies and handtrucks.

Approximately 90% of U-Haul's gross rental revenue is generated from do-it-yourself residential movers. Moving rentals include:

- (i) In-Town® rentals, where the equipment is returned to the originating U-Haul location and
- (ii) One-way rentals, where the equipment is returned to a U-Haul location in another city.

U-Haul's truck and trailer rental business tends to be seasonal, with proportionally more transactions and revenues generated in the spring and summer months than during the balance of the year.

U-Haul sells a wide selection of moving supplies that include boxes, tape and packaging materials. U-Haul Centers also sell and install hitches and towing systems, and sell propane.

U-Haul offers protection packages such as:

- (i) Safemove® — which currently provides moving customers with a damage waiver, cargo protection and medical and life coverage;
- (ii) Safestor® — which currently provides self-storage rental customers with various types of protection for their goods in storage; and
- (iii) Safetow® — which currently provides towing customers with a damage waiver, cargo protection and medical and life coverage.

Independent dealers receive U-Haul equipment on a consignment basis and are paid a commission on gross revenues generated from their rentals. U-Haul maintains contracts with its independent dealers that may typically be terminated upon 30 days written notice by either party.

Historically U-Haul has designed and manufactured its truck van boxes, trailers and various other support rental equipment items. Truck chassis are manufactured by both foreign and domestic truck manufacturers. These chassis receive certain post-delivery modifications and are joined with van boxes at strategically located Company-owned manufacturing and assembly facilities in the United States. From time to time, U-Haul buys its truck bodies from a third party provider of such items.

U-Haul services and maintains its trucks and trailers through an extensive preventive-maintenance program, generally performed at Company-owned facilities located at or near U-Haul Centers. Major repairs are performed either by the chassis manufacturers' dealers or by Company-owned repair shops.

Competition

A highly competitive industry exists within the moving truck and trailer rental market. There are two distinct users of rental trucks: commercial users and do-it-yourself users. U-Haul focuses on the do-it-yourself residential user. Within this group, U-Haul believes that the principal competitive factors are convenience of rental locations, availability of quality rental equipment and price. U-Haul's major competitors in the rental market are Budget Car and Truck Rental Company and Penske Truck Leasing.

Self-storage Business

U-Haul entered the self-storage business in 1974 and has increased its presence in the industry through the acquisition and conversion of existing facilities and new construction. In addition, U-Haul has entered into management agreements to manage self-storage properties owned by others, including SAC Holdings. U-Haul has also entered into a strategic relationship with Private Mini Storage Realty, L.P., a Texas-based operator of self-storage properties.

Table of Contents

Through 1,023 owned, managed or equity participating self-storage locations in the United States and Canada, U-Haul offers for rent more than 32.5 million square feet of self-storage at March 31, 2003. This is an increase of 1.4 million square feet over the prior year. U-Haul's self-storage facility locations range in sizes up to 152,600 square feet of storage space, with individual storage units in sizes from 15 to 400 square feet.

The primary market for storage rooms is the storage of household goods. With the addition of 18,833 storage rooms during fiscal year 2003, the average occupancy rate of same store facilities operating over one year was 82.9%, with modest seasonal variations.

Competition

The primary competition for a U-Haul self-storage location is other self-storage facilities within a geographic area offering a comparable level of convenience to the customer.

Employees

As of March 31, 2003, U-Haul's non-seasonal work force consisted of 16,145 full and part-time employees.

Real Estate Operations

Real Estate Operations

Real Estate owns approximately 90% of the Company's real estate assets, including U-Haul Center and Storage locations. Various U-Haul and Insurance companies own the remainder of the real estate assets. Real Estate is responsible for overseeing property acquisitions, dispositions and managing environmental risks of the properties.

Environmental Matters

Compliance with environmental requirements of federal, state and local governments significantly affects Real Estate's business operations. Among other things, these requirements regulate the discharge of materials into the water, air and land and govern the use and disposal of hazardous substances. Real Estate is aware of issues regarding the presence of hazardous substances on some of its properties. Real Estate regularly makes capital and operating expenditures to stay in compliance with environmental laws and has put in place a remedial plan at each site where it believes such a plan is necessary. Since 1988, Real Estate has managed a testing and removal program for underground storage tanks. Under this program, we have spent $43.7 million through March 31, 2003.

Insurance Operations

Business Strategies

RepWest originates and reinsures property and casualty type insurance products for various market participants, including independent third parties, U-Haul's customers, independent dealers and the Company. In April 2003, RepWest announced that in connection with AMERCO's overall restructuring efforts, and in order to reduce costs and to build upon its core strengths, RepWest has ceased writing and is exiting non-U-Haul related lines of business.

Oxford's business strategy is long-term capital growth through direct writing and reinsuring of annuity, credit life and disability and Medicare supplement products. In the past Oxford has pursued a growth strategy of increased direct writing via acquisitions of insurance companies, expanded distribution channels and product development. The acquisitions of North American Insurance Company and Safe Mate Life Insurance Company in 1997 and Christian Fidelity Life Insurance Company in 2000 represent a significant movement toward this long-term goal. Oxford has significantly expanded product offerings, distribution channels and administrative capabilities through these acquisitions.

Investments

RepWest and Oxford investments must comply with the insurance laws of the state of domicile. These laws prescribe the type, quality and concentration of investments that may be made. Moreover, in order to be considered an acceptable reinsurer by cedents and intermediaries, a reinsurer must offer financial security. The quality and liquidity of invested assets are important considerations in determining such security.

The investment strategies of RepWest and Oxford emphasize protection of principal through the purchase of investment grade fixed-income securities. Approximately 88.0% of RepWest's and 88.6% of Oxford's fixed-income securities consist of investment grade securities (NAIC-2 or greater). The maturity distributions are designed to provide sufficient liquidity to meet future cash needs.

Reinsurance

RepWest and Oxford assume and cede insurance from and to other insurers and members of various reinsurance pools and associations. Reinsurance arrangements are utilized to provide greater diversification of risk and to minimize exposure to large risks. However, the original insurer retains primary liability to the policyholder should the assuming insurer not be able to meet its obligations under the reinsurance agreements.

Regulation

RepWest and Oxford are subject to regulation by state insurance regulatory agencies. The regulation extends to such matters as licensing companies and agents, restricting the types, quality or quantity of investments, regulating capital and surplus and actuarial reserve maintenance, setting solvency standards, filing of annual and other reports on financial condition, and regulating trade practices. State laws also regulate transactions and dividends between an insurance company and its parent or affiliates, and generally require prior approval or notification for any change in control of the insurance subsidiary.

The insurance and reinsurance regulatory framework has been subjected to increased scrutiny by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC), federal and state legislatures and insurance regulators. These regulators are considering increased regulations, with an emphasis on insurance company investment and solvency issues. It is not possible to predict the future impact of changing state and federal regulations on the operations of RepWest and Oxford.

In 1998, the NAIC adopted the Codification of Statutory Accounting Principles guidance, which replaced the prior Accounting Practices and Procedures manual as the NAIC's primary guidance for statutory accounting as of January 1, 2001. The codification provides guidance for areas where statutory accounting has been silent and changes current statutory accounting practices in some areas. The DOI has adopted the Codification guidance, effective January 1, 2001. Oxford and RepWest have implemented the new Codification effective January 1, 2001. In order to enhance the regulation of insurer solvency, the NAIC has adopted a formula and model law to implement risk-based capital (RBC) requirements for insurance companies designed to assess minimum capital requirements and to raise the level of protection that statutory surplus provides for policyholder obligations. The RBC formula measures areas of risk facing insurers. Pursuant to the model law, insurers having less statutory surplus than that required by the RBC calculation will be subject to varying degrees of regulatory action, depending on the level of capital inadequacy.

The RBC model law provides for four levels of regulatory action. The extent of regulatory intervention and action increases as the level of surplus to RBC decreases. The first level, the Company Action Level (as defined by the NAIC), requires an insurer to submit a plan of corrective actions to the regulator if surplus falls below 200% of the RBC amount. The Regulatory Action Level requires an insurer to submit a plan containing corrective actions and requires the relevant insurance commissioner to perform an examination or other analysis and issue a corrective order if surplus falls below 150% of the RBC amount. The Authorized Control Level gives the relevant insurance commissioner the option either to take the aforementioned actions or to rehabilitate or liquidate the insurer if surplus falls below 100% of the RBC amount. The fourth action level is the Mandatory Control Level that requires the relevant insurance commissioner to rehabilitate or liquidate the insurer if surplus falls below 70% of the RBC amount.

Table of Contents

Oxford is in compliance with the NAIC minimum RBC requirements. On May 20, 2003, the DOI determined that RepWest's level of RBC allowed for regulatory control and accordingly placed RepWest under supervision.

Competition

The highly competitive insurance industry includes a large number of property and casualty insurance companies and life insurance companies. In addition, the marketplace now includes financial service firms offering both insurance and financial products. Stockholders own some insurance companies and policyholders own others. Many competitors have been in business for a longer period of time or possess substantially greater financial resources and broader product portfolios than RepWest and Oxford. RepWest and Oxford compete in the insurance business based upon price, product design and services rendered to producers and policyholders.

Employees

RepWest's non-seasonal work force consists of 343 full and part-time employees.

Oxford's non-seasonal work force consists of 148 full and part-time employees.

Life Insurance

Oxford originates and reinsures annuities, credit life and disability, single premium whole life, group life and disability coverage, and Medicare supplement insurance. Oxford also administers the self-insured group health and dental plans for the Company. Reinsurance arrangements are entered into with unaffiliated reinsurers.

Property and Casualty

RepWest's historical business activities consisted of three basic areas: U-Haul, direct and assumed reinsurance. U-Haul underwritings include coverage for U-Haul customers, independent dealers, fleet owners and employees of the Company. RepWest's direct underwriting was done through Company-employed underwriters and selected general agents. The products provided include liability coverage for rental vehicles, coverage for commercial multiple peril, commercial auto, mobile homes and excess workers' compensation. As part of its restructuring, RepWest has determined to eliminate these direct lines. RepWest's assumed reinsurance underwriting was done via broker markets and RepWest has exited this line. In an effort to decrease risk, RepWest has entered into various catastrophe cover policies to limit its exposure. The liability for reported and unreported losses is based on both RepWest's historical and industry averages. Unpaid loss adjustment expenses are based on historical ratios of loss adjustment expenses paid to losses paid. The liability for unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses is based on estimates of the amount necessary to settle all claims as of the statement date. Both reported and unreported losses are included in the liability. RepWest updates the liability estimate as additional facts regarding claim costs become available. These estimates are subject to uncertainty and variation due to numerous factors. In estimating reserves, no attempt is made to isolate inflation from the combined effect of other factors including inflation. Unpaid losses and loss adjustment expense are not discounted.

Activity in the liability for unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses is summarized as follows:

As a result of changes in estimates of insured events in prior years, the provision for unpaid losses and loss adjustment expenses (net of reinsurance recoveries of $90.1 million) increased by $16.4 million in 2002.

Table of Contents

The following table illustrates the change in unpaid loss and loss adjustment expenses. First line — reserves as originally reported at the end of the stated year. Second section, reading down, — cumulative amounts paid as of the end of successive years with respect to that reserve. Third section, reading down, — revised estimates of the original recorded reserve as of the end of successive years. Last section — compares the latest revised estimated reserve amount to the reserve amount as originally established. This last section is cumulative and should not be summed.

Properties

AMERCO's subsidiaries own property, plant and equipment that are utilized in the manufacture, repair and rental of U-Haul equipment and that provide office space for the Company. Such facilities exist throughout the United States and Canada. U-Haul also manages storage facilities owned by others. In addition, the Company owns certain real estate not currently used in its operations. U-Haul operates 1,350 U-Haul Centers (including Company-owned storage locations), and operates 11 manufacturing and assembly facilities. U-Haul also operates 105 fixed site repair facilities located at or near a U-Haul Center.

SAC Holdings own property, plant and equipment that are utilized in the rental of self-storage rooms and U-Haul equipment. Such facilities exist throughout the United States and Canada. Such facilities also secure various promissory notes held by unrelated third parties. There is no debt held by the Company that is secured by SAC Holdings' real estate. U-Haul manages the storage facilities under management agreements whereby the management fees are consistent with management fees received by U-Haul for other properties owned by unrelated parties and managed by U-Haul.

Legal Proceedings

On July 20, 2000, Charles Kocher (Kocher) filed suit in Wetzel County, West Virginia, Civil Action No. 00-C-51-K, entitled Charles Kocher v. Oxford Life Insurance Co. (Oxford) seeking compensatory and punitive damages for breach of contract, bad faith and unfair claims settlement practices arising from an alleged failure of Oxford to properly and timely pay a claim under a disability and dismemberment policy. On March 22, 2002, the jury returned a verdict of $5 million in compensatory damages and $34.0 million in punitive damages. On November 5, 2002, the trial court entered an Order (Order) affirming the $39.0 million jury verdict and denying Oxford's motion for New Trial Or, in The Alternative, Remittitur. Oxford has perfected its appeal to the West Virginia Supreme Court. On January 27, 2004, the matter was argued before the West Virginia Supreme Court and taken under advisement. Management does not believe that the Order is sustainable and expects the Order to be overturned by the West Virginia Supreme Court, in part because the jury award has no reasonable nexus to the actual harm suffered by Kocher. The Company has accrued $725,000, which represents management's best estimate of the costs associated with legal fees to appeal and re-try the case and the company's uninsured exposure to an unfavorable outcome.

On September 24, 2002, Paul F. Shoen filed a derivative action in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, Washoe County, captioned Paul F. Shoen vs. SAC Holding Corporation et al., CV02-05602, seeking damages and equitable relief on behalf of AMERCO from SAC Holdings and certain current and former members of the AMERCO Board of Directors, including Edward J. Shoen, Mark V. Shoen and James P. Shoen as defendants. AMERCO is named a nominal defendant for purposes of the derivative action. The complaint alleges breach of fiduciary duty, self-dealing, usurpation of corporate opportunities, wrongful interference with prospective economic advantage and unjust enrichment and seeks the unwinding of sales of self-storage properties by subsidiaries of AMERCO to SAC Holdings over the last several years. The complaint seeks a declaration that such transfers are void as well as unspecified damages. On October 28, 2002, AMERCO, the Shoen directors, the non-Shoen directors and SAC Holdings filed Motions to Dismiss the complaint. In addition, on October 28, 2002, Ron Belec filed a derivative action in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, Washoe County, captioned Ron Belec vs. William E. Carty, et al., CV 02-06331 and on January 16, 2003, M.S. Management Company, Inc. filed a derivative action in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, Washoe County, captioned M.S. Management Company, Inc. vs. William E. Carty, et al., CV 03-00386. Two additional derivative suits were also filed against these parties. These additional suits are substantially similar to the Paul F. Shoen derivative action. The five suits assert virtually identical claims. In fact, three of the five plaintiffs are parties who are working closely together and chose to file the same claims multiple times. The court consolidated all five complaints before dismissing them on May 8, 2003. Plaintiffs have filed a notice of appeal. These lawsuits falsely alleged that the AMERCO Board lacked independence. In reaching its decision to dismiss these claims, the court determined that the AMERCO Board of Directors had the requisite level of independence required in order to have these claims resolved by the Board.

A subsidiary of U-Haul, INW Company ("INW"), owns one property located within two different state hazardous substance sites in the State of Washington. The sites are referred to as the "Yakima Valley Spray Site" and the "Yakima Railroad Area." INW has been named as a "potentially liable party" under state law with respect to this property as it relates to both sites. As a result of the cleanup costs of approximately $5.0 million required by the State of Washington, INW filed for reorganization under the federal bankruptcy laws in May of 2001. A successful mediation with other liable parties has occurred and future liability to INW will be in the range of $750,000 to $1.25 million.

AMERCO is a defendant in four putative class action lawsuits. Article Four Trust v. AMERCO, et al., District of Nevada, United States District Court, Case No. CV-N-03-0050-DWH-VPC. Article Four Trust, a purported AMERCO shareholder, commenced this action on January 28, 2003 on behalf of all persons and entities who purchased or acquired AMERCO securities between February 12, 1998 and September 26, 2002. The Article Four Trust action alleges one claim for violation of Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 thereunder. Mates v. AMERCO, et al., United States District Court, District of Nevada, Case No. CV-N-03-0107. Maxine Mates, an AMERCO shareholder, commenced this putative class action on behalf of all persons and entities who purchased or acquired AMERCO securities between February 12, 1998 and September 26, 2002. The Mates action asserts claims under section 10(b) and Rule 10b-5, and section 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act. Klug v. AMERCO, et al., United States District Court of Nevada, Case No. CV-S-03-0380. Edward Klug, an AMERCO shareholder, commenced this putative class action on behalf of all persons and entities who purchased or acquired AMERCO securities between February 12, 1998 and September 26, 2002. The Klug action asserts claims under section 10(b) and Rule 10b-5 and section 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act. IG Holdings v. AMERCO, et al., United States District Court, District of Nevada, Case No. CV-N-03-0199. IG Holdings, an AMERCO bondholder, commenced this putative class action on behalf of all persons and entities who purchased, acquired, or traded AMERCO bonds between February 12, 1998 and September 26, 2002, alleging claims under section 11 and section 12 of the Securities Act of 1933 and section 10(b) and Rule 10b-5, and section 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act. Each of these four securities class actions allege that AMERCO engaged in transactions with SAC entities that falsely improved AMERCO's financial statements, and that AMERCO failed to disclose the transactions properly. The actions are at a very early stage. The Klug action has not been served. In the other three actions, AMERCO does not currently have a deadline by which it must respond to the complaints. Management has stated that it intends to defend these cases vigorously.

SELECTED HISTORICAL FINANCIAL DATA

In the following table, we provide you with our selected historical consolidated financial and operating data as of and for the periods indicated. The information in this table should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” appearing elsewhere in this prospectus. The consolidated balance sheet data presented below as of March 31, 2003 and 2002 and the consolidated statements of earnings data for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001 have been derived from the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by BDO Seidman, LLP, our independent auditors, which report contains an explanatory paragraph regarding the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern, and which appear elsewhere in this prospectus. The amounts for 2002, 2001 and 2000 were restated, see Note 2 to the consolidated financial statements. The consolidated balance sheet data for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2001, 2000 and 1999 and the consolidated statements of earnings data for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2000 and 1999 have been derived from our consolidated financial statements, which are not included in this prospectus. The consolidated statements of earnings data for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002 and the selected balance sheet data as of December 31, 2003, are derived from our unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements appearing elsewhere in this prospectus and include, in our management’s opinion, all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments necessary to present fairly the data for such periods. The results for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2004 or for any future period.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

General

The following discussion should be read in conjunction with the Company's consolidated financial statements and the related notes which are included in this prospectus. The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the continuity of operations, realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. As a result of AMERCO's Chapter 11 filing, the Company's independent auditors qualified their opinions on the Company's March 31, 2003 financial statements by including an explanatory paragraph in which they expressed substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be required if AMERCO is unable to continue as a going concern. As discussed elsewhere, AMERCO emerged from Chapter 11 bankruptcy on March 15, 2004 with full payment to our creditors and with no dilution to our stockholders.

AMERCO's fiscal year end is March 31 and is named for the calendar year in which the fiscal year ends (for example, we refer to our fiscal year ended March 31, 2003 as "fiscal year 2003"). Information on industry segments is incorporated by reference to Notes 1, 21 and 22 to the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2003 and Note 6 to the unaudited consolidated financial statements for the quarter ended December 31, 2003, which are contained elsewhere in this prospectus. The notes discuss the general principles of consolidation, summarized consolidated information and industry segment and geographic data. In consolidation, all intersegment premiums are eliminated and the uninsured portion of the related benefits, losses and expenses are retained by the insurance companies. RepWest and Oxford have been consolidated on the basis of calendar years ended December 31. Accordingly, all references to the years 2002, 2001 and 2000 correspond to AMERCO's fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001.

Results of Operations — Comparison of Fiscal Years Ended March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001

U-Haul Moving and Storage Operations

Rental revenue was $1,433.4 million, $1,425.7 million and $1,364.5 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Rental revenues increased from 2003 compared to fiscal 2002, due to price and productivity gains. The increase from fiscal year 2001 to fiscal year 2002 is due to an increase in one-way transactions with an improved average dollar per transaction on one-way rentals as well as growth in transactions in trailer rentals and support rental items. Storage revenue decreased all of the years due to the sale of properties to SAC Holdings.

Net sales revenues were $174.1 million, $198.3 million and $194.3 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Revenue declines in the sale of hitches, moving support items (i.e. boxes, etc.) and propane for 2003 from 2002 was largely due to the sale of centers to SAC.

Interest income, before consolidating entries, was $29.4 million, $22.7 million and $24.3 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The increase during fiscal year 2003 can be attributed to an increase in the average investment balance of SAC notes. The decrease in fiscal year 2002 is mainly related to a decrease in average investment balance in SAC notes.

Operating expenses, before intercompany eliminations, were $992.2 million, $1,041.4 million and $1,021.6 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The decrease in operating expenses for fiscal year 2003 was due to the incorporation of cost reduction programs and the sale of centers to SAC. The increase in fiscal year 2002 is due to increased personnel costs and higher repair expense. Also, the addition of storage rooms will initially cause an increase in operating expenses without corresponding increases in earnings until the properties reach a stabilized level of occupancy.

Commission expense was $164.5 million, $153.5 million and $143.6 million for fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001 respectively. The increase in commissions paid was due to the overall increase in rental revenues generated by independent dealers (including SAC).

Cost of sales was $93.7 million, $110.4 million and $116.6 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The decrease in fiscal year 2003 was due to lower sales volume, better sourcing and the sales of certain locations to SAC during the last quarter of fiscal year 2002. The decrease in fiscal year 2002 is due to lower sales volume and lower costs of propane and other materials.

Benefits and losses were $37.6 million, $47.0 million and $40.5 million for fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001 respectively. This expense represents an adjustment in the reserve for insurance claims on U-Haul's financial statements. This was partially due to U-Haul's "Self-Insurance Retention Level" increasing to 95% for 2001 and 2002 and 100% in 2003. The Self-Insurance Retention is currently $5.0 million per event. This is a non-cash expense until claims are paid.

Lease expense before intercompany elimination was $165.0 million, $171.7 million and $167.3 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The decrease in lease expense for fiscal year 2003 was due to a decline in rental trucks under lease. The increase in fiscal year 2002 is due to an increase in the value of properties leased that was partially offset by a decrease in rental equipment lease expense.

Depreciation expense, net was $112.8 million, $92.4 million and $87.5 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The increase in depreciation expense, net, for fiscal year 2003 was caused by an increase in the number of trucks owned. The increase in fiscal years 2002 reflects an overall increase in depreciation expense on the rental truck fleet offset in fiscal year 2002 by gains on the sale of surplus assets. A change in estimated salvage value and increase in our estimate of the useful lives of certain of our trucks further reduced depreciation expense for fiscal year 2002. An internal analysis of sales of trucks was completed for the fiscal years ending March 31, 1996 through March 31, 2001. The study compared the truck model, size, age and average residual value of units sold for each fiscal year indicated. The analysis revealed that average residual values (as computed) when compared to sales prices were not reflective of the values that the Company was receiving upon disposition. Based on the analysis, the estimated residual values were decreased to approximately 25% of historic cost. In addition, this analysis revealed that our estimates of useful lives were not reflective of the economic lives of our trucks, which ultimately were being utilized by the Company for longer periods of time. Thus the useful lives of certain of our trucks were increased by approximately 3 years. The net effect of these changes was to decrease net losses for the fiscal year 2002 by $3.1 million or $0.15 per share.

Earnings from operations, before intercompany eliminations, were $71.0 million, $30.4 million and $6.0 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The increase in earnings from operations in fiscal year 2003 was due to a reduction in all expense categories except depreciation. Tighter cost controls and the reduction in expenses due to the sale to SAC were the largest contributors. The increase in fiscal year 2002 is due to the increase in rental revenues offset by increases in operating expenses.

Interest expense before intercompany eliminations was $10.0 million, $11.7 million and $17.1 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The decrease in fiscal years 2003 and 2002 can be attributed to lower average debt balance and interest rate reductions.

Pretax earnings (loss) before intercompany eliminations were $61.0 million, $18.7 million and $(11.1) million for the fiscal years 2003, 2002, and 2001, respectively.

SAC Moving and Storage Operations

Rental revenue was $168.0 million, $112.7 million and $92.5 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Increased facility capacity through the acquisition of new locations and increased storage rates accounted for the increase. The occupancy of existing storage locations has remained stable.

Net sales revenues were $48.8 million, $24.4 million and $17.9 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Revenue growth was due to the addition of new locations.

Operating expenses, before intercompany eliminations, were $105.3 million, $68.2 million and $49.2 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Personnel expenses, liability insurance, property taxes and utility expenses all increased proportionately in relation to the increased revenues from the acquisition of new locations.

Cost of sales was $21.4 million, $12.2 million and $9.9 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Higher sales volume related to moving support items contributed to the increases in both fiscal years 2003 and 2002 along with the addition of new locations.

Depreciation expense, net was $21.4 million, $15.1 million and $12.4 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The increase is attributed to the acquisition of new locations.

Earnings from operations were $68.8 million, $41.7 million and $38.9 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The increase is due to the addition of locations.

Interest expense before intercompany elimination was $81.2 million, $61.1 million and $53.5 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The average debt level outstanding continued to increase due to the acquisition of storage properties in fiscal year 2002 compared to fiscal year 2001.

Pretax losses before intercompany eliminations were $12.4 million, $19.4 million, and $14.6 million for the fiscal years 2003, 2002, and 2001, respectively.

Real Estate Operations

Rental revenue, before intercompany eliminations, were $59.2 million, $68.2 million and $72.0 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Intercompany rental revenue was $56.2 million, $64.3 million and $71.1 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The decrease in fiscal years 2003 and 2002 is related to the sale of properties to SAC Holdings.

Net investment and interest income was $10.7 million, $8.3 million and $11.0 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The increase in fiscal 2003 is related to increased investments in mortgage notes. The decline in 2002 was due to a reduction in mortgage notes.

Operating (income) expenses, before intercompany eliminations, were $(5.5) million, $(4.4) million and $0.5 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

Lease expense before intercompany eliminations, for real estate operations was $14.2 million, $11.2 million and $11.6 million for the fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The increase in fiscal year 2003 was due to more properties under lease and the default lease rates on three multi-property leases. The lease expense in fiscal year 2002 was virtually unchanged over the fiscal year 2001.

Depreciation expense, net, was $5.2 million, $(2.0) million and $5.3 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The increase in depreciation expense in 2003 was due to no gains from the disposition of surplus real estate. The decrease in fiscal years 2002 reflects an increase in gains from the disposition of property, plant and equipment.

Earnings from operations, before intercompany eliminations, were $56.0 million, $71.9 million and $65.7 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The decline in earnings from operations in fiscal year 2003 was due to a reduction in rental revenues and an increase in lease expense. The increase in fiscal year 2002 is mainly related to lower operating costs and expenses, and gains recorded on sales of surplus properties.

Interest expense was $23.7 million, $34.3 million and $44.3 million for fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Declining intercompany loan balances and declining rates led to the overall decline in interest expense for fiscal years 2003 and 2002.

Pretax earnings before intercompany eliminations were $32.4 million, $37.6 million and $21.5 million for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2003, 2002, and 2001, respectively.

Property and Casualty

Premium revenues, before intercompany eliminations, were $152.6 million, $262.0 million and $226.1 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. General agency premiums were $66.0 million, $107.4 million and $64.3 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The decrease in 2002 from 2001 is due to the run-off of RepWest's Non-Standard Auto business which was cancelled in 2001, as well as increased quota share reinsurance on the trucking program. The increase in 2001 from 2000 was due to trucking, commercial lines business, and the non-standard auto program, which was cancelled in 2001. Assumed treaty reinsurance premiums were $34.9 million, $73.0 million and $83.2 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The decrease in 2002 from 2001 is due to the non-renewal and cancellation of the assumed reinsurance treaty business. Rental industry revenues were $32.6 million, $47.5 million and $51.3 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The decrease in 2002 from 2001 was due to a change in policy structure on U-Haul business effective April 1, 2002. Under the new policy U-Haul is now responsible for losses from $2.0 million per occurrence. The increase from 2000 was the result of an increase in premiums of a retrospectively rated policy on the U-Haul industry liability policy. Net investment income was $22.3 million, $20.7 million and $25.5 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The increase in 2002 from 2001 is due to increased earnings on real estate offset by a decrease in income on fixed maturities due to lower average invested assets. The decrease in 2001 from 2000 is due to lower invested asset balances, lower interest rates, as well as the write down of $4.1 million of fixed maturity investments during 2001.

Operating expenses, before intercompany eliminations, were $37.0 million, $77.2 million and $56.5 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The decrease in 2002 from 2001 is due to decreased commission expense on decreased premium writings. The increase in 2001 from 2000 is due to a change in estimate on an aggregate stop loss treaty in which RepWest had originally recorded the treaty as if it would be commuted. Estimates in 2001 have changed and the treaty was not commuted. The original amount was a reduction to commissions of $17.7 million of which RepWest had to recognize as additional commission expense in 2001. Commission expenses were $13.9 million, $51.2 million and $33.1 million for the years ended December 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. Lease expenses were $1.1 million, $1.7 million and $2.1 million for the years ended December 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. All other underwriting expenses were $22.0 million, $24.3 million and $21.3 million for the years ended December 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively.

Benefits and losses incurred were $128.7 million, $255.8 million and $211.3 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The decrease in 2002 from 2001 is due to decreased earned premiums in all segments of RepWest's business. The increase in 2001 to 2000 was due to increased earned premium in three general agency programs and reserve strengthening in the assumed reinsurance treaty segment.

Amortization of deferred acquisition costs was $17.3 million, $22.1 million and $16.6 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The decrease in 2002 from 2001 is due to RepWest's decreased premium writings. The increase in 2001 from 2000 is due to the amortization of higher commissions deferred in the 2000 year.

Pretax losses from operations were $8.0 million, $72.4 million and $32.9 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The decrease in losses in 2002 from 2001 is due to RepWest exiting multiple unprofitable lines of business as well as reduced expenses. The increase in losses in 2001 from 2000 was due to the increase in earned premium from unprofitable lines, increased commissions due to the commutation write-off, reserve strengthening, and development in older years on the assumed treaty reinsurance business.

Life Insurance

Premium revenues, before intercompany eliminations, were $161.4 million, $159.4 million and $112.6 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. Oxford increased

Table of Contents

Medicare supplement premiums through direct writings and the acquisition of Christian Fidelity Life Insurance Company (“CFLIC”); these actions increased premiums by $6.3 million from 2001 and $54.5 million from 2000. Premiums from Oxford’s life insurance lines increased $2.5 million from 2001 and $3.7 million from 2000. Credit life and disability premiums decreased $2.9 million from 2001 and $6.6 million from 2000 due to account cancellations in specific states and decreased penetration. Annuitizations decreased by $0.7 million from 2001 and $2.6 million from 2000. Other health insurance premiums decreased $3.2 million from 2001 and decreased $0.2 million from 2000 due to termination of major medical programs. Net investment income before intercompany eliminations was $13.9 million, $23.2 million, and $19.0 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001, and 2000. The change in 2002 from 2001 is due to lower interest rates, larger short-term balances and write-downs for other than temporary declines in the investment portfolio. The increase between 2001 and 2000 is primarily due to write-downs for other than temporary declines in the investment portfolio in 2000.

Operating expenses were $40.5 million, $37.5 million and $29.4 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. Commissions have increased $1.0 million from 2001 and $4.9 million from 2000, primarily due to the increases in Medicare supplement premiums. General and administrative expenses net of fees collected increased $2.1 million from 2001 and $6.3 million from 2000. The acquisition of CFLIC resulted in $3.3 million of the increase from 2000.

Benefits incurred were $115.6 million, $120.9 million and $79.2 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000. Medicare supplement benefits decreased $1.8 million from 2001 primarily due to decreased exposure and improved experience, and increased $36.8 million from 2000 due to the acquisition of CFLIC. Credit insurance benefits decreased $1.7 million from 2001 and $1.2 million from 2000 due to decreased exposure. Benefits from other health lines decreased $4.1 million from 2001 and $.5 million from 2000 due to the termination of major medical programs. Annuity and life benefits increased $2.3 million from 2001 and $1.3 million from 2000 due to increases in life insurance exposure.

Amortization of deferred acquisition costs (DAC) and the value of business acquired (VOBA) was $20.5 million, $18.6 million and $19.6 million for 2002, 2001 and 2000. These costs are amortized for life and health policies as the premium is earned over the term of the policy; and for deferred annuities, amortized in relation to interest spreads. Amortization increased $1.9 million and $0.9 million from 2001 and 2000 due to the annuity and credit segments.

Pretax earnings (losses) before intercompany eliminations were $(1.4) million, $5.6 million and $3.4 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The decrease from 2001 is primarily due to other than temporary declines in the investment portfolio and poor experience in the credit insurance lines. The increase from 2000 is due to realized gains in the investment portfolio.

Consolidated Group Earnings

As a result of the foregoing, pretax losses were $38.9 million, $67.3 million and $64.7 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. After providing for income taxes, losses were $25.0 million, $47.4 million and $42.1 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001 respectively. On a combined basis SAC Holdings and RepWest accounted for $14.1 million, $62.7 million and $32.4 million of the total losses for fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001 respectively.

Results of Operations — Comparison of Nine Months Ended December 31, 2003 and Nine Months Ended December 31, 2002

U-Haul Moving and Storage

Revenues consist of rental revenues, net sales and investment earnings.

Rental revenue was $1,220.0 million and $1,146.8 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The increase from the prior year reflects increased equipment rental revenues which can be attributed to an increase in the average dollar per transaction, improved equipment utilization, and increases in storage revenues due to an increase in the number of rooms rented and improved pricing.

Table of Contents

Net sales revenues were $142.4 million and $137.6 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The increase in sales reflects improved sales of propane and moving support items.

Cost of sales were $70.1 million and $71.5 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The decrease was due to a shift in the mix of products sold.

Operating expenses before intercompany eliminations were $817.8 million and $824.3 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. Decreases in advertising, telephone, utility and other operating expenses caused the decrease.

Lease expense was $110.8 million and $120.4 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The decrease is due to a decrease in the number of trucks leased.

Net depreciation expense was $93.7 million and $83.9 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. Depreciation from rental trucks acquired off lease, an increase in depreciation on pickups and vans, and increased losses on disposition of fixed assets is responsible for the increase in net depreciation expense.

Operating profit before intercompany eliminations was $153.8 million and $63.4 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Amerco Real Estate (AREC)

Rental revenue before intercompany eliminations was $50.3 million and $51.4 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. Inter-company revenue was $45.7 and $45.1 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Net investment and interest income was $6.0 million and $8.0 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Lease expense was $10.7 million and $7.5 for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The increase is a result of the increase in lease expense for storage facilities.

Net depreciation expense was $5.1 million and $5.4 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Operating profit before intercompany eliminations was $40.5 million and $41.5 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Property and Casualty (RepWest)

RepWest's earned premiums were $78.2 million and $126.9 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. General agency premiums were $56.4 million and $68.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The decrease in 2003 is due to RepWest exiting its non-U-Haul related lines. Assumed treaty reinsurance premiums were $2.1 million and $29.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The decrease from 2002 to 2003 is due to the cancellation of RepWest's assumed treaty business. Rental industry earned premiums were $19.7 million and $29.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The 2003 decrease was from a change in policy structure on U-Haul business effective April 1, 2003.

Net investment income was $19.2 million and $21.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The decrease is attributable to lower average invested assets.

Benefits and losses incurred were $89.6 million and $111.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The decrease is primarily due to decreased earned premiums in all segments of the RepWest's business, which was offset partially by the reserve strengthening on discontinued lines.

Table of Contents

The net amortization of deferred acquisition costs (DAC) were $11.8 million and $13.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The decrease is due to RepWest's decreased earned premiums.

Operating expenses were $17.8 million and $26.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The decrease is due to reduced general administrative expenses, as a result of the discontinuance of non-related U-Haul lines.

Operating loss before tax was $21.8 million and $2.8 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The increase in the loss is due to further loss development and reserve strengthening on cancelled lines of business that were written in prior years.

In April 2003, RepWest announced that in conjunction with the Company's overall restructuring efforts, it is redirecting its operating focus. In particular, RepWest is exiting non-U-Haul related lines of business. Management estimates that approximately 75% and 81% of earned premium and balance sheet reserves, respectively, relate to the operations that are being discontinued. The process is being conducted in an orderly fashion to help minimize related costs.

Life Insurance (Oxford)

Net premiums were $112.9 million and $121.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. Life insurance premium and annuitizations decreased $2.8 million from the same period in 2002. Credit insurance premiums decreased $3.6 million for the nine months. Other business segments had premium decreases totaling $1.9 million.

Net investment income before intercompany eliminations was $15.4 million and $13.0 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. This is primarily due to fewer other than temporary decline write-downs in the bond portfolio offset by reduced investment yields and a lower invested asset base.

Benefits incurred were $80.2 million and $88.4 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. Medicare supplement incurred benefits decreased $4.7 million and credit life and disability decreased $1.8 million from reduced populations and improved loss experience. Other segments had benefit decreases totaling $1.7 million.

Amortization of deferred acquisition cost (DAC) and the value of business acquired (VOBA) was $17.0 million and $14.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The increase is primarily due to surrender activity from the deferred annuity segment that has occurred since AMERCO's bankruptcy filing and Oxford's subsequent rating decline.

Operating expenses were $23.2 million and $29.6 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003, and 2002, respectively. Commission expenses decreased $2.0 million as new sales declined. Fees collected from annuity policies that surrendered increased $3.2 million offsetting the increases in DAC amortization. General and administrative expenses net of fees collected decreased $1.2 million.

Operating profit before tax and intercompany eliminations was $7.8 million and $1.4 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The improvement is due to fewer write-downs of bonds and from better loss experience in the Medicare supplement segment.

SAC Moving and Storage

Total revenues consist of storage rental revenues, vehicle rental commissions and net sales. Total rental revenue was $127.4 million and $123.8 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Net sales revenues were $39.6 million and $38.1 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. Propane and hitch sales accounted for the increase.

Operating expenses before intercompany eliminations were $81.5 million and $74.9 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. Increased expenses were the result of increased payroll, advertising, property tax expenses, and liability insurance.

Cost of sales increased to $16.9 million from $16.0 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. This increase was due to increased sales volume.

Net depreciation expense was $16.0 million and $14.5 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The increase is due to an increased loss on disposal of assets.

Operating profits were $52.6 million and $56.5 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Consolidated Group

Interest expense was $92.8 million and $86.3 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. AMERCO's interest expense was $60.4 and $54.1 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. AMERCO's interest expense increased despite lower overall average debt outstanding due to an increase in the average cost of debt resulting from default interest. Interest expense of SAC Holdings on third party debt was $32.5 million and $32.2 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Pretax earnings were $80.7 million and $6.9 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. After providing for income taxes, net earnings were $50.1 million and $0.1 million for the nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Disclosures About Contractual Obligations and Commercial Commitments

The following table of contractual commitments and contingencies was prepared based on our outstanding obligations and commitments at December 31, 2003, as adjusted to give effect to the issuance of our new debt obligations (including the New SAC Holdings Notes) issued on March 15, 2004 upon our emergence from bankruptcy and the satisfaction of the debt obligations discharged in connection therewith. In light of our Chapter 11 reorganization, we believe this information is more useful to investors than information about our capital structure and obligations as they existed prior to our emergence from Chapter 11. We have elected to show our contractual obligations and commercial commitments for the periods beginning with the start of our fiscal year on April 1, 2004 rather than as of January 1, 2004 so that the disclosure will conform to prior and future disclosures and because we believe the difference of three months is not material. None of the listed debt or contractual obligations have scheduled maturities due during the quarter ended March 31, 2004.

* New SAC Holdings Notes issued to AMERCO creditors in connection with AMERCO's approved Chapter 11 plan of reorganization.

 These notes and loans represent obligations of SAC Holdings issued to AMERCO and other third party lenders prior to or outside of AMERCO's Chapter 11 plan of reorganization.

AMERCO uses certain equipment and occupies certain facilities under operating lease commitments with terms expiring through 2079. In the event of a shortfall in proceeds from the sale of the underlying assets, AMERCO has guaranteed approximately $162.0 million of residual values at December 31, 2003, for these assets at the end of the respective lease terms. See details related to operating lease commitments in Note 15 to the consolidated financial statements.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our successful emergence Chapter 11 has provided us with a strengthened balance sheet and we believe a capital structure that will allow us to achieve our operational plans and goals and provide us with sufficient liquidity. The majority of the obligations that we incurred in connection with our emergence from Chapter 11 mature at the end of fiscal 2009 while the New AMERCO Notes do not mature until fiscal 2011. As a result, we believe that our near term liquidity (one to three years) is strong, which will allow us the ability to focus on our operations and business to improve our liquidity in the long term. As of December 31, 2003, AMERCO had on hand cash and cash equivalents of approximately $136.9 million, of which approximately $4.8 million was held by our insurance subsidiaries. We believe that if we are successful in improving our operations and further strengthening our liquidity, we will improve our access to the capital markets in the long term. There is no assurance, however, that future cash flows will be sufficient to meet our outstanding obligations or our future capital needs. The terms of our new indebtedness place stringent financial and operating covenants on AMERCO and its subsidiaries, which could constrain our ability to take certain actions with respect to the operation of our business. In addition, if we were to fail to comply with these financial covenants or otherwise breach other covenants contained in the agreements governing our indebtedness, a substantial portion of our indebtedness could be declared in default and accelerated. The terms of our new indebtedness also severely restrict our ability to incur additional indebtedness and other obligations, which limits our ability to obtain other financial resources.

Following is a discussion of the liquidity and capital resources and needs of our operating segments. This discussion is based on our new capital structure upon our emergence from bankruptcy on March 15, 2004. We also refer you to the discussion of our existing indebtedness located under the captions “Description of Other Indebtedness and Other Obligations” and “Description of the Exchange Notes.”

U-Haul Moving and Storage Capital Expenditures

To meet the needs of its customers, U-Haul must maintain a large inventory of fixed asset rental items. Historically capital expenditures have primarily reflected new rental truck acquisitions and storage expansion. The capital required to fund these expenditures has historically been obtained through internally generated funds from operations, indebtedness and lease financing. Going forward, we anticipate that a substantial portion of our internally generated funds will be used to satisfy existing indebtedness and our ability to incur additional indebtedness over the next five or so years will be severally limited. As a result, we expect to finance our rental truck acquisitions through lease financing

During each of the fiscal years ending March 31, 2005, 2006 and 2007, U-Haul estimates that gross capital expenditures will average approximately $150 million to maintain its fleet at current levels. The Exit Financing Facility and 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 limit the amount of capital expenditures we can make in 2005, 2006, and 2007 to $185 million, $245 million and $195 million, respectively. Management estimates that U-Haul will fund its fleet requirements from leasing and from the proceeds from the sale of trucks. We intend to focus our growth on expanding our independent dealer network, which does not require a substantial amount of capital resources. We believe that AMERCO’s emergence from Chapter 11 will improve our access to leasing markets, which we anticipate will result in more favorable lease terms and additional financing sources.

Amerco Real Estate

Real Estate has traditionally financed the acquisition of self-storage properties though lease and debt financing. During the next five or so years, Real Estate’s ability to acquire and construct additional facilities using debt financing may be severely limited.

Property and Casualty (RepWest)

As of December 31, 2003, RepWest had no notes or loans due in less than one year and its accounts payable and accrued expenses were approximately $1.2 million. RepWest’s financial assets (cash, receivables, inventories, short-term investments and fixed maturities) at December 31, 2003 were approximately $546.4 million. State insurance regulations restrict the amount of dividends that can be paid to stockholders of insurance companies. As a result, RepWest’s funds are generally not available to satisfy the claims of AMERCO or its subsidiaries.

In connection with AMERCO’s emergence from Chapter 11, RepWest’s liquidity and financial position were strengthened as a result of a cash payment from AMERCO totaling $2.7 million in satisfaction of an intercompany obligation. We believe that RepWest has sufficient liquidity and financial resources to meet its claims and other obligations for the foreseeable future, without additional funding from AMERCO. As discussed elsewhere in this prospectus, although RepWest was not a party to our bankruptcy filing, it remains under supervision by the Arizona Department of Insurance and as a result, it is severely restricted in the actions that it may take without obtaining prior approval from the Arizona Department of Insurance.

Life Insurance (Oxford)

As of December 31, 2003, Oxford had no notes and loans payable due in less than one year and its accounts payable and accrued expenses total approximately $2.6 million. Oxford’s financial assets (cash, receivables, inventories, short-term investments, other investments, and fixed maturities at December 31, 2003 were approximately $852.4 million. State insurance regulations restrict the amount of dividends that can be paid to stockholders of insurance companies. As a result, Oxford’s funds are generally not available to satisfy the claims of AMERCO or its subsidiaries.

Table of Contents

In addition to cash flows from operating and financing activities, a substantial amount of liquid funds is available through Oxford's short-term portfolio. In connection with AMERCO's emergence from Chapter 11, Oxford's liquidity and financial position were significantly strengthened as a result of AMERCO's repayment of an intercompany loan (including principal and interest) due to Oxford in the amount of $18.3 million, which provided Oxford with additional cash liquidity. In addition, A.M. Best Co. recently increased its financial strength ratings of Oxford and its insurance subsidiaries to B-(fair) from C+ (weak), in large part as a result of AMERCO's repayment of the $18.3 million intercompany loan and AMERCO's emergence from Chapter 11 bankruptcy. We believe that Oxford has sufficient liquidity and financial resources to meet its claims and other obligations for the foreseeable future, without additional funding from AMERCO.

Oxford was not a party to our Chapter 11 bankruptcy filing and it is in compliance with NAIC minimum risk-based capitalization requirements.

SAC Moving and Storage

SAC Holdings operations are funded by various mortgage loans and unsecured notes, with interest rates ranging from 7.5% to 9.0%. SAC Holdings does not utilize revolving lines of credit to finance operations or acquisitions. Certain of SAC Holdings agreements contain restrictive covenants and restrictions on incurring additional subsidiary indebtedness. At December 31, 2003, SAC Holdings was in compliance with all of these covenants.

At December 31, 2003, SAC Holdings' notes and loans payable due in less than one year total approximately $155.1 million, excluding amounts owed to AMERCO, and its accounts payable and accrued expenses total approximately $46.2 million. SAC Holdings' financial assets (cash, receivables, inventories and short term investments) at December 31, 2003 were approximately $4.1 million. Because AMERCO does not have any equity ownership in SAC Holdings (other than investments made by RepWest and Oxford in a SAC Holdings-controlled limited partnership which holds Canadian self-storage properties), these assets are not available to meet the obligations of AMERCO.

At March 15, 2004, total outstanding notes and loans payable for SAC Holdings and consolidated subsidiaries before inter-company eliminations were approximately $988.4 million. Of this amount, approximately $203.8 million was owed to AMERCO. SAC Holdings' creditors have no recourse to AMERCO. AMERCO is not liable for the debts of SAC Holdings.

Cash Provided by Operating Activities

U-Haul Moving and Storage Operations

Cash provided by operating activities was $83.5 million, $96.2 million and $106.9 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The decrease in 2003 was due to a decline in intercompany payables that was partially offset by an increase in depreciation of rental equipment. The decrease in fiscal year 2002 from 2001 is due to an increase in earnings and offset by an increase in other investments.

SAC Moving and Storage Operations

Cash provided (used) by operating activities was $13.5 million, ($1.3) million and $15.1 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

At March 31, 2003, total outstanding notes and mortgages payable before intercompany eliminations of $394.2 million were $983.2 million compared to $961.5 million at March 31, 2002.

Real Estate Operations

Cash provided (used) by operating activities was $(87.1) million, $(144.1) million and $68.7 million in fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The decrease in fiscal years 2003 and 2002 was due to a decrease in the intercompany payable with AMERCO.

Table of Contents

Property and Casualty

Cash provided (used) by operating activities was $(75.1) million, $(61.5) million and $15.2 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The change in 2002 from 2001 is due to increased receivables. The change in 2001 from 2000 change is due to decreased unearned premiums, increased receivables, and an increase in federal income tax recoverable.

RepWest's cash and cash equivalents and short-term investment portfolio were $35.1 million, $18.3 million and $17.0 million at December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. This balance reflects funds in transition from maturity proceeds to long-term investments. This level of liquid assets, combined with anticipated operating cash flow, is adequate to meet periodic needs. Capital and operating budgets allow RepWest to schedule cash needs in accordance with investment and underwriting proceeds.

Life Insurance

Oxford's primary sources of cash are premiums, receipts from interest-sensitive products and investment income. The primary uses of cash are operating costs and benefit payments to policyholders. Matching the investment portfolio to the cash flow demands of the types of insurance being written is an important consideration. Benefit and claim statistics are continually monitored to provide projections of future cash requirements.

Cash provided (used) by operating activities was $(18.0) million, $(5.2) million and $3.5 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The decrease in cash flows from operating activities in 2001 and 2000 relates to federal income taxes paid, general and administrative expenses and paid loss experience. Cash flows provided by financing activities were $67.3 million, $58.1 million and $13.7 million for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. Cash flows from deferred annuity sales increase investment contract deposits, which are a component of financing activities. The increase in investment contract deposits over 2001 and 2000 is due to growth in new deposits offset by withdrawals and terminations of existing deposits.

In addition to cash flows from operating and financing activities, a substantial amount of liquid funds is available through Oxford's short-term portfolio. At December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, short-term investments amounted to $80.4 million, $53.5 million and $44.9 million, respectively. Management believes that the overall sources of liquidity will continue to meet foreseeable cash needs.

During fiscal 2002, Oxford realized a write-down of investments due to other than temporary declines approximating $2.3 million. During fiscal 2003, Oxford realized a write-down of investments due to other than temporary declines of approximately $7.9 million.

Consolidated Group

Cash provided (used) by operating activities were $74.5 million, ($19.6) million and $172.6 million for fiscal year 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

Stockholders' Equity

U-Haul's Moving and Storage Operations

U-Haul's stockholders' equity was $499.4 million, $458.6 million and $449.6 million as of March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Earnings or losses from operating activities was the cause for the change in each of the years.

SAC Moving and Storage Operations

SAC Holdings' stockholders' deficit was $45.1 million, $37.7 million and $23.5 million as of March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively

Table of Contents

AMERCO'S Real Estate Operations

Real Estate stockholders' equity was $215.0 million, $195.5 million and $88.4 million as of March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. The increase in fiscal year 2003 and 2002 is due to increased earnings and the sale of storage properties during fiscal year 2002.

Property and Casualty

RepWest's stockholder's equity was $199.1 million, $205.3 million and $186.7 million at December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The decrease in 2002 from 2001 is due to the operating losses in 2002. The increase in 2001 from 2000 was due to a $60.2 million capital contribution from the RepWest's parent AMERCO, offset by operating losses in 2001. RepWest does not use debt or equity issues to increase capital and therefore has no exposure to capital market conditions. RepWest did not pay dividends to its parent during 2002, 2001 or 2000.

Applicable laws and regulations of the State of Arizona require RepWest and Oxford to maintain minimum capital and surplus determined in accordance with statutory accounting practices. The amount of dividends that can be paid to shareholders by insurance companies domiciled in the State of Arizona is limited. Any dividend in excess of the limit requires prior regulatory approval. At December 31, 2002, RepWest has $6.5 million of statutory surplus available for distribution. However, as discussed in Item 1, subsequent to December 31, 2002, RepWest consented to an Order of Supervision which, among other things, prohibits any dividend payments to AMERCO without prior approval of the DOI.

Life Insurance

Oxford's stockholder's equity was $111.1 million, $117.7 million and $90.9 million as of December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively. The decrease from 2001 to 2002 is from investment losses, the increase from 2000 to 2001 is a result of earnings, changes in market value of the available for sale investment portfolio and a $15.4 million contribution from AMERCO. Oxford did not pay dividends in 2002, 2001 or 2000. At December 31, 2002, Oxford cannot distribute any of its statutory surplus as dividends without regulatory approval.

Consolidated Group

The Consolidated group's stockholder equity was $327.5 million, $381.5 million and $446.4 million as of the end of fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

Quarterly Results

The quarterly results shown below are derived from unaudited financial statements for the eleven quarters beginning April 1, 2001 and ending December 31, 2003. The Company believes that all necessary adjustments have been included in the amounts stated below to present fairly, and in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, such results. U-Haul moving and storage operations are seasonal and proportionally more of the Company's revenues and net earnings from its U-Haul moving and storage operations are generated in the first and second quarters of each fiscal year (April through September). The operating results for the periods presented are not necessarily indicative of results for any future period.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Management's discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations are based upon the consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The preparation of our financial statements requires the use of estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses, and related disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. On an ongoing basis, estimates are reevaluated, including those related to areas that require a significant level of judgment or are otherwise subject to an inherent degree of uncertainty. These areas include allowances for doubtful accounts, depreciation of revenue earning vehicles and buildings, self-insured liabilities, impairments of assets, insurance reserves, premiums and acquisition cost amortization, income taxes and commitments and contingencies. Our estimates are based on historical experience, observance of trends in particular areas, information and/or valuations available from outside sources and on various other assumptions that we believe to be reasonable under the circumstances and which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual amounts may differ from these estimates under different assumptions and conditions. Such differences may be material.

Accounting policies are considered critical when they are significant and involve difficult, subjective or complex judgments or estimates. We consider the following to be critical accounting policies:

Principles of Consolidation — The financial statements presented in this prospectus include the accounts of AMERCO and its wholly-owned subsidiaries and SAC Holdings and their subsidiaries. All material intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. AMERCO has made significant loans to SAC Holdings and is entitled to participate in SAC Holdings' excess cash flow (after senior debt service). All of the equity interest of SAC Holdings is owned by Mark V. Shoen, a significant shareholder and executive officer of AMERCO. AMERCO does not have an equity ownership interest in SAC Holdings, except for investments made by RepWest and Oxford in a SAC Holdings-controlled limited partnership which holds Canadian self-storage properties. SAC Holdings are not legal subsidiaries of AMERCO. AMERCO is not liable for the debts of SAC Holdings and there are no default provisions in AMERCO indebtedness that cross-default to SAC Holdings' obligations.

Revenue Earning Vehicles and Buildings — Depreciation is recognized in amounts expected to result in the recovery of estimated residual values upon disposal (i.e., no gains or losses). In determining the depreciation rate, we review historical disposal experience and holding periods. Due to longer holding periods on trucks and the resulting increased possibility of changes in the economic environment and market conditions, these estimates are subject to a greater degree of risk.

Long-lived Assets and Intangible Assets — We review carrying value whenever events or circumstances indicate the carrying values may not be recoverable through projected undiscounted future cash flows. The events could include significant underperformance relative to expected, historical or projected future operating results, significant changes in the manner of using the assets, overall business strategy, significant negative industry or economic trends and an unexpected non-compliance with significant debt agreements.

Investments — For investments accounted for under SFAS 115, in determining if and when a decline in market value below amortized cost is other than temporary, quoted market prices, dealer quotes or discounted cash flows are reviewed. Other-than-temporary declines in value are recognized in the current period operating results to the extent of the decline.

Insurance Revenue and Expense Recognition — Premiums are recognized as revenue as earned over the terms of the respective policies. Benefits and expenses are matched with recognized premiums to result in revenue and expense recognition over the life of the contracts. This match is accomplished by recording a provision for future policy benefits and unpaid claims and claim adjustment expenses and by amortizing deferred policy acquisition costs. Charges related to services to be performed are deferred until earned. The amounts received in excess of premiums and fees are included in other policyholder funds in the consolidated balance sheets.

Unearned premiums represent the portion of premiums written which relate to the unexpired term of policies. Liabilities for health and disability and other policy claims and benefits payable represent estimates of payments to be made on insurance claims for reported losses and estimates of losses incurred but not yet reported. These estimates are based on past claims experience and current claim trends as well as social and economic conditions such as changes in legal theories and inflation. Due to the nature of underlying risks and the high degree of uncertainty associated with the determination of the liability for future policy benefits and claims, the amounts to be ultimately paid to settle liabilities cannot be precisely determined and may vary significantly from the estimated liability.

Acquisition costs related to insurance contracts have been deferred to accomplish matching against future premium revenue. The costs are charged to current earnings to the extent it is determined that future premiums are not adequate to cover amounts deferred.

U-Haul Insurance Expense — Expense is recognized annually based on reported claims and an estimate of future claims. A reserve is booked for unpaid losses. U-Haul's self-insured retention is paid out over time as claims are settled, relieving the reserve for unpaid losses.

IRS Examination

In connection with the resolution of litigation with certain members of the Shoen family and their corporations, AMERCO has deducted for income tax purposes approximately $372.0 million of the payments made to plaintiffs in a lawsuit. While AMERCO believes that such income tax deductions are appropriate, there can be no assurance that such deductions ultimately will be allowed in full. The IRS has proposed adjustments to the Company's 1997 and 1996 tax returns. Nearly all of the adjustments are attributable to denials of deductions claimed for certain payments made in connection with this litigation. We believe these income tax deductions are appropriate and are vigorously contesting the IRS adjustments. No additional taxes have been provided in the accompanying financial statements, as management believes that none will result.

New Accounting Pronouncements

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 143 (SFAS 143), Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations, requires recognition of the fair value of liabilities associated with the retirement of long-lived assets when a legal obligation to incur such costs arises as a result of the acquisition, construction, development and/or the normal operation of a long-lived asset. Upon recognition of the liability, a corresponding asset is recorded at present value and accreted over the life of the asset and depreciated over the remaining life of the long-lived asset. SFAS 143 defines a legal obligation as one that a party is required to settle as a result of an existing or enacted law, statute, ordinance, or written or oral contract or by legal construction of a contract under the doctrine of promissory estoppel. SFAS 143 is effective for fiscal years beginning after September 15, 2002. We adopted this statement effective April 1, 2003, and it did not affect our consolidated financial position or results of operations.

In April 2002, the FASB adopted SFAS No. 145 (SFAS 145), Rescission of FASB Statement No. 4, (Reporting Gains and Losses from Extinguishment of Debt), No. 44 (Accounting for Intangible Assets of Motor Carriers), and No. 64, (Extinguishments of Debt Made to Satisfy Sinking-Fund Requirements), Amendment of FASB Statement No. 13 (Accounting for Leases) and Technical Corrections. This statement eliminates the requirement that gains and losses on debt extinguishment must be classified as extraordinary items in the income statement. Instead, such gains and losses will be classified as extraordinary items only if they are deemed to be unusual and infrequent, in accordance with the current GAAP criteria for extraordinary classification. In addition, SFAS 145 eliminates an inconsistency in lease accounting by requiring that modification of capital leases that result in reclassification as operating leases be accounted for consistent with sale-leaseback accounting rules. The statement also contains other non-substantive corrections to authoritative accounting literature. The changes related to debt extinguishment are effective for fiscal years beginning after May 15, 2002. We previously reclassified all extraordinary loss on debt extinguishment to interest expense. The changes related to lease accounting will be effective for transactions occurring after May 15, 2002. We adopted the lease accounting provisions effective May 16, 2002 and it did not affect our consolidated financial position or results of operations.

In September 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 146, (SFAS 146) Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities, which addresses accounting for restructuring and similar costs. SFAS 146 supersedes previous accounting guidance, principally Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue No. 94-3. SFAS 146 requires that the liability for costs associated with an exit or disposal activity be recognized when the liability is incurred. Under EITF No. 94-3, a liability for an exit cost was recognized at the date of a company's commitment to an exit plan. SFAS 146 also establishes that the liability should initially be measured and recorded at fair value. Accordingly, SFAS 146 may affect the timing of recognizing future restructuring costs as well as the amount recognized. The provisions of this Statement are effective for exit or disposal activities that are initiated after December 31, 2002. We adopted the Statement effective January 1, 2003 and it did not affect our consolidated financial position or results of operations.

In November 2002, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 45 (FIN 45), Guarantor's Accounting for Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others, an interpretation of FASB Statements No. 5, 57, and 107 and rescission of FASB Interpretation No. 34, Disclosure of Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others. FIN 45 clarifies the requirements for a guarantor's accounting for and disclosure of certain guarantees issued and outstanding. It also requires a guarantor to recognize, at the inception of a guarantee, a liability for the fair value of the obligation undertaken in issuing the guarantee. This Interpretation also incorporates without reconsideration the guidance in FASB Interpretation No. 34, which was superseded. As a result of FIN 45, the Company has recorded a $125 million liability at March 31, 2003 and December 31, 2003, which is management's estimate of the liability associated with the guarantee of the indebtedness of an affiliate of Private Mini Storage Realty, L. P. which was entered into in February 2003.

In December 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 148 (SFAS 148), "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation — Transition and Disclosure", which amends Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (SFAS 123), "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation". SFAS 148 provides alternative methods of transition for a voluntary change to the fair value based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation. In addition, SFAS 148 amends the disclosure requirement of SFAS 123 to require more prominent and more frequent disclosures in financial statements of the effects of stock-based compensation. The transition guidance and annual disclosure provisions of SFAS 148 are effective for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2002. The interim disclosure provisions are effective for financial reports containing condensed financial statements for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2002. We have adopted this statement and it had no impact on the Company's consolidated balance sheet or results of operations.

In April 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 149, (SFAS 149) “Amendment of Statement 133 on Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities.” This Statement amends and clarifies the accounting for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts and for hedging activities under SFAS 133. In particular, SFAS 149 (1) clarifies under what circumstances a contract with an initial net investment meets the characteristic of a derivative as discussed in SFAS 133, (2) clarifies when a derivative contains a financing component, (3) amends the definition of an underlying derivative to conform it to the language used in FIN 45, and (4) amends certain other existing pronouncements. SFAS 149 is generally effective for contracts entered into or modified after June 30, 2003. The Company does not believe the adoption of SFAS 149 will have a material impact on the Company’s financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

In May 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 150 (SFAS 150), Accounting for Certain Financial Instruments with Characteristics of both Liabilities and Equity. This Statement establishes standards for classifying and measuring as liabilities certain financial instruments that embody obligations of the issuer and have characteristics of both liabilities and equity. SFAS No. 150 is effective at the beginning of the first interim period beginning after June 15, 2003; including all financial instruments created or modified after May 31, 2003. SFAS 150 currently has no impact on the Company.

In January 2003, the FASB issued Interpretation No. 46 (FIN 46), Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, an interpretation of Accounting Research Bulletin No. 51. FIN 46 requires that variable interest entities be consolidated by a company if that company absorbs a majority of the entity’s expected losses, receives a majority of its expected residual returns, or both, as a result of holding a variable interest. In December 2003, the FASB issued FIN 46R, which reflected certain amendments to the standard. The provisions of FIN 46, as revised, are effective for the first interim or annual period ending after March 15, 2004 when certain conditions are met by a variable interest entity. At this time an evaluation is being conducted to determine whether the adoption of FIN 46 will require that we consolidate certain of SAC Holdings’ investments, including its investment in Private Mini.

QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Interest Rate Risk

In the normal course of business, AMERCO is exposed to fluctuations in interest rates. AMERCO manages such exposure through the use of a variety of derivative financial instruments when deemed prudent. AMERCO does not enter into leveraged financial transactions or use derivative financial instruments for trading purposes. The exposure to market risk for changes in interest rates relates primarily to debt obligations. AMERCO's objective is to mitigate the impact of changes in interest rates on its variable rate debt. Historically, AMERCO has used interest rate swap agreements to provide for matching the gain or loss recognition on the hedging instrument with the recognition of the changes in the cash flows associated with the hedged asset or liability attributable to the hedged risk or the earnings effect of the hedged forecasted transaction. At March 31, 2003, no interest rate swap contracts existed. At March 31, 2002, the Company had interest rate swap contracts to pay variable rates of interest at the 3-month LIBOR and receive fixed rates of interest (average rate of 8.6%) on $45 million notional amount of indebtedness. This resulted in approximately $238 million of the Company's underlying debt being subject to variable interest rates. See Note 6 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements. A fluctuation in the interest rates of 100 basis points would change AMERCO's interest expense by approximately $2.5 million.

SAC Holdings debt is primarily fixed rate. Fluctuations in interest rates for new operations could have an impact on operations. SAC Holdings does not enter into leveraged financial transactions or use derivative financial instruments for trading purposes.

Foreign Currency Exchange Rate Risk

The Company's earnings are affected by fluctuations in the value of foreign currency exchange rates. Approximately 2.0% of the Company's revenue is generated in Canada. The result of a 10% change in the value of the U.S. dollar relative to the Canadian dollar would not be material. The Company does not typically hedge any foreign currency risk since the exposure is not considered material.

SAC Holdings earnings are affected by fluctuations in the value of foreign currency exchange rates. Approximately 6.4% of SAC Holdings revenue is generated in Canada. SAC Holdings does not typically hedge any foreign currency risk since the exposure is not considered material.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS

AMERCO has engaged in related party transactions, and has continuing related party interests, with certain major stockholders, directors and officers of the consolidated group as disclosed below and in Notes 11 and 19 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, which are contained in this prospectus. Management believes that the transactions described below and in the related notes were consummated on terms equivalent to those that would prevail in arm's-length transactions.

Single Transactions

During fiscal 2001, U-Haul sold $10.5 million of remanufactured engines and small automotive parts and purchased $53.7 million of automotive parts and tools from Equipment Universe. James P. Shoen's minority ownership interest in Equipment Universe ended December 2000.

During fiscal 2001, U-Haul purchased $1.1 million of rebuilt torque converters and other related transmission parts from Automatic Machine Works ("AMW"). James P. Shoen's mother has a major ownership interest in AMW. U-Haul ceased purchasing from AMW during December 2000.

On August 1, 2001, we sold one self-storage property to a subsidiary of SAC Holdings for $530,000 in cash and notes. The purchase price was determined by the Treasurer of U-Haul, based on an analysis of the net operating income of the properties.

On September 28, 2001, we purchased nine self-storage properties from SAC Holdings for $35.2 million in cash. These properties were not previously owned by us. The purchase price was negotiated with SAC Holdings by the Treasurer of U-Haul, based on an analysis of the net operating income of the properties.

On December 20, 2001, we sold 14 self-storage properties to a subsidiary of SAC Holdings for $43.8 million in cash and notes. The purchase price was negotiated with SAC Holdings by the Assistant Treasurer of U-Haul, based on an analysis of the net operating income of the properties.

On January 11, 2002, we sold 37 self-storage properties to a subsidiary of SAC Holdings for $93.7 million in cash and notes. The purchase price was negotiated with SAC Holdings by the Assistant Treasurer of U-Haul, based on an analysis of the net operating income of the properties.

On March 28, 2002, we sold 62 self-storage properties to a subsidiary of SAC Holdings for $146.9 million in notes. The purchase price was negotiated with SAC Holdings by the Assistant Treasurer of U-Haul, based on an analysis of the net operating income of the properties. On March 28, 2002, the purchaser paid down the notes in the amount of $75.9 million from cash proceeds obtained from a third-party financing.

On December 23, 2002, Mark V. Shoen, President, U-Haul Phoenix Operations and a significant stockholder of AMERCO, purchased a condominium in Phoenix, Arizona from Oxford Life Insurance Company. The purchase price was $279,573, which was in excess of the appraised value.

Continuing Interests

During fiscal 2003, 2002, and 2001, U-Haul purchased $2.1 million, $3.2 million, $3.46 million, respectively, of printing from Form Builders, Inc. Mark V. Shoen, his daughter and Edward J. Shoen's sons are major stockholders of Form Builders, Inc. Edward J. Shoen is Chairman of the Board of Directors and President of AMERCO and is a significant stockholder of AMERCO. Mark V. Shoen is President, U-Haul Phoenix Operations and is a significant stockholder of AMERCO. The Company ceased doing business with Form Builders, Inc. on April 18, 2003.

Samual J. Shoen, the son of Edward J. Shoen, is employed by U-Haul as project group supervisor. Mr. Shoen was paid an aggregate salary and bonus of $64,800, $79,200 and $79,900 for his services during the calendar years 2001, 2002 and 2003, respectively.

During fiscal 2003, 2002, and 2001, a subsidiary of the Company held various senior and junior unsecured notes of SAC Holdings. Substantially all of the equity interest of SAC Holdings is owned by Mark V. Shoen, a significant shareholder and executive officer of AMERCO. The Company does not have an equity ownership interest in SAC Holdings, except for minority investments made by RepWest and Oxford in a SAC Holdings-controlled limited partnership which holds Canadian self-storage properties. The senior unsecured notes of SAC Holdings that the Company holds rank equal in right of payment with the notes of certain senior mortgage holders, but junior to the extent of the collateral securing the applicable mortgages and junior to the extent of the cash flow waterfalls that favor the senior mortgage holders. The Company received cash interest payments of $26.6 million, $24.5 million, and $27.6 million from SAC Holdings during fiscal year 2003, 2002, and 2001, respectively. The notes receivable balance outstanding at March 31, 2003 was, in the aggregate, $394.2 million. The largest aggregate amount outstanding during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003 was $407.4 million. At March 31, 2003, SAC Holdings' notes and loans payable to third parties totaled $589.0 million. Interest on the senior and junior notes accrues at rates ranging from 6.5% to 13%. During the first three fiscal quarters of 2004, the Company received cash interest payments of $14.4 million from SAC Holdings. As discussed elsewhere in this prospectus, in connection with our emergence from Chapter 11 bankruptcy on March 15, 2004, $200 million SAC Holdings notes held by us were restructured and issued directly to our creditors. See "Description of Other Indebtedness and Other Obligations — New SAC Holdings Notes."

Interest accrues on the outstanding principal balance of senior notes of SAC Holdings that the Company holds at a fixed rate and is paid on a monthly basis.

Interest accrues on the outstanding principal balance of junior notes of SAC Holdings that the Company holds at a stated rate of basic interest. A fixed portion of that basic interest is paid on a monthly basis.

Additional interest is paid on the same payment date based on the difference between the amount of remaining basic interest and an amount equal to a specified percentage of the net cash flow before interest expense generated by the underlying property minus the sum of the principal and interest due on the senior notes of SAC Holdings relating to that property and a multiple of the fixed portion of basic interest paid on that monthly payment date. This amount is referred to as the "cash flow-based calculation."

To the extent that this cash flow-based calculation exceeds the amount of remaining basic interest, contingent interest equal to that excess and the amount of remaining basic interest are paid on the same monthly date as the fixed portion of basic interest. To the extent that the cash flow-based calculation is less than the amount of remaining basic interest, the additional interest payable on the applicable monthly date is limited to the amount of that cash flow-based calculation. In such a case, the excess of the remaining basic interest over the cash flow-based calculation is deferred and all amounts so deferred bear the stated rate of basic interest until maturity of the junior note. In addition, subject to certain contingencies, the junior notes provide that the holder of the note is entitled to receive 90% of the appreciation realized upon, among other things, the sale of such property by SAC Holdings. To date, no such properties have been sold by SAC Holdings.

The Company currently manages the self-storage properties owned by SAC Holdings pursuant to a standard form of management agreement with each SAC Holdings subsidiary, under which the Company receives a management fee equal to 6% of the gross receipts. The Company received management fees of $12.3 million, $8.3 million, and $6.2 million during fiscal year 2003, 2002, and 2001, respectively and $9.8 million during the first three quarters of fiscal 2004. This management fee is consistent with the fees received for other properties the Company manages for third parties.

RepWest and Oxford currently hold a 46% limited partnership interest in Securespace Limited Partnership ("Securespace"), a Nevada limited partnership. A SAC Holdings subsidiary serves as the general partner of Securespace and owns a 1% interest. Another SAC Holdings subsidiary owns the remaining 53% limited partnership interest in Securespace. Securespace was formed by SAC Holdings to be the owner of various Canadian self-storage properties.

During fiscal years 2004, 2003 and 2002 the Company leased space for marketing company offices, vehicle repair shops and hitch installation centers in 35 locations owned by subsidiaries of SAC Holdings. Total lease payments pursuant to such leases were $2.1 million, and $410,000 during fiscal year 2003, and 2002, respectively and $1.9 million during the first three quarters of fiscal 2004. The terms of the leases are similar to the terms of leases for other properties owned by unrelated parties that are leased to the Company.

At March 31, 2003, subsidiaries of SAC Holdings acted as U-Haul independent dealers. The financial and other terms of the dealership contracts with subsidiaries of SAC Holdings are substantially identical to the terms of those with the Company's other independent dealers. During fiscal 2003, and fiscal 2002, the Company paid subsidiaries of SAC Holdings $27.7 million, and $13.7 million, respectively, in commissions pursuant to such dealership contracts. During the first three quarters of fiscal 2004, the Company paid $22.9 million in commissions pursuant to these contracts.

The transactions discussed above involving SAC Holdings have all been eliminated from the Company's consolidated financial statements. Although these transactions have been eliminated for financial statement reporting purposes, except for minority investments made by RepWest and Oxford in Securespace, the Company has not had any equity ownership interest in SAC Holdings.

SAC Holdings were established in order to acquire self-storage properties which are being managed by the Company pursuant to management agreements. The sale of self-storage properties by the Company to SAC Holdings has in the past provided significant cash flows to the Company and the Company's outstanding loans to SAC Holdings entitle the Company to participate in SAC Holdings' excess cash flows (after senior debt service). However, in connection with SAC Holdings' issuance of the New SAC Holdings Notes to AMERCO's creditors in AMERCO's Chapter 11 proceeding, certain SAC Holdings notes payable to the Company were paid in full thereby extinguishing the "cash flow-based calculation."

Management believes that its sales of self-storage properties to SAC Holdings over the past several years provided a unique structure for the Company to earn rental revenues from the SAC Holdings self-storage properties that the Company manages and participate in SAC Holdings' excess cash flows as described above.

Although the Board of Directors of the appropriate subsidiary which was a party to each transaction with SAC Holdings approved such transaction at the time it was completed, the Company did not seek approval by AMERCO's Board of Directors for such transactions. However, AMERCO's Board of Directors, including the independent members, was made aware of and received periodic updates regarding such transactions from time to time. All future real estate transactions with SAC Holdings that involve the Company or any of its subsidiaries will have the prior approval of AMERCO's Board of Directors, even if it is not legally required, including a majority of the independent members of AMERCO's Board of Directors.

In connection with both the single transactions and the continuing interests described above regarding parts, tools and printing services, the Internal Audit Department of U-Haul periodically tests pricing against competitive third party bids for fairness.

In connection with both the single transactions and the continuing interests described above, management believes that the foregoing transactions were consummated on terms equivalent to those that prevail in arm's-length transactions.

DESCRIPTION OF OTHER INDEBTEDNESS AND OTHER OBLIGATIONS

The following is a summary of certain of our and our subsidiaries' indebtedness and the indebtedness of SAC Holdings.

Exit Financing Facility

General. Upon our emergence from bankruptcy, AMERCO, U-Haul, AMERCO Real Estate Company and certain of our subsidiaries entered into a loan and security agreement with Wells Fargo Foothill, Inc. (the "Exit Financing Facility"). The Exit Financing Facility consists of two components:

- (1) $200 million revolving credit facility (the "Revolver"), including a $50 million letter of credit sub-facility; and
- (2) $350 million amortizing term loan (the "Term A Notes").

Available Credit. The amounts available for borrowing under the Revolver are determined based on a borrowing base formula which is based upon a percentage of the value of our eligible real estate collateral. The amount of advances that we can request cannot exceed at any one time outstanding an amount equal to the lesser of:

- (1) $200 million (unless reduced by the lender in situations where we repay the Revolver as a result of sales of our assets) less the aggregate amount of all outstanding letters of credit; or
- (2) the "borrowing base" less (x) the aggregate amount of all outstanding letters of credit and (y) the outstanding balance of the Term A Notes.

The borrowing base is defined as 60% of the most recent fair market valuation of the real property collateral securing the Exit Financing Facility. The borrowing base at any time is reduced for the following:

- required reserves relating to our credit card, debit card and other bank clearing system reserves which relate to our cash accounts securing the Exit Financing Facility;
- environmental remediation reserves relating to the real property collateral;
- title reserves with respect to title defects and exceptions for the real property collateral;
- other reserves for taxes, assessments, insurance premiums and other items that the lender determines would constitute a priority lien with respect to the real property collateral.

As of March 15, 2004, the gross value of our collateral that was eligible for inclusion in the borrowing base was sufficient to enable us to borrow the entire amount of the Revolver ($200 million). At March 15, 2004, outstanding advances under the Exit Financing Facility totaled $515 million, consisting of $165 million outstanding under the Revolver and $350 million outstanding under the Term A Notes.

Swing Loans and Overadvances. The Revolver contemplates that the lender may, in its discretion, make swing loans to us. Each swing loan is deemed to be an advance under the Exit Financing Facility and shall be subject to all the terms and conditions applicable to other advances, except that swing loans are not eligible for the LIBOR interest rate option (discussed below). In addition, the lender may, in its discretion, knowingly continue to advance funds to us in amounts that exceed the borrowing base. These overadvances are limited such that after giving effect to the advances, the sum of outstanding amounts under the Revolver (including outstanding letters of credit), does not exceed the borrowing base by an amount equal to the lesser of (x) 5% of the borrowing base and (y) $10 million, and in any event does not exceed the maximum available credit under the revolver ($200 million).

Maturity and Payments. The Exit Financing Facility matures on February 27, 2009. Monthly principal payments of $291,667 are required for the Term A Notes commencing on April 1, 2004, with the balance due at maturity. No principal payments are due for the Revolver before maturity.

If we terminate the Exit Financing Facility, or make prepayments on the Term A Notes, prior to March 15, 2007, we are subject to a prepayment penalty as follows: before March 15, 2005, 2.00%; after

March 15, 2005 and before March 15, 2006, 1.50%; and after March 15, 2006 and before March 15, 2007, 1.00%. The prepayment penalty is determined based upon on the average daily outstanding balance of the Revolver and the average daily balance of undrawn letters of credit.

Ranking. Borrowings under the Exit Financing Facility represent our senior secured obligations and rank pari passu in right of payment to the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes. Borrowings under the Exit Financing Facility rank senior in right of payment to all other indebtedness of AMERCO and its legal subsidiaries (except for indebtedness of Oxford and RepWest).

Guarantees. The Exit Financing Facility is guaranteed by substantially all direct and indirect subsidiaries of the Company except for (i) the subsidiaries that are actual borrowers under the agreement, (ii) our insurance subsidiaries Oxford and RepWest and their respective subsidiaries, (iii) Storage Realty, L.L.C., a Texas limited liability company, (iv) INW, a Washington corporation, and (v) certain dormant subsidiaries. As discussed elsewhere in this prospectus, SAC Holdings are not legal subsidiaries of AMERCO and do not guarantee any borrowings under the Exit Financing Facility.

Collateral. All amounts outstanding under the Revolver and Term A Notes are secured by a first priority security interest in substantially all of the assets of the borrowers and the guarantors, except for the following assets:

- synthetic leases and synthetic lease collateral;
- notes receivable from SAC Holdings existing on our date of emergence from Chapter 11;
- real property having an approximate book value of $7.7 million under contract for sale on the closing date of the Exit Financing Facility.
- real estate subject to synthetic leases at the date of our emergence from bankruptcy;
- the capital stock of Oxford and RepWest owned by AMERCO;
- real property secured by a lien in favor of Oxford;
- surplus property;
- proceeds in excess of $50 million associated with the settlement, judgment or recovery related to our litigation against PricewaterhouseCoopers;
- vehicles that are subject to an operating lease arrangement; and
- certain cash accounts for the benefit of third parties.

Interest. As of March 15, 2004, $349 million of the Term A Loans bear interest at LIBOR plus 4.00% and $1 million bear interest at the base rate plus 1.50%. Monthly interest payments are due commencing April 1, 2004.

Interest on the Revolver is payable monthly for base rate option advances. Interest on LIBOR rate option advances is generally payable every three months and/ or the last day of the interest period selected. Advances outstanding under the Revolver bear interest under the base rate option or the LIBOR option, which we select, described as follows.

Base Rate Option. The base rate option is defined as the base rate plus the applicable margin. The base rate means the prime rate as announced by Wells Fargo Bank. The applicable margin is based on our EBITDA for the prior 12 months as follows:

EBITDA	Margin
less than $275 million	1.50%
greater than $275 million but less than $300 million	1.25%
greater than $300 million	1.00%

At March 15, 2004, the base rate was 4% and our EBITDA for the prior 12 months was less than $275 million. The applicable margin is adjusted quarterly at the end of each fiscal quarter based on our EBITDA for the trailing twelve months.

LIBOR Rate Option. The LIBOR rate option is defined as the LIBOR rate plus the applicable margin. The LIBOR rate means the rate per annum at which dollar deposits are offered by major banks in the London interbank market (after consideration of a customary reserve percentage, if any), provided that the rate shall never be less than 1%. We select the interest period for which each LIBOR rate option advance is to be calculated with such period being 1, 2, 3 or 6 months. We may not have more than six LIBOR rate option advances outstanding at any one time and each LIBOR advance must be of at least $1 million and integral multiples of $500,000 in excess thereof. In addition, we can prepay any outstanding LIBOR rate option advances under the Revolver, but we must reimburse the lenders for any funding losses they suffer as a result of such prepayment. The applicable margin is based on our EBITDA for the prior 12 months as follows:

less than $275 million	4.00%
greater than $275 million but less than $300 million	3.75%
greater than $300 million	3.50%

At March 15, 2004 our EBITDA was less than $275 million. The applicable margin is adjusted quarterly at the end of each fiscal quarter based on our EBITDA for the trailing twelve months. If an event of default occurs, we may no longer select the LIBOR rate option and any then outstanding LIBOR rate option advances (including amounts outstanding under the Term A Notes) can be converted to the base rate option, at the option of the lender.

Default Interest. In the event of any event of default, interest on outstanding advances and outstanding letters of credit will accrue at a rate of 2% in excess of the then applicable rate otherwise in effect.

Letter of Credit Fees; Facility Fees. We are charged a letter of credit fee (plus issuance charges) at a rate based on our EBITDA for the prior 12 months, as follows:

EBITDA	Applicable Margin
less than $275 million	4.00%
greater than $275 million but less than $300 million	3.75%
greater than $300 million	3.50%

The letter of credit fee accrues on the undrawn amount of all outstanding letters of credit at the applicable margin set forth above. In addition, we are charged a fee of 0.50% of the unused portion of the Revolver, including the letter of credit sub-facility.

Table of Contents

Covenants. Under the Exit Financing Facility, we are required to comply with a number of affirmative and negative covenants. These covenants apply to the borrowers. These covenants provide that:

- On a quarterly basis, we cannot allow our EBITDA minus capital expenditures (as defined), each measured on a fiscal quarter-end basis for the applicable period set forth below, to be less than the amounts set forth below:

Applicable Amount	Applicable Date
$15 million	For the three month period ending June 30, 2004;
$65 million	For the six month period ending September 30, 2004;
$65 million	For the nine month period ending December 31, 2004;
$60 million	For the twelve month period ending March 31, 2005;
$48 million	For the twelve month period ending June 30, 2005;
$25 million	For the twelve month period ending September 30, 2005;
$25 million	For the twelve month period ending December 31, 2005;
$30 million	For the twelve month period ending March 31, 2006;
$80 million	For the twelve month period ending June 30, 2006;
$115 million	For the twelve month period ending September 30, 2006;

For each fiscal quarter after March 31, 2007, the above covenant will be established using the same methodology as utilized for 2004, 2005 and 2006, based on financial projections we submit to the lenders. The lender will present the new covenants to us for approval, which we shall not unreasonably withhold. In the event we do not approve the lender's calculations of the new covenant, the holders of 51% of the commitments for the Term A Notes will establish this covenant.

- We are restricted in the amount of capital expenditures that we can make in any fiscal year as follows: fiscal 2005, $185 million; fiscal 2006, $245 million; and fiscal 2007, $195 million. For each fiscal quarter after March 31, 2007, this covenant will be established using the same methodology as utilized for 2005, 2006 and 2007, based on financial projections we submit to the lenders. The lender will present the new covenants to us for approval, which we shall not unreasonably withhold. In the event we do not approve the lender's calculations of the new covenants, the holders of 51% of the commitments for the Term A Notes will establish this covenant.
- We cannot incur any additional indebtedness, except for:
 - indebtedness existing under the Exit Financing Facility;
 - indebtedness existing on March 15, 2004;
 - purchase money indebtedness and capitalized lease obligations (excluding synthetic lease obligations) in an aggregate amount not to exceed $30 million;

Table of Contents

- capital leases, to the extent such capital leases arise out of the treatment of our synthetic leases (including refinancings) as capital leases in accordance with GAAP (see “— Synthetic Lease Arrangements”);
 - indebtedness under the New AMERCO Notes and the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009;
 - permitted guarantees;
 - indebtedness comprising investments specifically permitted under the Exit Financing Facility;
 - letters of credit issued outside the Exit Financing Facility and secured by cash collateral in an aggregate amount not to exceed $3 million at any time; and
 - subject to certain conditions, refinancings, renewals, or extensions of permitted indebtedness.
- We cannot create, incur, assume or permit to exist any lien on or against any of our assets, except for, among others, the following permitted liens:
 - the interest of lessors under permitted operating leases and synthetic leases;
 - liens related to permitted purchase money indebtedness and capital leases;
 - liens relating to the New AMERCO Notes;
 - liens relating to the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured notes due 2009;
 - liens on real property in favor of Oxford;
 - liens on collateral securing synthetic leases; and
 - other customary liens that arise in the ordinary course of business.
- We cannot enter into any merger, consolidation, reorganization, or recapitalization (subject to exceptions) and we cannot liquidate, wind up or dissolve any of our subsidiaries that is a borrower under the Exit Financing Facility, unless the assets of the dissolved entity are transferred to another subsidiary that is a borrower under the Exit Financing Facility and certain other conditions are met.
- We cannot convey, sell, lease, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of our assets, except for certain permitted dispositions, including:
 - sales of worn out, damaged or obsolete property;
 - sales of assets that are not part of the collateral that secures the Exit Financing Facility;
 - sales of rental vehicles in the ordinary course of our fleet rotation program, so long as the aggregate net book value of rental vehicles subject to liens under the Exit Financing Facility does not decrease by more than (x) $40 million during any of (i) the first quarter of fiscal 2005, (ii) the first two quarters of fiscal 2005, (iii) the first three quarters of fiscal 2005 or (iv) each 12-month period thereafter, in each case to be tested at the end of each quarter or (y) $160 million in the aggregate after March 15, 2004;
 - sales in the ordinary course of business of rental vehicles subject to operating leases;
 - sales or other dispositions contemplated under our approved Chapter 11 of reorganization; and
 - sales of real property collateral in an aggregate amount not to exceed $10 million during any fiscal year or $35 million in total after March 15, 2004, subject to certain conditions.
- We cannot guarantee the obligations of our insurance subsidiaries or any third party, except for:
 - guarantees of AMERCO existing on March 15, 2004;

- guarantees of AMERCO that are part of our Chapter 11 reorganization plan;

Table of Contents

- guarantees of AMERCO with respect to the Private Mini support party agreements (see “— Private Mini Storage Credit Facility”);
 - guarantees with respect to rental vehicle operating leases;
 - guarantee obligations pursuant to any permitted indebtedness; and
 - guarantees pursuant to any permitted refinancing, renewal or extension of any permitted indebtedness.
- We cannot prepay, redeem, defease, purchase or otherwise acquire any of our indebtedness or any indebtedness of a subsidiary that is a borrower under the Exit Financing Facility, except:
- indebtedness relating to our debtor-in-possession credit facility;
 - obligations in accordance with the Exit Financing Facility;
 - as required by our Chapter 11 confirmation order;
 - in connection with a permitted refinancing;
 - prepayments of indebtedness under the New AMERCO Notes, from the proceeds from the monetization or sale of assets excluded from the collateral securing the Exit Financing Facility;
 - that so long as no event of default exists under the Exit Financing Facility, we can prepay indebtedness under the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 or the New AMERCO Notes so long as (a) the aggregate amount of prepayments under our synthetic leases plus the aggregate amount of dividends paid in arrears in such fiscal year shall not, in the aggregate, exceed the “ECF Carry Forward Amount” (summarized below), if any then in existence, and (b) on the date of such prepayment, we are in compliance with the “Excess Availability Test” (summarized below);
 - prepayments of indebtedness under our synthetic leases upon the sale of any real property collateral securing such synthetic lease pursuant to an arms-length sale to a bona fide non-affiliate purchaser, up to the amount of the sales proceeds;
 - that so long as no event of default exists under the Exit Financing Facility, we can prepay indebtedness required pursuant to the provisions of our synthetic leases so long as (a) the aggregate amount of such prepayments in any fiscal year, together with the aggregate amount of permitted prepayments in such fiscal year by us with respect to the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2011 and the amount of dividends paid in arrears in such fiscal year, shall not, in the aggregate, exceed the “ECF Carry Forward Amount” (summarized below) and (b) on the date of such prepayment we are in compliance with the “Excess Availability Test” (summarized below); and
 - scheduled payments of principal and interest due under our synthetic leases.

For purposes of this covenant:

ECF Carry Forward Amount means:

through September 30, 2004, $3.335 million;

as of October 1, 2004 through March 31, 2005, 50% of our excess cash flow (EBITDA minus cash interest expense and dividend and other distributions, plus permitted capital expenditures and repayments of certain indebtedness, in each case as defined and subject to exceptions) for the period commencing April 1, 2004 and ending September 30, 2004; or as of March 31, 2005 and at all times thereafter, (a) 50% of our excess cash flow for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2005, plus our excess cash flow for each fiscal year thereafter, minus (b) the sum of (i) the aggregate amount of dividends paid in arrears on account of our preferred stock on or after January 1, 2004, (ii) the aggregate amount of permitted prepayments of indebtedness under the New AMERCO Notes and the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 and (iii) the aggregate amount of permitted prepayments of the principal amount of indebtedness under our synthetic leases.

Excess Availability Test means:

at the time of payment of any indebtedness under the New AMERCO Notes or 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 or at the time of declaration or payment of any dividend or dividend in arrears, (a) our “Excess Availability” (as summarized below) plus cash securing the Exit Financing Facility exceeds (i) $35 million plus (ii) the amount of such debt payment or dividend payment as of the date of such payment and as of the month end for each of the preceding consecutive 12 fiscal months immediately preceding such payment date and (b) after giving effect to such payment, our “Excess Availability” plus cash securing the Exit Financing Facility is projected to exceed $35 million for the month end of each of the 12 fiscal months immediately succeeding such payment date.

Excess Availability means:

the amount, as of the date of any determination, equal to the difference between the lesser of (i) the borrowing base, or (ii) $550 million (subject to adjustment in certain situations) and the amount outstanding under the Exit Financing Facility.

- We cannot cause any change of control of AMERCO;
- All real property collateral and rental vehicle collateral securing the Exit Financing Facility must be owned by a subsidiary that is a borrower under the Exit Financing Facility.
- We cannot make any distribution or declare or pay any dividends except that we are permitted to (i) make inter-company dividends and distributions within Exit Financing Facility borrower group; (ii) pay dividends on our preferred stock accrued after March 15, 2004 (including the payment of dividends for the period ending February 29, 2004), in an aggregate amount not to exceed $13 million in any fiscal year, so long as we are in compliance with the “Excess Availability Test” (as summarized above) and (iii) pay dividends on our preferred stock accrued prior to or for the period ended November 30, 2003, so long as (x) the aggregate amount of such dividends do not exceed the lesser of (I) $19.6 million or (II) together with the amount of any permitted prepayments during such fiscal year under the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 and prepayments during such fiscal year of indebtedness relating to our synthetic lease agreements, the “ECF Carry Forward Amount” (as summarized above) and (y) at the time of any such payment, we are in compliance with the “Excess Availability Test” (as summarized above).
- We cannot make any investments, or incur any liabilities for or in connection with any investments, except for defined “permitted investments”, which include:
 - advances made in connection with the purchase of goods or services in the ordinary course of business;
 - investments by any party to the Exit Financing Facility in another party to the Exit Financing Facility;
 - investments in SAC Holdings notes to the extent outstanding on March 15, 2004 (and any accrued interest thereon);
 - payments on behalf of SAC Holdings pursuant to our management agreements with those entities;
 - investments in Private Mini Storage Realty, L.P. or PM Preferred Properties, L.P. or any of their affiliates solely to the extent required pursuant to the Private Mini Storage support party agreements (see “— Private Mini Storage Credit Facility”) (subject to additional conditions);

Table of Contents

- permitted guarantees;
- payments in the ordinary course of business to U-Haul dealers; and
- other investments in an aggregate amount not to exceed $5 million per year.
- Unless otherwise set forth in our Chapter 11 reorganization plan and except to reimburse SAC Holdings for its transaction costs incurred with respect to the New SAC Holdings Notes, we cannot enter into transactions with affiliates, including SAC Holdings, Self-Storage International Holding Corporation, Private Mini Storage Realty, L.P. or PM Preferred Properties, L.P. unless the transactions are in the ordinary course of business and are no less favorable to us than would be obtained in an arm's length transaction with a non-affiliate.
- Except for permitted dispositions, we cannot enter into any sales and leaseback transaction.

New AMERCO Notes

General. Upon our emergence from bankruptcy, AMERCO issued senior subordinated notes in the aggregate principal amount of $148,646,137 (the "New AMERCO Notes").

Maturity. The New AMERCO Notes mature on March 15, 2011. No principal payments are due prior to maturity.

Redemption. We must redeem New AMERCO Notes at a redemption price of 100% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount plus unpaid interest from (i) the net available proceeds from the sale of some or all of the collateral securing the New AMERCO Notes and (ii) 75% of any of the net recovery above $50 million resulting from our litigation against PricewaterhouseCoopers after reduction for attorneys' fees and costs and taxes payable by us with respect to such recovery.

We have the option to redeem at any time the New AMERCO Notes in whole or in part at the redemption prices (expressed as a percentage of principal amount) set forth below, plus accrued interest to the applicable redemption date, if redeemed during the 12-month period beginning on March 15 of the years indicated below:

2004	102.0%
2005	101.5%
2007 and thereafter	100.0%

If we experience a change of control, each holder of New AMERCO Notes will have the right to require us to repurchase that holder's New AMERCO Notes at an amount equal to 101% of the principal amount of the New AMERCO Notes plus accrued and unpaid interest.

Ranking; Subordination. Payment of principal of and interest on of the New AMERCO Notes is subordinated in right of payment to the prior payment in full or discharge of our senior indebtedness. For this purpose, senior indebtedness means our obligations under the Exit Financing Facility and our outstanding 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009. We may not make any direct or indirect payments with respect to the New AMERCO Notes, whether pursuant to the terms of the New AMERCO Notes or the indenture governing the New AMERCO Notes, upon acceleration or otherwise, if at the time of such payment there exists (i) a default in the payment of all or any portion of the obligations under our senior indebtedness or (ii) any other default under any document or instrument governing or evidencing our senior indebtedness, and the trustee for the New AMERCO Notes has received a written notice of such default from an authorized representative of the holders of the senior indebtedness, and in either case, the default has not been cured or waived in writing. Notwithstanding the previous sentence, in the event of a non-payment default described in (ii) of the previous sentence, if the holders of our senior indebtedness have not declared the senior indebtedness to be immediately due and payable (or have rescinded a declaration of acceleration) within 180 days after the notice of such default, then payment of principal of and interest on the New AMERCO Notes may resume. The indenture governing the New AMERCO Notes provides that only one such 180 day period may commence within any 360 consecutive days.

Guarantees. The New AMERCO Notes are guaranteed by almost all of the subsidiaries of AMERCO except for Oxford, RepWest, Storage Realty, L.L.C., a Texas limited liability company, INW Company, a Washington Corporation, and certain dormant subsidiaries. As discussed elsewhere in this prospectus, SAC Holdings are not legal subsidiaries of AMERCO and do not guarantee the New AMERCO Notes.

Collateral. The New AMERCO Notes are secured by the following collateral:

- the capital stock of Oxford;
- certain real property having an approximate book value of $7.7 million, which was under contract for sale on the closing date of the New AMERCO Notes;
- 75% of the net proceeds in excess of $50 million associated with the settlement, judgment or recovery related to our litigation against PricewaterhouseCoopers (after deduction of attorneys' fees and costs and taxes payable with respect to such proceeds);
- payments under notes receivable from SAC Holdings, having an outstanding principal balance at March 15, 2004 of approximately $203.8 million; and
- certain surplus property.

Interest. The New AMERCO Notes bear interest at 12.0%. Interest is payable quarterly. In the event of default, interest will accrue at an additional 2%.

Covenants. The indenture for the New AMERCO Notes requires us to comply with a number of customary affirmative and negative covenants, including the following:

- We are limited in the amount of dividends and other equity distributions or redemptions, investments and redemptions or repayments of subordinated indebtedness that we can make (restricted payments). We cannot make any restricted payment if (i) a default shall have occurred or shall occur as a result thereof, (ii) we cannot incur $1.00 of additional indebtedness pursuant to the "Coverage Ratio Exception" (summarized below) at the time of such payment and after giving pro forma effect to such payment as if such payment was made at the beginning of the applicable four-quarter period or (iii) the amount of such restricted payment, together with all restricted payments made after March 15, 2004 exceeds the sum of the "restricted payments basket". The restricted payments basket includes, among other things, 50% of net income (after deduction of preferred stock dividends) from April 1, 2004 through the end of the fiscal quarter preceding the date of such payment and 100% of the net cash proceeds received by us from certain equity issuances.
- In addition, we may pay dividends on our capital stock accruing after March 15, 2004 in an aggregate amount not to exceed $13 million in any fiscal year. We also may pay dividends on our capital stock for accrued for periods prior to March 15, 2004 so long as the aggregate amount of such dividends in arrears do not exceed $19.6 million or the "ECF Carry Forward Amount", as defined in the Exit Financing Facility (see "Description of Certain Indebtedness and Other Obligations — Exit Financing Facility — Covenants").
- We cannot incur any additional indebtedness; provided, however, we may incur additional indebtedness if after giving effect thereto on the date of incurrence, our consolidated interest coverage ratio would be at least 2.25 to 1.00 (the "Coverage Ratio Exception"). The interest coverage ratio means the ratio of "cash flow" during the four most recent consecutive full fiscal quarters ending on or prior to the date of measurement to interest expense for that four quarter period. "Cash flow" means the sum of net income (after deduction of preferred stock dividends), plus income tax expense, amortization expense, depreciation expense, interest expense, all other non-cash cash charges reducing net income, and restructuring charges (subject to certain limitations), in each case subject to, and as defined in, the indenture for the New AMERCO Notes.

In addition to the Coverage Ratio Exception, the following items, among others, of indebtedness are permitted:

- indebtedness relating to the Exit Financing Facility;
- indebtedness outstanding as of March 15, 2004, including the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Note due 2011;
- purchase money indebtedness and capitalized lease obligations (excluding synthetic lease obligations) in an aggregate amount not to exceed $40 million;
- capitalized leases, to the extent such capitalized leases arise out of the treatment of our synthetic leases (including refinancings) as capitalized leases in accordance with GAAP (see “— Synthetic Lease Arrangements”) or are entered into for the purpose of acquiring vehicles in the ordinary course of business;
- indebtedness with respect to letters of credit issued by a party other than lender parties to the Exit Financing Facility and secured by cash collateral in an aggregate amount not to exceed $3 million at any time;
- permitted guarantees;
- other indebtedness not in excess of $7.5 million.
- refinancing indebtedness relating to indebtedness incurred pursuant to the Coverage Ratio Exception, the Exit Financing Facility, indebtedness outstanding as of March 15, 2004, including the 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2011, permitted purchase money indebtedness and capitalized leases, and
- arising from our investments in Private Mini Storage Realty, L.P. or PM Preferred Properties, L.P. or any of their affiliates or SAC Holdings under the Private Mini Storage Credit Facility support agreements (see Description of Other Indebtedness and Other Obligations — Private Mini Storage Credit Agreements”).
- Subject to exceptions, we cannot consummate any sale of our assets unless no default exists immediately prior to and after giving effect to such asset sale, we receive consideration at least equal to the fair value of the asset sold and in the case of the sale of collateral securing the New AMERCO Notes (except in the case of the sale of certain property that is collateral, we must receive consideration at least equal to 80% of the appraised value of such property), in the case of a sale of assets that are collateral 75% of the consideration we receive is in the form of cash or cash equivalents (except for the sale of Oxford capital stock). With respect to the sale of assets that constitute collateral for the New AMERCO Notes, we must redeem New AMERCO Notes when the aggregate net proceeds from such sales, together with the aggregate net proceeds from any net recovery resulting from the PWC litigation, exceeds $5 million. With respect to the sale of assets that do not constitute collateral for the New AMERCO Notes, we must use the net proceeds from such sale to repay senior indebtedness, repay indebtedness securing such sold asset and/or invest the proceeds in the purchase of assets to be used in our business. If we do not use the proceeds for such purposes and such amounts in the aggregate exceed $10 million, we may be required to make an offer to redeem New AMERCO Notes at 100% of the principal amount redeemed or purchase other pari passu indebtedness.
- We cannot allow any liens, other than certain permitted liens, against any of the collateral that secures the New AMERCO Notes. In addition, we cannot allow any liens, other than certain permitted liens, against any of our assets that do not constitute collateral for the New AMERCO Notes unless in the case of a pari passu obligation, effective provision is made to secure the New AMERCO Notes with a lien at least equally and ratably with or prior to such obligation with a lien on the same collateral and the case of any lien securing an obligation that is subordinated in right of payment to the New AMERCO Notes, effective provision is made to secure the New AMERCO Notes with a lien on the same collateral that is prior to the lien securing the subordinated obligation.

- We cannot enter into any sale and leaseback transaction unless the indebtedness attributed to such transaction would otherwise be permitted under the indenture for the New AMERCO Notes and the lien to secure such indebtedness could be incurred without being required to equally and ratably secure the New AMERCO Notes. In addition, the gross proceeds from such transaction must be at least equal to the fair market value of the asset subject to the sale and leaseback transactions and the proceeds of the sale must be applied in accordance with the covenants governing sales of assets under the indenture for the New AMERCO Notes.
- We cannot consolidate or merge or sell all or substantially all of our assets or adopt a plan of liquidation unless (a) (i) we are the surviving company or (ii) the entity formed by such consolidation or merger or to which such sale shall be made is a corporation organized under the laws of any State of the United States or the District of Columbia and the successor assumes our obligations under the New AMERCO Notes, (b) immediately prior to and after giving effect to such transaction and the obligations incurred in connection therewith no default occurs, and (c) immediately after giving effect to such transaction and the incurrence of any indebtedness related thereto, on a pro forma basis, the consolidated net worth of the surviving entity would be at least equal to our consolidated net worth immediately prior to such transaction and the surviving entity would not be able to incur $1.00 of additional indebtedness pursuant to the Coverage Ratio Exception.

New SAC Holdings Senior Notes

General. In connection with AMERCO's Chapter 11 bankruptcy restructuring, SAC Holdings affiliates agreed to issue to unsecured creditors of AMERCO $200 million aggregate principal amount of senior notes (the "New SAC Holdings Notes"). The issuance of the New SAC Holdings Notes is the result of AMERCO's restructuring and has the effect of eliminating approximately $200 million of notes receivable from SAC Holdings that were previously held by AMERCO.

Maturity; Redemption. The New SAC Holdings Notes mature on March 15, 2014. No principal payments are due prior to maturity.

The New SAC Holdings Notes may not be redeemed prior to March 15, 2007. Thereafter, SAC Holdings may redeem the New SAC Holdings Notes for cash, in whole or in part, at the below redemption prices (expressed as percentages of the principal amount) if redeemed during the twelve month period beginning on March 15 for the years indicated below, in each case together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the date of redemption:

2008	103.0%
2010 and thereafter	100.0%

The New SAC Holdings Notes are mandatorily redeemable from the net cash proceeds (after payment of senior mortgage indebtedness) of any sale of, refinancing or other form of monetization transaction involving any real property of SAC Holdings (except for certain excluded entities), at redemption prices equal to the then applicable optional redemption prices set forth in the immediately above table, except that the redemption price at any time prior to March 15, 2010 in the case of the sale, refinancing or other monetization of real property owned by Three SAC Self Storage Corporation (a subsidiary of SAC Holding Corporation) will be 101% of principal, plus unpaid interest to the redemption date. The indenture for the New SAC Holdings Notes provides that no mandatory redemption is required until the aggregate proceeds received from the sale or monetization of real property owned by SAC Holdings equal or exceed $5 million. In addition, any redemption proceeds received by SAC Holdings shall not be applied to redeem the New SAC Holdings Notes until March 15, 2007, provided that such amounts will be held by the trustee of the New SAC Holdings Notes. However, before March 15, 2007, SAC Holdings may use any such proceeds to make offers to all holders of the New SAC Holdings Notes to purchase such notes in accordance with certain procedures described in the indenture for the New SAC Holdings Notes.

In the event of a change of control of SAC Holding Corporation or SAC Holding II Corporation, each holder of the New SAC Holdings Notes will have the right to require SAC Holdings to purchase for cash that holder's notes at an amount equal to 101% of the principal amount of the SAC Holding Senior Notes to be purchased plus accrued and unpaid interest.

Ranking. The New SAC Holdings Notes are to be senior in priority to all future indebtedness of SAC Holdings, except for, among others, indebtedness of SAC Holdings existing on March 15, 2004, purchase money indebtedness in an aggregate amount not to exceed $2 million, permitted refinancing indebtedness, and subordinated indebtedness not in excess of $8 million. At March 15, 2004, third party mortgage indebtedness senior to the New SAC Holdings Notes totaled approximately $584.6 million and was secured by real property owned by SAC Holdings having a book value of $787.5 million.

Guarantees. SAC Holding Corporation and SAC Holding II Corporation are jointly and severally liable for the New SAC Holdings Notes. Neither AMERCO nor any of its legal subsidiaries has guaranteed or is otherwise liable for the debts of SAC Holdings, including the New SAC Holdings Notes.

Collateral. The New SAC Holdings Notes are the unsecured obligations of SAC Holdings.

Participation and Subordination Agreement. On March 15, 2004, SAC Holding Company, SAC II Holding Company, AMERCO, U-Haul, and Law Debenture Company of New York, as trustee, entered into a subordination agreement under the terms of which $200 million aggregate principal amount of SAC Holding Senior Notes were either reduced to zero, cancelled and reissued to the creditors of AMERCO, or restated in full. Pursuant to this agreement we agreed to subordinate our rights and obligations with respect to existing SAC Holdings Notes and loans payable that we hold.

Interest. The New SAC Holdings Notes bear interest at 8.5%. Interest is payable quarterly.

Covenants. The indenture for the New SAC Holdings Notes requires SAC Holdings to comply with a number of customary affirmative and negative covenants. Such covenants limit SAC Holdings' ability to, among other things:

- merge or sell all or substantially all of its assets;
- SAC Holdings cannot incur any additional indebtedness other than defined permitted indebtedness, which includes, among others, indebtedness existing on March 15, 2004, indebtedness between SAC Holdings' subsidiary entities (subject to conditions), purchase money indebtedness not to exceed $2 million, permitted refinancing indebtedness, indebtedness related to the capitalization of interest, permitted guarantees, and subordinated indebtedness not in excess of $8 million. In the case of any extension, refinancing, renewal, replacement, defeasance or refunding relating to permitted refinancing indebtedness that results in a subsidiary of SAC Holdings to receive excess refinancing proceeds, SAC Holdings must cause the excess refinancing proceeds to be distributed to SAC Holding Corporation or SAC Holding II Corporation to enable SAC Holdings to comply with their mandatory redemption obligations.
- Subject to exceptions, SAC Holdings cannot issue any disqualified stock, which is stock that matures or is mandatorily redeemable at the option of the holder on a date before June 14, 2014.
- SAC Holdings' sale of assets is restricted such that any sales must be at least equal to the fair market value of the assets sold and at least 67% of the consideration received must be in the form of cash or cash equivalents. In addition, the net available proceeds from such sales must be used to satisfy SAC Holdings' mandatory redemption obligations. See "— Maturity; Redemption". These asset sale restrictions do not apply to certain excluded entities, consisting of Securespace Limited Partnership, Four SAC Self-Storage Corporation, Five SAC Self-Storage Corporation, and their respective subsidiaries, including Nineteen SAC Self-Storage GP Corporation, Nineteen SAC Self-Storage Limited Partnership and Private Mini Storage Realty, L.P.

- SAC Holdings cannot permit any of its subsidiaries to create or cause to exist any encumbrance or restriction on the ability of any subsidiary to (i) pay dividends or make other distributions on any capital stock of such subsidiary or pay principal of or interest on any indebtedness or other obligations of SAC Holdings, (ii) make loans or advances to SAC Holding Corporation or SAC Holding II Corporation or any of their subsidiaries or (iii) transfer any of its properties to SAC Holding Corporation or SAC Holding II Corporation. However, these restrictions do not apply to, among others, restrictions or encumbrances existing by reason of applicable law, customary non-assignment provisions in lease agreements entered into in the ordinary course of business, permitted refinancing indebtedness (subject to limitations) and liens permitted by the indenture for the New SAC Holdings Notes.
- Subject to exceptions designed to allow SAC Holdings to continue existing relationships and engage in certain transactions consistent with past activities, affiliate transactions between SAC Holdings or its subsidiaries and affiliates of SAC Holdings (as defined in the indenture) must be on terms that are not less favorable than would be obtained in an arm's length transaction.
- SAC Holdings cannot create or otherwise permit to exist any liens against its assets, except for permitted liens, which include, among others, liens securing SAC Holdings' real property indebtedness and any related refinancing, extension, renewal, replacement, defeasance, or refunding thereof, customary liens occurring or existing in the ordinary course of business (such as easements, leases, liens imposed for taxes and assessments not due, performance bonds, workers' compensation, and mechanics liens), liens securing indebtedness existing on March 15, 2004, and liens securing permitted purchase money indebtedness.
- SAC Holdings cannot declare or pay any dividend or make any other payment or distribution relating to its equity interests, purchase, redeem or otherwise retire any equity interests, make any payment with respect to, or purchase, redeem, defease or otherwise acquire or retire any indebtedness that is subordinated to the New SAC Holdings Notes, make any investments, or acquire any business or assets from, or equity interests of, or be a party to any acquisition of, any person, in each case, unless
 - no default exists or would occur as a result thereof; and
 - such payment, together with the aggregate amount of all other similarly restricted payments made after March 15, 2004 does not exceed SAC Holdings' "Residual Cash Flow" (as defined below) for the period commencing on March 15, 2004 though the date of such payment.

Residual Cash Flow means: for any period, (i) the aggregate revenues of SAC Holding Corporation and SAC Holding II Corporation plus the amount by which the aggregate gross receipts of SAC Holdings' subsidiaries exceed the aggregate operating expenses of SAC Holdings' subsidiaries minus (ii) the sum of (x) all principal, interest and premium of the New SAC Holdings Notes required to be paid during such period plus (y) the interest payments to the Company under the SAC Holdings junior notes payable (See "— SAC Holdings Notes Payable"), plus (z) the amounts paid during such period pursuant to a promissory note from SAC Holding Corporation to Oxford, dated May 7, 1999 (which loan has an aggregate principal balance outstanding at March 15, 2004 of $5.0 million).

Notwithstanding the previous paragraph, the following payments, among others, are permitted under the indenture for the New SAC Holdings Notes:

- investments outstanding on March 15, 2004;
- purchases of inventory to be sold or used in the ordinary course of business;
- the payment by any SAC Holdings' subsidiary to the holders of its equity interests on a pro rata basis;
- payments made with respect to subordinated indebtedness permitted to be made under the SAC Participation and Subordination Agreement; and

Table of Contents

- any acquisition of property solely in exchange for the issuance of equity interests (other than equity interests which mature or are otherwise redeemable and are otherwise prohibited under the terms of the indenture for the New SAC Holdings Notes).

SAC Holdings Notes Payable

General. SAC Holdings' notes payable to third party lenders are secured by deeds of trusts on collateralized land and buildings. These notes are in addition to SAC Holdings Notes described above and existed prior to AMERCO's Chapter 11 bankruptcy filing. We are not a guarantor of the debt of SAC Holdings or any of their subsidiaries and we are not liable for the debts of SAC Holdings. Principal and interest payments on notes payable to third party lenders are due monthly. As of December 31, 2003 SAC Holdings' notes bore interest rates ranging from 7.50% to 8.82% and the notes are due between 2004 and 2032. Certain notes payable contain provisions whereby the loans may not be prepaid at any time prior to the maturity date without payment to the lender of a yield maintenance premium (as defined in the loan agreements). The loans on a portfolio of sixteen properties are cross-collateralized and cross-defaulted. At December 31, 2003, SAC Holdings' notes and loans payable to third parties, net of discount, totaled $586.6 million.

We hold various junior unsecured notes of SAC Holdings. At March 15, 2004, these notes total $203.8 million in aggregate principal amount. Interest on the junior notes of SAC Holdings held by us accrues at 9%.

Interest on SAC Senior Notes. Interest accrues on the outstanding principal balance of senior notes of SAC Holdings at a fixed rate and is paid on a monthly basis.

Interest on SAC Junior Notes. Interest accrues on the outstanding principal balance of junior notes of SAC Holdings that we hold at a stated rate of basic interest. A fixed portion of that basic interest is paid on a monthly basis. Additional interest is paid on the same payment date based on the difference between the amount of remaining basic interest and an amount equal to a specified percentage of the net cash flow before interest expense generated by the underlying property

the sum of the principal and interest due on the senior notes of SAC Holdings related to that property and a multiple of the fixed portion of basic interest paid on that monthly payment date.

We refer to the latter amount as the "cash flow-based calculation."

To the extent that this cash flow-based calculation exceeds the amount of remaining basic interest, contingent interest equal to that excess and the amount of remaining basic interest are paid on the same monthly date as the fixed portion of basic interest. To the extent that the cash flow-based calculation is less than the amount of remaining basic interest, the additional interest payable on the applicable monthly date is limited to the amount of that cash flow-based calculation. In such a case, the excess of the remaining basic interest over the cash flow-based calculation is deferred and all amounts so deferred bear the stated rate of basic interest until maturity of the junior note.

The consolidated financial statements include the results of SAC Holdings. As a result of the consolidation of SAC Holdings, these loans held by AMERCO are eliminated in consolidation and thus not reflected in the consolidated financial statements.

Private Mini Storage Credit Facility

Private Mini Storage Realty, L.P. ("Private Mini") is a Texas-based operator of self-storage rental facilities. Prior to June 30, 2003, Oxford and U-Haul held a 79.5% and 0.5% interest, respectively, in Private Mini. In June 2003, Oxford sold its interest in Private Mini to SAC Holding Corporation.

In 1997, Private Mini secured a $225 million senior facility (the "Private Mini Facility"). The amount of this facility was subsequently reduced to $125 million. In connection with this facility, AMERCO entered into a support agreement whereby it assumed responsibility for fulfilling certain obligations under the Private Mini Facility upon default or noncompliance with the debt covenants of that facility (the "1997 Support Agreement"). The 1997 Support Agreement contained cross-default provisions to AMERCO's other debt agreements and, as a result of AMERCO's Chapter 11 filing, AMERCO defaulted on the 1997 Support Agreement. In addition, Private Mini defaulted on the Private Mini Facility by virtue of non-payment of the outstanding balance at maturity. In December 2002, the lenders under the Private Mini Facility exercised their option to require AMERCO to purchase all commitment under the Private Mini Facility.

In February 2003, an entity affiliated with Private Mini closed on a $255 million financing (the "New Private Mini Facility") and $70 million of these proceeds were used to pay down the $125 million Private Mini Facility. In connection with the New Private Mini Facility, AMERCO entered into a support agreement whereby it agreed to assume responsibility for $70 million of obligations in connection with this borrowing in the event of certain events of default (the "2003 Support Agreement").

In February 2003, AMERCO executed a Non-Exoneration Agreement whereby it affirmed its obligation to pay $55.5 million pursuant to the 1997 Support Agreement. This amount was treated as an allowed unsecured claim and discharged in connection with AMERCO's emergence from Chapter 11 in March 2004.

AMERCO remains responsible for its obligation in connection with the 2003 Support Agreement and has recorded a liability of $70 million with a corresponding increase to its receivable from Private Mini.

U-Haul TRAC Lease Obligations

U-Haul acquires its rental fleet equipment primarily through Terminal Adjustment Clause Leases ("TRAC Leases"). TRAC Leases are entered into with various third parties for the acquisition of new rental fleet vehicles and are structured to qualify as operating leases. Generally, U-Haul acquires new rental fleet vehicles from Ford or General Motors Corporation and transfers ownership of the vehicles to the third party owner/lessor. U-Haul has an option to purchase the vehicle at the end of its lease for a defined residual value. Our past experience has been that the fair market value of the vehicles at the end of the lease is higher than the residual buyout amount and, thus, we usually exercise our option to acquire the rented vehicles at the end of the lease. In addition, AMERCO has guaranteed a substantial number of the TRAC Leases. Information about our future obligations under these and other operating leases is include in this prospectus under the heading "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations — Disclosures About Contractual Obligations and Commercial Commitments."

Synthetic Lease Arrangements

At the time of our emergence from bankruptcy, Amerco Real Estate restructured approximately $249.5 million of our obligations under synthetic lease arrangements (the "Synthetic Leases"). As part of this restructuring we paid down approximately $31 million of obligations under the Synthetic Leases and entered into new lease agreements with the lessors. Our obligations under the new Synthetic Leases are approximately $218.5 million. The new lease agreements are for a term of three years, and include four one year renewal options.

The purpose of these leases was to finance the purchase of self-storage properties and construct self-storage facilities on existing properties. AMERCO continues to guarantee each of these restructured Synthetic Leases. Title to the real property subject to these leases is in the name of off balance sheet special purpose entities. These entities are lessors who then lease the properties to one or more subsidiaries of AMERCO.

Our approved Chapter 11 plan of reorganization contemplates that our obligations under the Synthetic Leases will be satisfied when the real property subject to the leases is sold to a third party. We anticipate that such a transaction will be closed into escrow by March 31, 2004. As a result of such transaction, the Company expects that over approximately the next 24 months it will be reimbursed for capital improvements we made to the leased properties. In addition, as part of this transaction U-Haul will enter into arrangements to manage these properties that will allow us to continue to operate them as part of the U-Haul moving and self-storage system.

Although treated as an operating lease by AMERCO on a stand alone basis, in consolidation, properties purchased by SAC Holdings from AMERCO are reflected as financings of SAC Holdings in the consolidated financial statements.

DESCRIPTION OF THE EXCHANGE NOTES

The exchange notes will be issued by AMERCO pursuant to an indenture entered into among AMERCO, as issuer, the guarantors and Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., as trustee. The following summarizes the material terms and provisions of the exchange notes and the indenture. The terms of the outstanding notes include those stated in the indenture and those made part of the indenture by reference to the Trust Indenture Act. The Security Documents referred to below under the subheading “— Security” describe the terms of the security interests that secure the notes. The following description does not purport to be complete and is subject to the detailed provisions of the indenture. We urge you to read the indenture and the Intercreditor Agreement and the Security Documents because they, not this description, define your rights as holders of the exchange notes. You may request copies of these agreements at our address set forth under the heading “Available Information.”

The 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 are limited to $200 million in aggregate principal amount. The notes mature on February 27, 2009. The notes bear cash interest at a rate of 9% per annum, payable quarterly in arrears, based on 90 day quarters and 360 day years. After default, the outstanding principal balance of the notes will bear interest at a rate equal to 2.0% greater than the otherwise applicable interest rate. In addition, under the terms of the indenture we have 150 days after the issue date of the outstanding notes to register our vehicles and obtain new certificates of title naming Wells Fargo Foothill as first priority lienholder and the trustee as second priority lienholder. If at least 90% of the certificates of title are not registered in accordance with the terms of the indenture within 150 days after the issue date of the outstanding notes, the interest rate on the notes will automatically increase by 0.25% retroactive to the issue date and will increase an additional 0.25% each succeeding 91st day thereafter up to a maximum of 1.0% until such time as at least 90% of the certificates of title are so registered.

Certain terms used in this description are defined under the subheading “— Certain Definitions.” In this description, the word “Company” refers only to AMERCO and not to any of its subsidiaries.

On March 15, 2004, in connection with our emergence from Chapter 11 bankruptcy we issued $200 million in aggregate principal amount of notes in two series, (1) $120 million Series A notes, which were issued to then existing creditors pursuant to an exemption from registration under section 1145 of the United States Bankruptcy Code (the “exempt notes” or the “Series A Notes”) and (2) $80 million in aggregate principal amount of notes, which were issued to new investors (the “initial purchasers”) in a private placement exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act (the “outstanding notes” or the “Series B Notes”). This prospectus (and the related registration statement) relates to our offer to exchange $80 million aggregate principal amount of 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009 that have been registered under the Securities Act of 1933 for a like amount of the Series B Notes. As used in this “Description of the Exchange Notes”, the terms “Notes” and “notes” mean the Series A Notes and the Series B Notes, in each case except as expressly provided or as the context otherwise requires.

Principal, Maturity and Interest

We will issue the exchange notes initially with a maximum aggregate principal amount of $80 million. We will issue the exchange notes in denominations of $1. The notes will mature on February 27, 2009. The exchange notes will be treated as a single class for all purposes of the indenture, including waivers, amendments, redemptions and offers to purchase.

Interest on the exchange notes will accrue from the date of their issuance at the rate of 9.0% per annum and will be payable quarterly in arrears on each March 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15, commencing on June 15, 2004. We will make each interest payment to the holders of record of the exchange notes on the immediately preceding March 1, June 1, September 1 and December 1. We will pay interest on overdue principal at 2.0% per annum in excess of the above rate and will pay interest on overdue installments of interest at such higher rate to the extent lawful.

Table of Contents

Interest on the exchange notes will accrue from the date of original issuance. Interest will be computed on the basis of a 360-day year comprised of four 90-day quarters. Additional Interest may accrue on the notes in certain circumstances pursuant to the Registration Rights Agreement and the indenture.

Optional Redemption

Except as set forth below, we are not be entitled to redeem the notes prior to March 16, 2005.

On and after March 16, 2005, we are entitled at our option on one or more occasions to redeem all or a portion of the notes upon not less than 30 nor more than 60 days notice, at the redemption prices (expressed in percentages of principal amount on the redemption date), plus accrued interest to the redemption date (subject to the right of holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest due on the relevant interest payment date) set forth below if redeemed during the 12-month period beginning March 16 of the years indicated:

Calendar Year	Redemption Price
2005	105.50%
2006	104.50%
2007	101.00%
2008 and thereafter	100.00%

Selection and Notice of Redemption

If we are redeeming less than all the notes at any time, the trustee will select notes in compliance with the requirements of the principal national securities exchange, if any, or if the notes are not listed, on a pro rata basis, by lot or by such other method as the trustee in its sole discretion shall deem to be fair and appropriate.

We will redeem notes of $1. We will cause notices of redemption to be mailed by first-class mail at least 30 but not more than 60 days before the redemption date to each holder of notes to be redeemed at its registered address.

If any note is to be redeemed in part only, the notice of redemption that relates to that note will state the portion of the principal amount thereof to be redeemed. Upon written request of the Company, the trustee will issue a note in a principal amount equal to the unredeemed portion of the original note in the name of the holder upon cancellation of the original note. Notes called for redemption become due on the date fixed for redemption. On and after the redemption date, interest ceases to accrue on notes or portions of them called for redemption.

Mandatory Redemption; Offers to Purchase; Open Market Purchases

Neither we nor the guarantors are required to make any mandatory redemption or sinking fund payments with respect to the notes.

Security

The notes are secured by a security interest (second only to the first priority security interests granted to Bank Lenders' Agent pursuant to the New Credit Agreement and the other Loan Documents as defined in the New Credit Agreement) on the Collateral.

From and after the date of the indenture, each Note Party will grant to the trustee a continuing security interest (second only to the first priority security interests granted to Bank Lenders' Agent pursuant to the New Credit Agreement) in all of its right, title, and interest in all of its currently existing and hereafter acquired or arising assets (other than Excluded Assets), including Personal Property Collateral, in order to secure prompt repayment of any and all of the obligations hereunder in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Note Documents and in order to secure prompt performance by the Note Parties of each of their covenants and duties under the Note Documents. The Trustee's Liens in and to such assets, including, without limitation, the Personal Property Collateral, shall attach to all such assets without further act on the part of the trustee or the Note Parties.

The Company, the guarantors and the trustee have entered into one or more security agreements, pledge agreements, mortgages, deeds of trust and collateral assignments (collectively, the “Security Documents”) defining the terms of the security interests that secure the notes. These security interests secure the payment and performance when due of all of the obligations of the Company and the guarantors under the notes, the indenture, the guarantees and the Security Documents, as provided in the Security Documents.

On March 1, 2004, the trustee and the Bank Lenders’ Collateral Agent, entered into the Intercreditor Agreement. Each holder agreed to be bound by the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement. The Note Parties consented to and acknowledged the Intercreditor Agreement.

Subject to the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement, we are entitled to release assets included in the Collateral from the Liens securing the notes under any one or more of the following circumstances:

- (a) upon Legal Defeasance or Covenant Defeasance (as defined below);
- (b) any property being sold or disposed of if a release is required or desirable in connection therewith;
- (c) constituting property in which no Note Party owned any interest at the time the Trustee’s Lien was granted or at any time thereafter, or
- (d) constituting property leased to a Note Party under a lease that has expired or is terminated in a transaction permitted under the indenture;
- (e) as otherwise permitted or required under the terms of the Intercreditor Agreement.

Guarantees

The guarantors have jointly and severally guaranteed the principal, interest, premium, Additional Interest and fees, if any, on the notes will be promptly paid in full when due and all other obligations of the Company under the notes, the Security Documents or other Note Documents and in case of any extension of time of payment or renewal of any notes will be promptly paid in full when due. This guarantee is irrevocable and unconditional and each guarantor guarantees that such obligations will be paid strictly in accordance with the terms of the indenture.

Each guarantor that makes a payment under its Note Guarantee will be entitled upon payment in full of all guaranteed obligations under the indenture to a contribution from each other guarantor in an amount equal to such other guarantor’s pro rata portion of such payment.

Pursuant to the indenture, a guarantor may consolidate with or merge with or into (whether or not such Guarantor is the surviving Person) another Person, whether or not affiliated with such Guarantor, and may consolidate with, merge with or into, or transfer all or substantially all its assets to any other Person to the extent described below under the subheading “— Certain Covenants — Merger and Consolidation”; provided, however, that such successor Person shall succeed to and be substituted for the Guarantor with the same effect as if it had been named as a guarantor.

Ranking

The 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes rank pari passu in right of payment to our Exit Financing Facility. Borrowings under the Exit Financing Facility rank senior in right of payment to all other indebtedness of AMERCO and its legal subsidiaries (except for indebtedness of Oxford and RepWest).

Certain Covenants

The indenture contains covenants including, among others, the following:

Limitation on Indebtedness

The Note Parties will not incur, directly or indirectly, any Indebtedness, other than the following Indebtedness:

(a) Indebtedness evidenced by the indenture and the notes, the Note Guarantees and the Guaranty Agreement;

(b) Indebtedness of the Company and any other Note Party incurred under the New Credit Agreement and all other obligations in respect thereof in an aggregate amount at any time outstanding not to exceed $575 million, less mandatory permanent prepayments and permanent reductions plus: (i) advances made pursuant to the New Credit Agreement to pay expenses of the lenders thereunder (including expenses accruing after the commencement of any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding (as defined in the New Credit Agreement), whether or not a claim for post-filing or post-petition expenses is allowed in such proceeding), (ii) advances made to protect or preserve the “Collateral” under the New Credit Agreement and the other Loan Documents (as defined in the New Credit Agreement), (iii) advances made to pay interest (including interest accruing under the terms of the New Credit Agreement and interest accruing after the commencement of any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding (as defined in the New Credit Agreement), whether or not a claim for post-filing or post-petition interest is allowed in such proceeding), and (iv) advances made pursuant to the New Credit Agreement to pay fees under the New Credit Agreement (including fees accruing after the commencement of any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding (as defined in the New Credit Agreement), whether or not a claim for post-filing or post-petition fees are allowed in such proceeding);

(c) Indebtedness in existence as of the Issue Date and obligations to make payments required under the Reorganization Plan;

(d) (i) Purchase Money Indebtedness and Capitalized Lease Obligations (other than Capital Leases of the type set forth in clause (ii)) incurred after the Issue Date in an aggregate amount not to exceed $30 million; and (ii) Capital Leases, to the extent such Capital Leases arise out of the treatment of any of the Synthetic Leases (including any refinancings, in whole or in part, thereof) as Capital Leases in accordance with the requirements of GAAP;

(e) Indebtedness under the New AMERCO Notes to the extent outstanding on the Issue Date;

(f) guarantee obligations of the Company (i) existing as of Issue Date, (ii) guarantee obligations of the Company in connection with the Reorganization Plan, (iii) guarantee obligations of the Company with respect to the Support Party Agreements, (iv) guarantee obligations with respect to TRAC Lease Transactions in the ordinary course of business, to the extent such obligations are and are consistent with past practices, (v) guarantee obligations of a Note Party pursuant to any refinancing, renewal or extension of Indebtedness, and (vi) guarantee obligations of a Note Party with respect to the obligations of any other Note Party incurred in the ordinary course of business, to the extent such guaranteed obligation is permitted to be uncured by such guaranteed Note Party hereunder and is consistent with past practices.

(g) Indebtedness comprising Permitted Investments;

(h) Indebtedness with respect to letters of credit issued by a party other than the Issuing Lender (as defined in the New Credit Agreement) and secured by cash collateral in an aggregate amount not to exceed $3 million at any time; and

(i) refinancings, renewals, or extensions of Indebtedness permitted under clauses (c) and (d) above (and continuance or renewal of any Permitted Liens associated therewith) (specifically excluding the New AMERCO Notes), so long as: (i) the terms and conditions of such refinancings, renewals, or extensions do not materially impair the prospects of repayment of the obligations by the Borrowers or materially impair the Borrower's creditworthiness, (ii) such refinancings, renewals, or extensions do not result in an increase in the principal amount (other than capitalized fees and, with respect to any refinancing of the Synthetic Leases, to the extent they are treated as Capital Leases in accordance with GAAP, any increases directly attributable to improvements on or to the Real Property covered by such Synthetic Leases) of, or interest rate beyond a prevailing market rate with respect to, the Indebtedness so refinanced, renewed, or extended, (iii) such refinancings, renewals, or extensions do not result in a shortening of the average weighted maturity of the Indebtedness so refinanced, renewed, or extended, (other than such changes in the average weighted maturity of the Synthetic Leases, to the extent they are treated as Capital Leases in accordance with GAAP, resulting from the refinancing, in whole or in part, of the Synthetic Leases pursuant to the WP Carey Transaction or other refinancing transaction in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee or as permitted by the Bank Lenders' Agent), nor are they on terms or conditions, that, taken as a whole, are materially more burdensome or restrictive to the applicable Borrower, and (iv) if the Indebtedness that is refinanced, renewed, or extended was subordinated in right of payment to the obligations, then the terms and conditions of the refinancing, renewal, or extension Indebtedness must include subordination terms and conditions that are at least as favorable to the holders of the notes as those that were applicable to the refinanced, renewed, or extended Indebtedness.

Limitation on Liens

The Note Parties will not directly or indirectly, incur or permit to exist any Lien of any nature whatsoever on any of its assets (including capital Stock of a Restricted Subsidiary), whether owned at the Issue Date or thereafter acquired, other than Permitted Liens.

Limitation on Sale/ Leaseback Transactions

The Note Parties will not enter into any Sale/ Leaseback Transaction (except for Permitted Dispositions as defined below) with respect to any property.

Merger and Consolidation

(a) The Note Parties will not enter into any merger, consolidation, reorganization, or recapitalization, or reclassify its Stock (other than in connection with the Reorganization Plan), except that, so long as no default or event of default then exists or would be caused thereby and the trustee receives written notice of any such merger at least 30 days prior to the effectiveness thereof (provided that the trustee shall have no duty to act upon receipt of such notice except as expressly provided in accordance with the terms of the indenture). Notwithstanding the foregoing, in a merger that involves a Note Party, any Subsidiary that is not a Note Party may merge into any other Subsidiary that is not a Note Party, and any Note Party (other than the Company, U-Haul or AREC) may merge into any other Note Party (other than the Company, U-Haul or AREC); provided, however, the Person surviving such merger shall be a Note Party, and the trustee shall have received, upon the effectiveness of such merger, such documents as the trustee reasonably requests to continue or insure the priority and perfection of the Trustee's Liens on the Collateral or the obligations of any such Note Party under any of the Note Documents. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a Subsidiary that is not an Insurance Subsidiary shall not merge with any Insurance Subsidiary.

(b) The Note Parties will not liquidate, wind up, or dissolve any Borrower or any of the Borrower's Subsidiaries (or suffer any liquidation or dissolution), except that the Company may liquidate, dissolve or wind up any Subsidiary (other than AREC and U-Haul or any Insurance Subsidiary) so long as (i) no default or event of default then exists hereunder or would be caused thereby and the trustee receives written notice of any such action at least 30 days prior to the effectiveness thereof (provided that the trustee shall have no duty to act upon receipt of such notice except as expressly provided in clause (iii) below), (ii) the assets of such Subsidiary are transferred to another Subsidiary of the Company or, if such Subsidiary is a Note Party, to another Note Party and such assets remain subject to a perfected Lien (second in priority only to the first priority security interests granted to Bank Lenders' Agent pursuant to the New Credit Agreement the other Loan Documents (as defined in the New Credit Agreement) and subject to Permitted Liens) under a Note Document after such transfer, and (iii) the trustee shall have received such Note Documents as the trustee reasonably requests to continue or insure the priority and perfection of the Trustee's Liens on the Collateral or the obligations of any such Subsidiary under any of the Note Documents. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a dissolving or liquidating Subsidiary that is not an Insurance Subsidiary shall not transfer assets to any Insurance Subsidiary.

Disposal of Assets

Other than Permitted Dispositions, The Note Parties will not convey, sell, lease, license, assign, transfer, or otherwise dispose of, in one transaction or a series of transactions, any of the assets of any Borrower or any Guarantor. To the extent a sale or other disposition is permitted by clause (k) of the definition of Permitted Dispositions and if an authorized officer of Company certifies in writing to the trustee that (a) the sale is permitted under this paragraph, (b) the Vehicles identified (by vehicle identification number, make and model) in such certification are to be sold in connection with a TRAC Lease Transaction and (c) such Vehicles are to be sold on a date (each such date, a "Sale Date") no later than 130 days from the date of such certification, Trustee's Lien on such Vehicles shall be deemed to be released one business day prior to such sale; provided, however, that in the event one or more of such Vehicles are not sold in connection with a TRAC Lease Transaction within five business days of the Sale Date indicated in such certification, the Vehicles that are not so sold shall become subject to a Lien (second in priority only to the first priority security interests granted to the Bank Lenders' Agent pursuant to the New Credit Agreement and the other Loan Documents (as defined in the New Credit Agreement)) in favor of the trustee on the fifth business day following such Sale Date and the Company shall, or shall cause the other Borrowers or Guarantors, as applicable, to comply immediately with the requirements of the indenture with respect to such Vehicles. The Note Parties shall not, without the prior written consent of the holders as required under the indenture, transfer, sell or otherwise dispose of any of the Vehicles or the Certificates of Title except in conjunction with a Permitted Disposition hereunder, or relocate the Certificates of Title.

Change Name

The Note Parties will not change the Company's or any Guarantor's name, federal employer identification number, organizational ID number assigned to any Note Party by the applicable government unit or agency of jurisdiction of formation of that party, corporate structure, or identity, or add any new fictitious name, or reincorporate or reorganize itself under the laws of any other jurisdiction other than the jurisdiction of incorporation of such Person; provided, however, that any Borrower or any Guarantor may change its name upon at least 30 days' prior written notice by the Company to the Trustee of such change and so long as, at the time of such written notification, the Company and/or such Guarantor provides or authorizes the filing of any Uniform Commercial Code financing statements or fixture filings necessary to perfect and continue perfected the Trustee's Liens.

Guarantee

The Note Parties will not guarantee or otherwise become in any way liable with respect to the obligations of any third Person (including the Insurance Subsidiaries) except by endorsement of instruments or items of payment for deposit to the account of Company or Guarantors or which are transmitted or turned over to the trustee, except for (a) guarantee obligations of the Company existing as of Issue Date, (b) guarantee obligations of the Company in connection with the Reorganization Plan, (c) guarantee obligations of the Company with respect to the Support Party Agreements, (d) guarantee obligations with respect to TRAC Lease Transactions in the ordinary course of business, to the extent the obligations thereunder are permitted under the subheading "— Limitation on Indebtedness" and are consistent with past practices, (e) guarantee obligations of a Note Party pursuant to any refinancing, renewal or extension of (h) Indebtedness with respect to letters of credit issued by a party other than the Issuing Lender (as defined in the New Credit Agreement) and secured by cash collateral in an aggregate amount not to exceed $3 million at any time, and (f) guarantee obligations of a Note Party with respect to the obligations of any other Note Party incurred in the ordinary course of business, to the extent such guaranteed obligation is permitted to be incurred by such guaranteed Note Party hereunder and is consistent with past practices.

Nature of Business

The Note Parties will not make any change in the principal nature of any Note Party's business.

Prepayments and Amendments

(a) The Note Parties will not prepay, redeem, defease, purchase, or otherwise acquire any Indebtedness of any Note Party, other than (i) the obligations relating to the Company's debtor-in-possession loan and security agreement; (ii) as required by the Confirmation Order; (iii) Obligations (as defined in the New Credit Agreement) under the New Credit Agreement in accordance with the terms thereof; (iv) obligations in accordance with the indenture; (v) in connection with a refinancing permitted by clause (i) under the subheading "— Limitation on Indebtedness"; (vi) prepayments of the Indebtedness under the New AMERCO Notes so long as no event of default has occurred and is continuing or would result therefrom, (A) from the Net Proceeds from the monetization or sale of the Excluded Assets or (B) in all other circumstances, so long as (1) the aggregate amount of such prepayments in any fiscal year, together with the aggregate amount of dividends paid in arrears in such fiscal year by the Borrowers pursuant to clause (c) under the subheading "— Distributions", shall not, in the aggregate, exceed the ECF Carry Forward Amount, if any, then in existence, and (2) on the date of such prepayment Borrowers are in compliance with the Excess Availability Test; (vii)(1) prepayments of the Indebtedness under the Synthetic Leases with insurance proceeds or condemnation proceeds received by a Note Party in connection with any loss or condemnation of the Synthetic Lease Collateral, (2) prepayments of the Indebtedness under the Synthetic Leases upon the sale of any parcel of the Real Property subject to the Synthetic Leases pursuant to an arms-length sale to a bona fide purchaser that is not an Affiliate of the Company (whether or not an Affiliate leases back or retains the right to manage, occupy or conduct business at the affected Synthetic Lease Property), up to the amount of the net sale proceeds, or (3) so long as no Event of Default exists, any other prepayments of principal Indebtedness required pursuant to the provisions of the Synthetic Leases, so long as (I) the aggregate amount of such prepayments in any fiscal year, together with the aggregate amount of prepayments in such fiscal year by Borrowers pursuant to clause (vi)(2) above plus the aggregate amount of dividends paid in arrears in such fiscal year by Borrowers pursuant to clause (c) under the subheading "— Distributions" below, shall not, in the aggregate, exceed the ECF Carry Forward Amount, if any, then in existence, and (II) on the date of such prepayment Borrowers are in compliance with the Excess Availability Test, (viii) in addition to the principal payments under the Synthetic Leases to be made on the Effective Date as contemplated by the Reorganization Plan, the actual the scheduled payments of principal and interest due under the Synthetic Leases, estimates of which are set forth on the schedules of the New Credit Agreement (including any refinancings, in whole or in part, thereof); or (ix) other Indebtedness with the consent of the Required Lenders; or

(b) The Note Parties will not except in connection with a refinancing permitted by clause (i) under the subheading "— Limitation on Indebtedness", directly or indirectly, amend, modify, alter, increase, or change any of the terms or conditions of any agreement, instrument, document, indenture, or other writing evidencing or concerning Indebtedness permitted under the terms of the indenture (other than such amendments required under the terms of the indenture).

(c) The Note Parties will not amend, modify or otherwise change its Governing Documents, including, without limitation, by the filing or modification of any certificate of designation, or any agreement or arrangement entered into by it with respect to any of its capital Stock (including any shareholders' agreement), or enter into any new agreement with respect to any of its capital Stock, except as appropriate to accomplish a transaction permitted pursuant under the subheading "— Restrictions on Fundamental Changes", or (ii) amend, modify or otherwise change any Material Contract (other than a Material Contract, the amendment of which is governed by clause (b) above) except any such amendments, modifications or changes or any such new agreements or arrangements pursuant to this paragraph (c) that, either individually or in the aggregate, could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Change, or (iii) amend, modify or otherwise change any Affiliate Contract or any contract with SAC Holding, SSI, PMSR or PM Preferred except in compliance with the restrictions under the subheading “— Transactions with Affiliates”.

Change of Control

The Note Parties will not cause, permit, or suffer, directly or indirectly, any Change of Control, other than in connection with the consummation of the Reorganization Plan on the Effective Date.

Ownership of Certain Assets

The Note Parties will not cause, permit, or suffer any Subsidiary, other than Borrowers and U-Haul (Canada), to own any parcel of Real Property Collateral or any Vehicle included in the Collateral unless (a) Company provides the trustee with 10 days' prior written notice of such intended ownership, (b) such Subsidiary becomes a Guarantor under the indenture and delivers to the trustee any additional documents requested by the trustee in their Permitted Discretion, and (c) the Company takes or causes to be taken all such action necessary to perfect the trustee's Lien on such Collateral (second in priority only to the first priority security interests granted to the Bank Lenders' Agent pursuant to the New Credit Agreement and the other Loan Documents (as defined in the New Credit Agreement)) and the Company delivers to the trustee an opinion of counsel stating that all action has been taken to perfect such Lien.

Distributions

The Note Parties will not make any distribution or declare or pay any dividends (in cash or other property, other than common Stock) on, or purchase, acquire, redeem, or retire any of any Note Party's Stock, of any class, whether now or hereafter outstanding, except, so long as no event of default has occurred and is continuing hereunder or would result therefrom, distributions or declarations and payments of dividends: (a) by a Note Party to another Note Party, (b) on the preferred stock of the Company, based on the accrual of dividends subsequent to the Issue Date (including, without limitation, the payment of dividends in an aggregate amount not to exceed $3.335 million paid on account of dividends on the preferred stock of the Company accrued for the period ended February 29, 2004), in an aggregate amount not to exceed $13 million in any fiscal year, so long as at the time of payment of any such dividend, Borrowers are in compliance with the Excess Availability Test, and (c) on the preferred stock of the Company based on the accrual of dividends prior to the Issue Date (including, without limitation, the payment of dividends in an aggregate amount not to exceed $3.335 million paid on account of dividends on the preferred stock of the Company accrued prior to or for the period ended November 30, 2003), so long as (i) the aggregate amount of such dividends in arrears shall not exceed the lesser of (x) $19.6 million paid in the aggregate on or after the Issue Date or (y) together with the aggregate amount of any prepayments paid by Borrowers in such fiscal year pursuant to clause (a)(vi)(2) under the subheading “— Prepayments and Amendments”, plus the aggregate amount of any prepayments paid by Borrowers in such fiscal year pursuant to clause (a)(vii)(3) under the subheading “— Prepayments and Amendments”, the ECF Carry Forward Amount, if any, then in existence, and (ii) at the time of payment of any such dividend in arrears, Borrowers are in compliance with the Excess Availability Test.

Accounting Methods

The Note Parties will not modify or change their fiscal year from a year ending March 31 or their method of accounting (other than as may be required to conform to GAAP) or enter into, modify, or terminate any agreement currently existing, or at any time hereafter entered into with any third party accounting firm or service bureau for the preparation or storage of the Note Parties' accounting records without said accounting firm or service bureau agreeing to provide trustee information regarding the Collateral or Borrowers' and their Subsidiaries' financial condition.

Formation of Subsidiaries; Investments

(a) Except for Permitted Investments, The Note Parties will not directly or indirectly, make or acquire any Investment, or incur any liabilities (including contingent obligations) for or in connection with any Investment; provided, however, that the Company and its Subsidiaries shall not (i) have Permitted Investments (other than in the Cash Management Accounts (as defined in the New Credit Agreement)) in Deposit Accounts or Securities Accounts in excess of $3 million in the aggregate outstanding at any one time (excluding Deposit Accounts or Securities Accounts containing only the cash proceeds received from the WP Carey Transaction (to the extent such proceeds will be fully utilized in such transaction), and any proceeds from the monetization of Excluded Assets, and any Deposit Accounts maintained by U-Haul solely in its capacity as manager of properties owned by SAC Holding or SSI under a Management Agreement provided U-Haul has no rights to or interest in the funds deposited therein) unless the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, as applicable, and the applicable securities intermediary or bank have entered into Control Agreements or similar arrangements governing such Permitted Investments as to perfect (and further establish) the Trustee's secondary Liens in such Permitted Investments, or (ii) forgive or waive the repayment or retirement or amend the terms of any Investment in existence on or after the Issue Date in SAC Holding or any such Person made by the Company or any Subsidiary that is required to be repaid or retired by the terms of such Investment as in effect on or after the Issue Date (other than in accordance with the terms thereof as in effect on the date the Investment is made).

(b) The Note Parties will not form any new Subsidiary or acquire any direct or indirect Subsidiary after the Issue Date, unless (i) such Subsidiary is a wholly-owned Subsidiary of a Note Party, and such Note Party shall (A) cause such new Subsidiary to enter into a supplemental indenture and provide to the trustee a Note Guarantee and a joinder to the Guaranty Agreement, the Guarantor Security Agreement, the Copyright Security Agreement, and the Patent and Trademark Security Agreement, together with such other security documents (including mortgages and mortgage policies with respect to any Real Property of such new Subsidiary), as well as appropriate Uniform Commercial Code financing statements (and with respect to all property subject to a Mortgage, fixture filings) all in form and substance satisfactory to the Trustee (including being sufficient to grant the trustee a Lien (second in priority only to the first priority security interests granted to Bank Lenders' Agent pursuant to the New Credit Agreement the other Loan Documents (as defined in the New Credit Agreement) and subject to Permitted Liens) in and to the assets of such newly formed or acquired Subsidiary), and (B) provide to the trustee a pledge agreement and appropriate certificates and powers or Uniform Commercial Code financing statements, hypothecating all of the direct or beneficial ownership interest in such new Subsidiary, in form and substance substantially similar to the Stock Pledge Agreement and other corresponding Security Documents, and provide to the trustee one or more opinions of counsel satisfactory to the trustee, with respect to the execution and delivery of the applicable documentation referred to above and opining that all action has been taken to perfect the Trustee's Lien in and to the assets of such Subsidiary and all direct or beneficial ownership interests in such new Subsidiary, and (ii) the trustee receives 30 days' prior written notice of such formation or acquisition.

Transactions with Affiliates

Except (a) as otherwise set forth in the Reorganization Plan, (b) for the Company's reimbursement to, or payment on behalf of, SAC Holding, of (i) reasonable attorneys' fees incurred by SAC Holding in connection with the preparation, negotiation and implementation of the SAC Participation and Subordination Agreement, not to exceed an aggregate amount of $500,000, (ii) any and all reasonable direct out of pocket expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and accountants' fees and trustee's fees, but excluding the payment of principal, premium, if any, and interest in respect of the SAC Holding Senior Bond and any other amount payable by SAC Holding pursuant to the terms of the SAC Note Indenture) incurred by SAC Holding in connection with its reporting or other compliance obligations under the SAC Notes Indenture in an aggregate amount not to exceed $1 million in any 12-month period, and (iii) the Company's obligations under the Agreement to Indemnify, or (c) as consented to by the trustee and the Required Holders, directly or indirectly enter into or permit to exist any transaction with any Affiliate of any Borrower, SAC Holding, SSI, PMSR or PM Preferred except for transactions that are in the ordinary course of the Borrowers' business, upon fair and reasonable terms that are no less favorable to the Borrowers than would be obtained in an arm's length transaction with a non-Affiliate. Borrowers shall not, and shall not permit any their Subsidiaries to, transfer any cash or assets to the Insurance Subsidiaries, the Dormant Subsidiaries or INW under any circumstances whatsoever or guarantee or otherwise incur any Indebtedness on behalf of such Insurance Subsidiaries, Dormant Subsidiaries or INW.

Suspension

Except as permitted under the subheading “— Restrictions on Fundamental Changes”, the Note Parties will not suspend or go out of a substantial portion of its business.

Use of Proceeds

Use the proceeds from the sale of the Notes for any purpose other than (a) on the Issue Date, to pay transactional fees, costs, and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement, the other Note Documents, and the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, (b) to fund the Reorganization Plan and (c) thereafter, for working capital and other general corporate purposes of the Borrowers, in each case consistent with the terms and conditions hereof, for its lawful and permitted purposes.

Change in Location of Chief Executive Office; Equipment with Bailees

The Note Parties will not relocate its chief executive office to a new location without the Company providing 30 days' prior written notification thereof to the trustee and so long as, at the time of such written notification, the applicable Note Party provides or authorizes the filing of any Uniform Commercial Code financing statements or fixture filings necessary to perfect and continue perfected the Trustee's Liens and also provide to the trustee a Collateral Access Agreement, in a form substantially similar to those Collateral Access Agreements with respect to such new location. The Equipment of the Note Parties shall not at any time now or hereafter be stored with a bailee, warehouseman, or similar party (other than a U-Haul Dealer) without Bank Lenders' Agent's prior written consent and prior written notification to the trustee.

Securities Accounts

The Note Parties will not establish or maintain any Securities Account unless the trustee shall have received a Control Agreement in respect of such Securities Account. No Note Party shall transfer assets out of any Securities Account; provided, however, that, so long as no event of default has occurred and is continuing or would result therefrom, such Note Party may use such assets (and the proceeds thereof) to the extent not prohibited by the indenture.

Financial Covenants

(a) EBITDA/ Capital Expenditures. The Note Parties will not allow Consolidated EBITDA minus Capital Expenditures, each as measured on a fiscal quarter-end basis for the applicable period set forth below, to be less than the required amount set forth in the following table as of the applicable date set forth opposite thereto:

Applicable Amount	Applicable Date
$15 million	For the 3-month period ending June 30, 2004
$65 million	For the 6-month period ending September 30, 2004
$65 million	For the 9-month period ending December 31, 2004
$60 million	For the 12-month period ending March 31, 2005
$48 million	For the 12-month period ending June 30, 2005
$25 million	For the 12-month period ending September 30, 2005
$25 million	For the 12-month period ending December 31, 2005
$30 million	For the 12-month period ending March 31, 2006
$80 million	For the 12-month period ending June 30, 2006
$115 million	For the 12-month period ending September 30, 2006
$110 million	For the 12-month period ending December 31, 2006

provided, however, that based upon Borrowers' Projections (as defined in the New Credit Agreement) delivered to the trustee pursuant to the terms of the New Credit Agreement, the Required Lenders shall establish quarterly EBITDA minus Capital Expenditure covenants for each fiscal quarter after March 2007, using the same methodology as utilized for 2004, 2005 and 2006, and the covenants shall be presented to the Company for its approval, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld. In the event the Company does not approve the proposed covenants, Required Lenders shall establish such covenants, in their Permitted Discretion, based upon Borrowers' Projections (as defined in the New Credit Agreement) for the applicable fiscal year.

(b) Capital Expenditures. The Note Parties will not make Capital Expenditures in any fiscal year in excess of the amount set forth in the following table for the applicable period:

Fiscal Year 2005	Fiscal Year 2006	Fiscal Year 2007
$185 million	$245 million	$195 million

provided, however, that based upon Borrowers' Projections (as defined in the New Credit Agreement) delivered to the trustee pursuant to the terms of the New Credit Agreement, the Required Lenders shall establish quarterly Capital Expenditure covenants for each fiscal year after 2007, using the same methodology as utilized for 2005, 2006 and 2007, and the covenants shall be presented to the Company for its approval, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld. In the event the Company does not approve the proposed covenants, Required Lenders shall establish such covenants, in their Permitted Discretion, based upon Borrowers' Projections (as defined in the New Credit Agreement) for the applicable fiscal year.

Employee Benefits

The Note Parties will not directly or indirectly:

(a) engage in any prohibited transaction which is reasonably likely to result in a civil penalty or excise tax described in Sections 502(i) of ERISA or 4975 of the internal revenue code for which a statutory or class exemption is not available or a private exemption has not been previously obtained from the Department of Labor;

(b) with respect to any Benefit Plan, permit to exist an accumulated funding deficiency (as defined in Sections 302 of ERISA and 412 of the internal revenue code) for a period longer than 30 days, whether or not waived;

(c) fail to pay timely required contributions or annual installments due with respect to any waived funding deficiency to any Benefit Plan;

Table of Contents

(d) terminate any Benefit Plan where such event would result in any liability of any Borrower, any Subsidiary of any Borrower or any ERISA Affiliate under Title IV of ERISA;

(e) fail to make any required contribution or payment to any multiemployer plan;

(f) fail to pay any required installment or any other payment required under Section 412 of the internal revenue code on or before the due date for such installment or other payment;

(g) amend a Benefit Plan resulting in an increase in current liability for the plan year such that any Borrower, any Subsidiary of any Borrower or any ERISA Affiliate is required to provide security to such Plan under Section 401(a)(29) of the internal revenue code; or

(h) withdraw from any multiemployer plan where such withdrawal is reasonably likely to result in any liability of any such entity under Title IV of ERISA; that, individually or in the aggregate, results in or reasonably would be expected to result in a claim against or liability of any Borrower, any Subsidiary of any Borrower or any ERISA Affiliate in excess of $25,000.

Sales and Leasebacks

Except for Permitted Dispositions, The Note Parties will not enter into any arrangement, directly or indirectly, with any third party whereby any Note Party shall sell or transfer any property, real or personal, whether now owned or hereafter acquired, and whereby such Note Party shall then or thereafter rent or lease as lessee of such property or any part thereof or other property that such Note Party intends to use for substantially the same purpose or purposes as the property sold or transferred.

Speculative Transactions

The Note Parties will not engage in any transaction involving commodity options or futures contracts or any similar speculative transactions except for Hedge Agreements that are used solely as part of normal business operations as a risk management strategy and/or hedge against charges resulting from market operations in accordance with the Company's customary policies and not as a means to speculate for investment purposes or trends and shifts in financial or commodities markets.

Amendment to Certain Agreements

Neither the Company nor any Subsidiary shall (a) enter into or consent to any amendment, supplement or other modification of the indenture or the Security Documents (except as permitted under the indenture), and (b) amend, restate, supplement, modify, waive or otherwise change or consent or agree to any amendment, modification, waiver or other change to, any of the terms of the New Credit Agreement in any manner prohibited by the Intercreditor Agreement.

Defaults

Events of Default

Each of the following is an event of default:

(a) failure by the Company to pay interest on any of the notes when it becomes due and payable and the continuance of any such failure for 5 days;

(b) failure by the Company to pay the principal of any of the notes when it becomes due and payable, whether at stated maturity, upon redemption, upon purchase, upon acceleration or otherwise;

(c) subject in certain restrictions described in the indenture, failure to perform, keep, or observe certain terms, provisions, covenants, or agreements contained in the indenture;

(d) subject in certain restrictions described in the indenture, failure by a Note Party to perform, keep, or observe any other term, provision, covenant, or agreement contained in the indenture or in any of the other Note Documents (giving effect to any grace periods, cure periods, or required notices, if any, expressly provided for in such Note Documents);

(f) if any material portion of any Note Party's assets is attached, seized, subjected to a writ or distress warrant, levied upon, or comes into the possession of any third person;

(g) if any Note Party is enjoined, restrained, or in any way prevented by court order from continuing to conduct all or any material part of its business affairs;

(h) if a notice of Lien, levy, or assessment, individually or in the aggregate in an amount of $500,000 or greater, is filed of record with respect to any Note Party's assets by the United States or Canada, or any department, agency, or instrumentality thereof, or by any state, province, territory, county, municipal, or governmental agency, or if any taxes or debts owing at any time hereafter to any one or more of such entities becomes a Lien, whether choate or otherwise, upon any Borrower's or any of its Subsidiaries' assets and the same is not paid on the payment date thereof;

(i) if a judgment or other claim becomes a Lien or encumbrance upon any material portion of any Note Party's properties or assets;

(j) if there is a default in any material agreement to which any Note Party is a party including, without limitation, any Material Contract, Affiliate Contract or any material contract with any of SAC Holding, SSI, PMSR or PM Preferred (other than the New AMERCO Notes and the Synthetic Leases) or any other Indebtedness in excess of $1 million, and such default (a) occurs at the final maturity of the obligations thereunder, or (b) results in the acceleration of the maturity of the applicable Note Party's obligations thereunder;

(k) except as otherwise set forth in the Reorganization Plan or as otherwise permitted by the indenture, if any Note Party makes any payment on account of Indebtedness that has been contractually subordinated in right of payment to the payment of the Obligations of the Note Parties under the Notes and the other Note Documents;

(l) if the obligation of any Guarantor under the Guaranty Agreement or the Note Guarantee is limited or terminated by operation of law or by such Guarantor thereunder;

(m) if the indenture or any other Note Document that purports to create a Lien, shall, for any reason, fail or cease to create a valid and perfected, except to the extent permitted by the terms hereof or thereof, Lien on or security interest (each, second in priority only to the first priority security interests granted to Bank Lenders' Agent pursuant to the New Credit Agreement and the other Loan Documents (as defined in the New Credit Agreement)) in the Collateral covered hereby or thereby;

(n) if any provision of any Note Document shall at any time for any reason be declared to be null and void, or the validity or enforceability thereof shall be contested by any Note Party, or a proceeding shall be commenced by any Note Party, or by any governmental authority having jurisdiction over any Note Party, seeking to establish the invalidity or unenforceability thereof, or any Note Party shall deny that any Note Party has any liability or obligation purported to be created under any Note Document;

(o) if suit or action is commenced against the trustee and/or any note holder and, as to any suit or action brought by any person other than the Note Parties or an officer or employee of the Note Parties, is continued without dismissal for 30 days after service thereof on the trustee, that asserts, by or on behalf of the Note Parties, any claim or legal or equitable remedy which seeks subordination of the claim or Lien of the trustee and/or any note holder hereunder or under any other Note Document;

(p) if any Note Party shall file any application in support of, or shall otherwise fail to contest in good faith, a suit or action of the type set forth in clause (o) above filed by any person other than a Borrower or an officer or employee of Borrowers;

(q) if an insolvency proceeding is commenced by or against any Note Party, or any of its Subsidiaries (other than INW), and any of the following events occur: (a) the applicable Note Party or the Subsidiary consents to the institution of the insolvency proceeding against it, (b) the petition commencing the insolvency proceeding is not timely controverted, (c) the petition commencing the insolvency proceeding is not dismissed within 45 calendar days of the date of the filing thereof, (d) an interim trustee is appointed to take possession of all or any substantial portion of the properties or assets of, or to operate all or any substantial portion of the business of, any Note Party or any of its Subsidiaries, or (e) an order for relief shall have been entered therein; or

(r) (i) if any event of default occurs under any New AMERCO Note Document or any of the Synthetic Leases; (ii) if any holder of New AMERCO Notes contests that the Obligations hereunder constitute "Senior Indebtedness" under the New AMERCO Notes Indenture; (iii) any event of default occurs under the New Credit Agreement or any other Loan Document (as defined in the New Credit Agreement);

(s) failure by the Note Parties to register substantially all of the Certificates of Title pursuant to the terms of the indenture within 180 days after the Issue Date;

(t) failure by the Note Parties to deliver the Mortgages, related fixture filings and Mortgage Policies pursuant to the terms of the indenture, within 60 days after the Issue Date; or

(u) if any material misstatement or material misrepresentation exists now or hereafter in any warranty, representation, statement, or Record made to the Holders by any Borrower, its Subsidiaries, or any officer, employee, agent, or director of any Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries.

Acceleration

If an event of default (other than an event of default specified in clause (q) above with respect to the Company) shall have occurred and be continuing, then the trustee or the holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the notes then outstanding, may declare all amounts owing under the notes to be due and payable immediately, by notice in writing to the Company (and to the trustee if given by holders). Upon such declaration of acceleration, the aggregate principal of and accrued and unpaid interest on the outstanding notes shall immediately become due and payable; provided, however, that after such acceleration, but before a judgment or decree based on acceleration, the Required holders may rescind and annul such acceleration, by notice in writing to the Company and the trustee, if all events of default, other than the nonpayment of accelerated principal and interest, have been cured or waived as provided in the indenture. If an event of default specified in clause (q) above occurs with respect to the Company, all outstanding notes shall become due and payable without any further action or notice.

In the case of an Event of Default occurring by reason of any willful action (or inaction) taken (or not taken) by or on behalf of the Company with the intention of avoiding payment of the premium that the Company would have had to pay if the Company then had elected to redeem the Notes, an equivalent premium shall also become and be immediately due and payable, to the extent permitted by law, upon the acceleration of the Notes. If an Event of Default occurs prior to March 16, 2005 by reason of any willful action (or inaction) taken (or not taken) by or on behalf of the Company with the intention of avoiding the prohibition on redemption of the Notes prior to March 16, 2005, then, upon acceleration of the notes, an additional premium shall also become and be immediately due and payable, to the extent permitted by law, in an amount equal to 9%.

Other Remedies

(a) If an event of default occurs and is continuing, the trustee may pursue any available remedy to collect the payment of principal, premium, fees and Additional Interest, if any, and interest on the notes or to enforce the performance of any provision of the notes or the indenture or the Security Documents.

(b) The trustee may maintain a proceeding even if it does not possess any of the notes or does not produce any of them in the proceeding. A delay or omission by the trustee or any holder of a note in exercising any right or remedy accruing upon an event of default shall not impair the right or remedy or constitute a waiver of or acquiescence in the event of default. All remedies are cumulative to the extent permitted by law.;

and shall be in addition to every other remedy given hereunder or under the Security Documents or existing at law or in equity or by statute on or after the date hereof.

Subject to the provisions of the indenture relating to the duties of the trustee, a holder of a note may institute a proceeding with respect to the indenture, any of the Security Documents, the notes or for any remedy hereunder or thereunder only if:

A holder of a note may institute a proceeding with respect to the indenture, any of the Security Documents, the notes or for any remedy hereunder or thereunder only if:

- (i) the holder of a note gives to the trustee written notice of a continuing event of default;
- (ii) the holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding notes make a written request to the trustee to pursue the remedy;
- (iii) such holder of a note or holders of notes offer and, if requested, provide to the trustee indemnity satisfactory to the trustee against any loss, liability or expense which might be incurred in compliance with such request or direction;
- (iv) the trustee does not comply with the request within 60 days after receipt of the request; and
- (v) during such 60-day period the Required Holders do not give the trustee a direction inconsistent with the request.

The Required Holders may direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for exercising any remedy available to the trustee or exercising any trust or power conferred on it. However, the trustee may refuse to follow any direction that conflicts with law or the indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement, any or Security Document, that the trustee determines may be unduly prejudicial to the rights of other holders of notes or that may involve the trustee in personal liability.

If a default or event of default occurs and is continuing and if it is actually known to a responsible officer of the trustee, the trustee shall mail to holders of notes a notice of the default or event of default within 30 days after it becomes actually known to such responsible officer of the trustee. Except in the case of a default or event of default (a) in payment of principal of, premium, fees, Additional Interest, if any, or interest on any note or (b) in compliance with the provisions under the subheading “— Certain Covenants — Limitation on Indebtedness” above, the trustee may withhold the notice if and so long as a committee of its responsible officers in good faith determines that withholding the notice is in the interests of the holders of the notes. The trustee shall not be required to take notice or be deemed to have notice or knowledge of any default or event of default hereunder (except failure by the Company to make any payments to the trustee required to be made hereunder) unless a responsible officer of the trustee is specifically notified in writing of such default or event of default by the Company or by a holder in accordance with the Notice provisions of the indenture and, in the absence of such notice, the trustee may conclusively assume that no default or event of default has occurred and is continuing.

Amendments and Waivers

Subject to certain exceptions, the indenture, the Security Documents and the Intercreditor Agreement may be amended with the consent of the Required Holders, however, without the consent of each holder of an outstanding note affected thereby, an amendment or waiver may not, among other things:

- (a) change the maturity of any note;
- (b) reduce the amount, extend the due date or otherwise affect the terms of any scheduled payment of premium, fees or Additional Interest on, if any, or interest on or principal of the notes;
- (c) change the date on which any notes are subject to redemption or otherwise alter the provisions with respect to the redemption of the notes or waive a redemption payment with respect to any Note;
- (d) make any note payable in money or currency other than that stated in the notes;

Table of Contents

(e) modify or change any provision of the indenture or its related definitions to affect the ranking of the notes or any Note Guarantee in a manner that adversely affects the holders;

(f) reduce the percentage of holders necessary to consent to an amendment or waiver to the indenture or the notes;

(g) impair the rights of holders to receive payments of principal of or interest on the notes;

(h) release any Guarantor from any of its obligations under its Note Guarantee or the indenture, other than as permitted by the indenture;

(i) make any change in these amendment and waiver provisions;

(j) release Collateral other than in accordance with the procedures set forth in the Security Documents, or amend, waive or otherwise modify any provisions in the Note Documents with respect to the release of Collateral;

(k) except as permitted by the indenture and the Security Documents, create any Lien on the Collateral ranking prior to, or on parity with, the security interest created by the indenture and the Security Documents or deprive any holder of the benefit of the Lien of the indenture and the Security Documents; or

(l) waive a default or event of default in the payment of principal of or premium or Additional Interest, if any, interest on, or redemption payment with respect to, any note (other than a default in the payment of an amount due as a result of an acceleration if the holders rescind such acceleration pursuant to the terms of the indenture).

Notwithstanding the preceding, without the consent of any holder of the notes, the Company, the guarantors and trustee may amend the indenture, the Intercreditor Agreement or the Security Documents:

(a) to cure any ambiguity, defect or inconsistency;

(b) to provide for uncertificated notes in addition to or in place of certificated notes;

(c) to release any Guarantor from any of its obligations under its Note Guarantee or the indenture (to the extent permitted by the indenture);

(d) to make any change that does not materially adversely affect the legal rights hereunder of any holder of the notes; or

(e) to comply with requirements of the SEC in order to effect or maintain the qualification of the indenture under the Trust Indenture Act.

The consent of the holders of the notes is not necessary under the indenture to approve the particular form of any proposed amendment. It is sufficient if such consent approves the substance of the proposed amendment.

After an amendment under the indenture becomes effective, we shall mail to the holders of notes affected thereby a notice briefly describing the amendment, supplement or waiver. However, the failure to give such notice to all holders of the notes, or any defect therein, will not impair or affect the validity of the amendment.

Transfer

The exchange notes will be issued in registered form and will be transferable only upon the surrender of the notes being transferred for registration of transfer. We may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax, assessment or other governmental charge payable in connection with certain transfers and exchanges.

Defeasance

At any time we may elect to terminate all our obligations under the notes and the indenture be applied to all outstanding notes upon compliance with the conditions terms of the indenture.

Table of Contents

Subject to the satisfaction of the certain conditions set forth in the indenture, we may be deemed to have been discharged from our obligations with respect to all outstanding notes and all obligations of the guarantors discharged with respect to the Note Guarantees (“Legal Defeasance”). Legal Defeasance means that we and the guarantors shall be deemed to have paid and discharged the entire Indebtedness represented by the outstanding notes and the Note Guarantees, respectively, which shall thereafter be deemed to be “outstanding” only for the limited purposes more fully described in the indenture. We will be deemed to have satisfied all our other obligations under such notes and the indenture, except for certain provisions which shall survive until otherwise terminated or discharged, as more fully described in the indenture.

Subject to the satisfaction of the certain conditions set forth in the indenture, we may be released from our obligations under certain of the affirmative and negative covenants, as more fully described in the indenture and (“Covenant Defeasance”), and the notes shall thereafter be deemed not “outstanding” for the purposes of any direction, waiver, consent or declaration or act of holders (and the consequences of any thereof) in connection with such covenants, but shall continue to be deemed “outstanding” for all other purposes hereunder (it being understood that such notes shall not be deemed outstanding for accounting purposes). For this purpose, Covenant Defeasance means that, with respect to the outstanding notes, the Company may omit to comply with and shall have no liability in respect of any term, condition or limitation set forth in any such covenant, whether directly or indirectly, by reason of any reference elsewhere herein to any such covenant or by reason of any reference in any such covenant to any other provision herein or in any other document and such omission to comply shall not constitute a default or an event of default as described in the indenture and under the subheading “— Default” above. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of a Covenant Default, the remainder of the indenture, the Security Documents and such notes shall be unaffected thereby. In addition, upon the Company’s exercise of Covenant Defeasance, subject to the satisfaction of the conditions set forth in the indenture, shall not constitute events of default.

Delivery and Form

General

On the Issue Date, the purchasers of the Class B Notes shall be issued as Definitive Notes (the “Class B Definitive Notes”), in such names and denominations as the Company shall instruct the trustee.

Transfer and Exchange of Definitive Notes for Beneficial Interests in Global Notes

(a) The holders will take physical delivery in definitive form of notes that they own, consequently, the ability to transfer beneficial interests in such notes may be limited to that extent. Any holder of a Class B Definitive Note may exchange such note for a beneficial interest in a Class B Global Note or to transfer such Class B Definitive Note to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in a global note substantially in the form set forth in the indenture, and that is deposited with or on behalf of and registered in the name of The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”), representing the series of Class B Notes (each a “Class B Global Note”). Upon receipt by the Registrar of documentation satisfactory to it, including, without limitation, any legal opinions or certifications, the trustee shall cancel the Class B Definitive Note, and increase or cause to be increased the aggregate principal amount of the Class B Global Note.

(b) Subject to the terms and conditions of the indenture and Registration Rights Agreement, a holder of a Class B Definitive Note may exchange such note for a beneficial interest in a Series A Note or transfer such Class B Definitive Note to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in a Series A Note.

Registered Exchange Offer; Registration Rights

We and the guarantors have agreed pursuant to the Registration Rights Agreement that we will, subject to certain exceptions,

(1) within 60 days after the Issue Date or by May 14, 2004, file a registration statement (the “Exchange Offer Registration Statement”) with the SEC with respect to a registered offer (the “Registered Exchange Offer”) to exchange the original notes for exchange notes, which exchange notes have terms substantially identical in all material respects to the original notes (except that the exchange notes will not contain terms with respect to transfer restrictions);

Table of Contents

(2) use our reasonable best efforts to cause the Exchange Offer Registration Statement to be declared effective under the Securities Act within 150 days after the Issue Date, or by August 12, 2004;

(3) as soon as practicable after the effectiveness of the Exchange Offer Registration Statement (the “Effectiveness Date”), offer the exchange notes in exchange for surrender of the original notes; and

(4) keep the Registered Exchange Offer open for not less than 30 days (or longer if required by applicable law) after the date notice of the Registered Exchange Offer is mailed to the Holders of the original notes.

For each old note tendered to us pursuant to the Registered Exchange Offer, we will issue to the Holder of such old note a exchange note having a principal amount equal to that of the surrendered old note. Interest on each exchange note will accrue from the last interest payment date on which interest was paid on the old note surrendered in exchange therefor, or, if no interest has been paid on such old note, from the date of its original issue.

Under existing SEC interpretations, the exchange notes will be freely transferable by Holders other than our affiliates after the Registered Exchange Offer without further registration under the Securities Act if the Holder of the exchange notes represents to us in the Registered Exchange Offer that it is acquiring the exchange notes in the ordinary course of its business, that it has no arrangement or understanding with any person to participate in the distribution of the exchange notes and that it is not an affiliate of the Company, as such terms are interpreted by the SEC; provided, however , that broker-dealers (“Participating Broker-Dealers”) receiving exchange notes in the Registered Exchange Offer will have a prospectus delivery requirement with respect to resales of such exchange notes. The SEC has taken the position that Participating Broker-Dealers may fulfill their prospectus delivery requirements with respect to exchange notes (other than a resale of an unsold allotment from the original sale of the original notes) with the prospectus contained in the Exchange Offer Registration Statement.

Under the Registration Rights Agreement, the Company is required to allow Participating Broker-Dealers and other persons, if any, with similar prospectus delivery requirements to use the prospectus contained in the Exchange Offer Registration Statement in connection with the resale of such original notes for 180 days following the effective date of such Exchange Offer Registration Statement (or such shorter period during which Participating Broker-Dealers are required by law to deliver such prospectus).

A Holder of original notes (other than certain specified Holders) who wishes to exchange such original notes for exchange notes in the Registered Exchange Offer will be required to represent that any exchange notes to be received by it will be acquired in the ordinary course of its business and that at the time of the commencement of the Registered Exchange Offer it has no arrangement or understanding with any person to participate in the distribution (within the meaning of the Securities Act) of the exchange notes and that it is not an “affiliate” of the Company, as defined in Rule 405 of the Securities Act, or if it is an affiliate, that it will comply with the registration and prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act to the extent applicable.

In the event that:

(1) applicable interpretations of the staff of the SEC do not permit us to effect such a Registered Exchange Offer; or

(2) for any other reason we do not consummate the Registered Exchange Offer within 220 days of the Issue Date; or

(3) an Initial Purchaser shall notify us following consummation of the Registered Exchange Offer that original notes held by it are not eligible to be exchanged for exchange notes in the Registered Exchange Offer; or

Table of Contents

(4) certain Holders are prohibited by law or SEC policy from participating in the Registered Exchange Offer or may not resell the exchange notes acquired by them in the Registered Exchange Offer to the public without delivering a prospectus;

then, we will, subject to certain exceptions,

(1) promptly file a shelf registration statement (the “Shelf Registration Statement”) with the SEC covering resales of the original notes or the exchange notes, as the case may be;

(2) (A) in the case of clause (1) above, use our reasonable best efforts to cause the Shelf Registration Statement to be declared effective under the Securities Act on or prior to the 180th day after the Issue Date and (B) in the case of clause (2), (3) or (4) above, use our reasonable best efforts to cause the Shelf Registration Statement to be declared effective under the Securities Act on or prior to the 90th day after the date on which the Shelf Registration Statement is required to be filed; and

(3) keep the Shelf Registration Statement effective until the earliest of (A) the time when the original notes covered by the Shelf Registration Statement can be sold pursuant to Rule 144 without any limitations under clauses (c), (e), (f) and (h) of Rule 144, (B) two years from the Issue Date and (C) the date on which all notes registered thereunder are disposed of in accordance therewith.

We will, in the event a Shelf Registration Statement is filed, among other things, provide to each Holder for whom such Shelf Registration Statement was filed copies of the prospectus which is a part of the Shelf Registration Statement, notify each such Holder when the Shelf Registration Statement has become effective and take certain other actions as are required to permit unrestricted resales of the original notes or the exchange notes, as the case may be. A Holder selling such original notes or exchange notes pursuant to the Shelf Registration Statement generally would be required to be named as a selling security holder in the related prospectus and to deliver a prospectus to purchasers, will be subject to certain of the civil liability provisions under the Securities Act in connection with such sales and will be bound by the provisions of the Registration Rights Agreement that are applicable to such Holder (including certain indemnification obligations).

We may require each Holder requesting to be named as a selling security holder to furnish to us such information regarding the Holder and the distribution of the original notes or exchange notes by the Holder as we may from time to time reasonably require for the inclusion of the Holder in the Shelf Registration Statement, including requiring the Holder to properly complete and execute such selling security holder notice and questionnaires, and any amendments or supplements thereto, as we may reasonably deem necessary or appropriate. We may refuse to name any Holder as a selling security holder that fails to provide us with such information.

We and the Guarantors, jointly and severally, will pay additional cash interest on the original notes and exchange notes, subject to certain exceptions,

(1) if the Company fails to file an Exchange Offer Registration Statement with the SEC on or prior to the 90th day after the Issue Date;

(2) if the Exchange Offer Registration Statement is not declared effective by the SEC on or prior to the 180th day after the Issue Date or, if obligated to file a Shelf Registration Statement pursuant to clause 2(A) above, a Shelf Registration Statement is not declared effective by the SEC on or prior to the 180th day after the Issue Date;

(3) if the Exchange Offer is not consummated on or before the 40th day after the Exchange Offer Registration Statement is declared effective;

(4) if obligated to file the Shelf Registration Statement pursuant to clause 2(B) above, the Company fails to file the Shelf Registration Statement with the SEC on or prior to the 30th day (the “Shelf Filing Date”) after the date on which the obligation to file a Shelf Registration Statement arises;

(5) if obligated to file a Shelf Registration Statement pursuant to clause 2(B) above, the Shelf Registration Statement is not declared effective on or prior to the 90th day after the Shelf Filing Date; or

Table of Contents

(6) after the Exchange Offer Registration Statement or the Shelf Registration Statement, as the case may be, is declared effective, such Registration Statement thereafter ceases to be effective or usable (subject to certain exceptions) in connection with resales of original notes or exchanges of original notes in accordance with and during the periods specified in the Registration Rights Agreement (each such event referred to in the preceding clauses (1) through (6), a “Registration Default”); from and including the date on which any such Registration Default shall occur to but excluding the date on which all Registration Defaults have been cured.

The rate of the additional interest will be 0.25% per annum for the first 90-day period immediately following the occurrence of a Registration Default, and such rate will increase by an additional 0.50% per annum with respect to each subsequent 90-day period until all Registration Defaults have been cured, up to a maximum additional interest rate of 2.0% per annum. We will pay such additional interest on regular interest payment dates. Such additional interest will be in addition to any other interest payable from time to time with respect to the original notes and the exchange notes.

All references in the indenture, in any context, to any interest or other amount payable on or with respect to the original notes shall be deemed to include any additional interest pursuant to the Registration Rights Agreement.

If we effect the Registered Exchange Offer, we will be entitled to close the Registered Exchange Offer 30 days after the commencement thereof provided that we have accepted all notes theretofore validly tendered in accordance with the terms of the Registered Exchange Offer.

Concerning the Trustee

Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. is the trustee under the indenture. We have appointed Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. as Registrar and Paying Agent with regard to the notes and as Depository Custodian with respect to the Global Notes.

The indenture contains certain limitations on the rights of the trustee, should it become a creditor of the Company, to obtain payment of claims in certain cases, or to realize on certain property received in respect of any such claim as security or otherwise. The trustee will be permitted to engage in other transactions; provided, however, if it acquires any conflicting interest it must either eliminate such conflict within 90 days, apply to the SEC for permission to continue or resign.

The holders of a majority in principal amount of the outstanding notes will have the right to direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for exercising any remedy available to the trustee, subject to certain exceptions. If an event of default has occurred and is continuing, the trustee shall exercise such of the rights and powers vested in it by this Agreement and the Security Documents, and use the same degree of care and skill in its exercise, as a prudent person would exercise or use under the circumstances in the conduct of such persons own affairs. The trustee shall be under no obligation to exercise any of its rights and powers under this Agreement or any Security Document at the request or direction of any Holders, unless such holder shall have offered to the trustee security and/or indemnity satisfactory to it against the cost, loss, liability or expense that might be incurred by it in compliance with such request or direction.

No Personal Liability of Directors, Officers, Employees and Stockholders

No past, present or future director, officer, employee, incorporator or stockholder of the Company or any guarantor, as such, shall have any liability for any obligations of the Company or any guarantor under the notes, the note Guarantees, this Agreement or for any claim based on, in respect of, or by reason of, such obligations or their creation. Each holder by accepting a note waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for issuance of the notes and the Note Guarantees. Notwithstanding the foregoing nothing in this provision shall be construed as a waiver or release of any claims under the federal securities laws.

THE EXCHANGE OFFER

Purposes and Effects

We issued the outstanding notes on March 15, 2004 in a private offering exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933. In connection with the sale of the outstanding notes, we and the initial purchasers entered into the registration rights agreement pursuant to which we agreed to file with the SEC a registration statement with respect to an offer to exchange notes for the outstanding notes within 60 days after the outstanding notes were issued. In addition, we agreed to use our reasonable best efforts to cause the registration statement to become effective under the Securities Act within 150 days after the outstanding notes were issued and to issue the exchange notes pursuant to the exchange offer. A copy of the registration rights agreement has been filed as an exhibit to the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part.

The exchange offer is being made pursuant to the registration rights agreement. Holders of outstanding notes who do not tender their outstanding notes or whose outstanding notes are tendered but not accepted would have to rely on exemptions from registration requirements under the securities laws, including the Securities Act, if they wish to sell their outstanding notes.

Based on interpretations by the staff of the SEC set forth in no-action letters issued to persons unrelated to us, we believe the exchange notes issued pursuant to the exchange offer in exchange for outstanding notes may be offered for sale, sold and otherwise transferred by any holder (other than a person that is an "affiliate" of ours within the meaning of Rule 405 under the Securities Act and except as set forth in the next paragraph) without registration or the delivery of a prospectus under the Securities Act, provided the holder acquires the exchange notes in the ordinary course of the holder's business and the holder is not participating and does not intend to participate, and has no arrangement or understanding with any person to participate, in the distribution of the exchange notes.

If a person were to participate in the exchange offer for the purpose of distributing securities in a manner not permitted by the SEC's interpretation, (1) the position of the staff of the SEC enunciated in the no-action letters would not be applicable to the person and (2) the person would be required to comply with the registration and prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act in connection with a sale of the exchange notes with any such resale transaction effected by it covered by an effective registration statement containing the selling securityholder information required by Item 507 or 508 of the SEC's Regulation S-K.

Each broker-dealer that receives exchange notes for its own account in exchange for outstanding notes which the broker-dealer acquired as a result of market-making activities or other trading activities, must acknowledge that it will deliver a prospectus in connection with any sale of those exchange notes.

The exchange offer is not being made to, nor will we accept surrenders for exchange from, holders of exchange notes with addresses in any jurisdiction in which the exchange offer or the issuance of exchange notes pursuant to it would violate applicable securities or blue sky laws. Prior to the exchange offer, however, we will register or qualify, or cooperate with the holders of the outstanding notes and their respective counsel in connection with the registration or qualification of, the exchange notes for offer and sale under the securities or blue sky laws of such jurisdictions as are necessary to permit consummation of the exchange offer and do anything else which is necessary or advisable to enable the offer and issuance of the exchange notes in those jurisdictions.

Terms of the Exchange Offer

Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this prospectus and in the accompanying letter of transmittal, we will issue exchange notes in exchange for all outstanding notes which are validly tendered prior to 5:00 p.m., New York time, on the expiration date (as defined below) and not withdrawn. The principal amount of the exchange notes issued in the exchange will be the same as the principal amount of the outstanding notes for which they are exchanged. Holders may tender some or all of their outstanding notes in response to the exchange offer.

Table of Contents

However, outstanding notes may be tendered only in multiples of $1. See “Description of the Exchange Notes.”

The form and terms of the exchange notes will be the same in all material respects as the form and terms of the outstanding notes, except that (1) the exchange notes will be registered under the Securities Act and hence will not bear legends regarding restrictions on transfer and (2) because the exchange notes will be registered, holders of exchange notes will not be, and upon the consummation of the exchange offer, except under limited circumstances, holders of outstanding notes will no longer be, entitled to rights under the registration rights agreement intended for holders of unregistered securities.

Outstanding notes which are not tendered for exchange or are tendered but not accepted in the exchange offer will remain outstanding and be entitled to the benefits of the indenture, but will not be entitled to any registration rights under the registration rights agreement.

We will be deemed to accept all the outstanding notes which are validly tendered and not withdrawn when we give oral or written notice to that effect to the exchange agent. The exchange agent will act as agent for the tendering holders for the purpose of receiving exchange notes from us.

If any tendered outstanding notes are not accepted for exchange because of an invalid tender or otherwise, certificates for those outstanding notes will be returned, without expense, to the tendering holder promptly after the expiration date.

Holders who tender outstanding notes in response to the exchange offer will not be required to pay brokerage commissions or fees or, except as described in the instructions in the letter of transmittal, transfer taxes. We will pay all charges and expenses, other than certain taxes described below, in connection with the exchange offer. See “— Fees and Expenses.”

Expiration Date; Extension; Termination; Amendments

The exchange offer will expire at 5:00 p.m., New York time, _____, 2004, the “expiration date” unless we extend it by notice to the exchange agent. The expiration date will be at least 20 business days (or longer if required by applicable law) after the date notice of the Exchange Offer is mailed to the holders in accordance with Rule 14e-1(a) under the Exchange Act.

Interest on Exchange Notes

Interest on the exchange notes will accrue from the date of their issuance at the rate of 9.0% per annum and will be payable quarterly in arrears on each March 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15, commencing on June 15, 2004. We will make each interest payment to the holders of record of the exchange notes on the immediately preceding March 1, June 1, September 1 and December 1. We will pay interest on overdue principal at 2.0% per annum in excess of the above rate and will pay interest on overdue installments of interest at such higher rate to the extent lawful.

Termination of Certain Rights

The registration rights agreement provides that, with certain exceptions, if: (1) the exchange offer registration statement has not been filed with the SEC on or prior to the 60th calendar day following the date of original issue of the outstanding notes; (2) the exchange offer registration statement has not been declared effective on or prior to the 150th calendar day following the date of original issue of the outstanding notes, (3) the exchange offer is not consummated on or prior to the 180th day following the date of original issue of the outstanding notes, or (4) the Shelf Registration Statement required to be filed but is not declared effective on or prior to the 150th day following the date of the Shelf Filing Event (as defined below), or, if that day is not a Business Day, the next day that is a Business Day, or is declared effective by such date but thereafter ceases to be effective or usable, except if the Shelf Registration ceases to be effective or usable as specifically permitted by the terms and conditions of the Registration Rights Agreement (each event referred to in clauses (1) through (4) above being a “registration default”), the interest rate borne by the outstanding notes will be increased by 0.25% per annum for the first 90 day period upon the occurrence of a registration default.

Table of Contents

This rate will continue to increase by 0.50% each subsequent 90 day period that the liquidated damages (as defined below) continue to accrue under any such circumstance. However, the maximum total increase in the interest rate will in no event exceed two percent (2%) per year. We refer to this increase in the interest rate on the notes as “liquidated damages.” Such interest is payable in addition to any other interest payable from time to time with respect to the outstanding notes and the exchange notes in cash on each interest payment date to the holders of record for such interest payment date. After the cure of registration defaults or after the date upon which the notes become freely transferable by the holders, the accrual of liquidated damages will stop and the interest rate will revert to the original rate.

In the event that:

- any changes in law or the applicable interpretations of the staff of the Commission do not permit the Issuers to effect the Exchange Offer;
- for any reason the Exchange Offer is not consummated within 180 days of the Issue Date;
- any Holder, other than an Initial Purchaser, is prohibited by law or the applicable interpretations of the staff of the Commission from participating in the Exchange Offer; or
- any Holder who participates in the Exchange Offer, does not receive Exchange Notes on the date of the exchange that may be sold without restriction under state and federal securities laws (other than due solely to the status of such Holder as an affiliate of any Issuer within the meaning of the Securities Act);

then, the Issuer and the guarantors shall as promptly as practicable, but in no event later than 150 days after the occurrence of any of the above shelf registration statement triggering events (each a “Shelf Filing Event”), file with the SEC a shelf registration statement covering resales of the outstanding notes by holders who satisfy certain conditions relating to the provision of information in connection with the shelf registration statement.

Procedures for Tendering

Delivery to the holders of and payment for the Notes shall be made at a Closing (the “Closing”) to be held at such time and on such date as agreed to by the parties (the “Closing Date”) at the location agreed to by the parties. The Closing Date and the location of delivery of and the form of payment for the Notes may be varied by agreement between holders and Issuer.

Issuer shall deliver to holders one or more certificates representing the Notes, each in definitive form, registered in such names and denominations as holders may request, against payment by holders of the aggregate purchase price therefor by immediately available federal funds bank wire transfer to such bank account as Issuer shall designate to holders at least two business days prior to the Closing.

The certificates representing the Notes in definitive form shall be made available to holders for inspection at the offices of Snell & Wilmer L.L.P., 400 East Van Buren, Phoenix, Arizona 85004 (or such other place as shall be reasonably acceptable to Purchasers) not later than 10:00 a.m. one business day immediately preceding the Closing Date.

Conditions of the Exchange Offer

Notwithstanding any other term of the exchange offer, we will not be required to accept for exchange, or exchange securities for, any outstanding notes, if:

(a) the holders have not delivered payment to Issuer for the Notes pursuant to Note Purchase Agreement;

(b) any of the representations and warranties of the holders in Note Purchase Agreement are untrue or incorrect in any respects at and as of the Closing Date; or

Table of Contents

(c) any injunction, restraining order or order of any nature by a Governmental Authority has been issued as of the Closing Date that would prevent or interfere with the issuance and sale of the Notes; or any stop order suspending the qualification or exemption from qualification of any of the Notes in any jurisdiction has been issued or a proceeding for that purpose has been commenced or be pending or threatened as of the Closing Date.

Fees and Expenses

All fees and expenses incident to the performance of or compliance with the Registration Rights Agreement by the Issuers (other than any underwriting discounts or commissions) shall be borne by the Issuers, whether or not the Exchange Offer Registration Statement or any Shelf Registration is filed or becomes effective or the Exchange Offer is consummated, including, without limitation:

(a) all registration and filing fees (including, without limitation, fees and expenses of compliance with state securities or Blue Sky laws, including, without limitation, fees and disbursements of counsel in connection with Blue Sky qualifications of the Notes and determination of the eligibility of the Notes for investment under the laws of such jurisdictions where the holders of Notes are located, in the case of an Exchange Offer, or as provided in the Registration Rights Agreement, in the case of a Shelf Registration);

(b) printing expenses, including, without limitation, expenses of printing certificates for Notes or Exchange Notes and of printing prospectuses if the printing of prospectuses is requested by the managing underwriter or underwriters, if any, or by the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Notes included in any Registration Statement;

(c) messenger, telephone and delivery expenses;

(d) fees and disbursements of counsel for the Issuers and, in the case of a Shelf Registration, reasonable fees and disbursements of one special counsel for all of the sellers of the Notes, and disbursements of all independent certified public accountants (including, without limitation, the expenses of any special audit and “cold comfort” letters required by or incident to such performance);

(e) Securities Act liability insurance, if the Company desires such insurance, (vii) fees and expenses of all other Persons retained by any of the Issuers;

(f) internal expenses of the Issuers (including, without limitation, all salaries and expenses of officers and employees of the Issuers performing legal or accounting duties);

(g) the expense of any annual audit;

(h) the fees and expenses incurred in connection with the listing of the securities to be registered on any securities exchange, and the obtaining of a rating of the securities, in each case, if applicable; and

(i) the expenses relating to printing, word processing and distributing all Registration Statements, underwriting agreements, indentures and any other documents necessary in order to comply with this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary, each holder shall pay all underwriting discounts and commissions of any underwriters with respect to any Notes sold by or on behalf of it.

Consequences of Failure to Exchange Outstanding Notes

If a holder does not exchange outstanding notes for exchange notes in response to the exchange offer, the outstanding notes will continue to be subject to the restrictions on transfer described in the legend on the certificate evidencing the outstanding notes, and will not have the benefit of any agreement by us to register outstanding notes under the Securities Act. In general, notes may not be offered or sold, unless the sale is registered under the Securities Act, or unless the offer and sale are exempt from, or not subject to, the Securities Act or any applicable state securities laws.

Guaranteed Delivery Procedures

Eligible holders of outstanding notes who wish to tender their outstanding notes and (i) whose outstanding notes are not immediately available or (ii) who cannot deliver their outstanding notes or any other documents required by the letter of transmittal to the exchange agent prior to the expiration date, may tender their outstanding notes according to the guaranteed delivery procedures described in the letter of transmittal. Acceptance of the Outstanding Notes and Upon satisfaction or waiver of all Delivery of the Exchange Notes conditions to the exchange offer, we will accept any and all outstanding notes that are properly tendered in response to the exchange offer prior to 5:00 p.m., New York time, on the expiration date.

Participation in the exchange offer is voluntary and holders should carefully consider whether to accept the exchange offer and tender their outstanding notes. Holders of outstanding notes are urged to consult their financial and tax advisors in making their own decisions on what action to take.

Accounting Treatment

The exchange notes will be recorded in our accounting records at the same carrying value as the outstanding notes on the date of the exchange. Accordingly, we will not recognize any gain or loss for accounting purposes as a result of the exchange offer. We will amortize the expenses of the exchange offer over the term of the exchange notes.

Exchange Agent

Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. has been appointed as exchange agent for the exchange offer. All correspondence in connection with the exchange offer and the letter of transmittal should be addressed to the exchange agent, as follows:

By Facsimile: (Eligible Institutions Only)	By Registered or Certified Mail; Overnight Courier or Hand Delivery:
Wells Fargo Bank Minnesota, NA (612) 667-4927 Confirm by telephone: (800) 344-5128	Wells Fargo Bank Minnesota, NA 608 Second Avenue South Corporate Trust Operations, 12th Floor Minneapolis, MN 55402

Requests for additional copies of this prospectus or the letter of transmittal or accompanying documents should be directed to the exchange agent. Delivery of the letter of transmittal or accompanying documents to a different address or transmission instructions to a different facsimile does not constitute a valid delivery of such letter of transmittal or other documents.

UNITED STATES FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

The following discussion addresses material United States federal income tax considerations applicable to the holder that exchanges outstanding notes for exchange notes. This discussion is based on the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), the applicable treasury regulations promulgated or proposed under the Code, judicial authority and current administrative rulings and practice. All of these authorities may change without notice, possibly on a retroactive basis. This summary deals only with holders that have held the outstanding notes and will hold the exchange notes as capital assets within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code. It does not address tax considerations applicable to investors that may be subject to special tax rules, such as banks and other financial institutions; tax-exempt organizations; insurance companies; partnerships, expatriates, traders or dealers in securities or currencies; custodians, nominees or similar financial intermediaries holding outstanding or exchange notes for others; or persons that have held outstanding or will hold exchange notes as a position in a hedging transaction, straddle or conversion transaction for tax purposes or persons subject to the alternative minimum tax. This summary does not discuss the tax consequences of any conversion of currency into or out of the United States dollar as such a conversion relates to the purchase, ownership or disposition of the exchange notes.

AMERCO HAS NEITHER RECEIVED AN OPINION FROM TAX COUNSEL NOR ANY RULING FROM THE INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE (IRS) WITH RESPECT TO THE STATEMENTS MADE AND THE CONCLUSIONS REACHED IN THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY. THERE CAN BE NO ASSURANCE THAT THE IRS WILL AGREE WITH SUCH STATEMENTS AND CONCLUSIONS.

HOLDERS OF THE OUTSTANDING NOTES SHOULD CONSULT THEIR OWN TAX ADVISORS WITH RESPECT TO THE APPLICATION OF THE UNITED STATES FEDERAL INCOME TAX LAWS TO THEIR PARTICULAR SITUATIONS AS WELL AS ANY TAX CONSEQUENCES ARISING UNDER THE LAWS OF ANY STATE, LOCAL OR FOREIGN TAXING JURISDICTION OR UNDER ANY APPLICABLE TAX TREATY AS TO HOW THEIR PARTICULAR TAX SITUATION MIGHT BE AFFECTED BY THE EXCHANGE OF THE OUTSTANDING NOTES FOR THE EXCHANGE NOTES AND THE HOLDING AND DISPOSITION OF THEIR EXCHANGE NOTES.

United States Holders

For purposes of this discussion, a United States holder is the beneficial owner of an exchange note that, for United States federal income tax purposes, is:

- an individual citizen or resident of the United States;
- a corporation or other entity taxable as a corporation created or organized under the laws of the United States or any state thereof or the District of Columbia;
- an estate, the income of which is subject to United States federal income taxation regardless of its source; or
- a trust, if (i) one or more United States persons (as defined in Section 7701(a)(30) of the Code) have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust and a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust or (ii) it has a valid election in effect to be treated as a United States Person.

A non-United States holder is a beneficial owner of an exchange note who is a nonresident alien or a corporation, trust or estate that is not a United States holder. If a partnership holds notes, the tax treatment of a partner will generally depend on the status of the partner and on the activities of the partnership. Partners of partnerships holding outstanding notes should consult their tax advisors.

Exchange of Notes

The exchange of outstanding notes for exchange notes pursuant to the exchange offer will not constitute a material modification of the debt instruments represented by the outstanding notes for United States federal income tax purposes and thus will not constitute an exchange or a taxable event for United States holders. Consequently, United States holders will treat the exchange notes as a continuation of the indebtedness represented by the outstanding notes and United States holders will not recognize gain or loss upon the receipt of exchange notes in exchange for outstanding notes in the exchange offer, United States holders' bases in the exchange notes received in the exchange offer will be the same as their bases in the corresponding outstanding notes immediately before the exchange, and United States holders' holding period in the exchange notes will include their holding period in the outstanding notes.

Payment of Interest

Stated interest on an exchange note generally will be includible in the income of a United States holder as ordinary income at the time such interest is received or accrued, in accordance with the holder's method of accounting for United States federal income tax purposes.

Market Discount

United States holders should be aware that the resale of an exchange note may be affected by the market discount rules of the Code. Under these rules, a subsequent purchaser of an exchange note acquiring the note at a market discount generally would be required to include as ordinary income a portion of the gain realized upon the disposition or retirement of the note to the extent of the market discount that has accrued while the debt instrument was held by the purchaser. A purchaser at a market discount includes the purchase of an exchange note after its original issuance at a price less than the note's stated redemption price at maturity. The amount of market discount, if any, will generally equal the excess of:

- the sum of the issue price of the note and the aggregate amount of the original issue discount includible in the gross income of all United States holders, over
- the purchase price.

Gain recognized on the disposition, including a redemption, by a United States holder of an exchange note that has accrued market discount will be treated as ordinary income, and not capital gain, to the extent of the accrued market discount, but only if the amount of market discount exceeds a statutorily-defined de minimis amount. Under the de minimis exception, there is no market discount on a note if the excess of the stated redemption price at maturity of the note over the holder's tax basis in the note is less than 0.25% of the stated redemption price at maturity multiplied by the number of complete years after the acquisition date to the note's date of maturity. Unless the holder elects otherwise, as described below, the accrued market discount would be the amount calculated by multiplying the market discount by a fraction:

- the numerator of which is the number of days the obligation has been held by the holder; and
- the denominator of which is the number of days after the holder's acquisition of the obligation up to and including its maturity date.

A United States holder of an exchange note acquired at market discount will be deemed to have realized an amount equal to the fair market value of the note if the holder disposes of the note in specified transactions other than a sale, exchange or involuntary conversion, even though the transaction is otherwise non-taxable (for example, a gift). The United States holder will be required to recognize as ordinary income any accrued market discount to the extent of the deemed gain. A holder of an exchange note acquired at a market discount also may be required to defer the deduction of all or a portion of the interest on any indebtedness incurred or maintained to purchase or carry the note until it is disposed of in a taxable transaction.

A United States holder of an exchange note acquired at market discount may elect to include the market discount in income as it accrues. This election would apply to all market discount obligations acquired by the electing United States holder on or after the first day of the first taxable year to which the election applies. The election may be revoked only with the consent of the IRS. If a United States holder of a note elects to include market discount in income currently, the rules discussed above with respect to ordinary income recognition resulting from sales and certain other dispositions and to deferral of interest deductions would not apply.

Amortizable Bond Premium

An exchange note purchased for more than its principal amount generally will be considered to have been purchased at a premium. The bond premium is generally equal to the excess, if any, of the tax basis of the note over the amount payable at maturity of the note or, if a smaller premium would result, on an earlier call date of the note. A note holder may elect to amortize the bond premium on a constant yield basis, in which case amortizable bond premium is allocated to payments of interest and treated as an offset to interest income. A holder that elects to amortize premium must reduce the holder's tax basis in the note by the amount of the aggregate deductions, or interest offsets, allowable for the amortization of premium. If an election to amortize bond premium is not made, a note holder must include the full amount of each interest payment in income in accordance with the note holder's regular method of tax accounting, and the note holder will generally receive a tax benefit from the bond premium only upon computing the note holder's gain or loss upon the sale or other disposition or payment of the principal amount of the note.

Sale, Exchange, Redemption or Other Taxable Disposition of Notes

Upon the sale, exchange, redemption or other taxable disposition of an exchange note, a United States holder generally will recognize capital gain or loss equal to the difference between:

- the amount of cash proceeds and the fair market value of any property received on the sale, exchange, redemption or other taxable disposition, except to the extent such amount is attributable to accrued interest income, which is taxable as ordinary income (as described above under "Payment of Interest"); and
- such holder's adjusted tax basis in the exchange note.

A United States holder's adjusted tax basis in an exchange note generally will equal the cost of the exchange note to such holder, less any amortized bond premium and any principal payments received by such holder plus any market discount previously included in income. Such capital gain or loss will be long-term if the United States holder's holding period is more than 12 months and will be short-term if the holding period is 12 months or less. Long-term capital gains recognized by individuals are generally taxed at a maximum federal tax rate of 15%, and short-term capital gains are generally taxed at a maximum federal tax rate of 35%.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding

In general, information reporting requirements will apply to certain noncorporate United States holders with respect to payments of principal, premium and interest on an exchange note, and to payments of the proceeds of the sale of a note. The receipt of such payments may be subject to "backup withholding" at a 28% rate. Backup withholding generally applies only if the holder:

- fails to furnish his or her Social Security or other taxpayer identification number within a reasonable time after the request for it;
- furnishes an incorrect taxpayer identification number;
- is notified by the IRS that he or she has failed to report properly interest, dividends or original issue discount; or
- fails, under specified circumstances, to provide a certified statement, signed under penalties of perjury, that the taxpayer identification number provided is the correct number and that he or she is not subject to backup withholding.

Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules from a payment to a United States holder will be allowed as a credit against such holder's United States federal income tax and may entitle the holder to a refund, provided that the required information is furnished to the IRS.

Non-United States Holders

Exchange of Notes

The exchange of outstanding notes for exchange notes pursuant to the exchange offer will not constitute a material modification of the terms of the outstanding notes and thus will not constitute a taxable event for non-United States holders. Consequently, non-United States holders will not recognize gain upon the receipt of exchange notes in exchange for outstanding notes in the exchange offer, non-United States holders' bases in the exchange notes received in the exchange offer will be the same as their bases in the corresponding outstanding notes immediately before the exchange, and non-United States holders' holding period in the exchange notes will include their holding period in the outstanding notes.

Payment of Interest

Generally, interest income of a non-United States holder that is not effectively connected with a United States trade or business will be subject to a withholding tax at a 30% rate or any lower rate that may be prescribed by an income tax treaty between the United States and the holder's country of residence. However, interest paid on an exchange note to a non-United States holder which qualifies for the portfolio interest exemption will not be subject to United States federal income tax or withholding tax if such interest income is not effectively connected with a United States trade or business of the non-United States holder, and the non-United States holder:

- does not actually or constructively own 10% or more of the combined voting power of all classes of stock of AMERCO entitled to vote, and
- is not a controlled foreign corporation related to AMERCO, actually or constructively through stock ownership under section 864(d)(4) of the Code.

and either:

- provides to AMERCO or its agent an appropriate W-8 series Form or a suitable substitute form signed under penalties of perjury that includes its name and address and certifies as to the holder's non-United States status, and AMERCO does not have actual knowledge or reason to know that the holder is a United States person, or
- AMERCO does not have actual knowledge or reason to know that the holder is a United States person and AMERCO receives (i) a withholding certificate from an intermediary payee (such as a withholding foreign partnership, qualified intermediary or U.S. branch of a non-United States bank or of a non-United States insurance company), and such intermediary obtains appropriate certification with respect to the holder's non-United States status and, if required, provides a copy of such certification to AMERCO or (ii) if the payee is a securities clearing organization, bank or other financial institution that holds securities for its customers in the ordinary course, a statement signed under penalties of perjury that the institution has received a withholding certificate from the beneficial owner (or that it has received a similar statement from another financial institution), listing the name and address of the beneficial owner and attaching a copy of the beneficial owner's withholding certificate.

A non-United States holder which does not qualify for the "portfolio interest exemption" may nevertheless be entitled to an exemption from, or reduction on the rate of, the United States withholding tax on the interest and discount if such holder:

- resides in a jurisdiction which has a favorable income tax treaty with the United States,
- satisfies the conditions for the application of such treaty, and
- provides to AMERCO or its agent the appropriate Form W-8 or a suitable substitute form.

Except to the extent that an applicable treaty otherwise provides, a non-United States holder generally will be taxed in the same manner as a United States holder with respect to interest and discount if the interest and discount is effectively connected with a United States trade or business of the non-United States holder. Effectively connected interest and discount received by a corporate non-United States holder may also, under certain circumstances, be subject to an additional branch profits tax at a 30% rate or, if applicable, a lower treaty rate. Even though such effectively connected interest and discount is subject to income tax, and may be subject to the branch profits tax, it is not subject to withholding if the non-United States holder delivers an appropriate and properly executed W-8 series Form to AMERCO or its agent.

Sale, Exchange, Redemption or Other Taxable Dispositions of Notes

A non-United States holder of an exchange note will generally not be subject to United States withholding tax on any gain realized on the sale, exchange, redemption or other taxable dispositions of the exchange note, other than gain attributable to accrued interest or discount. Such gain also will generally not be subject to United States federal income tax unless:

- the gain is effectively connected with a United States trade or business of the non-United States holder (in which case such gain generally would be taxable in the same manner as effectively connected interest (as described above)), or
- in the case of a non-United States holder who is an individual, the holder is present in the United States for a period or periods aggregating at least 183 days (as such days are calculated in accordance with the Code) during the current taxable year of the disposition and certain other conditions are met (in which case such gain, net of certain U.S. source losses, may be subject to tax at a 30% rate).

The amount of gain realized upon the sale, exchange, or redemption of an exchange note may include amounts attributable to accrued interest and the discount. Gain attributable to accrued interest and discount will be taxable, if at all, as described above under “— Non-United States Holders — Payment of Interest.”

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding

In general, payments of principal or interest (including discount) made by AMERCO and other payors to a non-United States holder will not be subject to backup withholding and information reporting, provided that the non-United States holder certifies its non-United States holder status under penalties of perjury or otherwise establishes an exemption. In general, payment of the proceeds from the sale of exchange notes effected at a United States office of a broker is subject to both United States backup withholding and information reporting. However, a holder will not be subject to backup withholding and information reporting on such a sale provided that:

- the broker does not have actual knowledge or reason to know that the holder is a United States person and the holder has furnished to the broker:
 - an appropriate W-8 series Form or an acceptable substitute form upon which the holder certifies, under penalties of perjury, that the holder is a non-United States person, or
 - other documentation upon which it may rely to treat the payment as made to a non-United States person in accordance with U.S. Treasury regulations, or
- the holder otherwise establishes an exemption.

In general, payment of the proceeds from the sale of exchange notes effected at a foreign office of a broker will not be subject to information reporting or backup withholding. However, payments of the proceeds from the sale of exchange notes effected at a foreign office of a broker will be subject to information reporting, but not backup withholding, if the sale is effected at a foreign office of a broker that is:

- a United States person,
- a controlled foreign corporation for United States tax purposes,
- a foreign person 50% or more of whose gross income is effectively connected with the conduct of a United States trade or business for a specified three-year period, or

Table of Contents

- a foreign partnership, if at any time during its tax year:
 - one or more of its partners are United States persons, who in the aggregate hold more than 50% of the income or capital interest in the partnership, or
 - such foreign partnership is engaged in the conduct of a United States trade or business unless the broker does not have actual knowledge or reason to know that the holder is a United States person and the documentation requirements described above (relating to a sale of notes effected at a United States office of a broker) are met or the holder otherwise establishes an exemption.

Recently enacted Treasury regulations contain a number of other provisions affecting United States withholding taxes and reporting requirements including special rules for payments made to nonqualified intermediaries, flow-through entities and United States branches. Prospective investors should consult their tax advisors regarding the effect of these regulations.

United States Federal Estate Tax

Your estate will not be subject to United States federal estate tax on exchange notes of a series beneficially owned by you at the time of your death, provided that (1) you do not own 10% or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of our voting stock (within the meaning of the Code and the United States Treasury Regulations) and (2) interest on that exchange note would not have been, if received at the time of your death, effectively connected with the conduct by you of a trade or business in the United States.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

Each broker-dealer that receives exchange notes for its own account pursuant to the exchange offer must acknowledge that it will deliver a prospectus in connection with any resale of such exchange notes. The prospectus, as it may be amended or supplemented from time to time, may be used by a broker-dealer in connection with sales of exchange notes received in exchange for outstanding notes which were acquired as a result of market-making activities or other trading activities.

We will not receive any proceeds from any sale of exchange notes by broker-dealers. Exchange notes received by broker-dealers for their own account pursuant to the exchange offer may be sold from time to time in one or more transactions in the over-the-counter market, in negotiated transactions, through the writing of options on the exchange notes or a combination of those methods of resale, at prices which may or may not be based upon market prices prevailing at the time of the sale. Any such sale may be made directly to purchasers or to or through brokers or dealers who may receive compensation in the form of commissions or concessions from the selling broker-dealer and/or the purchasers of the exchange notes. Any broker-dealer that sells exchange notes that were received by it for its own account pursuant to the exchange offer and any broker or dealer that participates in a distribution of such exchange notes may be deemed to be an “underwriter” within the meaning of the Securities Act and any profit from sale of the exchange notes and any commissions or concessions received by any such persons may be deemed to be underwriting compensation. The letter of transmittal states that a broker-dealer will not, by delivering a prospectus, be deemed to admit that it is an “underwriter” within the meaning of the Securities Act.

We have agreed to pay all expenses incident to the exchange offer other than commissions or concessions of any brokers or dealers and will indemnify the holders of the outstanding notes and the exchange notes (including any broker-dealers) against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act.

LEGAL MATTERS

The validity of the exchange notes and the related guarantees has been passed upon for AMERCO by Snell & Wilmer L.L.P., Phoenix, Arizona.

EXPERTS

The consolidated financial statements of AMERCO and its subsidiaries as of March 31, 2003 and 2002, and for each of the years in the three-year period ended March 31, 2003, have been included herein and in the registration statement in reliance upon the report of BDO Seidman, LLP, independent accountants upon the authority of said firm as experts in accounting and auditing.

AVAILABLE INFORMATION

AMERCO and the Guarantors have filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission a registration statement on Form S-4 (together with all amendments and exhibits thereto, the “registration statement”) under the Securities Act for the registration of the exchange notes offered hereby. As permitted by the rules and regulations of the Commission, this prospectus does not contain all of the information set forth in the registration statement and the exhibits and schedules thereto. For further information with respect to AMERCO, the Guarantors and the exchange notes offered hereby, reference is made to the registration statement and to the exhibits and schedules filed therewith. Statements contained in this prospectus concerning the contents of any contract or other document are not necessarily complete. With respect to each such contract or other document filed with the Commission as an exhibit to the registration statement, reference is made to the exhibit for a more complete description of the matter involved.

We are subject to the informational requirements of the Exchange Act, and file reports, proxy statements and other information with the SEC. These reports, proxy statements and other information may be read and copied at the Public Reference Room maintained by the SEC at 450 Fifth Street, N.W., Washington, DC 20549. You may obtain information on the operation of the Public Reference Room by calling the SEC at 1-800-SEC-0330. The SEC also maintains an Internet site that contains reports, proxy and information statements and other information regarding registrants like us that file electronically with the SEC (at <http://www.sec.gov>). We also make available on our website (www.amerco.com), free of charge, our annual reports on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q and current reports on Form 8-K, as soon as practical after we file these reports with the SEC. AMERCO’s common stock is listed on the Nasdaq National Market (Symbol: UHAL).

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

The Board of Directors and Stockholders of AMERCO

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of AMERCO and its subsidiaries, SAC Holding Corporation and its subsidiaries, and SAC Holding Corporation II and its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Company") as of March 31, 2003 and 2002, and the related consolidated statements of operations, changes in stockholders' equity, comprehensive income/(loss), and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended March 31, 2003. We have also audited the schedules in the accompanying index. These consolidated financial statements and schedules are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements and schedules based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and schedules are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements and schedules. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements and schedules. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of AMERCO and its subsidiaries, SAC Holding Corporation and its subsidiaries, and SAC Holding Corporation II and its subsidiaries as of March 31, 2003 and 2002 and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended March 31, 2003, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Also, in our opinion, the schedules present fairly, in all material respects, the information set forth therein.

The accompanying consolidated financial statements and schedules have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates the continuity of the Company's operations and realization of its assets and payments of its liabilities in the ordinary course of business. As more fully described in Note 1 to the consolidated financial statements, on June 20, 2003, AMERCO, the parent corporation, filed a voluntary petition for reorganization under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. Amerco Real Estate Company filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 on August 13, 2003. The uncertainties inherent in the bankruptcy process raise substantial doubt about AMERCO's ability to continue as a going concern. AMERCO is currently operating its business as a debtor-in-possession under the jurisdiction of the bankruptcy court, and continuation of the Company as a going concern is contingent upon, among other things, the confirmation of a plan of reorganization, the Company's ability to comply with all debt covenants under the existing debtor-in-possession financing arrangement, and obtaining financing sources to meet its future obligations. If a reorganization plan is not approved, it is possible some assets of the Company may be liquidated. Management's plans in regards to these matters are also described in Note 1. The consolidated financial statements and schedules do not include any adjustments to reflect future effects on the recoverability and classification of assets or the amount and classification of liabilities that might result from the outcome of these uncertainties.

As discussed in Note 2 to the accompanying consolidated financial statements, the Company has restated the consolidated balance sheet as of March 31, 2002, and the related consolidated statements of operations, changes in stockholders' equity, comprehensive income/(loss), and cash flows for the years ended March 31, 2002 and 2001.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the consolidated financial statements and schedules taken as a whole. The consolidating balance sheets, statements of operations schedules, statements of cash flows schedules, and the summary of earnings of independent trailer fleets information included on pages F-63 through F-65 are presented for purposes of additional analysis of the consolidated financial statements rather than to present the financial position, results of operations, and cash flows of the individual companies or the earnings of the independent fleets. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the financial position, results of operations, and cash flows of the individual companies, or on the earnings of the independent trailer fleets. However, such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the consolidated financial statements and schedules and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the consolidated financial statements and schedules taken as a whole.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization

AMERCO, a Nevada corporation (“AMERCO”), is the holding company for U-Haul International, Inc. (“U-Haul”), which conducts moving and storage operations; Amerco Real Estate Company (“AREC”), which conducts real estate operations; Republic Western Insurance Company (“RepWest”), which conducts property and casualty insurance operations; and Oxford Life Insurance Company (“Oxford”), which conducts life insurance operations. Unless the context otherwise requires, the term “Company” refers to AMERCO and all of its legal subsidiaries. All references to a fiscal year refer to AMERCO’s fiscal year ended March 31 of that year.

SAC Holding Corporation and SAC Holding II Corporation and their consolidated subsidiaries (collectively referred to as SAC Holdings) are majority owned by Mark V. Shoen. Mark V. Shoen is the beneficial owner of 16.3% of AMERCO’s common stock and is an executive officer of U-Haul.

Going Concern Basis

On June 20, 2003 (the “Petition Date”), AMERCO filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”) in the United States Bankruptcy Court, District of Nevada (the “Bankruptcy Court”) (Case No. 0352103). AMERCO will continue to manage its properties and operate its businesses as “debtor-in-possession” under the jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court and in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code. In general, as debtor-in-possession, AMERCO is authorized under Chapter 11 to continue to operate as an ongoing business, but may not engage in transactions outside the ordinary course of business without the prior approval of the Bankruptcy Court. Specific information pertaining to the bankruptcy filing may be obtained from the website www.amerco.com.

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates the continuity of the Company’s operations and realization of its assets and payments of its liabilities in the ordinary course of business. The uncertainties inherent in the bankruptcy process raise substantial doubt about AMERCO’s ability to continue as a going concern. AMERCO is currently operating its business as a debtor-in-possession under the jurisdiction of the bankruptcy court, and continuation of the Company as a going concern is contingent upon, among other things, the confirmation of a plan of reorganization, the Company’s ability to comply with all debt covenants under the existing debtor-in-possession financing arrangement, and obtaining financing sources to meet its future obligations. If a reorganization plan is not approved, it is possible some assets of the Company may be liquidated. The consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments to reflect future effects on the recoverability and classification of assets or the amount and classification of liabilities that might result from the outcome of these uncertainties.

The Chapter 11 filing was undertaken to facilitate a restructuring of AMERCO’s debt in response to liquidity issues which developed during the second half of 2002. In February 2002, the Company’s prior independent auditor advised the Company that its financial statements would have to be consolidated for reporting purposes with those of SAC Holdings. This consolidation, and the resulting lack of clarity regarding AMERCO’s operating results and financial condition, contributed substantially and directly to a series of significant developments adversely impacting the Company’s access to capital. The consolidation of SAC Holdings resulted in a material decrease in the Company’s reported net earnings and net worth and a corresponding increase in its consolidated leverage ratios. Consolidating SAC Holdings also required a costly and time-consuming restatement of prior period results that led to the untimely filing of quarterly and annual reports with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

As the situation was occurring, AMERCO was attempting to negotiate the replacement of its $400 million credit facility with JP Morgan Chase. On June 28, 2002, AMERCO entered into a new credit facility with JP Morgan Chase, which reduced AMERCO's line of credit to $205 million. The terms of the new JP Morgan Chase facility required that AMERCO raise $150 million through a capital markets transaction prior to October 15, 2002.

Additionally AMERCO had payments for principal and related swap arrangements under AMERCO's Series 1997-C Bond Backed Asset Trust ("BBAT") maturing October 15, 2002. In response to these requirements, AMERCO undertook a $275 million bond offering. The bond offering was ultimately unsuccessful, exemplifying AMERCO's significantly reduced access to the capital markets to meet its financial needs due to, among other things, the confusion and adverse perception resulting from the SAC Holdings consolidation. On October 15, 2002, AMERCO defaulted on the repayment of the BBATs, which led to cross-defaults and an acceleration of substantially all of the other outstanding instruments in the Company's debt structure.

Since that time, AMERCO has continuously negotiated with its creditor groups to attempt to reach a consensual restructuring arrangement that would provide for the repayment of all creditors and the maintenance of AMERCO's existing equity. However, while substantial progress has been made in negotiations with certain key creditor constituencies, the complexity of AMERCO's capital structure and the diversity of interests of the creditor groups has made an equitable and consensual restructuring, outside of formal reorganization proceedings, exceedingly difficult. Accordingly, AMERCO filed its Chapter 11 proceeding to provide the structure and framework to finalize and implement a restructuring of all of its debt.

We have secured from Wells Fargo Foothill a $300 million debtor-in-possession financing facility (the "DIP Facility"), and a commitment for a $650 million bankruptcy emergence facility. These financing arrangements provide the basic foundation upon which AMERCO plans to build its reorganization plan. On August 13, 2003, Amerco Real Estate Company ("Real Estate") was filed into Chapter 11 proceedings in order to facilitate granting security to the lending group in real estate assets. Real Estate administers all of the Company's real property and owns approximately 90 percent of the Company's real estate assets.

The exit or emergence financing facility will be used to fund cash payments to AMERCO's creditors, with the balance of the creditor claims being paid through the issuance of new, restructured debt securities at market interest rates. Notwithstanding AMERCO's default on the BBATs in October 2002, and the resulting cross-defaults under AMERCO's other debt facilities, until the Petition Date AMERCO has remained current in interest payments on all of its debt obligations, in many cases at default interest rates.

In order to exit Chapter 11 successfully, AMERCO will need to propose, and obtain confirmation by the Bankruptcy Court of, a plan of reorganization that satisfies the requirements of the Bankruptcy Code. A plan of reorganization would resolve, among other things, AMERCO's pre-petition obligations and set forth the revised capital structure. The timing of filing a plan of reorganization by AMERCO will depend on the timing and outcome of numerous other ongoing matters in the Chapter 11 case. Although AMERCO expects to file a "full-value" plan of reorganization that provides creditors with a combination of cash and new debt securities equal to the full amount of their allowed claims as well as AMERCO's emergence from bankruptcy as a going concern, there can be no assurance at this time that a plan of reorganization will be confirmed by the Bankruptcy Court or that any such plan will be implemented successfully.

Under Section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code, the filing of a bankruptcy petition automatically stays most actions against a debtor, including most actions to collect pre-petition indebtedness or to exercise control over the property of the debtor's estate. Absent an order of the Bankruptcy Court, substantially all pre-petition liabilities are subject to settlement under the plan of reorganization.

Under Section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code, AMERCO may assume, assume and assign, or reject certain executory contracts and unexpired leases, subject to the approval of the Bankruptcy Court and certain other conditions. In general, rejection of an unexpired lease or executory contract is treated as a pre-petition breach of the lease or contract in question. Subject to certain exceptions, this rejection relieves AMERCO of performing its future obligations under that lease or contract but entitles the lessor or contract counterparty to a pre-petition general unsecured claim for damages caused by the deemed breach.

Counterparties to these rejected contracts or leases may file proofs of claim against AMERCO's estate for such damages. Generally, the assumption of an executory contract or unexpired lease requires a debtor to cure most existing defaults under such executory contract or unexpired lease.

The United States Trustee for the District of Nevada (the "U.S. Trustee") has appointed an official committee of unsecured creditors (the "Creditors' Committee") and an Equity Committee. The Creditors' Committee and Equity Committee and their respective legal representatives have a right to be heard on certain matters that come before the Bankruptcy Court. There can be no assurance that the Creditors' Committee and Equity Committee will support AMERCO's positions or AMERCO's ultimate plan of reorganization, once proposed, and disagreements between AMERCO and the Creditors' Committee and Equity Committee could protract the Chapter 11 case, could negatively impact AMERCO's ability to operate during the Chapter 11 case, and could prevent AMERCO's emergence from Chapter 11. At this time, it is not possible to predict accurately the effect of the Chapter 11 reorganization process on the Company's business or when AMERCO may emerge from Chapter 11. The Company's future results depend on the timely and successful confirmation and implementation of a plan of reorganization. The rights and claims of various creditors and security holders will be determined by the plan as well. Although AMERCO expects to file and consummate a "full value" plan of reorganization that provides creditors with a combination of cash and new debt securities equal to the full amount of their allowed claims and also preserves the value of AMERCO's common and preferred stock, no assurance can be given as to what values, if any, will be ascribed in the bankruptcy proceedings to each of these constituencies. Accordingly, the Company urges that appropriate caution be exercised with respect to existing and future investments in any of such securities and claims.

Reclassifications

Certain reclassifications have been made to the 2002 and 2001 financial statements to conform to the 2003 presentation.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of AMERCO and its wholly-owned subsidiaries and SAC Holdings and their subsidiaries. All material intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. Except for minority investments made by RepWest and Oxford in a SAC Holdings-controlled limited partnership, which holds Canadian self-storage properties, the Company has not had any equity ownership interest in SAC Holdings.

RepWest, which consists of Republic Western Insurance Company and its wholly-owned subsidiary North American Fire & Casualty Insurance Company ("NAFCIC"), and Oxford, which consists of Oxford Life Insurance company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries North American Insurance Company ("NAI") and Christian Fidelity Life Insurance Company ("CFLIC"), have been consolidated on the basis of calendar years ended December 31. Accordingly, all references to the years 2002, 2001 and 2000 correspond to AMERCO's fiscal years 2003, 2002, and 2001, respectively.

The operating results and financial position of AMERCO's consolidated insurance operations are determined as of December 31 of each year. There were no effects related to intervening events between January 1 and March 31 of 2003, 2002, or 2001 that would materially affect the consolidated financial position or results of operations for the financial statements presented herein.

See Note 22 for additional information regarding the insurance subsidiaries and for financial information regarding the industry segments.

Description of Operating Segment

U-Haul moving and self-storage operations consist of the rental of trucks and trailers, sales of moving supplies, sales of trailer hitches, sales of propane, and the rental of self-storage spaces to the do-it-yourself mover. Operations are conducted under the registered tradename U-Haul® throughout the United States and Canada.

SAC moving and self-storage operations consist of the rental of self-storage spaces, sales of moving supplies, sales of trailer hitches, and sales of propane. In addition, SAC functions as an independent dealer and earns commissions from the rental of U-Haul trucks and trailers. Operations are conducted under the registered tradename U-Haul® throughout the United States and Canada.

Real Estate owns approximately 90% of the Company's real estate assets, including U-Haul Center and Storage locations. The remainder of the real estate assets are owned by various U-Haul entities. Real Estate is responsible for overseeing property acquisitions, dispositions and managing environmental risks of the properties.

RepWest originates and reinsures property and casualty insurance products for various market participants, including independent third parties, U-Haul's customers, and the Company.

Oxford originates and reinsures annuities, credit life and disability, life insurance, and supplemental health products. Oxford also administers the self-insured employee health and dental plans for the Company.

Foreign Currency

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of U-Haul Co. (Canada) Ltd., a subsidiary of U-Haul. The assets and liabilities, denominated in foreign currency, are translated into U.S. dollars at the exchange rate as of the balance sheet date. Revenue and expense amounts are translated at average monthly exchange rates. The related translation gains or losses are included in the Consolidated Statements of Changes in Stockholders' Equity and Consolidated Statements of Comprehensive Income/(Loss).

Accounting Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company and SAC Holdings consider liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

AND CONSOLIDATED SUBSIDIARIES

Revenue Recognition Policies

Rental revenue is recognized over the period trucks and equipment are rented. Sales are recognized at the time title passes and the customer accepts delivery. Premium revenues are recognized over the policy periods. Interest and investment income are recognized as earned.

Receivables

Accounts receivable include trade accounts from customers and dealers. RepWest and Oxford receivables include premiums and agents' balances due, net of commissions payable and amounts recoverable from reinsurers on ceded business. Accounts receivable are reduced by amounts considered by management to be uncollectible based on historical collection loss experience and a review of the current status of existing receivables.

Notes and mortgage receivables include accrued interest and are reduced by discounts and amounts considered by management to be uncollectible.

Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost or market. Cost is primarily determined using the LIFO (last-in, first-out) method.

Investments

Fixed maturities consist of bonds and redeemable preferred stocks. Fair values for investments are based on quoted market prices, dealer quotes or discounted cash flows. Fixed maturities are classified as follows:

- Held-to-maturity — recorded at cost adjusted for the amortization of premiums or accretion of discounts.
- Available-for-sale — recorded at fair value with unrealized gains or losses reported on a net basis in Other Comprehensive Income unless such changes are deemed to be other than temporary. Gains and losses on the sale of these securities are reported as a component of revenues using the specific identification method.

Mortgage loans & notes on real estate — at unpaid balances, net of allowance for possible losses and any unamortized premium or discount.

Real estate — at cost less accumulated depreciation.

Policy loans — at their unpaid balance.

Short-term investments consist of other securities scheduled to mature within one year of their acquisition date and are carried at cost. See Note 5 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

Investment income is recognized as follows:

- Interest on bonds and mortgage loans & notes — recognized when earned.
- Dividends on common and redeemable preferred stocks — recognized on ex-dividend dates.
- Realized gains and losses on the sale of investments — recognized at the trade date and included in revenues using the specific identification method.

Deferred Policy Acquisition Costs

Commissions and other costs, which vary with and are primarily related to the production of new insurance business have been deferred.

For Oxford, costs are amortized in relation to revenue such that costs are realized as a constant percentage of revenue.

For RepWest, costs are amortized over the related contract periods which generally do not exceed one year.

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are carried at cost and are depreciated on the straight-line and accelerated methods over the estimated useful lives of the assets. Building and non-rental equipment have estimated lives ranging from three to fifty-five years, while rental equipment have estimated lives ranging from two to twenty years. Maintenance is charged to operating expenses as incurred, while renewals and betterments are capitalized. Major overhaul costs are amortized over the estimated period benefited. Gains and losses on dispositions are netted against depreciation expense when realized. Interest costs incurred as part of the initial construction of assets are capitalized. Interest of $732 thousand, $2.0 million and $2.5 million was capitalized during fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

During fiscal year 2002, based on an in-depth market analysis, U-Haul decreased the estimated salvage value and increased the useful lives of certain rental trucks. The effect of the change reduced net losses for fiscal year 2002 by $3.1 million ($0.15 per share) net of taxes. The in-house analysis of sales of trucks was completed for the fiscal years ending March 31, 1996 through March 31, 2001. The study compared the truck model, size, age and average salvage value of units sold for each fiscal year indicated. The analysis revealed that average residual values (as computed) when compared to sales prices were not reflective of the values that the Company was receiving upon disposition. Based on the analysis, the estimated salvage values were decreased to approximately 25% of historic cost. In addition, this analysis revealed that our estimates of useful lives were not reflective of the economic lives of our trucks, which ultimately were being utilized by the Company for longer periods of time. Thus the useful lives for certain of our trucks were increased by approximately 3 years. The adjustment reflects management's best estimate, based on information available, of the estimated salvage value and useful lives of these rental trucks.

The Company reviews property, plant and equipment for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be fully recoverable through expected undiscounted future operating cash flows.

The carrying value of the Company's real estate that is no longer necessary for use in its current operations, and available for sale/lease, at March 31, 2003 and 2002, was approximately $13.0 million and $18.4 million respectively. Such properties available for sale are carried at cost, less accumulated depreciation, which is less than fair market value and is included in investments, other.

Environmental Costs

Liabilities for future remediation costs are recorded when environmental assessments and remedial efforts, if applicable, are probable and the costs can be reasonably estimated. The liability is based on the Company's best estimate of undiscounted future costs. Certain environmental costs related to the removal of underground storage tanks or related contamination are capitalized and depreciated over the estimated useful lives of the related properties. The capitalized costs improve the safety or efficiency of the property as compared to when the property was originally acquired or are incurred in preparing the property for sale.

Financial Instruments

Historically AMERCO has entered into interest rate swap agreements to reduce its floating interest rate exposure and does not use the agreements for trading purposes. Although AMERCO is exposed to credit loss for the interest rate differential in the event the counterparties to the agreements do not perform, it does not anticipate nonperformance by the counterparties.

For the years ended March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001, AMERCO recognized $0 thousand, $16 thousand and $16 thousand as interest income, respectively, representing the ineffectiveness of the cash flow hedging activity.

The Company has mortgage receivables, which potentially expose the Company to credit risk. The portfolio of notes is principally collateralized by mini-warehouse storage facilities and other residential and commercial properties. The Company has not experienced losses related to the notes from individual notes or groups of notes in any particular industry or geographic area. The estimated fair values were determined using the discounted cash flow method, using interest rates currently offered for similar loans to borrowers with similar credit ratings.

Fair Value Summary of Note and Mortgage Receivables

Note and mortgage receivables are carried at $14.1 million and $14.6 million in 2003 and 2002, fair value of these receivables approximates carrying value.

Other financial instruments that are subject to fair value disclosure requirements are carried in the financial statements at amounts that approximate fair value, unless elsewhere disclosed. See below, as well as Notes 5 and 6 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

The Company's financial instruments that are exposed to concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of temporary cash investments, trade receivables and notes receivable. The Company places its temporary cash investments with financial institutions and limits the amount of credit exposure to any one financial institution. Concentrations of credit risk with respect to trade receivables and reinsurance recoverable are limited due to the large number of customers and reinsurers and their dispersion across many different industries and geographic areas.

Policy Benefits and Losses, Claims and Loss Expenses Payable

Liabilities for policy benefits payable on traditional life and certain annuity policies are established in amounts adequate to meet estimated future obligations on policies in force. These liabilities are computed using mortality and withdrawal assumptions, which are based upon recognized actuarial tables and contain margins for adverse deviation. At December 31, 2002, interest assumptions used to compute policy benefits payable range from 2.5% to 9.25%.

The liability for annuity contracts, which are accounted for as investment contract deposits, consists of contract account balances that accrue to the benefit of the policyholders, excluding surrender charges. Carrying value of investment contract deposits were $640.0 million and $572.8 million at December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

AMERCO AND CONSOLIDATED SUBSIDIARIES AND SAC HOLDING CORPORATION, SAC HOLDING II CORPORATION

Liabilities for health and disability and other policy claims and benefits payable represent estimates of payments to be made on insurance claims for reported losses and estimates of losses incurred but not yet reported. These estimates are based on past claims experience and consider current claim trends.

RepWest's liability for reported and unreported losses is based on RepWest's historical experience and industry averages. The liability for unpaid loss adjustment expenses is based on historical ratios of loss adjustment expenses paid to losses paid. Amounts recoverable from reinsurers on unpaid losses are estimated in a manner consistent with the claim liability associated with the reinsured policy. Adjustments to the liability for unpaid losses and loss expenses as well as amounts recoverable from reinsurers on unpaid losses are charged or credited to expense in periods in which they are made.

Income Taxes

AMERCO files a consolidated federal income tax return with its subsidiaries, except for NAI and CFLIC, which file on a stand alone basis. SAC Holdings files a consolidated return with its subsidiaries. SAC Holdings II files a consolidated return with its subsidiaries. For tax purposes AMERCO and SAC returns are not consolidated with one another. The provision for income taxes reflects deferred income taxes resulting from changes in temporary differences between the tax basis of assets and liabilities and their reported amounts in the financial statements in accordance with SFAS No. 109.

Advertising Costs

The Company expenses advertising costs as incurred. Advertising expense of $39.9 million, $37.8 million and $37.9 million was charged to operations for fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

New Accounting Standards

In June 2001, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 143, Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations, requires recognition of the fair value of liabilities associated with the retirement of long-lived assets when a legal obligation to incur such costs arises as a result of the acquisition, construction, development and/or the normal operation of a long-lived asset. Upon recognition of the liability, a corresponding amount is added to the cost of the related asset and depreciated over its remaining life. SFAS 143 defines a legal obligation as one that a party is required to settle as a result of an existing or enacted law, statute, ordinance, or written or oral contract or by legal construction of a contract under the doctrine of promissory estoppel. SFAS 143 is effective for fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2002. We have adopted this statement effective April 1, 2003 and we do not expect it to have a material effect on the Company's financial position, results of operation or cash flows.

In October 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets. SFAS 144 requires that long-lived assets held for sale be measured at the lower of carrying amount or fair value less cost to sell, whether reported in continuing operations or in discontinued operations. Therefore, discontinued operations will no longer be measured at net realizable value or include amounts for operating losses that have not yet occurred. SFAS 144 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001 and, generally, is to be applied prospectively. We have adopted this statement effective April 1, 2002 and it did not affect our consolidated financial position or results of operations.

In April 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 145, Rescission of No. 4, (Reporting Gains and Losses from Extinguishment of Debt), No. 44 (Accounting for Intangible Assets of Motor Carriers), No. 64, (Extinguishments of Debt Made to Satisfy Sinking-Fund Requirements), Amendment of FASB Statement No. 13

(Accounting for Leases) and Technical Corrections. This statement eliminates the current requirement that gains and losses on debt extinguishment must be classified as extraordinary items in the income statement. Instead, such gains and losses will be classified as extraordinary items only if they are deemed to be unusual and infrequent, in accordance with the current GAAP criteria for extraordinary classification. In addition, SFAS 145 eliminates an inconsistency in lease accounting by requiring that modification of capital leases that result in reclassification as operating leases be accounted for consistent with sale-leaseback accounting rules. The statement also contains other nonsubstantive corrections to authoritative accounting literature. The changes related to debt extinguishment were effective for fiscal years beginning after May 15, 2002, and the changes related to lease accounting were effective for transactions occurring after May 15, 2002. We reclassified debt extinguishments expense net of taxes, previously reported as extraordinary, to interest expense. The effect was to increase interest expense by $3.3 million and the benefit for income taxes by $1.2 million for the fiscal year 2001.

In April 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 149, "Amendment of Statement 133 on Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities." This Statement amends and clarifies the accounting for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts and for hedging activities under SFAS No. 133. In particular, SFAS No. 149 (1) clarifies under what circumstances a contract with an initial net investment meets the characteristic of a derivative as discussed in SFAS No. 133, (2) clarifies when a derivative contains a financing component, (3) amends the definition of an underlying derivative to conform it to the language used in FASB Interpretation No. 45, Guarantor Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others, and (4) amends certain other existing pronouncements. SFAS No. 149 is generally effective for contracts entered into or modified after June 30, 2003. The Company does not believe the adoption of SFAS No. 149 will have a material impact on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

In May 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 150, "Accounting for Certain Financial Instruments with Characteristics of both Liabilities and Equity." This Statement establishes standards for classifying and measuring as liabilities certain financial instruments that embody obligations of the issuer and have characteristics of both liabilities and equity. SFAS No. 150 is effective at the beginning of the first interim period beginning after June 15, 2003. SFAS No. 150 currently has no impact on the Company.

In June 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 146, "Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities" (SFAS 146), which addresses accounting for restructuring and similar costs. SFAS No. 146 supersedes previous accounting guidance, principally Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue No. 94-3. SFAS No. 146 requires that the liability for costs associated with an exit or disposal activity be recognized when the liability is incurred. Under EITF No. 94-3, a liability for an exit cost was recognized at the date of a company's commitment to an exit plan. SFAS 146 also establishes that the liability should initially be measured and recorded at fair value. Accordingly, SFAS 146 may affect the timing of recognizing future restructuring costs as well as the amount recognized. The provisions of this Statement are effective for exit or disposal activities that are initiated after December 31, 2002. We have adopted this statement effective January 1, 2003, and it did not effect our consolidated financial position or results of operations.

In November 2002, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 45, Guarantor's Accounting for Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others, an interpretation of FASB Statements No. 5, 57, and 107 and rescission of FASB Interpretation No. 34, Disclosure of Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others ("FIN 45"). FIN 45 clarifies the requirements for a guarantor's accounting for and disclosure of certain guarantees issued and outstanding. It also requires a guarantor to recognize, at the inception of a guarantee, a liability for the fair value of the obligation undertaken in issuing the guarantee. This Interpretation also incorporates without reconsideration the guidance in FASB

Interpretation No. 34, which is being superseded. The Company entered into a support party agreement for $70 million of indebtedness of an affiliate. Under the terms of FIN 45, the Company recognized a liability in the amount of $70 million, which management estimated to be the fair value of the guarantee.

In December 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 148, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation — Transition and Disclosure", which amends SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation" ("SFAS 148"). SFAS 148 provides alternative methods of transition for a voluntary change to the fair value based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation. In addition, SFAS 148 amends the disclosure requirement of SFAS No. 123 to require more prominent and more frequent disclosures in financial statements of the effects of stock-based compensation. The transition guidance and annual disclosure provisions of SFAS 148 are effective for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2002. The interim disclosure provisions are effective for financial reports containing condensed financial statements for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2002. The Company does not have any stock based compensation plans and the adoption of SFAS 148 is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated balance sheet or results of operations.

In January 2003, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, an interpretation of Accounting Research Bulletins ("ARB") No. 51, Consolidated Financial Statements ("FIN 46"). FIN 46 applied immediately to variable interest entities created after January 31, 2003, and in the first interim period beginning after June 15, 2003 for variable interest entities created prior to January 31, 2003. However, the FASB delayed implementation, so that FIN 46 now will be applied in the quarter ended December 31, 2003 for variable interest entities that are special-purpose entities and in the quarter ended March 31, 2004 for other variable interest entities. The interpretation explains how to identify variable interest entities and how an enterprise assesses its interests in a variable interest entity to decide whether to consolidate that entity. The interpretation requires existing unconsolidated variable interest entities to be consolidated by their primary beneficiaries if the entities do not effectively disperse risks among parties involved. Variable interest entities that effectively disperse risks will not be consolidated unless a single party holds an interest or combination of interests that effectively recombines risks that were previously dispersed. AMERCO has determined that SAC Holdings qualifies as a Variable Interest Entity and will continue to be consolidated. AMERCO is assessing whether Private Mini Storage Realty, L.P., an entity in which AMERCO has a non-controlling interest (see Note 5), is a Variable Interest Entity.

Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per common share are computed based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding for the year and quarterly periods, excluding shares of the employee stock ownership plan that have not been committed to be released. Preferred dividends include undeclared (i.e. contractual) or unpaid dividends of AMERCO. Net income is reduced for preferred dividends for the purpose of the calculation. For the purpose of calculating earnings per share, the Company aggregates both the Series A Common and the Common Stock.

Comprehensive Income/(Loss)

Comprehensive income/(loss) consists of net income, foreign currency translation adjustment, unrealized gains and losses on investments and fair market value of cash flow hedges, net of the related tax effects.

2. Restatements and Reclassifications

The Company has identified various adjustments to its previously issued consolidated financial statements. The following table highlights the effects of the restatement adjustments on the previously reported 2002 net income, 2001 net income, and beginning retained earnings were adjusted by $50.2 million, $43.1 million, and $17.2 million, respectively, after tax as a result of the following restatement adjustments:

- (a) To accrue for fully-developed actuarial estimates of the Company's insurance reserves.
- (b) To recognize equity-method losses relating to the Company's investments in Private Mini Storage Realty, L.P.
- (c) To write-down unamortized capitalized G&A costs in inventory.
- (d) To adjust property tax under-accruals.
- (e) To correct net depreciation expense and gains and losses on the disposition of fixed assets.
- (f) To record changes in the cash surrender value of life insurance in the proper periods.
- (g) To record impairment of real estate in the proper period.
- (h) Other miscellaneous adjustments.
- (i) To record the income tax effects of the restatement adjustments.

Short-term investments consist primarily of fixed maturities of three months to one year from acquisition date. Mortgage loans, representing first lien mortgages held by the insurance subsidiaries, are carried at unpaid balances, less allowance for possible losses and any unamortized premium or discount. Equity investments and real estate obtained through foreclosures and held for sale are carried at the lower of cost or fair value. Policy loans are carried at their unpaid balance. Investment expenses include costs incurred in the management of the investment portfolio and interest credited on annuity policies.

At December 31, 2002 and 2001, mortgage loans held as investments with a carrying value of $67.5 million, and $85.5 million, respectively, were outstanding. The estimated fair value of the mortgage loans at December 31, 2002 and 2001 aggregated $68.0 million and $86.4 million, respectively. The estimated fair values were determined using the discounted cash flow method, using interest rates currently offered for similar loans to borrowers with similar credit ratings. Investments in mortgage loans, included as a component of investments, are reported net of allowance for possible losses of $527 thousand and $323 thousand in 2002 and 2001, respectively.

In February 1997, AMERCO, through its insurance subsidiaries, invested in the equity of Private Mini Storage Realty, L.P. (Private Mini), a Texas-based self-storage operator. RepWest invested $13.5 million and has a direct 30.6% interest and an indirect 13.2% interest. Oxford invested $11 million and has a direct 24.9% interest and an indirect 10.8% interest. U-Haul is a 50% owner of Storage Realty L.L.C., which serves as the general partner and has a direct 1% interest in Private Mini. AMERCO does not maintain operating control of Private Mini and the minority holders have substantial participation rights. During 1997, Private Mini secured a line of credit in the amount of $225.0 million with a financing institution, which was subsequently reduced in accordance with its terms to $125.0 million in December 2001. Under the terms of this credit facility, AMERCO entered into a support party agreement with Private Mini whereby upon default or noncompliance with debt covenants by Private Mini, AMERCO assumes responsibility in fulfilling all obligations related to this credit facility.

At March 31, 2003 AMERCO had become contingently liable for the $55.0 million under the terms of the support agreement. This resulted in increasing other liabilities by $55.0 million and our investment in a receivable from Private Mini by $55.0 million. Under the terms of FIN 45, the Company recognized a liability in the amount of $70.0 million, which is management's estimate on the liability associated with the guarantee. This resulted in increasing other liabilities by $70.0 million and our investment in Private Mini by $70.0 million.

On June 30, 2003, RepWest and Oxford exchanged their respective interests in Private Mini for certain real property owned by certain SAC Holding's entities. The exchanges were non-monetary and were recorded on the basis of the book values of the assets exchanged. For the year ended December 31, 2002 Private Mini had revenue of approximately $39.0 million and a net loss of $4.0 million.

6. Notes and Loans Payable

At March 31, 2003 the Company was in default under substantially all of its borrowings due to the cross default provisions in the agreements. As a result of this default, all amounts in the following charts are currently due and payable other than borrowings against the cash surrender values of life insurance policies.

Other notes payable are secured by land and buildings at various locations with a net carrying value of $6.0 million and $5.5 million at March 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

At March 31, 2003, AMERCO had a revolving credit loan (long-term) available from participating banks under an agreement, which provided for a credit line of $205 million through June 30, 2005. Depending on the form of borrowing elected, interest will be based on the London Interbank Offering Rate (LIBOR), prime rate, the federal funds effective rate, or rates determined by a competitive bid. LIBOR loans include a spread based upon the senior debt rates of AMERCO. Facility fees paid are based upon the amount of credit line. As of March 31, 2003, loans outstanding under the revolving credit line totaled $205 million.

At March 31, 2003, AMERCO had no short-term borrowings, from its total uncommitted lines of credit of $59.7 million.

AMERCO has entered into interest rate swap agreements to potentially mitigate the impact of changes in interest rates on its floating rate debt. These agreements effectively change AMERCO's interest rate exposure on $45.0 million of floating rate notes to a weighted average fixed rate of 8.63%. The SWAPS mature at the time the related notes mature. Incremental interest expense associated with SWAP activity was $1.5 million, $2.4 million and $1.0 million during 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

As of March 31, 2003, the Company no longer has interest rate swap agreements. All interest rate swap agreements at March 31, 2002 expired during the year ended March 31, 2003, except for two (2), which were converted to debt in the amount of $5.6 million.

During fiscal year 2002, AMERCO paid down $102.5 million of 7.44% to 7.52% Medium Term Notes.

During fiscal year 2001, AMERCO extinguished $100.0 million of BBATs with interest of 6.89% originally due in fiscal year 2011, and $25.0 million of 6.71% Medium-Term notes originally due in fiscal year 2009. This resulted in an extinguishment loss of $2.1 million, net of tax of $1.2 million ($0.10 per share).

Certain of AMERCO's credit agreements contain restrictive financial and other covenants, including, among others, covenants with respect to incurring additional indebtedness, maintaining certain financial ratios and placing certain additional liens on its properties and assets.

Interest paid in cash amounted to $76.6 million, $77.9 million and $92.6 million for fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

Secured notes payable are secured by deeds of trusts on the collateralized land and buildings. Principal and interest payments on notes payable to third-party lenders are due monthly. Certain notes payable contain provisions whereby the loans may not be prepaid at any time prior to the maturity date without payment to the lender of a Yield Maintenance Premium, as defined in the loan agreements. The loans on a portfolio of sixteen properties are cross-collateralized and cross-defaulted.

7. Stockholders' Equity

AMERCO has authorized capital stock consisting of 150,000,000 shares of common stock, 150,000,000 shares of Serial common stock and 50,000,000 shares of Serial preferred stock. The Board of Directors may authorize the Serial common stock to be issued in such series and on such terms as the Board shall determine. Serial preferred stock issuance may be with or without par value.

AMERCO has issued 6,100,000 shares of 8 1/2% cumulative, no par, non-voting Series A preferred stock ("Series A"). The Series A is not convertible into, or exchangeable for, shares of any other class or classes of stock of AMERCO. Dividends are payable quarterly in arrears and have priority as to dividends over AMERCO's common stock. On or after December 1, 2000, AMERCO, at its option, may redeem all or part of the Series A, for cash at $25.00 per share plus accrued and unpaid dividends to the redemption date. Due to the Chapter 11 filing, AMERCO does not expect to make any dividend payments on the Series A for the duration of such proceedings. As of March 31, 2003, AMERCO has accrued unpaid dividends of $6.5 million.

Prior to the restatements, AMERCO had a history of profitable operations and management has concluded that it is more likely than not that AMERCO will ultimately realize the full benefit of its deferred tax assets. Management has determined it has tax strategies which could be implemented sufficient to recover all of its deferred tax assets. Accordingly, AMERCO believes that a valuation allowance is not required at March 31, 2003 and 2002. See also Note 15 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

Under the provisions of the Tax Reform Act of 1984 (the Act), the balance in Oxford's account designated "Policyholders' Surplus Account" is frozen at its December 31, 1983 balance of $19.3 million. Federal income taxes (Phase III) will be payable thereon at applicable current rates if amounts in this account are distributed to the stockholder or to the extent the account exceeds a prescribed maximum. Oxford did not incur a Phase III liability for the years ended December 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001.

In connection with the resolution of litigation with certain members of the Shoen family and their corporations, AMERCO has deducted for income tax purposes approximately $372.0 million of the payments made to plaintiffs in a lawsuit. While AMERCO believes that such income tax deductions are appropriate, there can be no assurance that such deductions ultimately will be allowed in full. The IRS has proposed adjustments to the Company's 1997 and 1996 tax returns. Nearly all of the adjustments are attributable to denials of deductions claimed for such payments. We believe these income tax deductions are appropriate and are vigorously contesting the IRS adjustments. No additional taxes have been provided in the accompanying financial statements, as management believes that none will result.

At March 31, 2003 and March 31, 2002, AMERCO and RepWest have non-life net operating loss carryforwards available to offset federal taxable income in future years of $181.6 million and $181.4 million, respectively. These carryforwards expire in 2011 through 2020. At March 31, 2003 and March 31, 2002, AMERCO has alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards of $5.4 million and $5.3 million, respectively, which do not have an expiration date, and may only be utilized in years in which regular tax exceeds alternative minimum tax.

AMERCO AND CONSOLIDATED SUBSIDIARIES AND SAC HOLDING CORPORATION, SAC HOLDING II CORPORATION

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS — (Continued)

The SAC consolidated group consists of two separate affiliated groups for tax purposes. The SAC Holdings affiliated group has net operating losses of $61.6 million and $42.2 million in fiscal years ending March 31, 2003 and March 31, 2002 respectively, to offset federal taxable income in future years. The SAC Holding II group, which began to file tax returns in fiscal year ending March 31, 2003 has a net operating loss carryforward of $7.6 million to offset federal taxable income in future years. These carryforwards expire in 2013 through 2023.

During 1994, Oxford distributed its investment in RepWest common stock as a dividend to its parent at book value. As a result of such dividend, a deferred intercompany gain arose due to the difference between the book value and fair value of such common stock. However, such gain can only be triggered if certain events occur. If the DOI places RepWest under conservatorship, that event might be deemed to trigger the deferred gain. The current tax payable as result of that deferred gain could be as much as $18 million. However, the same hypothetical action by the DOI would most likely lead to an offsetting current tax loss to AMERCO resulting in future recovery of that same tax. To date, no events have occurred which would trigger such gain recognition. No deferred taxes have been provided in the accompanying consolidated financial statements as management believes that no events have occurred to trigger such gain.

Under certain circumstances and sections of the Internal Revenue Code a change in ownership for tax purposes will limit the amount of net operating loss carryforwards that can be used to offset future taxable income.

11. Transactions with Fleet Owners and Other Rental Equipment Owners

Independent rental equipment owners (fleet owners) own approximately 4% of all U-Haul rental trailers and 0.01% of certain other rental equipment. There are approximately 1,290 fleet owners, including certain officers, directors, employees and stockholders of AMERCO. Such AMERCO officers, directors, employees and stockholders owned approximately 0.07%, 0.09% and 0.10% of all U-Haul rental trailers during the fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. All rental equipment is operated under contract with U-Haul whereby U-Haul administers the operations and marketing of such equipment and in return receives a percentage of rental fees paid by customers. Based on the terms of various contracts, rental fees are distributed to U-Haul (for services as operators), to the fleet owners (including certain subsidiaries and related parties of U-Haul) and to Rental Dealers (including Company-operated U-Haul Centers).

See also note 19.

12. Employee Benefit Plans

AMERCO employees participate in the AMERCO Employee Savings, Profit Sharing and Employee Stock Ownership Plan (the "Plan") which is designed to provide all eligible employees with savings for their retirement and to acquire a proprietary interest in AMERCO.

The Plan has three separate features: a profit sharing feature under which the Employer may make contributions on behalf of participants; a savings feature which allows participants to defer income under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986; and an employee stock ownership feature under which AMERCO may make contributions of AMERCO common stock or cash to acquire such stock on behalf of participants. Generally, employees of AMERCO are eligible to participate in the Plan upon completion of a one year service requirement.

No contributions were made to the profit sharing plan in fiscal year 2003, 2002, or 2001.

AMERCO has arranged financing to fund the ESOP trust (ESOT) and to enable the ESOT to purchase shares. Below is a summary of the financing arrangements:

	Amount Outstanding as of March 31, 2003	Interest Payments
		2003	2002	2001
(In thousands)
May 1990	—	—	—	8
June 1991	14,398	978	1,210	1,113
March 1999	140	11	14	16
February 2000	885	62	74	—
April, 2001	144	5	—	—

Shares are released from collateral and allocated to active employees based on the proportion of debt service paid in the plan year. Contributions to the ESOT charged to expense were $2.2 million, $2.1 million and $2.2 million for fiscal years 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

The shares held by ESOP as of March 31 were as follows:

	March 31,
	2003	2002
(In thousands)
Allocated shares	1,639	1,674
Shares committed to be released	—	—
Unreleased shares	795	860
Fair value of unreleased shares	$3,212	14,973

For purposes of the schedule, fair value of unreleased shares issued prior to December 31, 1992 is defined as the historical cost of such shares. Fair value of unreleased shares issued subsequent to December 31, 1992 is defined as the March 31 trading value of such shares for 2002 and 2001.

Oxford insures various group life and group disability insurance plans covering employees of the consolidated group. Premiums earned were $2.7 million, $2.0 million and $1.4 million during the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000, respectively, and were eliminated in consolidation.

13. Postretirement and Postemployment Benefits

AMERCO provides medical and life insurance benefits to retired employees and eligible dependents over age 65 if the employee meets specified age and service requirements.

AMERCO uses the accrual method of accounting for postretirement benefits. AMERCO continues to fund medical and life insurance benefit costs as claims are incurred.

The components of net periodic postretirement benefit cost for 2003, 2002 and 2001 are as follows:

	Year Ended
	2003	2002	2001
	(In thousands)
Service cost for benefits earned during the period	$ 299	259	228
Interest cost on accumulated postretirement benefit	355	302	276
Other components	(279)	(315)	(340)
	$ 375	246	164

The 2003 and 2002 postretirement benefit liability included the following components:

	Year Ended
	2003	2002
	(In thousands)
Beginning of year	$4,982	4,097
Service cost	299	259
Interest cost	355	302
Benefit payments and expense	(122)	(81)
Actuarial (gain) loss	(536)	405
	4,978	4,982
Accumulated postretirement benefit obligation	4,978	4,982
Unrecognized net gain	4,364	4,107
	$9,342	9,089

The discount rate assumptions in computing the information above were as follows:

	2003	2002	2001
Accumulated postretirement benefit obligation	6.75%	7.25%	7.50%

The year-to-year fluctuations in the discount rate assumptions primarily reflect changes in U.S. interest rates. The discount rate represents the expected yield on a portfolio of high-grade (AA-AAA rated or equivalent) fixed-income investments with cash flow streams sufficient to satisfy benefit obligations under the plans when due.

The assumed health care cost trend rate used in measuring the accumulated postretirement benefit obligation was 5.6% in 2003, declining annually to an ultimate rate of 4.20% in 2016.

If the health care cost trend rate assumptions were increased by 1.00%, the accumulated postretirement benefit obligation as of March 31, 2003 would be increased by approximately $270 thousand and a decrease of 1.00% would reduce the accumulated postretirement benefit obligation by $294 thousand.

Post employment benefits, other than retirement, provided by AMERCO are not material.

14. Reinsurance

In the normal course of business, RepWest and Oxford assume and cede reinsurance on both a coinsurance and risk premium basis. RepWest and Oxford obtain reinsurance for that portion of risks exceeding retention limits. The maximum amount of life insurance retained on any one life is $150,000.

RepWest holds letters of credit of $7.6 million from reinsurers and has issued letters of credit of approximately $15.7 million in favor of certain ceding companies as of December 31, 2002.

RepWest is a reinsurer of municipal bond insurance through an agreement with MBIA, Inc. Premiums generated through this agreement are recognized on a pro rata basis over the contract coverage period. On December 1, 2002, MBIA, Inc. and RepWest entered into a termination agreement to terminate the agreement on a cut-off basis. In conjunction with the Termination Agreement, RepWest paid MBIA, Inc. $3.4 million in December of 2002 for reimbursement of unearned premiums.

The following is a summary of balances related to the agreement with MBIA, Inc as of December 31, 2001:

	(In thousands)
Unearned premiums	$4,300
Case loss reserves	$ 702
Aggregate exposure for Class I municipal bond insurance	$5,200

15. Contingent Liabilities and Commitments

The Company uses certain equipment and occupies certain facilities under operating lease commitments with terms expiring through 2079. Lease expense was $163.8 million, $170.0 million and $173.0 million for the years ended 2003, 2002 and 2001, respectively. During the year ended March 31, 2003, a subsidiary of U-Haul entered into two transactions, whereby AMERCO sold rental trucks, which were subsequently leased back. AMERCO has guaranteed $192.0 million of residual values at March 31, 2003, for these assets at the end of the respective lease terms. Certain leases contain renewal and fair market value purchase options as well as mileage and other restrictions similar to covenants disclosed in Note 6 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for notes payable and loan agreements.

Following are the lease commitments for leases having terms of more than one year:

Year Ended	March 31, 2003
	Property, Plant and Other Equipment	Rental Fleet	Total
	(In thousands)
2004	$120,334	117,514	237,848
2005	2,837	107,408	110,245
2006	2,692	84,891	87,583
2007	2,178	71,436	73,614
2008	1,379	25,690	27,069
Thereafter	5,699	10,107	15,806
	$135,119	417,046	552,165

The Company, at the expiration of the lease, has the option to renew the lease, purchase for fair market value, or sell to a third party on behalf of the lessor.

The Company maintains credit facilities and leasing agreements, collectively the Lease Facilities. Under these Lease Facilities, the lessor acquires land to be developed for storage locations with advances of funds (the Advances) made by certain parties to the facilities. AMERCO separately leases the land and improvements, including completed locations (the Properties) under the facilities and respective lease supplements.

In December of 1996, AMERCO executed a $100.0 million Lease Facility with a number of financial institutions, which was amended and restated in July 1999 to $170.0 million. The credit facility related to this Lease Facility terminated in July of 2001, however the leasing agreement under which AMERCO leases the Properties does not terminate until July of 2004. In September 1999, and April of 2001, AMERCO entered into additional Lease Facilities for available credit of $115.5 million and $49.0 million, respectively. Both the Credit Facility and the Leasing Agreement for the respective facilities expire in September 2004 and April 2004, respectively. There was no available credit under the Lease Facilities at March 31, 2003 and 2002.

As of March 31, 2003 the Company had obligations outstanding of $254.0 million under the Lease Facilities, of this, $117.0 million represents properties qualifying as operating leases.

The facilities contain certain restrictions similar to those contained in Note 6. Upon occurrence of any event of default, the lessor may rescind or terminate any or all leases and, among other things, require AMERCO to repurchase any or all of the properties. The facilities have a three-year term, with options for successive one-year renewal terms subject to consent of other parties.

Upon the expiration of the facilities, AMERCO may either purchase all of the properties based on a purchase price equal to all amounts outstanding under the Advances, including the interest and yield thereon, or remarket all of the properties to a third party purchaser.

In the normal course of business, AMERCO is a defendant in a number of suits and claims. AMERCO is also a party to several administrative proceedings arising from state and local provisions that regulate the removal and/or cleanup of underground fuel storage tanks. It is the opinion of management that none of such suits, claims or proceedings involving AMERCO, individually or in the aggregate, are expected to result in a material loss. Also see Note 16.

Compliance with environmental requirements of federal, state and local governments significantly affects Real Estate's business operations. Among other things, these requirements regulate the discharge of materials into the water, air and land and govern the use and disposal of hazardous substances. Real Estate is aware of issues regarding hazardous substances on some of its properties. Real Estate regularly makes capital and operating expenditures to stay in compliance with environmental laws and has put in place a remedial plan at each site where it believes such a plan is necessary. Since 1988, Real Estate has managed a testing and removal program for underground storage tanks. Under this program we have spent $43.7 million.

Based upon the information currently available to AREC, compliance with the environmental laws and its share of the costs of investigation and cleanup of known hazardous waste sites are not expected to have a material adverse effect on AMERCO's financial position or operating results.

16. Legal Proceedings

Pursuant to the $7.5 million settlement of a class action lawsuit relating to overtime compensation and brought on behalf of current and former Moving Center General Managers in California, Sarah Saunders, et al. vs. U-Haul Company of California, Inc., final payment was made on April 5, 2002.

On July 20, 2000, Charles Kocher ("Kocher") filed suit in Wetzel County, West Virginia, Civil Action No. 00-C-51-K, entitled Charles Kocher v. Oxford Life Insurance Co. ("Oxford") seeking compensatory and punitive damages for breach of contract, bad faith and unfair claims settlement practices arising from an alleged failure of Oxford to properly and timely pay a claim under a disability and dismemberment policy. On March 22, 2002, the jury returned a verdict of $5 million in compensatory damages and $34 million in punitive damages. On November 5, 2002, the trial court entered an Order (“Order”) affirming the $39 million jury verdict and denying Oxford’s motion for New Trial Or, in The Alternative, Remittitur. Oxford has perfected its appeal to the West Virginia Supreme Court. On January 27, 2004, the matter was argued before the West Virginia Supreme Court and taken under advisement. Management does not believe that the Order is sustainable and expects the Order to be overturned by the West Virginia Supreme Court, in part because the jury award has no reasonable nexus to the actual harm suffered by Kocher. The Company has accrued $725,000, which represents management’s best estimate of the costs associated with legal fees to appeal and re-try the case and the Company’s uninsured exposure to an unfavorable outcome.

As previously discussed, on June 20, 2003, AMERCO filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. As debtor-in-possession, AMERCO is authorized under Chapter 11 to continue to operate as an ongoing business, but may not engage in transactions outside the ordinary course of business without the prior approval of the Bankruptcy Court. As of the Petition Date, all pending litigation against AMERCO is stayed, and absent further order of the Bankruptcy Court, no party, subject to certain exceptions, may take any action, again subject to certain exceptions, to recover on pre-petition claims against AMERCO. The automatic stay, however, does not apply to AMERCO’s subsidiaries, other than Amerco Real Estate Company, which filed for protection under Chapter 11, on August 13, 2003.

On September 24, 2002, Paul F. Shoen filed a derivative action in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, Washoe County, captioned Paul F. Shoen vs. SAC Holding Corporation et al., CV02-05602, seeking damages and equitable relief on behalf of AMERCO from SAC Holdings and certain current and former members of the AMERCO Board of Directors, including Edward J. Shoen, Mark V. Shoen and James P. Shoen as defendants. AMERCO is named a nominal defendant for purposes of the derivative action. The complaint alleges breach of fiduciary duty, self-dealing, usurpation of corporate opportunities, wrongful interference with prospective economic advantage and unjust enrichment and seeks the unwinding of sales of self-storage properties by subsidiaries of AMERCO to SAC Holdings over the last several years. The complaint seeks a declaration that such transfers are void as well as unspecified damages. On October 28, 2002, AMERCO, the Shoen directors, the non-Shoen directors and SAC Holdings filed Motions to Dismiss the complaint. In addition, on October 28, 2002, Ron Belec filed a derivative action in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, Washoe County, captioned Ron Belec vs. William E. Carty, et al., CV 02-06331 and on January 16, 2003, M.S. Management Company, Inc. filed a derivative action in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, Washoe County, captioned M.S. Management Company, Inc. vs. William E. Carty, et al., CV 03-00386. Two additional derivative suits were also filed against these parties. These additional suits are substantially similar to the Paul F. Shoen derivative action. The five suits assert virtually identical claims. In fact, three of the five plaintiffs are parties who are working closely together and chose to file the same claims multiple times. The court consolidated all five complaints before dismissing them on May 8, 2003. Plaintiffs have filed a notice of appeal. These lawsuits falsely alleged that the AMERCO Board lacked independence. In reaching its decision to dismiss these claims, the court determined that the AMERCO Board of Directors had the requisite level of independence required in order to have these claims resolved by the Board.

A subsidiary of U-Haul, INW Company (“INW”), owns one property located within two different state hazardous substance sites in the State of Washington. The sites are referred to as the “Yakima Valley Spray Site” and the “Yakima Railroad Area.” INW has been named as a “potentially liable party” under state law with respect to this property as it relates to both sites. As a result of the cleanup costs of approximately $5.0 million required by the State of Washington, INW filed for reorganization under the federal bankruptcy laws in May of 2001. A successful mediation with other liable parties has occurred and future liability to INW will be in the range of $750,000 to $1.25 million.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) has issued a formal order of investigation to determine whether the Company has violated the Federal securities laws. On January 7, 2003, the Company received the first of four subpoenas issued by the SEC. SAC Holdings, the Company’s current and former auditors, and others have also received one or more subpoenas relating to this matter. The Company is cooperating fully with the SEC and is facilitating the expeditious review of its financial statements and any other issues that may arise. The Company has produced a large volume of documents and other materials in response to the subpoenas, and the Company is continuing to assemble and produce additional documents and materials for the SEC. Although the Company has fully cooperated with the SEC in this matter and intends to continue to fully cooperate, the SEC may determine that the Company has violated Federal securities laws. We cannot predict when this investigation will be completed or its outcome. If the SEC makes a determination that we have violated Federal securities laws, we may face sanctions, including, but not limited to, significant monetary penalties and injunctive relief.

AMERCO is a defendant in four putative class action lawsuits. Article Four Trust v. AMERCO, et al., District of Nevada, United States District Court, Case No. CV-N-03-0050-DWH-VPC. Article Four Trust, a purported AMERCO shareholder, commenced this action on January 28, 2003 on behalf of all persons and entities who purchased or acquired AMERCO securities between February 12, 1998 and September 26, 2002. The Article Four Trust action alleges one claim for violation of Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 thereunder. Mates v. AMERCO, et al., United States District Court, District of Nevada, Case No. CV-N-03-0107. Maxine Mates, an AMERCO shareholder, commenced this putative class action on behalf of all persons and entities who purchased or acquired AMERCO securities between February 12, 1998 and September 26, 2002. The Mates action asserts claims under section 10(b) and Rule 10b-5, and section 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act. Klug v. AMERCO, et al., United States District Court of Nevada, Case No. CV-S-03-0380. Edward Klug, an AMERCO shareholder, commenced this putative class action on behalf of all persons and entities who purchased or acquired AMERCO securities between February 12, 1998 and September 26, 2002. The Klug action asserts claims under section 10(b) and Rule 10b-5 and section 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act. IG Holdings v. AMERCO, et al., United States District Court, District of Nevada, Case No. CV-N-03-0199. IG Holdings, an AMERCO bondholder, commenced this putative class action on behalf of all persons and entities who purchased, acquired, or traded AMERCO bonds between February 12, 1998 and September 26, 2002, alleging claims under section 11 and section 12 of the Securities Act of 1933 and section 10(b) and Rule 10b-5, and section 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act. Each of these four securities class actions allege that AMERCO engaged in transactions with SAC entities that falsely improved AMERCO’s financial statements, and that AMERCO failed to disclose the transactions properly. The actions are at a very early stage. The Klug action has not been served. In the other three actions, AMERCO does not currently have a deadline by which it must respond to the complaints. Management has stated that it intends to defend these cases vigorously. We have filed a notice of AMERCO’s bankruptcy petition and the automatic stay in each of the Courts where these cases are pending.

The United States Department of Labor (“DOL”) is presently investigating whether there were violations of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (“ERISA”) involving the AMERCO Employee Savings, Profit Sharing, and Employee Stock Ownership Plan (the “Plan”). The DOL has interviewed a number of Company representatives as well as the Plan fiduciaries and has issued a subpoena to the Company and a subpoena to SAC Holdings. At the present time, the Company is unable to determine whether the DOL will assert any claims against the Company, SAC Holdings, or the Plan fiduciaries. The DOL has asked AMERCO and its current directors as well as the Plan Trustees to sign an agreement tolling the statute of limitations until December 31, 2003 with respect to any claims arising out of certain transactions between AMERCO or any affiliate of AMERCO and SAC Holdings or any of its affiliates and such persons have done so. The DOL recently asked such parties to extend the tolling agreement. The DOL has not advised the Company that it believes that any violations of ERISA have in fact occurred. Instead, the DOL is simply investigating potential violations. The Company intends to take any corrective action that may be needed in light of the DOL's ultimate findings. Although the Company has fully cooperated with the DOL in this matter and intends to continue to fully cooperate, the DOL may determine that the Company has violated ERISA. In that event, the Company may face sanctions, including, but not limited to, significant monetary penalties and injunctive relief.

17. Preferred Stock Purchase Rights

AMERCO's Board of Directors adopted a stockholder-rights plan in July 1998. The rights were declared as a dividend of one preferred share purchase right for each outstanding share of AMERCO's common stock. The dividend distribution was payable on August 17, 1998 to the stockholders of record on that date. When exercisable, each right will entitle its holder to purchase from AMERCO one one-hundredth of a share of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock (Series C), no par value per share of AMERCO, at a price of $132.00 per one one-hundredth of a share of Series C, subject to adjustment. AMERCO has created a series of 3,000,000 shares of authorized but unissued preferred stock for the Series C stock authorized in this stockholder-rights plan.

The rights will become exercisable if a person or group of affiliated or associated persons acquire or obtain the right to acquire beneficial ownership of 10% or more of the common stock without approval of a majority of the Board of Directors of AMERCO. The rights will expire on August 7, 2008 unless earlier redeemed or exchanged by AMERCO.

In the event AMERCO is acquired in a merger or other business combination transaction after the rights become exercisable, each holder of a right would be entitled to receive that number of shares of the acquiring company's common stock equal to the result obtained by multiplying the then current Purchase Price by the number one one-hundredths of a share of Series C for which a right is then exercisable and dividing that product by 50% of the then current market price per share of the acquiring company.

18. Stock Option Plan

AMERCO's stockholders approved a ten year incentive plan entitled the AMERCO Stock Option and Incentive Plan (the Plan) for officers and key employees in October 1992. No stock options or awards were granted under this plan, the plan has terminated during fiscal year 2003.

19. Related Party Transactions

AMERCO has related party transactions with certain major stockholders, directors and officers of the consolidated group as disclosed in Notes 3 and 11 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements and below. Management believes that the transactions described in the related notes and below were consummated on terms equivalent to those that would prevail in arm's-length transactions.

On December 23, 2002, Mark V. Shoen, a significant shareholder purchased a condominium in Phoenix, Arizona from Oxford Life Insurance Company. The purchase price was $279,573, which was in excess of the appraised value.

During fiscal 2003, U-Haul purchased $2.1 million of printing from Form Builders, Inc. Mark V. Shoen, his daughter and Edward J. Shoen's sons are major stockholders of Form Builders, Inc. Edward J. Shoen is Chairman of the Board of Directors and President of AMERCO and is a significant stockholder of AMERCO. Mark V. Shoen is President, U-Haul Phoenix Operations and is a significant stockholder of AMERCO. The Company ceased doing business with Form Builders, Inc. on April 18, 2003.

AMERCO AND CONSOLIDATED SUBSIDIARIES AND SAC HOLDING CORPORATION, SAC HOLDING II CORPORATION

During fiscal 2003, Sam Shoen, a son of Edward J. Shoen, was employed by U-Haul as project group supervisor. Mr. Shoen was paid an aggregate salary and bonus of $77,327 for his services during the fiscal year.

During fiscal 2003, a subsidiary of the Company held various senior and junior unsecured notes of SAC Holdings. Substantially all of the equity interest of SAC Holdings is owned by Mark V. Shoen, a significant shareholder and executive officer of AMERCO. The Company does not have an equity ownership interest in SAC Holdings, except for minority investments made by RepWest and Oxford in a SAC Holdings-controlled limited partnership which holds Canadian self-storage properties. The senior unsecured notes of SAC Holdings that the Company holds rank equal in right of payment with the notes of certain senior mortgage holders, but junior to the extent of the collateral securing the applicable mortgages and junior to the extent of the cash flow waterfalls that favor the senior mortgage holders. The Company received cash interest payments of $26.6 million from SAC Holdings during fiscal year 2003. The notes receivable balance outstanding at March 31, 2003 was, in the aggregate, $394.2 million. The largest aggregate amount outstanding during the fiscal year ended March 31, 2003 was $407.4 million. At March 31, 2003, SAC Holdings' notes and loans payable to third parties totaled $589.0 million. Interest on the senior and junior notes accrues at rates ranging from 6.5% to 13%.

Interest accrues on the outstanding principal balance of senior notes of SAC Holdings that the Company holds at a fixed rate and is paid on a monthly basis.

Interest accrues on the outstanding principal balance of junior notes of SAC Holdings that the Company holds at a stated rate of basic interest. A fixed portion of that basic interest is paid on a monthly basis. Additional interest is paid on the same payment date based on the difference between the amount of remaining basic interest and an amount equal to a specified percentage of the net cash flow before interest expense generated by the underlying property minus the sum of the principal and interest due on the senior notes of SAC Holdings relating to that property and a multiple of the fixed portion of basic interest paid on that monthly payment date.

The latter amount is referred to as the "cash flow-based calculation."

To the extent that this cash flow-based calculation exceeds the amount of remaining basic interest, contingent interest equal to that excess and the amount of remaining basic interest are paid on the same monthly date as the fixed portion of basic interest. To the extent that the cash flow-based calculation is less than the amount of remaining basic interest, the additional interest payable on the applicable monthly date is limited to the amount of that cash flow-based calculation. In such a case, the excess of the remaining basic interest over the cash flow-based calculation is deferred and all amounts so deferred bear the stated rate of basic interest until maturity of the junior note.

In addition, subject to certain contingencies, the junior notes provide that the holder of the note is entitled to receive 90% of the appreciation realized upon, among other things, the sale of such property by SAC Holdings. To date, no such properties have been sold by SAC Holdings.

The Company currently manages the self-storage properties owned by SAC Holdings pursuant to a standard form of management agreement with each SAC Holdings subsidiary, under which the Company receives a management fee equal to 6% of the gross receipts. The Company received management fees of $12.3 million during fiscal year 2003. This management fee is consistent with the fees received for other properties the Company manages.

RepWest and Oxford currently hold a 46% limited partnership interest in Securespace Limited Partnership ("Securespace"), a Nevada limited partnership. A SAC Holdings subsidiary serves as the general partner of Securespace and owns a 1% interest. Another SAC Holdings subsidiary owns the remaining 53% limited partnership interest in Securespace. Securespace was formed by SAC Holdings to be the owner of various Canadian self-storage properties.

During fiscal year 2003, the Company leased space for marketing company offices, vehicle repair shops and hitch installation centers in 35 locations owned by subsidiaries of SAC Holdings. Total lease payments pursuant to such leases were $2,051,858 during fiscal year 2003. The terms of the leases are similar to the terms of leases for other properties owned by unrelated parties that are leased to the Company.

At March 31, 2003, subsidiaries of SAC Holdings acted as U-Haul independent dealers. The financial and other terms of the dealership contracts with subsidiaries of SAC Holdings are substantially identical to the terms of those with the Company's other independent dealers. During fiscal 2003, the Company paid subsidiaries of SAC Holdings $27,658,641 in commissions pursuant to such dealership contracts.

The transactions discussed above involving SAC Holdings have all been eliminated from the Company's consolidated financial statements. Although these transactions have been eliminated for financial statement reporting purposes, except for minority investments made by RepWest and Oxford in Securespace, the Company has not had any equity ownership interest in SAC Holdings.

SAC Holdings were established in order to acquire self-storage properties which are being managed by the Company pursuant to management agreements. The sale of self-storage properties by the Company to SAC Holdings has in the past provided significant cash flows to the Company and the Company's outstanding loans to SAC Holdings entitle the Company to participate in SAC Holdings' excess cash flows (after senior debt service).

Management believes that its sales of self-storage properties to SAC Holdings over the past several years provided a unique structure for the Company to earn rental revenues from the SAC Holdings self-storage properties that the Company manages and participate in SAC Holdings' excess cash flows as described above.

Although the Board of Directors of the appropriate subsidiary which was a party to each transaction with SAC Holdings approved such transaction at the time it was completed, the Company did not seek approval by AMERCO's Board of Directors for such transactions. However, AMERCO's Board of Directors, including the independent members, was made aware of and received periodic updates regarding such transactions from time to time. All future real estate transactions with SAC Holdings that involve the Company or any of its subsidiaries will have the prior approval of AMERCO's Board of Directors, even if it is not legally required, including a majority of the independent members of AMERCO's Board of Directors.

During the fiscal year ended 2001, AMERCO sold $10.5 million of remanufactured engines and small automotive parts and purchased $53.7 million of automotive parts and tools from a company wherein a major stockholder, director and officer of AMERCO formerly had a beneficial minority ownership interest. The related party interest ceased to exist as of December 31, 2000.

During the fiscal year ended 2001, AMERCO purchased $1.1 million of rebuilt torque converters and other related transmission parts from a company wherein an owner was a family member of a major stockholder, director and officer of AMERCO. The related party interest ceased to exist as of December 31, 2000.

During the years ended 2003, 2002 and 2001, AMERCO purchased $2.1 million, $3.2 million and $3.5 million, respectively, of printing services from a company wherein an owner is related to a major stockholder, director and officer of AMERCO. The Company ceased doing business with this entity on April 18, 2003.

In connection with transactions described above regarding parts, tools and printing services, the Internal Audit Department of U-Haul periodically tests pricing against competitive third party bids for fairness.

Management believes that the foregoing transactions were consummated on terms equivalent to those that prevail in arm's-length transactions.

21. Summarized Consolidated Financial Information of Insurance Subsidiaries

Applicable laws and regulations of the State of Arizona require Oxford and RepWest to maintain minimum capital and surplus determined in accordance with statutory accounting practices. The amount of dividends that can be paid to shareholders by insurance companies domiciled in the State of Arizona is limited. Any dividend in excess of the limit requires prior regulatory approval. At December 31, 2002, Oxford cannot distribute any of their statutory surplus as dividends without regulatory approval. At December 31, 2002, RepWest had $6.5 million of statutory surplus available for distribution. However, as discussed above, as a result of the Order of Supervision issued by the DOI, RepWest must obtain approval from the DOI prior to any dividend payments to AMERCO.

Audited statutory net income (loss) for RepWest for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000 was $4.1 million, $(36.6 million) and $(28.1 million), respectively; audited statutory capital and surplus was $65.4 million and $151.6 million at December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Audited statutory net income (loss) for NAFCIC for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000 was $(346,000), $558,000 and $298,000, respectively; audited statutory capital and surplus was $3.8 million and $4.2 million at December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

Audited statutory net income (loss) for Oxford for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000 was $(11.6 million), $(1.3 million) and $6.6 million, respectively; audited statutory capital and surplus was $39.1 million and $77.9 million at December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Audited statutory net income for CFLIC for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000 was $3.2 million, $3.6 million and $4.7 million, respectively; audited statutory capital and surplus was $17.2 million and $20.0 million at December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively. Audited statutory net income (loss) for NAI for the years ended December 31, 2002, 2001 and 2000 was $3.1 million, $0.7 million and $43,000, respectively; audited statutory capital and surplus was $25.9 million and $40.5 million at December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

On November 13, 2000, Oxford acquired all of the issued and outstanding shares of Christian Fidelity Life Insurance Company (“CFLIC”), for $37.6 million. CFLIC’s premium volume is primarily from the sale of Medicare Supplement products.

On May 20, 2003, RepWest consented to an Order for Supervision issued by the Arizona Department of Insurance (“DOI”). The DOI determined that RepWest’s level of risk based capital (“RBC”) allowed for regulatory control. Pursuant to this order and Arizona law, during the period of supervision, RepWest may not engage in certain activities without the prior approval of the DOI.

If RepWest fails to satisfy the requirements to abate the DOI’s concerns, the DOI may take further action, including, but not limited to, commencing a conservatorship.

22. Consolidating Industry Segment and Geographic Area Data

AMERCO has four industry segments represented by moving and storage operations (AMERCO and U-Haul), real estate (AREC), property and casualty insurance (RepWest) and life insurance (Oxford). SAC Holdings consist of one moving and storage industry segment. Moving and Storage. Management tracks revenues separately, but does not report any separate measure of the profitability for rental of vehicles, rental of self-storage spaces and sales of products that are required to be classified as a separate operating segment and accordingly does not present these as separate operating segments. Deferred income taxes are shown as liabilities on the consolidating statements. This differs from the consolidated balance sheet where deferred income taxes are presented as assets. This presentation differs because in total the deferred tax asset is due to the inclusion of SAC.

23. Subsequent Events

On April 18, 2003, AMERCO filed suit against its former auditors, PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC). The complaint seeks actual and punitive damages in excess of $2.5 billion dollars as a result of the alleged negligent, fraudulent and tortious conduct of PwC during the last seven years of its audit engagement.

On June 20, 2003, AMERCO filed a voluntary petition for protection under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. AMERCO has taken this action in order to expedite the financial restructuring of its debt. On August 13, 2003, Amerco Real Estate Company filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code with joint administration under BK-03-52103-GWZ. Not included in the Chapter 11 filing are the following AMERCO subsidiaries: U-Haul, Oxford Life Insurance Company and its subsidiaries, and Republic Western Insurance Company, among others. The Chapter 11 filing by AMERCO is not expected to impact the operations of these subsidiaries, and their business will continue uninterrupted. Additionally, since the Company is solvent, with asset value in excess of its debt, AMERCO intends to repay its creditors in full pursuant to a full-value plan of reorganization, without diluting the interest of its shareholders. On March 15, 2004, AMERCO emerged from Chapter 11 with full payment to its creditors and with no dilution to its stockholders.

On June 30, 2003, RepWest and Oxford exchanged their respective interests in Private Mini for certain real property owned by certain SAC Holdings entities. The exchanges were non-monetary and were recorded on the basis of the book values of the assets exchanged.

On May 20, 2003, RepWest consented to an Order for Supervision issued by the Arizona Department of Insurance (“DOI”). The DOI determined that RepWest’s level of risk based capital (“RBC”) allowed for regulatory control. Pursuant to this order and Arizona law, during the period of supervision, RepWest may not engage in certain activities without the prior approval of the DOI. If RepWest fails to satisfy the requirements to abate DOI’s concerns, the DOI may take further action, including, but not limited to, commencing a conservatorship.

In April 2003, the Company determined that in connection with overall restructuring efforts, RepWest is exiting non-U-Haul related lines of business.

24. Guarantor and Nonguarantor Financial Statements

In connection with our emergence from Chapter 11 bankruptcy on March 15, 2004, the Company issued $200 million 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009. The notes are fully and unconditionally guaranteed, jointly and severally, by all of AMERCO's legal subsidiaries, except for Oxford and RepWest and except for SAC Holdings on a consolidated basis. The following condensed consolidating financial information presents the condensed consolidating balance sheets as of March 31, 2003 and 2002 and the related condensed consolidating statements of earnings and condensed consolidating cash flow statements for the years ended March 31, 2003, 2002 and 2001 for:

- (a) AMERCO;
- (b) the guarantor subsidiaries (comprised of U-Haul and Amerco Real Estate Company and each of their respective subsidiaries);
- (c) the nonguarantor subsidiaries (comprised of Oxford and RepWest and each of their respective subsidiaries); and
- (d) SAC Holdings.

The information includes elimination entries necessary to consolidated AMERCO, the parent, with the guarantor and nonguarantor subsidiaries.

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for by the parent using the equity method of accounting. The guarantor and nonguarantor subsidiaries are presented on a combined basis.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

NOTES TO SUMMARY OF EARNINGS OF INDEPENDENT TRAILER FLEETS

(A) The accompanying Summary of Earnings of Independent Trailer Fleets includes the operations of trailers under the brand name of “U-Haul” owned by independent fleet owners. Earnings data represent the aggregate results of operations before depreciation and taxes. Investment data represent the cost of trailers and investments before accumulated depreciation.

Fleet owner income is based on Independent Rental Dealer reports of rentals transacted through the day preceding the last Monday of each month and received by U-Haul International, Inc. by the end of the month and U-Haul Center reports of rentals transacted through the last day of each month. Payments to fleet owners for trailers lost or retired from rental service as a result of damage by accident have not been reflected in this summary because such payments do not relate to earnings before depreciation and income taxes but, rather, investment (depreciation).

The investment data is based upon the cost of trailers to the fleet owners as reflected by sales records of the U-Haul manufacturing facilities.

(B) The summary of earnings data stated in terms of amount per $100 of average investment represents the aggregate results of operations (earnings data) divided by the average amount of investment during the periods. The average amount of investment is based upon a simple average of the month-end investment during each period. Average earnings data is not necessarily representative of an individual fleet owner’s earnings.

(C) A summary of operations expenses charged directly to independent fleet owners follows:

	Years Ended March 31,
	2003	2002	2001	2000	1999
	(In thousands)

Repairs and maintenance	317	381	508	723	580
	$422	532	719	999	873

(D) The fleet owners and subsidiary U-Haul Rental Companies forego normal commissions on a portion of gross rental fees designated for transfer to the Trailer Accident Fund. Trailer accident repair expenses, otherwise chargeable to fleet owners, are paid from this Fund to the extent of the financial resources of the Fund. The amounts designated “Trailer Accident Fund credit” in the accompanying summary of earnings represents independent fleet owner commissions foregone, which exceed expenses borne by the Fund.

(E) Commissions foregone for transfer to the Trailer Accident Fund follow:

CONDENSED FINANCIAL INFORMATION OF AMERCO

NOTES TO CONDENSED FINANCIAL INFORMATION
March 31, 2003, 2002, and 20011. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

AMERCO, a Nevada corporation, was incorporated in April, 1969, and is the holding company for U-Haul International, Inc., Republic Western Insurance Company, Oxford Life Insurance Company and Amerco Real Estate Company. The financial statements of the Registrant should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements and notes thereto included in this Form 10-K.

AMERCO is included in a consolidated Federal income tax return with all of its U.S. subsidiaries. Accordingly, the provision for income taxes has been calculated for Federal income taxes of AMERCO and subsidiaries included in the consolidated return of the Registrant. State taxes for all subsidiaries are allocated to the respective subsidiaries.

The financial statements include only the accounts of the Registrant (a Nevada Corporation), which include certain of the corporate operations of AMERCO (excluding SAC Holdings). The interest in AMERCO's majority owned subsidiaries is accounted for on the equity method. The debt and related interest expense of AMERCO have been allocated to the consolidated subsidiaries. The intercompany interest income and expenses are eliminated in the consolidated financial statements.

2. Guarantees

AMERCO has guaranteed performance of certain long-term leases and other obligations. See Note 15 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

3. Notes and Loans Payable

December 31, 2003, December 31, 2002 and March 31, 2003
(Unaudited)

1. Proceedings Under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code

On June 20, 2003, AMERCO (the “Debtor”) filed a petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the federal bankruptcy laws in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Nevada. On August 13, 2003, the company’s wholly owned subsidiary, Amerco Real Estate Company, filed a petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the federal bankruptcy laws in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Nevada. Under Chapter 11, certain claims against the Debtor in existence prior to the filing of the petition for relief under the federal bankruptcy laws are stayed while the Debtor continues business operations as debtor-in-possession. These claims are reflected in the December 31, 2003, balance sheet as “liabilities subject to compromise.” Additional claims (liabilities subject to compromise) may arise subsequent to the filing date resulting from rejection of executory contracts, including leases, and from the determination by the court (or agreed to by parties in interest) of allowed claims for contingencies and other disputed amounts. Claims secured against the Debtor’s assets (“secured claims”) also are stayed, although the holders of such claims have the right to move the court for relief from the stay. Secured claims are secured primarily by liens of the Debtor’s property, plant and equipment.

On October 6, 2003, AMERCO filed its Plan of Reorganization and Disclosure Statement with the Bankruptcy Court. On November 26, 2003, AMERCO filed an Amended Plan of Reorganization (the “Plan”). On December 12, 2003, the Bankruptcy Court approved AMERCO’s Disclosure Statement. On February 2, 2004, the Bankruptcy Court confirmed the Plan contingent upon completion of documentation and agreements acceptable to the involved parties and the submission of proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law and a confirmation order acceptable to all involved parties. AMERCO expects that by fiscal year end (i) it will satisfy the above contingencies and (ii) the Bankruptcy Court will execute a confirmation order. The confirmation order will become final if it is not appealed within ten days after entry and AMERCO intends to proceed to implement the Plan and emerge from bankruptcy as soon as possible thereafter. On March 15, 2004, AMERCO emerged from Chapter 11 with full payment to the creditors and with no dilutions to its stockholders.

2. Organization and Principles of Consolidation

Organization

AMERCO, a Nevada corporation (“AMERCO”), is the holding company for U-Haul International, Inc. (“U-Haul”), Amerco Real Estate Company (“Real Estate”), Republic Western Insurance Company (“RepWest”) and Oxford Life Insurance Company (“Oxford”). Throughout this Form 10-Q, unless the context otherwise requires, the term “Company” refers to AMERCO and all of its legal subsidiaries. The Company has four industry segments represented by Moving and Storage Operations (U-Haul), Real Estate, Property and Casualty Insurance (RepWest) and Life Insurance (Oxford).

SAC Holding Corporation and SAC Holding Corporation II, Nevada corporations (collectively, “SAC Holdings”), are the holding companies for several individual corporations that own self-storage properties managed by AMERCO subsidiaries in the ordinary course of business. Mark V. Shoen, a significant shareholder and executive officer of AMERCO, owns all of the equity interest of SAC Holdings.

Principles of Consolidation

The condensed consolidated financial statements presented here include the accounts of AMERCO and its wholly-owned subsidiaries and SAC Holdings and their subsidiaries. All material inter-company accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. AMERCO has made significant loans to SAC Holdings and is entitled to participate in SAC Holdings' excess cash flow (after senior debt service). All of the equity interest of SAC Holdings is owned by Mark V. Shoen, a significant shareholder and executive officer of AMERCO. AMERCO does not have an equity ownership interest in SAC Holdings, except for investments made by RepWest and Oxford in a SAC Holdings-controlled limited partnership which holds Canadian self-storage properties. SAC Holdings are not legal subsidiaries of AMERCO. SAC Holdings' securitized loan agreements have no guarantees, or triggers that could create a guarantee, from AMERCO. There are no cross default provisions on indebtedness between AMERCO and SAC Holdings. The condensed consolidated financial statements and notes are presented as permitted by Form 10-Q and do not contain certain information included in AMERCO's annual financial statements and notes. For a more detailed presentation of the accounts and transactions of AMERCO, refer to AMERCO's Form 10-K.

The condensed consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2003 and the related condensed consolidated statements of operations, comprehensive income, and cash flow for the quarters ended December 31, 2003 and 2002 are unaudited. In our opinion, all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation of such condensed consolidated financial statements have been included. Such adjustments consist only of normal recurring items. Interim results are not necessarily indicative of results for a full year.

Revenues, expenses (including professional fees), realized gains and losses, and provisions for losses directly associated with the reorganization and restructuring of the business are reported as part of operating expenses in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. The Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets distinguish pre-petition liabilities subject to compromise from both those pre-petition liabilities that are not subject to compromise and from post-petition liabilities. Liabilities subject to compromise are reported at the amounts expected to be allowed, even if they may be settled for lesser amounts.

The operating results and financial position of RepWest and Oxford have been consolidated on the basis of a calendar year and, accordingly, results from operations for RepWest and Oxford are for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2003 and 2002.

Going Concern Basis

On June 20, 2003 (the "Petition Date"), AMERCO filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code (the "Bankruptcy Code") in the United States Bankruptcy Court, District of Nevada (the "Bankruptcy Court") (Case No. 0352103). AMERCO is continuing to manage its properties and operate its businesses as "debtor-in-possession" under the jurisdiction of the Bankruptcy Court and in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code. In general, as debtor-in-possession, AMERCO is authorized under Chapter 11 to continue to operate as an ongoing business, but may not engage in transactions outside the ordinary course of business without the prior approval of the Bankruptcy Court. Specific information pertaining to the bankruptcy filing may be obtained from the website www.amerco.com. The Company's independent auditors qualified their opinion on the Company's March 31, 2003 financial statements by including an explanatory paragraph in which they expressed substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments to reflect future effects on the recoverability and classification of assets or the amount and classification of liabilities that might result from these uncertainties.

Restatement and Reclassifications

In connection with the audit of the Company's financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2003, it was determined that there was a need for the Company to record adjustments that resulted in the restatement of the Company's financial statements, including financial statements for the quarter ended December 31, 2002. The condensed consolidated statement of operations, comprehensive income and cash flow for the quarter ended December 31, 2002 contained in this report have been restated. Loss for the three months ended

December 31, 2002 as originally reported was $32.3 million, or $1.73 per basic and diluted share. Restated loss for this period were $45.8 million and $2.45 per basic and diluted share. Net earnings for the nine months ended December 31, 2002 as originally reported was $48.8 million, or $1.88 per basic and diluted share. Net earnings (loss) for this period as restated was $0.1 million and ($0.48) per basic and diluted share. The major components of the restatement were related to an adjustment to accrue for fully-developed actuarial estimates of the Company's insurance reserves and to recognize equity-method losses relating to the Company's investments in Private Mini Storage Realty, L.P. For a detailed discussion of the adjustments to our financial statements for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2002 and 2001, see footnote 2 to consolidated financial statements contained in our Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Certain balances as of March 31, 2003 have been reclassified in the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements to conform with the current year presentation. These reclassifications had no effect on previously reported net income or stockholders' equity.

Property, Plant and Equipment

During fiscal year 2004 U-Haul decreased the estimated useful lives of pick-up trucks and vans. The effect of this change decreased net earnings for the nine-month period and three-month period ended December 31, 2003 by approximately $4,875,000 ($0.24 per share) and $2,600,000 ($0.13 per share), respectively, net of income tax benefit. The adjustment reflects management's best estimate, based on information available, of the estimated useful lives of these pick-ups and vans.

In the normal course of business, AMERCO is a defendant in a number of suits and claims. AMERCO is also a party to several administrative proceedings arising from state and local provisions that regulate the removal and/or clean up of underground fuel storage tanks.

Compliance with environmental requirements of federal, state and local governments significantly affects Real Estate's business operations. Among other things, these requirements regulate the discharge of materials into the water, air and land and govern the use and disposal of hazardous substances. Real Estate is aware of issues regarding hazardous substances on some of its properties. Real Estate regularly makes capital and operating expenditures to stay in compliance with environmental laws and has put in place a remedial plan at each site where it believes such a plan is necessary.

A subsidiary of U-Haul, INW Company (INW), owns one property located within two different state hazardous substance sites in the State of Washington. The sites are referred to as the "Yakima Valley Spray Site" and the "Yakima Railroad Area." INW has been named as a "potentially liable party" under state law with respect to this property as it relates to both sites. As a result of the cleanup costs of approximately $5.0 million required by the State of Washington, INW filed for reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws in May of 2001. The potential liability to INW could be in the range of $750,000 to $1.25 million.

Based upon the information currently available, compliance with the environmental laws and the costs of investigation and cleanup of known hazardous waste sites are not expected to have a material adverse affect on the Company's financial position or operating results.

In connection with the resolution of litigation with certain members of the Shoen family and their corporations, AMERCO has deducted for income tax purposes approximately $372.0 million of the payments made to plaintiffs in a lawsuit. While AMERCO believes that such income tax deductions are appropriate, there can be no assurance that such deductions ultimately will be allowed in full. The IRS has proposed adjustments to the Company's 1997 and 1996 tax returns. Nearly all of the adjustments are attributable to denials of deductions claimed for certain payments made in connection with this litigation. We believe these income tax deductions are appropriate and are vigorously contesting the IRS adjustments. No additional taxes have been provided in the accompanying financial statements, as management believes that none will result.

On July 20, 2000, Charles Kocher ("Kocher") filed suit in Wetzel County, West Virginia, Civil Action No. 00-C-51-K, entitled Charles Kocher v. Oxford Life Insurance Co. ("Oxford") seeking compensatory and punitive damages for breach of contract, bad faith and unfair claims settlement practices arising from an alleged failure of Oxford to properly and timely pay a claim under a disability and dismemberment policy. On March 22, 2002, the jury returned a verdict of $5 million in compensatory damages and $34 million in punitive damages. On November 5, 2002, the trial court entered an Order (“Order”) affirming the $39 million jury verdict and denying Oxford’s motion for New Trial Or, in The Alternative, Remittitur. On January 27, 2004, the matter was argued before the West Virginia Supreme Court and taken under advisement. Management does not believe that the Order is sustainable and expects the Order to be overturned by the West Virginia Supreme Court, in part because the jury award has no reasonable nexus to the actual harm suffered by Kocher. The Company has accrued $725,000, which represents management’s best estimate of the costs associated with legal fees to appeal and re-try the case.

As previously discussed, on June 20, 2003, AMERCO filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. As debtor-in-possession, AMERCO is authorized under Chapter 11 to continue to operate as an ongoing business, but may not engage in transactions outside the ordinary course of business without the prior approval of the Bankruptcy Court. As of the Petition Date, virtually all pending litigation against AMERCO is stayed, and absent further order of the Bankruptcy Court, no party, subject to certain exceptions, may take any action, again subject to certain exceptions, to recover on pre-petition claims against AMERCO. The automatic stay, however, does not apply to AMERCO’s subsidiaries, other than Amerco Real Estate Company, which filed for protection under Chapter 11, on August 13, 2003. On October 6, 2003, AMERCO filed its Plan of Reorganization and Disclosure Statement with the Bankruptcy Court. On November 26, 2003, AMERCO filed an Amended Plan of Reorganization (the “Plan”). On December 12, 2003, the Bankruptcy Court approved AMERCO’s Disclosure Statement. On February 2, 2004, the Bankruptcy Court confirmed the Plan contingent upon completion of documentation and agreements acceptable to the involved parties and the submission of proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law and a confirmation order acceptable to all involved parties. AMERCO expects by fiscal year end (i) that it will satisfy the above contingencies and (ii) that the Bankruptcy Court will execute a confirmation order. The confirmation order will become final if it is not appealed within ten days after entry and AMERCO intends to proceed to implement the Plan and emerge from bankruptcy as soon as possible thereafter.

On September 24, 2002, Paul F. Shoen filed a derivative action in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, Washoe County, captioned Paul F. Shoen vs. SAC Holding Corporation et al., CV02-05602, seeking damages and equitable relief on behalf of AMERCO from SAC Holdings and certain current and former members of the AMERCO Board of Directors, including Edward J. Shoen, Mark V. Shoen and James P. Shoen. AMERCO is named a nominal defendant for purposes of the derivative action. The complaint alleges breach of fiduciary duty, self-dealing, usurpation of corporate opportunities, wrongful interference with prospective economic advantage and unjust enrichment and seeks the unwinding of sales of self-storage properties by subsidiaries of AMERCO to SAC Holdings over the last several years. The complaint seeks a declaration that such transfers are void as well as unspecified damages. On October 28, 2002, AMERCO, the Shoen directors, the non-Shoen directors and SAC Holdings filed Motions to Dismiss the complaint. In addition, on October 28, 2002, Ron Belec filed a derivative action in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, Washoe County, captioned Ron Belec vs. William E. Carty, et al., CV 02-06331 and on January 16, 2003, M.S. Management Company, Inc. filed a derivative action in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, Washoe County, captioned M.S. Management Company, Inc. vs. William E. Carty, et al., CV 03-00386. Two additional derivative suits were also filed against these parties. These additional suits are substantially similar to the Paul F. Shoen derivative action. The five suits assert virtually identical claims. In fact, three of the five plaintiffs are parties who are working closely together and chose to file the same claims multiple times. The court consolidated all five complaints before dismissing them on May 8, 2003. Plaintiffs have filed a notice of appeal. These lawsuits falsely alleged that the AMERCO Board lacked independence. In reaching his decision to dismiss these claims, the court determined that the AMERCO Board of Directors had the requisite level of independence required in order to have these claims resolved by the Board. These cases are stayed pending AMERCO’s emergence from bankruptcy.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) has issued a formal order of investigation to determine whether the Company has violated the Federal securities laws. On January 7, 2003, the Company received the first of several subpoenas issued by the SEC to the Company. SAC Holdings, the Company’s current and former auditors, and others have also received one or more subpoenas relating to this matter. The Company is cooperating fully with the SEC and is facilitating the expeditious review of its financial statements and any other issues that may arise. The Company has produced a large volume of documents and other materials in response to the subpoenas, and the Company is continuing to assemble and produce additional documents and materials for the SEC. Although the Company has fully cooperated with the SEC in this matter and intends to continue to fully cooperate, the SEC may determine that the Company has violated Federal securities laws. We cannot predict when this investigation will be completed or its outcome. If the SEC makes a determination that we have violated Federal securities laws, we may face sanctions, including, but not limited to, significant monetary penalties and injunctive relief.

AMERCO is a defendant in four putative class action lawsuits. Article Four Trust v. AMERCO, et al., District of Nevada, United States District Court, Case No. CV-N-03-0050-DWH-VPC. Article Four Trust, a purported AMERCO shareholder, commenced this action on January 28, 2003 on behalf of all persons and entities who purchased or acquired AMERCO securities between February 12, 1998 and September 26, 2002. The Article Four Trust action alleges one claim for violation of Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 thereunder. Mates v. AMERCO, et al., United States District Court, District of Nevada, Case No. CV-N-03-0107. Maxine Mates, an AMERCO shareholder, commenced this putative class action on behalf of all persons and entities who purchased or acquired AMERCO securities between February 12, 1998 and September 26, 2002. The Mates action asserts claims under section 10(b) and Rule 10b-5, and section 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act. Klug v. AMERCO, et al., United States District Court of Nevada, Case No. CV-S-03-0380. Edward Klug, an AMERCO shareholder, commenced this putative class action on behalf of all persons and entities who purchased or acquired AMERCO securities between February 12, 1998 and September 26, 2002. The Klug action asserts claims under section 10(b) and Rule 10b-5 and section 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act. IG Holdings v. AMERCO, et al., United States District Court, District of Nevada, Case No. CV-N-03-0199. IG Holdings, an AMERCO bondholder, commenced this putative class action on behalf of all persons and entities who purchased, acquired, or traded AMERCO bonds between February 12, 1998 and September 26, 2002, alleging claims under section 11 and section 12 of the Securities Act of 1933 and section 10(b) and Rule 10b-5, and section 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act. Each of these four securities class actions allege that AMERCO engaged in transactions with SAC entities that falsely improved AMERCO’s financial statements, and that AMERCO failed to disclose the transactions properly. The actions are at a very early stage and have recently been consolidated. As to AMERCO, the actions are stayed pending AMERCO’s emergence from bankruptcy. In addition, by agreement of the parties, AMERCO’s directors who are also named in the lawsuits have an extension to file their responses to the complaints. Management intends to defend these cases vigorously.

The United States Department of Labor (“DOL”) is presently investigating whether there were violations of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (“ERISA”) involving the AMERCO Employee Savings, Profit Sharing, and Employee Stock Ownership Plan (the “Plan”). The DOL has interviewed a number of Company representatives as well as the Plan fiduciaries and has issued a subpoena to the Company and a subpoena to SAC Holdings. One of the issues raised by the DOL relates to the release of shares from the Plan’s loan suspense account. The Company believes that it has resolved this particular issue by contributing additional shares. At the present time, the Company is unable to determine whether the DOL will assert any other claims against the Company, SAC Holdings, or the Plan fiduciaries. The DOL has asked AMERCO and its current directors as well as the Plan Trustees to sign an agreement tolling the statute of limitations with respect to any claims arising out of certain transactions between AMERCO or any affiliate of AMERCO and SAC Holdings or any of its affiliates and such persons have done so. The DOL recently asked such parties to extend the tolling agreement and they have done so. The DOL has not advised the Company that it believes that any other violations of ERISA have in fact occurred. Instead, the DOL is simply investigating potential violations. The Company intends to defend its position. The Company also intends to take any corrective action that may be needed in light of the DOL's ultimate findings. Although the Company has fully cooperated with the DOL in this matter and intends to continue to fully cooperate, the DOL may determine that the Company has violated ERISA. In that event, the Company may face sanctions, including, but not limited to, significant monetary penalties and injunctive relief.

5. New Accounting Standards

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 143 ("SFAS 143"), Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations, requires recognition of the fair value of liabilities associated with the retirement of long-lived assets when a legal obligation to incur such costs arises as a result of the acquisition, construction, development and/or the normal operation of a long-lived asset. Upon recognition of the liability, a corresponding asset is recorded at present value and accreted over the life of the asset and depreciated over the remaining life of the long-lived asset. SFAS 143 defines a legal obligation as one that a party is required to settle as a result of an existing or enacted law, statute, ordinance, or written or oral contract or by legal construction of a contract under the doctrine of promissory estoppel. SFAS 143 is effective for fiscal years beginning after September 15, 2002. We adopted this statement effective April 1, 2003, and it did not affect our consolidated financial position or results of operations.

In April 2002, the FASB adopted SFAS No. 145 ("SFAS 145"), Rescission of No. 4, (Reporting Gains and Losses from Extinguishment of Debt), No. 44 (Accounting for Intangible Assets of Motor Carriers), No. 64, (Extinguishments of Debt Made to Satisfy Sinking-Fund Requirements), Amendment of FASB Statement No. 13 (Accounting for Leases) and Technical Corrections. This statement eliminates the requirement that gains and losses on debt extinguishment must be classified as extraordinary items in the income statement. Instead, such gains and losses will be classified as extraordinary items only if they are deemed to be unusual and infrequent, in accordance with the current GAAP criteria for extraordinary classification. In addition, SFAS 145 eliminates an inconsistency in lease accounting by requiring that modification of capital leases that result in reclassification as operating leases be accounted for consistent with sale-leaseback accounting rules. The statement also contains other non-substantive corrections to authoritative accounting literature. The changes related to debt extinguishment are effective for fiscal years beginning after May 15, 2002. We previously reclassified all extraordinary loss on debt extinguishment to interest expense. The changes related to lease accounting will be effective for transactions occurring after May 15, 2002. We adopted the lease accounting provisions effective May 16, 2002 and it did not affect our consolidated financial position or results of operations.

In September 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 146, ("SFAS 146") Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities, which addresses accounting for restructuring and similar costs. SFAS 146 supersedes previous accounting guidance, principally Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue No. 94-3. SFAS 146 requires that the liability for costs associated with an exit or disposal activity be recognized when the liability is incurred. Under EITF No. 94-3, a liability for an exit cost was recognized at the date of a company's commitment to an exit plan. SFAS 146 also establishes that the liability should initially be measured and recorded at fair value. Accordingly, SFAS 146 may affect the timing of recognizing future restructuring costs as well as the amount recognized. The provisions of this Statement are effective for exit or disposal activities that are initiated after December 31, 2002. We adopted the Statement effective January 1, 2003 and it did not affect our consolidated financial position or results of operations.

In November 2002, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 45 ("FIN 45"), Guarantor's Accounting for Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others, an interpretation of FASB Statements No. 5, 57, and 107 and rescission of FASB Interpretation No. 34, Disclosure of Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others. FIN 45 clarifies the requirements for a guarantor's accounting for and disclosure of certain guarantees issued and outstanding. It also requires a guarantor to recognize, at the inception of a guarantee, a liability for the fair value of the obligation undertaken in issuing the guarantee. This Interpretation also incorporates without reconsideration the guidance in FASB Interpretation No. 34, which was superseded. As a result of FIN 45, the Company has recorded a $125 million liability at March 31, 2003 and December 31, 2003, which is management's estimate of the liability associated with the guarantee of the indebtedness of an affiliate of Private Mini Storage Realty, L. P. which was entered into in February 2003.

AMERCO AND CONSOLIDATED SUBSIDIARIES AND

In December 2002, the FASB issued SFAS 148 ("SFAS 148"), "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation — Transition and Disclosure", which amends Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 ("SFAS 123"), "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation". SFAS 148 provides alternative methods of transition for a voluntary change to the fair value based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation. In addition, SFAS 148 amends the disclosure requirement of SFAS 123 to require more prominent and more frequent disclosures in financial statements of the effects of stock-based compensation. The transition guidance and annual disclosure provisions of SFAS 148 are effective for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2002. The interim disclosure provisions are effective for financial reports containing condensed financial statements for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2002. We have adopted this statement and it had no impact on the Company's consolidated balance sheet or results of operations.

In April 2003, the FASB issued SFAS 149, ("SFAS 149") "Amendment of Statement 133 on Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities." This Statement amends and clarifies the accounting for derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts and for hedging activities under SFAS 133. In particular, SFAS 149 (1) clarifies under what circumstances a contract with an initial net investment meets the characteristic of a derivative as discussed in SFAS 133, (2) clarifies when a derivative contains a financing component, (3) amends the definition of an underlying derivative to conform it to the language used in FIN 45, and (4) amends certain other existing pronouncements. SFAS 149 is generally effective for contracts entered into or modified after June 30, 2003. The Company does not believe the adoption of SFAS 149 will have a material impact on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

In May 2003, the FASB issued SFAS No. 150 ("SFAS 150"), Accounting for Certain Financial Instruments with Characteristics of both Liabilities and Equity. This Statement establishes standards for classifying and measuring as liabilities certain financial instruments that embody obligations of the issuer and have characteristics of both liabilities and equity. SFAS 150 is effective at the beginning of the first interim period beginning after June 15, 2003; including all financial instruments created or modified after May 31, 2003. SFAS 150 currently has no impact on the Company.

In January 2003, the FASB issued Interpretation No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities ("FIN 46"), an interpretation of Accounting Research Bulletin No. 51. FIN 46 requires that variable interest entities be consolidated by a company if that company absorbs a majority of the entity's expected losses, receives a majority of its expected residual returns, or both, as a result of holding a variable interest. In December 2003, the FASB issued FIN 46R, which reflected certain amendments to the standard. The provisions of FIN 46, as revised, are effective for the first interim or annual period ending after March 15, 2004 when certain conditions are met by a variable interest entity. At this time an evaluation is being conducted to determine whether the adoption of FIN 46 will require that we consolidate SAC Holdings' investment in Private Mini.

7. Liabilities Subject to Compromise

Under the Bankruptcy Code certain claims against AMERCO in existence prior to the Petition Date are stayed while AMERCO continues operating as a debtor-in-possession. AMERCO has received approval from the Court to (1) pay pre-petition and post-petition employee wages, salaries, benefits, other employee obligations and insurance obligations; (2) pay vendors and other providers in the ordinary course for goods and services received from and after the Petition Date. Substantially all other pre-petition liabilities of AMERCO have been classified as liabilities subject to compromise in the unaudited Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. Adjustments to these liabilities may result from negotiations, payments authorized by Court order, additional rejection of executory contracts including leases, or other events.

Shortly after the Chapter 11 filing, AMERCO began notifying all known or potential creditors of the filing for the purpose of identifying all pre-petition claims against the Company. Amounts that AMERCO has recorded may be different than amounts filed by its creditors.

8. Certain Relationships and Related Transactions

SAC Holdings loaned Self-Storage International Holding Corporation (“SSI”) $4.5 million. As of December 31, 2003, the outstanding balance due to SAC Holdings was $1.5 million. Mark V. Shoen, a significant shareholder and executive officer of AMERCO, owns all of the equity interest of SSI and substantially all of the equity interest of SAC Holdings. For financial reporting purposes, SSI is not consolidated by AMERCO or SAC Holdings.

The following table summarizes the components of liabilities subject to compromise, included in AMERCO's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet as of December 31, 2003 (in thousands):

	AMERCO	AREC	Inter-company Eliminations	Total
Debt subject to compromise	$809,623	101,499	(39,500)	$871,622
Accounts payable and accrued expenses	185	3,565	—	3,750
Total liabilities subject to compromise	$809,808	105,064	(39,500)	$875,372

Reorganization expenses incurred as a direct result of the Company's Chapter 11 filing are included in operating expenses and interest expense in the Condensed Consolidated Statement of Operations. Professional fees of $7.9 million and default interest payments of $0 were paid during the quarter ended December 31, 2003. Professional fees of $13.8 million and default interest payments of $4.4 million were paid during the nine months ended December 31, 2003.

9. Guarantor and Nonguarantor Financial Statements and Subsequent Event

On March 15, 2004, the Company emerged from Chapter 11 with full payment to its creditors and with no dilution to its stockholders. In connection with our emergence from Chapter 11 bankruptcy, the Company issued $200 million 9.0% Second Lien Senior Secured Notes due 2009. The notes are fully and unconditionally guaranteed, jointly and severally, by all of AMERCO's legal subsidiaries, except for Oxford and RepWest and except for SAC Holdings. The following condensed consolidating financial information presents the condensed consolidating balance sheets as of December 31, 2003 and the related condensed consolidating statements of earnings and condensed consolidating cash flow statements for the three and nine months ended December 31, 2003 and 2002 for:

- (a) AMERCO;
- (b) the guarantor subsidiaries (comprised of U-Haul and Amerco Real Estate Company and each of their respective subsidiaries);
- (c) the nonguarantor subsidiaries (comprised of Oxford and RepWest and each of their respective subsidiaries); and
- (d) SAC Holdings.

The information includes elimination entries necessary to consolidated AMERCO, the parent, with the guarantor and nonguarantor subsidiaries.

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for by the parent using the equity method of accounting. The guarantor and nonguarantor subsidiaries are presented on a combined basis.

Each broker-dealer that receives exchange notes for its own account in the exchange offer must acknowledge that it will deliver a prospectus in connection with any resale of those exchange notes. The letter of transmittal states that, by so acknowledging and delivering a prospectus, a broker-dealer will not be deemed to admit that it is an “underwriter” within the meaning of the Securities Act.

This prospectus, as it may be amended or supplemented from time to time, may be used by a broker-dealer in connection with resales of exchange notes received in exchange for outstanding notes where the outstanding notes were acquired by the broker-dealer as a result of market-making activities or other trading activities.

PART II

INFORMATION NOT REQUIRED IN PROSPECTUS

Item 20. Indemnification of Directors and Officers

The Nevada General Corporation Law requires AMERCO to indemnify officers and directors for any expenses incurred by any officer or director in connection with any actions or proceedings, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative, brought against such officer or director because of his or her status as an officer or director, to the extent that the director or officer has been successful on the merits or otherwise in defense of the action or proceeding. The Nevada General Corporation Law permits a corporation to indemnify an officer or director, even in the absence of an agreement to do so, for expenses incurred in connection with any action or proceeding if such officer or director acted in good faith and in a manner in which he or she reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation and such indemnification is authorized by the stockholders, by a quorum of disinterested directors, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion authorized by a majority vote of a quorum of directors consisting of disinterested directors, or by independent legal counsel in a written opinion if a quorum of disinterested directors cannot be obtained. AMERCO’s Restated Articles of Incorporation eliminate personal liability of directors and officers, to AMERCO or its stockholders, for damages for breach of their fiduciary duties as directors or officers, except for liability (i) for acts or omissions that involve intentional misconduct, fraud, or a knowing violation of law, or (ii) for the unlawful payment of dividends. In addition, AMERCO’s Bylaws provide that AMERCO shall indemnify, to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by law, any person made, or threatened to be made, a defendant in or witness to any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding by reason of the fact that he or she was a director or officer of AMERCO. AMERCO has also executed Indemnification Agreements that provide that certain of AMERCO’s directors and officers shall be indemnified and held harmless by AMERCO to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law or the Restated Articles of incorporation or Bylaws of AMERCO. AMERCO has established a trust fund with Harris Trust and Savings Bank as Trustee in order to fund its obligations under the Indemnification Agreements. AMERCO has agreed to maintain a minimum balance in the trust fund of $1,000,000. The Nevada General Corporation Law prohibits indemnification of a director or officer if a final adjudication establishes that the officer’s or director’s acts or omissions involved intentional misconduct, fraud, or a knowing violation of the law and were material to the cause of action. Despite the foregoing limitations on indemnification, the Nevada General Corporation Law may permit an officer or director to apply to the court for approval of indemnification even if the officer or director is adjudged to have committed intentional misconduct, fraud, or a knowing violation of the law. The Nevada General Corporation Law also provides that indemnification of directors is not permitted for the unlawful payment of distributions, except for those directors registering their dissent to the payment of the distribution.

Item 22. Undertakings

The undersigned registrants hereby undertake:

(1) To file, during any period in which offers or sales are being made, a post-effective amendment to this registration statement:

(i) To include any prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933;

(ii) To reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the registration statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in this registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high end of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of prospectus filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) if, in the aggregate, the changes in volume and price represent no more than 20 percent change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the "Calculation of Registration Fee" table in this registration statement; and provided, however, that the undertakings set forth in paragraphs (i) and (ii) above do not apply if the registration statement is on Form S-3, Form S-8 or Form F-3, and the information required to be included in a post-effective amendment by those paragraphs is contained in periodic reports filed with or furnished to the Commission by the registrant pursuant to Section 13 or Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 that are incorporated by reference in this registration statement.

(iii) To include any material information with respect to the plan of distribution not previously disclosed in this registration statement or any material change to such information in this registration statement;

(2) That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(3) To remove from registration by means of a post-effective amendment any of the securities being registered which remain unsold at the termination of the offering.

Table of Contents

(4) To respond to requests for information that is incorporated by reference into the prospectus pursuant to Items 4, 10(b), 11, or 13 of this form, within one business day of receipt of such request, and to send the incorporated documents by first class mail or other equally prompt means. This includes information contained in documents filed subsequent to the effective date of the registration statement through the date of responding to the request.

(5) To supply by means of a post-effective amendment all information concerning a transaction, and the company being acquired involved therein, that was not the subject of and included in this registration statement when it became effective.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission, such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question of whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

CERTIFICATE OF RESTATED ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF AMERCO

The undersigned, being the President and Secretary of AMERCO, a Nevada corporation, do hereby certify as follows:

1. That on November 5, 1996, the Directors of the corporation adopted and consented to the adoption of a resolution setting forth a proposed amendment to the Articles of Incorporation of the corporation, as hereinafter set forth, declaring the advisability thereof, and calling a meeting of the shareholders for the purpose of considering and voting upon the proposed amendments.
2. Said resolution called for the following amendment to said Articles of Incorporation attached as Exhibit A hereto and by this reference incorporated herein.
3. That on January 17, 1997, the shareholders of the corporation at a meeting, by vote of stockholders entitled to exercise at least two-thirds of the voting power of the corporation, adopted and consented to the adoption of a resolution setting forth the proposed amendment to the Articles of Incorporation as hereinabove set forth.
4. That the Articles of Incorporation of AMERCO, are hereby amended as set forth above and the undersigned make this certificate pursuant to Sections 78.385 and 78.390 of the Nevada Revised Statutes.
5. That the President and Secretary of AMERCO have been authorized to execute the Restated Articles of Incorporation of AMERCO by resolution of the Directors of the corporation adopted on November 5, 1996.
6. That the Restated Articles of Incorporation of AMERCO, pursuant to Section 78.403 of the Nevada Revised Statutes, correctly set forth the text of the Articles of Incorporation as amended to the date hereof.

Dated: January 23, 1997

RESTATED ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION
OF
AMERCO

The undersigned President and Secretary of AMERCO, in accordance with Section 78.403 of the General Corporation Law of Nevada, restate the Articles of Incorporation and to that end set forth that:

1. The name of the Corporation is AMERCO.
2. The name and address of the resident agent is The Corporation Trust Company of Nevada, One First Street, Reno, Nevada 89501.
3. The nature of the business and the objects and purposes to be transacted, promoted, or carried on by the Corporation are to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organized under the General Corporation Law of Nevada including but not in any way limited to acting as a holding company, and acquiring by purchase, merger, or otherwise, wholly or partially owned subsidiary corporations.
4. The Corporation shall have all the general and specific powers authorized for corporations in the General Corporation Law of Nevada as now or hereafter in effect.
5. The total number of shares of common stock which this corporation is authorized to issue is (i) One Hundred and Fifty Million (150,000,000) shares of common stock with a par value of Twenty-five Cents ($0.25) per share ("Common Stock"), and (ii) One Hundred and Fifty Million (150,000,000) shares of common stock ("Serial Common Stock"), with the Board of Directors having authority to issue shares of Serial Common Stock in one or more series (the number of shares of each series being determined by the Board of Directors), with or without par value, and with such voting powers, designations, preferences, limitations, restrictions, and relative rights as shall be stated or expressed in the resolution regarding such Serial Common Stock adopted by the Board of Directors pursuant to the authority expressly vested in it by this provision of the Articles of Incorporation, or any amendment thereto. For purposes of these Articles of Incorporation, the term "common stock" includes Common Stock and Serial Common Stock.

In addition to the common stock authorized to be issued by the foregoing paragraph, this corporation is authorized to issue Fifty Million (50,000,000) shares of Preferred Stock, with the Board of Directors having authority to issue such shares in one or more series (the number of shares of each series being determined by the Board of Directors), with or without par value, and with such voting powers, designations, preferences limitations, restrictions, and relative right as shall be stated or expressed in the resolution regarding such preferred stock adopted by the Board of Directors pursuant to the authority expressly vested in it by this provision of the Articles of Incorporation, or any amendment thereto.

6. For the management of the business, and for the conduct of the affairs of the Corporation, and for the further definition, limitation, and regulation of the powers of the Corporation and its directors and stockholders, it is further provided:

A. BOARD OF DIRECTORS. The Board of Directors shall consist of not less than 4 nor more than 8 directors, the exact number of directors to be determined from time to time solely by a resolution adopted by a majority of the entire Board of Directors. The directors shall be divided into four classes, designated Class I, Class II, Class III and Class IV. Subject to applicable law, each class shall consist, as nearly as may be possible, of one-fourth of the total number of directors constituting the entire Board of Directors. At the 1990 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, Class I directors shall be elected for a one-year term, Class II directors for a two-year term, Class III directors for a three-year term, and Class IV directors for a four-year term. At each succeeding annual meeting of stockholders, commencing in 1991, successors to the class of directors whose term expires at the annual meeting shall be elected or reelected for a four-year term.

If the number of directors is changed, any increase or decrease shall be apportioned among the classes of directors so as to maintain the number of directors in each class as nearly equal as possible, but in no case will a decrease in the number of directors shorten the term of any incumbent director. When the number of directors is increased by the Board of Directors and any newly created directorships are filled by the Board of Directors, there shall be no classification of the additional directors until the next annual meeting of stockholders.

A director shall hold office until the meeting for the year in which his or her term expires and until his or her successor shall be elected and shall qualify, subject however, to prior death, resignation, retirement, disqualification or removal from office.

Directors need not be stockholders. The names and addresses of the current members of the board of Directors are:

B. POWERS OF BOARD. In furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by the laws of the State of Nevada, the Board of Directors is expressly authorized and empowered:

(i) To make, alter, amend, and repeal the By-Laws, subject to the power of the Stockholders to amend the By-laws, which power may be exercised only by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of the Corporation entitled to vote, which vote must be by ballot at a duly constituted meeting of the Stockholders, the notice of which meeting must include the proposed amendment. This Article 6.B(i) may be amended only by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of the Corporation entitled to vote, which vote must be by ballot at a duly constituted meeting of the stockholders, the notice of which meeting must include the proposed amendment.

(ii) Subject to the applicable provisions of the By-Laws then in effect, to determine, from time to time, whether and to what extent, and at what times and places, and under what conditions and regulations, the accounts and books of the Corporation, or any of them, shall be open to stockholder inspection. No stockholder shall have any right to inspect any of the accounts, books or documents of the Corporation, except as permitted by law, unless and until authorized to do so, by resolution of the Board of Directors or of the Stockholders of the Corporation;

(iii) To authorize and issue, without stockholder consent, obligations of the Corporation, secured and unsecured, under such terms and conditions as the Board, in its sole discretion, may determine, and to pledge or mortgage, as security therefor, any real or personal property of the Corporation, including after-acquired property;

(iv) To determine whether any and, if so, what part, of the earned surplus of the Corporation shall be paid in dividends to the stockholders, and to direct and determine other use and disposition of any such earned surplus;

(v) To fix, from time to time, the amount of the profits of the Corporation to be reserved as working capital or for any other lawful purpose;

(vi) To establish bonus, profit-sharing, stock option, or other types of incentive compensation plans for the employees, including officers and directors, of the Corporation, and to fix the amount of profits to be shared or distributed, and to determine the persons to participate in any such plans and the amount of their respective participations;

(vii) To designate, by resolution or resolutions passed by a majority of the whole Board, one or more committees, each consisting of two or more directors, which, to the extent permitted by law and authorized by the resolution or the By-Laws, shall have and may exercise the powers of the Board;

(viii) To provide for the reasonable compensation of its own members by By-Laws, and to fix the terms and conditions upon which such compensation will be paid;

(ix) In addition to the powers and authority hereinbefore, or by statute, expressly conferred upon it, the Board of Directors may exercise all such powers and do all such acts and things as may be exercised or done by the Corporation, subject, nevertheless, to the provisions of the laws of the State of Nevada, of these Articles of Incorporation, and of the By-Laws of the Corporation.

C. A directors or officer of the corporation shall not be personally liable to this corporation or its stockholders for damages for beach of fiduciary duty as a director or officer, but this article shall not eliminate or limit the liability of a director or officer for (i) acts of omissions which involve intentional misconduct, fraud or a knowing violation of law or (ii) the unlawful payment of dividends. Any repeal or modification of this Article by the stockholders of the Corporation shall be prospective only, and shall not adversely affect any limitation on the personal liability of a director or officer of the corporation for acts or omissions prior to such repeal or modification.

7. [Intentionally Omitted as provided for in N.R.S. Section 78.403(3)].

8. Except as otherwise provided by the Board of Directors, no holder of any shares of the stock of the Corporation shall have any preemptive right to purchase, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire any shares of stock of the Corporation of any class now or hereafter authorized, or any securities exchangeable for or convertible into such shares, or any warrants or other instruments evidencing rights or options to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire such shares.

9. No contract or other transaction between this Corporation and any other Corporation shall be void or voidable because of the fact that any of the directors of this Corporation are interested in, or are directors of, such other Corporation, provided that the fact that he or such other Corporation is so interested shall be disclosed or shall have been known to the Board of Directors of this Corporation; and any director of the Corporation who is also a director or officer of such other Corporation, or is so interested, may be counted in determining the existence of a quorum at any meeting of the Board of Directors of the Corporation which shall authorize such contract or transaction, and may vote thereat to authorize any such contract or transaction, with like force and effect as if he were not such director or officer of such other corporation or not so interested.

10. The duration of this Corporation shall be perpetual.

11. The affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds (2/3) of the outstanding shares of common stock of this corporation entitled to vote shall be required to approve, adopt or authorize:

(A) Any agreement for the merger, consolidation, amalgamation or combination of this corporation with or into any other corporation which is an Interested Stockholder (as hereafter defined);

(B) Any sale, lease, exchange or other disposition to or with this corporation of any assets of any Interested Stockholder;

(C) Any sale, lease, exchange or other disposition by this corporation of all or substantially all of the assets of this corporation to or with an Interested Stockholder;

(D) Any plan or proposal for liquidation or dissolution of this corporation if any Shareholder of this corporation is an Interested Stockholder; or

(E) Any reclassification of securities (including any reverse stock split) or recapitalization of this corporation which has the effect, directly or indirectly, of increasing the proportionate share of the outstanding shares of any class of stock or convertible securities of this corporation, directly or indirectly owned by an Interested Stockholder.

As used herein, Interested Stockholder shall mean any person, firm, corporation or other entity which, as of the record date for the determination of Shareholders entitled to notice of and to vote on any of the above transactions, is the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of more than five percent (5%) of any class of voting stock of this corporation. For the purposes hereof, any person, firm, corporation or other entity shall be deemed to be the beneficial owner of any shares of voting stock of this corporation which (i) it has the right to acquire pursuant to any agreement or upon exercise of conversion rights, warrants or options, or otherwise, or (ii) are owned, directly or indirectly (including shares deemed owned through the application of clause (i) above), by any other person, firm, corporation or other entity with which it has any agreement, arrangement or understanding with respect to the acquisition, holding, voting or disposition of stock of this corporation, or which is its "affiliate" or "associate" as those terms are defined in the Rules and Regulations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

The Board of Directors of this corporation shall have the power and duty, by resolution adopted by the affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board of Directors, to determine (and such determination shall be conclusive) for the purposes of this Article 11, on the basis of information known to it, whether (i) any person, firm, corporation or other entity is the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of more than five percent (5%) of any class of voting stock of this corporation, (ii) any proposed sale, lease, exchange or other disposition involves all or substantially all of the assets of this corporation, or (iii) any person, firm, corporation or other entity has any agreement, arrangement or understanding with respect to the acquisition, holding, voting or disposition of stock of this corporation with any other person, firm, corporation or other entity.

Notwithstanding any other provision of these Articles of Incorporation, the affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds (2/3) of the outstanding shares of common stock of this corporation entitled to vote shall be required to amend, alter, change or repeal, or to adopt any provision inconsistent with, this Article 11.

The respective two-thirds voting requirements specified above for any of the transactions referred to in any one or more of paragraphs A through E above, or to amend, alter, change or repeal, or to adopt any provision inconsistent with, this Article 11, shall not be applicable to a proposed action which has been approved or recommended by majority of the Disinterested Directors. As used herein, a "Disinterested Director" means (i) any Director of the corporation who was a Director as of July 24, 1988, or (ii) was thereafter elected by the Shareholders or appointed by the Board of Directors of this corporation and was not at the time of such election or appointment associated with or an affiliate of an Interested Stockholder directly or indirectly involved in the transaction or proposal before the Board of Directors, or (iii) a person designated, before his election or appointment as a Director, as a Disinterested Director by a majority of Disinterested Directors then on the Board.

12. Stockholder action by written consent is prohibited. This Article 12 may be amended only by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of the Corporation entitled to vote, which vote must be by ballot at a duly constituted meeting of the Stockholders, the notice of which meeting must include the proposed amendment.

Such number of shares may be increased or decreased by resolution of the Board of Directors; provided, that no decrease shall reduce the number of shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock to number less than that of the shares than outstanding plus the number of shares issuable upon exercise of outstanding rights, options or warrants or upon conversion of outstanding securities issued by the Company.

Section 2. Dividends and Distributions.

(A) Subject to the rights of the holders of any shares of any series of preferred stock of the Company ranking prior and superior to the Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock with respect to dividends, the holders of shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock, in preference to the holders of shares of Common Stock, par value $0.25 per share, and shares of Serial Common Stock, par value $0.25, of the Company (the "Common Stock"), and of any other junior stock, shall be entitled to receive, when, as and if declared by the Board of Directors out of funds legally available for the purpose, quarterly dividends payable in cash on any regular quarterly dividend payment date as shall be established by the Board of Directors (each such date being referred to herein as a "Quarterly Dividend Payment Date"), commencing on the first Quarterly Dividend Payment Date after the first issuance of a share or fraction of a share of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock, in an amount per share (rounded to the nearest cent) equal to the greater of (a) $1.00 or (b) subject to the provision for adjustment hereinafter set forth, 100 times the aggregate per share amount of all cash dividends, and 100 times the aggregate per share amount (payable in kind) of all non-cash dividends or other distributions, other than a dividend payable in shares of Common Stock or a subdivision of the outstanding shares of Common Stock (by reclassification or otherwise), declared on the Common Stock since the immediately preceding Quarterly Dividend Payment Date or, with respect to the first Quarterly Dividend Payment Date, since the first issuance of any share or fraction of a share of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock. In the event the Company shall at any time after July 13, 1998 (the "Rights Declaration Date") declare or pay any dividend on the Common Stock payable in shares of Common Stock, or effect a subdivision or combination or consolidation of the outstanding shares of Common Stock (by reclassification or otherwise than by payment of a dividend in shares of Common Stock) into a greater or lesser number of shares of Common Stock, then in each such case the amount to which holders of shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock were entitled immediately prior to such event under clause (b) of the preceding sentence shall be adjusted by multiplying such amount by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately after such event and the denominator of which is the number of shares of Common Stock that were outstanding immediately prior to such event.

(B) The Company shall declare a dividend or distribution on the Series C Preferred Stock as provided in paragraph (A) of this Section immediately after it declares a dividend or distribution on the Common Stock (other than a dividend payable in shares of Common Stock); provided that, in the event no dividend or distribution shall have been declared on the Common Stock during the period between any Quarterly Dividend Payment Date and the next subsequent Quarterly Dividend Payment Date, a dividend of $1.00 per share on the Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock shall nevertheless be payable on such subsequent Quarterly Dividend Payment Date.

(C) Dividends shall begin to accrue and be cumulative on outstanding shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock from the Quarterly Dividend Payment Date next preceding the date of issue of such shares, unless the date of issue of such shares is prior to the record date for the first Quarterly Dividend Payment Date, in which case dividends on such shares shall begin to accrue from the date of issue of such shares, or unless the date of issue is a Quarterly Dividend Payment Date or is a date after the record date for the determination of holders of shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock entitled to receive a quarterly dividend and before such Quarterly Dividend Payment Date, in either of which events such dividends shall begin to accrue and be cumulative from such Quarterly Dividend Payment Date. Accrued but unpaid dividends shall not bear interest. Dividends paid on the shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock in an amount less than the total amount of such dividends at the time accrued and payable on such shares shall be allocated pro rata on a share-by-share basis among all such shares at the time outstanding. The Board of Directors may, in accordance with applicable law, fix a record date for the determination of holders of shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock entitled to receive payment of a dividend or distribution declared thereon, which record date shall be not more than such number of days prior to the date fixed for the payment thereof as may be allowed by applicable law.

Section 3. Voting Rights.

The holders of shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock shall have the following voting rights:

(A) Each share of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock shall entitle the holder thereof to 100 votes on all matters submitted to a vote of the stockholders of the Company. In the event the Company shall at any time after the Rights Declaration Date declare or pay any dividend on the Common Stock payable in shares of Common Stock, or effect a subdivision or combination or consolidation of the outstanding shares of Common Stock (by reclassification or otherwise than by payment of a dividend in shares of Common Stock) into a greater or lesser number of shares of Common Stock, then in each such case the number of votes to which holders of shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock were entitled immediately prior to such event under the preceding sentence shall be adjusted by multiplying such amount by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately after such event and the denominator of which is the number of shares of Common Stock that were outstanding immediately prior to such event.

(B) Except as otherwise provided herein, in the Company's Restated Articles of Incorporation or by law, the holders of shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock, the holders of shares of Common Stock, and the holders of shares of any other capital stock of the Company having general voting rights, shall vote together as one class on all matters submitted to a vote of stockholders of the Company.

(C) Except as otherwise set forth herein or in the Company's Restated Articles of Incorporation, and except as otherwise provided by law, holders of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock shall have no special voting rights and their consent shall not be required (except to the extent they are entitled to vote with holders of Common Stock as set forth herein) for taking any corporate action.

Section 4. Certain Restrictions.

(A) Whenever dividends or distributions payable on the Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock as provided in Section 2 are in arrears, thereafter and until all accrued and unpaid dividends and distributions, whether or not declared, on shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock outstanding shall have been paid in full, the Company shall not:

(i) declare or pay dividends on, make any other distributions on, or redeem or purchase or otherwise acquire for consideration any shares of stock ranking junior (either as to dividends or upon liquidation, dissolution or winding up) to the Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock;

(ii) declare or pay dividends on or make any other distributions on any shares of stock ranking on a parity (either as to dividends or upon liquidation, dissolution or winding up) with the Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock, except dividends paid ratably on the Series C Junior Participating Preferred stock and all such parity stock on which dividends are payable or in arrears in proportion to the total amounts to which the holders of all such shares are then entitled;

(iii) except as permitted in Section 4(A)(iv) below, redeem or purchase or otherwise acquire for consideration shares of any stock ranking on a parity (either as to dividends or upon liquidation, dissolution or winding up) with the Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock, provided that the Company may at any time redeem, purchase or otherwise acquire shares of any such parity stock in exchange for shares of any stock of the Company ranking junior (either as to dividends or upon dissolution, liquidation or winding up) to the Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock; and

(iv) purchase or otherwise acquire for consideration any shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock, or any shares of stock ranking on a parity with the Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock, except in accordance with a purchase offer made in writing or by publication (as determined by the Board of Directors) to all holders of such shares upon such terms as the Board of Directors, after consideration of the respective annual dividend rates and other relative rights and preference of the respective series and classes, shall determine in good faith will result in fair and equitable treatment among the respective series or classes.

(B) The Company shall not permit any subsidiary of the Company to purchase or otherwise acquire for consideration any shares of stock of the Company unless the Company could, under paragraph (A) of this Section 4, purchase or otherwise acquire such shares at such time and in such manner.

Section 5. Reacquired Shares.

Any shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock purchased or otherwise acquired by the Company in any manner whatsoever shall be retired and canceled promptly after the acquisition thereof. The Company shall cause all such shares upon their cancellation to be authorized but unissued shares of Preferred Stock which may be reissued as part of a new series of Preferred Stock, subject to the conditions and restrictions on issuance set forth herein.

Section 6. Liquidation, Dissolution or Winding Up.

(A) Subject to the rights of the holders of any shares of any series of Preferred Stock of the Company ranking prior and superior to the Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock with respect to liquidation, upon any liquidation (voluntary or otherwise), dissolution or winding up of the Company, no distribution shall be made to the holders of shares of stock ranking junior (either as to dividends or upon liquidation, dissolution or winding up) to the Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock unless, prior thereto, the holders of shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock shall have received $100.00 per share, plus an amount equal to accrued and unpaid dividends and distribution thereon, whether or not declared, to the date of such payment (the "Series C Liquidation Preference"). Following the payment of the full amount of the Series C Liquidation Preference, no additional distributions shall be made to the holders of shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock, unless, prior thereto, the holders of shares of Common Stock shall have received an amount per share (the "Common Adjustment") equal to the quotient obtained by dividing (i) the Series C Liquidation Preference by (ii) 100 (as appropriately adjusted as set forth in subparagraph C below to reflect such events as stock dividends, and subdivisions, combinations and consolidations with respect to the Common Stock) (such number in clause (ii) being referred to as the "Adjustment Number"). Following the payment of the full amount of the Series C Liquidation Preference and the Common Adjustment in respect of all outstanding shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock and Common Stock, respectively, holders of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock and holders of shares of Common Stock shall receive their ratable and proportionate share of the remaining assets to be distributed in the ratio of the Adjustment Number to 1 with respect to such Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock and Common Stock, on a per share basis, respectively.

(B) In the event there are not sufficient assets available to permit payment in full of the Series C Liquidation Preference and the liquidation preference of all other Series of Preferred Stock, if any, which rank on a parity with the Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock, then such remaining assets shall be distributed ratably to the holders of such parity shares in proportion to their respective liquidation Preferences. In the event there are not sufficient assets available to permit payment in full of the Common Adjustment, then such remaining assets shall be distributed ratably to the holders of Common Stock.

(C) In the event the company shall at any time after the rights Declaration Date declare or pay any dividend on Common Stock payable in shares of Common Stock, or effect a subdivision or combination or consolidation of the outstanding shares of Common Stock (by reclassification or otherwise than by payment of a dividend in of Common Stock) into a greater or lesser number of shares of Common Stock, then in each such case the Adjustment Number in effect immediately prior to such event shall be adjusted by multiplying such Adjustment Number by a fraction the numerator of which is the number of shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately after such event and the denominator of which is the number of shares of Common Stock that were outstanding immediately prior to such event.

Section 7. Consolidation Merger, etc.

In case the company shall enter into any consolidation merger, combination or other transaction in which the shares of Common Stock are exchanged for or changed into other Stock or securities, cash and/or any other Property, then in any such case the shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock shall at the same time be similarly exchanged or changed an amount per share (subject to the provision for adjustment hereinafter set forth) equal to 100 times the aggregate amount of Stock, securities, cash and/or any other property (payable in kind), as the case may be, into which or for which each share of Common Stock is changed or exchanged. In the event the Company shall at any time after the Rights Declaration Date Declare or pay any dividend on Common Stock payable in shares of Common Stock, or effect a subdivision or combination or consolidation of the outstanding shares of Common Stock (by reclassification or otherwise than by payment of dividend in shares of Common Stock) into a greater of lesser number of shares of Common Stock, then in each such case the amount set forth in the preceding sentence with respect to the exchange or change of shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock shall be adjusted by multiplying such amount by a fraction the numerator of which is the number of shares of Common Stock outstanding immediately after such event and the denominator of which is the number of shares of Common Stock that are outstanding immediately prior to such event.

Section 8. Redemption.

The shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock shall not be redeemable.

Section 9. Ranking.

The Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock shall rank Junior to all other Series of the Company's Preferred Stock as to the payment of dividends and the distribution of assets, unless the terms of any such series shall provide otherwise.

Section 10. Fractional Shares.

Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock may be issued in fractions of a share which shall entitle the holder, in proportion to such holder's fractional shares, to exercise voting rights, receive dividends, participate in distributions and to have the benefit of all other rights of holders of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock."

Pursuant to Section 78.1955(4) of the General Corporation Law of the State of Nevada, (a) attached is the original designation,(b) no shares of Series C Junior Participating Preferred Stock have been issued, and (c) set forth above is the amended and restated designation of the series, the number of the series, and the voting powers, designations, preferences, limitations, restrictions and relative rights of the series.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have executed and subscribed this Certificate and do affirm the foregoing as true under the penalties of perjury this 4th day of August, 1998.

CERTIFICATE OF CORRECTION

AMERCO

EXHIBIT A

Response to Item 4.

On February 21, 1997, AMERCO filed Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation which inadvertently failed to reference the terms of its Series A Common Stock (see Certificate of Designation filed February 4, 1994), Series B Common Stock (see Certificate of Designation filed August 29, 1996), Series A Preferred Stock (see Certificate of Designation filed October 15, 1993) and Series B Preferred Stock (see Certificate of Designation filed August 29, 1996).

RESTATED
OF
AMERCO

The undersigned President and Secretary of AMERCO, in accordance with Section 78.403 of the General Corporation Law of Nevada, restate the Articles of Incorporation and to that end set forth that:

1. The name of the Corporation is AMERCO.
2. The name and address of the resident agent is The Corporation Trust Company of Nevada, One First Street, Reno, Nevada 89501.
3. The nature of the business and the objects and purposes to be transacted, promoted, or carried on by the Corporation are to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organized under the General Corporation Law of Nevada including but not in any way limited to acting as holding company, and acquiring by purchase, merger, or otherwise, wholly or partially owned subsidiary corporations.
4. The Corporation shall have all the general and specific powers authorized for corporations in the General Corporation Law of Nevada as now or hereafter in effect.
5. The total number of shares of common stock which this corporation is authorized to issue is (i) One Hundred and Fifty Million (150,000,000) shares of common stock with a par value of Twenty-five Cents ($0.25) per share ("Common Stock"), and (ii) One Hundred and Fifty Million (150,000,000) shares of common stock ("Serial Common Stock"), with the Board of Directors having authority to issue shares of Serial Common Stock in one or more [ILLEGIBLE] the number of shares of each series being determined by the Board of Directors), with or without par value, and with such voting powers, designations, preferences, limitations, restrictions, and relative rights as shall be stated or expressed in the resolution regarding such Serial Common Stock adopted by the Board of Directors pursuant to the authority expressly vested in it by this provision of the Articles of Incorporation, or any amendment thereto. For purposes of these Articles of Incorporation, the term "common stock" includes Common Stock and Serial Common Stock. The voting powers, designations, preferences, limitations, restrictions, and relative rights of the Series A Common Stock are described on Exhibit A attached hereto. The voting powers, designations, preferences, limitations, restrictions, and relative rights of the Series B Common Stock are described on Exhibit B attached hereto.

In addition to the common stock authorized to be issued by the foregoing paragraph, this corporation is authorized to issue Fifty Million (50,000,000) shares of Preferred Stock with the Board of Directors having authority to issue such shares in one or more series (the number of shares of each series being determined by the Board of Directors), with or without par value, and with such voting powers, designations, preferences limitations, restrictions, and relative right as shall be stated or expressed in the resolution regarding such preferred stock adopted by the Board of Directors pursuant to the authority expressly vested in it by this provision of the Articles of Incorporation, or any amendment thereto. The voting powers, designations, preferences, limitations, restrictions, and relative rights of the Series A Preferred Stock are described on Exhibit C attached hereto. The voting powers, designations, preferences, limitations, restrictions, and relative rights of the Series B Preferred Stock are described on Exhibit D attached hereto.

6. For the management of the business, and for the conduct of the affairs of the Corporation, and for the further definition, limitation, and regulation of the powers of the Corporation and its directors and stockholders, it is further provided:

A. BOARD OF DIRECTORS. The Board of Directors shall consist of not less than 4 nor more than 8 directors, the exact number of directors to be determined from time to time solely by a resolution adopted by an affirmative vote of a majority of the entire Board of Directors. The directors shall be divided into four classes, designated Class I, Class II, Class III and Class IV. Subject to applicable law, each class shall consist, as nearly as may be possible, of one-fourth of the total number of directors constituting the entire Board of Directors. At the 1990 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, Class I directors shall be elected for a one-year term, Class II directors for a two-year term, Class III directors for a three-year term, and Class IV directors for a four-year term. At each succeeding annual meeting of stockholders, commencing in 1991, successors to the class of directors whose term expires at the annual meeting shall be elected or reelected for a four-year term.

If the number of directors is changed, any increase or decrease shall be apportioned among the classes of directors so as to maintain the number of directors in each class as nearly equal as possible, but in no case will a decrease in the number of directors shorten the term of any incumbent director. When the number of directors is increased by the Board of Directors and any newly created directorships are filled by the Board of Directors, there shall be no classification of the additional directors until the next annual meeting of stockholders.

A director shall hold office until the meeting for the year in which his or her term expires and until his or her successor shall be elected and shall qualify, subject, however, to prior death, resignation, retirement, disqualification or removal from office.

Directors need not be stockholders. The names and addresses of the current members of the board of Directors are:

B. POWERS OF BOARD. In furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by the laws of the State of Nevada, the Board of Directors is expressly authorized and empowered:

(i) To make, alter, amend, and repeal the By-Laws, subject to the power of the Stockholders to amend the By-laws, which power may be exercised only by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of the Corporation entitled to vote, which vote must be by ballot at a duly constituted meeting of the Stockholders, the notice of which meeting must include the proposed amendment. This Article 6.B(i) may be amended only by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of the Corporation entitled to vote, which vote must be by ballot at a duly constituted meeting of the stockholders, the notice of which meeting must include the proposed amendment.

(ii) Subject to the applicable provisions of the By-Laws then in effect, to determine, from time to time, whether and to what extent, and at what times and places, and under what conditions and regulations, the accounts and books of the Corporation, or any of them, shall be open to stockholder inspection. No stockholder shall have any right to inspect any of the accounts, books or documents of the Corporation, except as permitted by law, unless and until authorized to do so by resolution of the Board of Directors or of the Stockholders of the Corporation;

(iii) To authorize and issue, without stockholder consent, obligations of the Corporation, secured and unsecured, under such terms and conditions as the Board, in its sole discretion, may determine, and to pledge or mortgage, as security therefor, any real or personal property of the Corporation, including after-acquired property;

(iv) To determine whether any and, if so, what part, of the earned surplus of the Corporation shall be paid in dividends to the stockholders, and to direct and determine other use and disposition of any such earned surplus;

(v) To fix, from time to time, the amount of the profits of the Corporation to be reserved as working capital or for any other lawful purpose;

(vi) To establish bonus, profit-sharing, stock option, or other types of incentive compensation plans for the employees, including officers and directors, of the Corporation, and to fix the amount of profits to be shared or distributed, and to determine the persons to participate in any such plans and the amount of their respective participations:

(vii) To designate, by resolution or resolutions passed by a majority of the whole Board, one or more committees, each consisting of two or more directors, which, to the extent permitted by law and authorized by the resolution or the By-Laws, shall have and may exercise the powers of the Board;

(viii) To provide for the reasonable compensation of its own members by By-Laws, and to fix the terms and conditions upon which such compensation will be paid;

(ix) In addition to the powers and authority hereinbefore, or by statute, expressly conferred upon it, the Board of Directors may exercise all such powers and do all such acts and things as may be exercised or done by the Corporation, subject, nevertheless, to the provisions of the laws of the State of Nevada, of these Articles of Incorporation, and of the By-Laws of the Corporation.

C. A directors or officer of the corporation shall not be personally liable to this corporation or its stockholders for damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director or officer, but this article shall not eliminate or limit the liability of a director or officer for (i) acts of omissions which involve intentional misconduct, fraud or a knowing violation of law or (ii) the unlawful payment of dividends. Any repeal or modification of this Article by the stockholders of the Corporation shall be prospective only, and shall not adversely affect any limitation on the personal liability of a director or officer of the corporation for acts or omissions prior to such repeal or modification.

7. [Intentionally Omitted as provided for in N.R.S. Section 78.403(3)].

8. Except as otherwise provided by the Board of Directors, no holder of any shares of the stock of the Corporation shall have any preemptive right to purchase, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire any shares of stock of the Corporation of any class now or hereafter authorized, or any securities exchangeable for or convertible into such shares, or any warrants or other instruments evidencing rights or options to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire such shares.

9. [ILLEGIBLE] or other transaction between this Corporation and any other Corporation shall be void or voidable because of the fact that any of the directors of this Corporation are interested in, or are directors of, such other Corporation, provided that the fact that he or such other Corporation is so interested shall be disclosed or shall have been known to the Board of Directors of this Corporation; and any director of the Corporation who is also a director or officer of such other Corporation, or is so interested, may be counted in determining the existence of a quorum at any meeting of the Board of Directors of the Corporation which shall authorize such contract or transaction, and may vote thereat to authorize any such contract or transaction, with like force and effect as if he were not such director or officer of such other corporation or not so interested.

10. The duration of this Corporation shall be perpetual.

11. The affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds (2/3) of the outstanding shares of common stock of this corporation entitled to vote shall be required to approve, adopt or authorize:

(A) Any agreement for the merger, consolidation, amalgamation or combination of this corporation with or into any other corporation which is an Interested Stockholder (as hereafter defined);

(B) Any sale, lease, exchange or other disposition to or with this corporation of any assets of any Interested Stockholder;

(C) Any sale, lease, exchange or other disposition by this corporation of all or substantially all of the assets of this corporation to or with an Interested Stockholder;

(D) Any plan or proposal for liquidation or dissolution of this corporation if any Shareholder of this corporation is an Interested Stockholder; or

(E) Any reclassification of securities (including any reverse stock split) or recapitalization of this corporation which has the effect, directly or indirectly, of increasing the proportionate share of the outstanding shares of any class of stock or convertible securities of this corporation, directly or indirectly owned by an Interested Stockholder.

As used herein, Interested Stockholder shall mean any person, firm, corporation or other entity which, as of the record date for the determination of Shareholders entitled to notice of and to vote on any of the above transactions, is the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of more than five percent (5%) of any class of voting stock of this corporation. For the purposes hereof, any person, firms, corporation or other entity shall be deemed to be the beneficial owner of any shares of voting stock of this corporation which (i) it has the right to acquire pursuant to any agreement or upon exercise of conversion rights, warrants or options, or otherwise, or (ii) are owned, directly or indirectly (including shares deemed owned through the application of clause (i) above), by any other person, firm, corporation or other entity with which it has any agreement, arrangement or understanding with respect to the acquisition, holding, voting or disposition of stock of this corporation, or which is its "affiliate" or "associate" as those terms are defined in the Rules and Regulations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

The Board of Directors of this corporation shall have the power and duty, by resolution adopted by the affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board of Directors, to determine (and such determination shall be conclusive) for the purposes of this Article 11, on the basis of information known to it, whether (i) any person, firm, corporation or other entity is the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of more than five percent (5%) of any class of voting stock of this corporation, (ii) any proposed sale, lease, exchange or other disposition involves all or substantially all of the assets of this corporation, or (iii) any person, firm, corporation or other entity has any agreement, arrangement or understanding with respect to the acquisition, holding, voting or disposition of stock of this corporation with any other person, firm, corporation or other entity.

Notwithstanding any other provision of these Articles of Incorporation, the affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds (2/3) of the outstanding shares of common stock of this corporation entitled to vote shall be required to amend, alter, change or repeal, or to adopt any provision inconsistent with, this Article 11.

The respective two-thirds voting requirements specified above for any of the transactions referred to in any one or more of paragraphs A through E above, or to amend, alter, change or repeal, or to adopt any provision inconsistent with, this Article 11, shall not be applicable to a proposed action which has been approved or recommended by majority of the Disinterested Directors. As used herein, a "Disinterested Director" means (i) any Director of the corporation who was a Director as of July 24, 1988, or (ii) was thereafter elected by the Shareholders or appointed by the Board of Directors of this corporation and was not at the time of such election or appointment associated with or an affiliate of an Interested Stockholder directly or indirectly involved in the transaction or proposal before the Board of Directors, or (iii) a person designated, before his election or appointment as a Director, as a Disinterested Director by a majority of Disinterested Directors then on the Board.

12. Stockholder action by written consent is prohibited. This Article 12 may be amended only by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of the Corporation entitled to vote, which vote must be by ballot at a duly constituted meeting of the Stockholders, the notice of which meeting must include the proposed amendment.

Shares of the Series B Common Stock shall be entitled to receive such dividends and distributions as may be declared by the Board of Directors from time to time on a pari passu basis with the Corporation's Common Stock and Series A Common Stock and shall be payable, when and as declared by the Board of Directors.

(c) Conversion. The holders of shares of the Series B Common Stock shall not have any rights to convert such shares into or exchange such shares for shares of any other class or classes or of any other series of any class or classes of stock of the Corporation.

(d) Voting. The shares of the Series B Common Stock shall be entitled to one-tenth (1/10) of one vote per share.

(e) Liquidation Rights. Upon the dissolution, liquidation, or winding up of the affairs of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, the Series B Common Stock shall be entitled to distribution of the assets of the Corporation on a pari passu basis with the Corporation's Common Stock and Series A Common Stock.

EXHIBIT C

AMERCO

SERIES A PREFERRED STOCK

(a) Designation. A series of preferred stock is hereby designated "Series A 8 1/2% Preferred Stock." The number of shares constituting the Series A Preferred Stock is 6,100,000. Shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall have a liquidation preference of $25.00 per share and shall have no par value.

(b) Dividend Rate.

(i) Shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receive dividends at a fixed annual rate of $2.125 per share. Such dividends shall be cumulative from the date of original issue of such shares and shall be payable, when and as declared by the Board of Directors, quarterly for each of the quarters ending February, May, August, and November of each year, payable in arrears on the first business day that is not a legal holiday of each succeeding March, June, September, and December, commencing December 1, 1993. Each such dividend shall be paid to the holders of record of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock as they appear on the stock records of the Corporation on the applicable record date, not exceeding 15 days preceding the payment date thereof, as shall be fixed by the Board of Directors. Dividends on account of arrears for any past dividend periods may be declared and paid at any time, without reference to any regular dividend payment date, to holders of record on such date as may be fixed by the Board of Directors, which shall not exceed 15 days preceding such dividend payment date thereof.

(ii) No dividends shall be declared or paid or set apart for payment on any shares of any class or classes of stock of the Corporation or any series thereof ranking, as to dividends, on a parity with or junior to the Series A Preferred Stock for any period unless full cumulative dividends have been or contemporaneously are declared and paid, or declared and a sum sufficient for the payment thereof set apart for such payment, on the Series A Preferred Stock for all dividend payment periods terminating on or prior to the date of payment of such dividend. When dividends are not paid in full, as aforesaid, upon the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock and any other shares of any class or classes of stock or series thereof ranking on a parity as to dividends with the Series A Preferred Stock, all dividends declared upon shares of the Series A Preferred Stock and any other shares of such class or classes of series thereof ranking on a parity as to dividends with the Series A Preferred Stock shall be declared pro rata so that the amount of dividends declared per share of the Series A Preferred Stock and such other shares shall in all cases bear to each other the same ratio that accrued dividends per share on the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock and such other shares bear to each other. Holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall not be entitled to any dividend, whether payable in cash, property or stock, in excess of full cumulative dividends, as herein provided, on the Series A Preferred Stock. No interest, or sum of money in lieu of interest, shall be payable in respect of any dividend payment or payments on the Series A Preferred Stock that may be in arrears.

(iii) So long as any shares of the Series A Preferred Stock are outstanding, no dividend (other than a dividend in common stock or in any other shares ranking junior to the Series A Preferred Stock as to dividends and upon Liquidation (as defined in subsection (f) (i) and other than as provided in paragraph (ii) of this subsection (b)) shall be declared or paid or set aside for payment or other distribution declared or made upon the shares of any class or classes of stock of the Corporation or any series thereof ranking junior to or on a parity with the Series A Preferred Stock as to dividends or upon Liquidation nor shall any of the shares of any class or classes of stock of the Corporation or any series thereof ranking junior to or on a parity with the Series A Preferred Stock as to dividends or upon Liquidation be redeemed, purchased, or otherwise acquired or any consideration paid (or any moneys be paid to or made available for a sinking fund for the redemption of any such shares) by the Corporation, or any subsidiary thereof (except by conversion into or exchange for shares of the Corporation ranking junior to the Series A Preferred Stock as to dividends and upon liquidation), unless, in each case, the full cumulative dividends on all outstanding shares of the Series [ILLEGIBLE] Preferred Stock shall have been or contemporaneously are declared and paid, or declared and a sum sufficient for payment thereof is set apart for payment, for all past dividend payment periods.

(iv) Dividends payable on the Series A Preferred Stock for any period less than a full quarterly dividend period, and for the dividend period beginning on the date of issuance of the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, shall be computed on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of 12 30-day months. The amount of dividends payable on shares of the Series A Preferred Stock for each full quarterly dividend period shall be computed by dividing by 4 the annual rate per share set forth above in subsection (b) (i).

(c) Redemption.

(i) The shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall not be redeemable prior to December 1, 2000. On and after December 1, 2000, the Corporation, at its option, may redeem shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, as a whole or in part, for cash, at any time or from time to time, at a redemption price of $25.00 per share plus, in each case, accrued and unpaid dividends thereon to the date fixed for redemption.

(ii) In the event that fewer than all the outstanding shares of the Series A Preferred Stock are to be redeemed, the number of shares to be redeemed shall be determined by the Board of Directors and the shares to be redeemed shall be determined by lot or pro rata as may be determined by the Board of Directors or by any other method as may be determined by the Board of Directors in its sole discretion to be equitable.

(iii) In the event the Corporation shall redeem shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, notice of such redemption shall be given by first class mail, postage prepaid, mailed not less than 30 nor more than 60 days prior to the redemption date, to each holder of record of the shares to be redeemed, at such holder's address as the same appears on the stock records of the Corporation, or by publishing notice thereof in The Wall Street Journal or The New York Times, or, if neither such newspaper is then being published, any other daily newspaper of national circulation (each, an "Authorized Newspaper"). If the Corporation elects to provide such notice by publication, it shall also promptly mail notice of such redemption to each holder of the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock to be redeemed. Each such mailed or published notice shall state: (v) the redemption date; (w) the number of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock to be redeemed and, if fewer than all the shares held by such holder are to be redeemed, the number of such shares to be redeemed from such holder; (x) the redemption price; (y) the place or places where certificates for such shares are to be surrendered for payment of the redemption price; and (z) that dividends on the shares to be redeemed will cease to accrue on such redemption date. No defect in the notice of redemption or in the mailing thereof shall affect the validity of the redemption proceedings, and the failure to give notice to any holder of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock to be so redeemed shall not affect the validity of the notice given to the other holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock to be so redeemed.

(iv) Notice having been mailed as aforesaid, then, notwithstanding that the certificates evidencing the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall not have been surrendered, from and after the redemption date (unless default shall be made by the Corporation in providing money for the payment of the redemption price) dividends on the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock so called for redemption shall cease to accrue, and said shares shall no longer be deemed to be outstanding, and all rights of the holders thereof as stockholders (including dividend and voting rights) of the Corporation (except the right to receive from the Corporation the redemption price) shall cease. Upon surrender in accordance with said notice of the certificates for any shares so redeemed (properly endorsed or assigned for transfer, if the Board of Directors shall so require and the notice shall so state), such shares shall be redeemed by the Corporation at the redemption price aforesaid. In case fewer than all the shares represented by any such certificate are redeemed, a new certificate shall be issued representing the unredeemed shares without cost to the holder thereof.

(v) Any shares of the Series A Preferred Stock that shall at any time have been redeemed shall, after such redemption, in the discretion of the Board of Directors of the Corporation, be (x) held in treasury or (y) resume the status of authorized but unissued shares of preferred stock, without designation as to series, until such shares are once more designated as part of a particular series by the Board of Directors.

(vi) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subsection (c), if any dividends on the Series A Preferred Stock are in arrears, no shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall be redeemed unless all outstanding shares of the Series A Preferred Stock are simultaneously redeemed, and the Corporation shall not, and shall not permit any subsidiary thereof to, purchase or otherwise acquire any shares of the Series A Preferred Stock; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not prevent the purchase or acquisition of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock pursuant to a purchase or exchange offer made on the same terms to holders of all outstanding shares of the Series A Preferred Stock.

(d) Conversion. The holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall not have any rights herein to convert such shares into or exchange such shares for shares of any other class or classes or of any other series of any class or classes of stock of the Corporation.

(e) Voting. The shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall not have any voting powers either general or special, except as required by law and except that:

(i) So long as any of the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock are outstanding, the consent of the holders of at least two-thirds of all the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock at the time outstanding, given in person or by proxy, either in writing or by a vote at a meeting called for the purpose at which the holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall vote together as a separate class, shall be necessary for authorizing, affecting or validating the amendment, alteration, or repeal of any of the provisions of the Articles of Incorporation of the Corporation or of any certificate amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto (including any certificate of amendment or any similar document relating to any series of preferred stock) that would adversely affect the powers, preferences, or special rights of the Series A Preferred Stock, including the creation or authorization of any class of stock that ranks senior to the Series A Preferred Stock with respect to dividends or upon Liquidation. Any amendment or any resolution or action of the Board of Directors that would create or issue any series of preferred stock out of the authorized shares of preferred stock, or that would authorize, create, or issue any shares or class of stock (whether or not already authorized), ranking junior to or on a parity with the Series A Preferred Stock with respect to the payment of dividends and distributions and distributions upon any Liquidation, shall not be considered to affect adversely the powers, preferences, or special rights of the outstanding shares of the Series A Preferred Stock;

(ii) In the event that the Corporation shall have failed to declare and pay or set apart for payment in full the dividends accumulated on the outstanding shares of the Series A Preferred Stock for any six quarterly dividend payment periods, whether or not consecutive, and all such preferred dividends remain unpaid (a "Preferred Dividend Default"), the holders of outstanding shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, voting together as a class with the holders of all other series of preferred stock then entitled to vote on the election of such directors, shall be entitled to elect two directors to the Board of Directors of the Corporation until the full dividends accumulated on all outstanding shares of the Series A Preferred Stock have been declared and paid in full. Upon the occurrence of a Preferred Dividend Default, the Board of Directors shall within 10 business days (any day other than a day that is a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday on which banks are authorized to close in New York, New York) of such default call a special meeting of the holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock and all other holders of a series of preferred stock who are then entitled to participate in the election of such two directors for the purpose of electing the two directors provided by the foregoing provisions; provided that, in lieu of holding such meeting, the holders of record of a majority of the outstanding shares of the Series A Preferred Stock and all other series of preferred stock who are then entitled to participate in the election of such two directors may, by action taken by written consents permitted by law and the Articles of Incorporation and the Bylaws of the Corporation, elect such two directors. If and when all accumulated dividends on the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock have been declared and paid or set aside for payment in full, the holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall be divested of the special voting rights provided by this paragraph, subject to re-vesting in the event of each and every subsequent Preferred Dividend Default. Upon termination of such special voting rights attributable to all holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock and any other series of preferred stock, each director elected by the holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock and the holders of any other series of preferred stock (hereinafter referred to as a "Preferred Stock Director") pursuant to such special voting rights shall, without further action, be deemed to have resigned, subject always to the election of directors pursuant to the foregoing provisions in case of a future Preferred Dividend Default. Any Preferred Stock Director may be removed at any time with or without cause by, and shall not be removed otherwise than by, the vote of the holders of record of two-thirds of the outstanding shares of the Series A Preferred Stock and all other series of preferred stock who were entitled to participate in such Preferred Stock Director's election, voting as a separate class, at a meeting called for such purpose or by written consent as, and to the extent, permitted by law and the Articles of Incorporation and the Bylaws of the Corporation. So long as a Preferred Dividend Default shall continue, any vacancy in the office of a Preferred Stock Director shall be filled by written consent of the Preferred Stock Director remaining in office or, if none remains in office, by vote of the holders of record of a majority of the outstanding shares of the Series A Preferred Stock and all other series of preferred stock who are then entitled to participate in the election of such Preferred Stock Directors as provided above. As long as a Preferred Dividend Default shall continue, holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall not, as such stockholders, be entitled to vote on the election or removal of directors other than Preferred Stock Directors, but shall not be divested of any other voting rights provided to such stockholders by law with respect to any other matter to be acted upon by the stockholders of the Corporation. The Preferred Stock Directors shall each be entitled to one vote per director on any matter.

(f) Liquidation Rights.

(i) Upon the dissolution, liquidation, or winding up of the affairs of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary (collectively, a "Liquidation"), after payment or provision for payment has been made of the debts and other liabilities of the Corporation and payment or provision for payment has been made on all amounts required to be paid in respect of all outstanding shares of any class or classes of stock of the Corporation or series thereof ranking senior to the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, the holders of the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall be entitled, subject to paragraph

(iv) of this subsection (f), to receive out of the assets of the Corporation, before any payment or distribution shall be made on common stock or on any other class of stock ranking junior to preferred stock upon Liquidation, the amount of $25.00 per share, plus a sum equal to all dividends (whether or not earned or declared) on such shares accrued and unpaid thereon to the date of final distribution.

(ii) Neither the sale, transfer, or lease of all or any part of the property or business of the Corporation, nor the merger or consolidation of the Corporation into or with any other corporation or the merger or consolidation of any other corporation into or with the Corporation, shall be deemed to be a Liquidation for the purposes of this subsection (f).

(iii) After the payment to the holders of the shares of the Series A preferred Stock of the full preferential amounts provided for in this subsection (f), the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock as such shall have no right or claim to any of the remaining assets of the Corporation and the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall no longer be deemed to be outstanding or be entitled to any other powers, preferences, rights, or privileges, including voting rights, and such shares shall be surrendered for cancellation to the Corporation.

(iv) In the event the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to the holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock upon any Liquidation shall be insufficient to pay in full all amounts to which such holders are entitled pursuant to paragraph (i) of this subsection (f), no such distribution shall be made on account of any shares of any series of preferred stock ranking on a parity with the shares of the Series A Preferred stock upon such Liquidation unless proportionate distributive amounts shall be paid on account of the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, ratably, in proportion to the full distributable amounts to which holders of all such parity shares are respectively entitled upon such Liquidation.

(g) Priority. Any shares of any class or classes of the Corporation or series thereof shall be deemed to rank:

(i) Prior to the shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, either as to dividends or upon Liquidation, if the holders of such class or classes shall be entitled to the receipt of dividends or of amounts distributable upon Liquidation of the Corporation, in preference or priority to the holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock;

(ii) On a parity with shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, either as to dividends or upon

Liquidation, whether or not the dividend rates, dividend payment dates, or redemption or Liquidation prices per share or sinking fund provisions, if any, be different from those of the Series A Preferred Stock, if the holders of such shares shall be entitled to the receipt of dividends or of amounts distributable upon Liquidation of the Corporation, in proportion to their respective dividend rates or Liquidation prices, without preference or priority, one over the other, as between the holders of such shares and the holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock; and

(iii) Junior to shares of the Series A Preferred Stock, either as to dividends or upon Liquidation, if such class is common stock or if the holders of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall be entitled to receipt of dividends or of amounts distributable upon Liquidation of the Corporation, in preference or priority to the holders of shares of such class or classes.

(h) Sinking or Retirement Fund. The shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall not be entitled to the benefit of a sinking or retirement fund to be applied to the purchase or redemption of such shares.

(i) Miscellaneous.

(i) Subject to paragraph (iii) of subsection (c) above, all notices referred to herein shall be in writing, and all notices hereunder shall be deemed to have been given upon the earlier of receipt thereof or three business days after the mailing thereof if sent by first class mail with postage prepaid, addressed: if to the Corporation, to its offices at 1325 Airmotive Way, Suite 100, Reno, Nevada 89502-3239 (Attention: Secretary); if to a holder, to the address thereof shown on the security register maintained by the registrar for the Series A Preferred Stock; or to such other address as the Corporation or holder, as the case may be, shall have designated by notice similarly given.

(ii) In the event a holder of shares of the Series A Preferred Stock shall not by written notice designate the name to whom payment upon redemption of any shares of the Series A Preferred Stock should be made or the address to which the certificate or certificates representing such shares, or such payment, should be sent, the Corporation shall be entitled to register such shares, and make such payment, in the name of the holder of such shares as shown on the records of the Corporation and to send the certificate or certificates representing such shares, or such payment, to the address of such holder shown on the records of the Corporation.

EXHIBIT D

AMERCO

SERIES B PREFERRED STOCK

The Series Designated as Series B Preferred Stock (the "Series B Preferred"), will consist of 100,000 shares and will have the designations, preferences, voting powers, relative, participating, optional or other special rights and privileges, and the qualifications, limitations and restrictions described below. Shares of the Series B Preferred shall have liquidation rights as provided in Section 2 and shall have no par value. Certain capitalized terms used below have the meanings given in Section 11.

1. DIVIDENDS AND DISTRIBUTIONS.

a. REGULAR DIVIDENDS. Subject to the prior rights of the holders of Senior Shares, if any, the Holder, in preference to the holders of Junior Shares, shall be entitled, in conjunction with any provision then being made for the holders of Parity Shares, to receive, when, as and if declared by the Board of Directors, out of any funds of the Corporation lawfully available for the payment of dividends, payable on the last day of each Payment Period, cumulative cash dividends at, but not exceeding, (i) the product of the Conversion Value times the Floating Rate, plus (ii) any Additional Amounts, payable on the last day of each Payment Period following the date of this Certificate. If the stated dividends are not paid in full, the Series B Preferred and all Parity Shares shall share ratably in the payment of dividends, including accumulations thereof, if any, on such shares in accordance with the sums that would be payable on such shares if all dividends were paid in full.

b. NOTICE. The Holder will notify the Corporation of any event occurring after the date of this Certificate which will entitle the Holder to receive any Additional Amounts as promptly as practicable after it obtains knowledge thereof but in any event within thirty (30) days after it obtains knowledge thereof and determines to request such compensation. Determinations and allocations by the Holder for purposes hereof of the effect of any Regulatory Change on its costs of purchasing or holding the Series B Preferred or on amounts receivable by it in respect of the Series B Preferred and of the additional amounts required to compensate the Holder in respect of any Additional Amounts, shall be prima facie valid provided that such determinations and allocations are made on a reasonable basis.

c. PRIORITY. Any and all dividends payable on the Series B Preferred shall be paid in preference and in priority to the payment of dividends or distributions on any Junior Shares. So long as any Series B Preferred shares are outstanding, no dividends whatever shall be paid or declared, nor shall any distribution be made, on any Junior Shares, other than a dividend or distribution payable in Junior Shares, nor shall the Corporation or any subsidiary of the Corporation purchase, redeem or otherwise acquire for a consideration any Junior Shares, unless full cumulative dividends have been or contemporaneously are declared and paid, or declared and a sum sufficient for the payment thereof set apart for such payment, on the Series B Preferred for all Payment Periods terminating on or prior to the date of payment of such purchase, redemption or acquisition.

2. LIQUIDATION RIGHTS.

a. GENERALLY. In the event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, whether voluntary or involuntary, before any amount shall be paid to the holders of any Junior Shares, the Holder of the Series B Preferred shall be paid first out of the assets of the Corporation available for distribution to holders of its capital stock an amount per share equal to, but not exceeding, (i) the Conversion Value, as appropriately adjusted to reflect any stock split, stock dividend, combination, recapitalization and the like of the Series B Preferred, plus (ii) all accrued but unpaid dividends (including any interest accrued thereon calculated through the date of liquidation (the "Liquidation Date")). If, upon the occurrence of a liquidation, dissolution or winding up, the assets and funds thus distributed to the Holder shall be insufficient to permit the payment to the Holder of its full liquidation preferences, then the entire assets and funds of the Corporation legally available for distribution to the holders of capital stock (other than Senior Shares) shall be distributed ratably to the Holder and the holders of any Parity Shares.

b. EVENTS DEEMED A LIQUIDATION. For purposes of this Section 2, the Holder may elect to have treated as a liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation the consolidation or merger of the Corporation with or into any other corporation or the sale or other transfer in a single transaction or a series of related transactions of all or substantially all of the assets of the Corporation, or any other reorganization of the Corporation, unless the stockholders of the Corporation immediately prior to any such transaction are holders of a majority [ILLEGIBLE] voting securities of the surviving or acquiring corporation immediately thereafter (and for purposes of this calculation equity securities which any stockholder or the Corporation owned immediately prior to such merger or consolidation as a stockholder of another party to the transaction shall be disregarded).

c. PRIORITY. Any amounts payable on the Series B Preferred in the event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation shall be paid in preference and in priority to the payment of any amounts payable on Junior Shares.

3. CONVERSION. The Holder has conversion rights as follows (the "Conversion Rights"):

a. RIGHT TO CONVERT. Upon each of the following to occur from time to time: (i) August 31, 1997, and for 10 Business Days thereafter; (ii) the first day of each fiscal quarter of the Corporation occurring after August 31, 1997, and for 10 Business Days after the first day of each such fiscal quarter; (iii) the expiration of ten days after the occurrence of an Event of Noncompliance under the Stock Purchase Agreement that is not then cured, and at any time thereafter; (iv) any dividends on the Series B Preferred becoming in arrears, and at any time thereafter; (v) the Corporation no longer holding more than 50% of the outstanding stock and assets of any of Ponderosa Holdings, Inc., Oxford Life Insurance Company or Republic Western Insurance Company, and at any time thereafter; or (vi) the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries completing any Excess Equity Offering, and at any time thereafter, then each share of Series B Preferred shall be convertible, at the option of the Holder, into either:

- i. the number of fully paid and nonassessable shares of Series B Common Stock that results from dividing the Conversion Price per share in effect at the time of conversion into the per share Conversion Value but no more than the maximum amount authorized and available for issuance; or
- ii. all of the shares of capital stock of Picacho then outstanding.

Upon conversion, all accrued but unpaid dividends (including interest accrued thereon calculated as of the Conversion Date) on the Series B Preferred shall be paid in cash, to the extent permitted by applicable law.

b. CONVERSION PRICE AND CONVERSION VALUE. The initial Conversion Price of the Series B Preferred shall be $25.00 per share, and the initial Conversion Value of the Series B Preferred shall be $1,000.00 per share. The initial Conversion Price of the Series B Preferred shall be subject to adjustment from time to time as provided in Section 3(d).

c. MECHANICS OF CONVERSION. To convert any shares of Series B Preferred, the Holder shall surrender the certificate or certificates therefor, duly endorsed, at the principal office of the Corporation, or notify the Corporation in writing that such certificates have been lost, stolen or destroyed and agree to indemnify the Corporation from any loss incurred by it in connection with such certificates, and shall give written notice (the "Conversion Notice") to the Corporation at such office that the Holder elects to convert the same, specifying whether the Series B Preferred shares are to be converted into Series B Common Stock or shares of Picacho. As soon as practicable (but not more than one Business Day) after such delivery, or after such [ILLEGIBLE] the Corporation shall issue and deliver at such office to the Holder, unless the Corporation shall elect instead to redeem the Series B Preferred as provided in Section 5:

- i. A certificate or certificates for the number of shares of Series B Common Stock to which the Holder shall be entitled if the Holder has elected to convert the Series B Preferred into Series B Common Stock; or
- ii. A certificate or certificates for all of the outstanding shares of Picacho, if the Holder has elected to convert the Series B Preferred into Picacho stock; and, in either case, a check payable to the Holder in the amount of any accrued or declared but unpaid dividends payable pursuant to Section 1, if any. Such conversion shall be deemed to have been made immediately prior to the close of business on the date of such surrender of the shares of Series B Preferred to be converted or of the notification of lost certificates and the persons entitled to shares of Series B Common Stock or Picacho stock issuable upon such conversion shall be treated for all purposes as the record holder or holders of such shares on such date (the "Conversion Date"). In the event of a notice of redemption of any shares of Series B Preferred pursuant to Section 5, the Conversion Rights shall terminate at the close of business on the Redemption Date, unless default is made in payment of the redemption price, in which case the Conversion Rights for such shares shall continue until such payment.

d. ADJUSTMENTS TO CONVERSION PRICE.

i. ADJUSTMENT OF CONVERSION PRICE. The Conversion Price of the Series B Preferred shall be adjusted if the Corporation issues or is deemed to issue Additional Shares of Common Stock for a consideration per share that is less than the Conversion Price for the Series B Preferred in effect on the date of, and immediately prior to, such issue or deemed issue.

ii. DEEMED ISSUE OF ADDITIONAL SHARES OF COMMON STOCK. If the Corporation at any time or from time to time after the date of this Certificate issues any Options or Convertible Securities or shall fix a record date for the determination of holders of any class of securities entitled to receive any such Options or Convertible Securities, then the maximum number of shares, (as set forth in the instrument relating thereto without regard to any provisions contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such number) of Common Stock issuable upon the exercise of such Options or, in the case of Convertible Securities and Options therefor, the exercise of such Options and conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, shall be deemed to be Additional Shares of Common Stock issued as of the time of such issue or, in case such a record date shall have been fixed, as of the close of business on such record date, provided that Additional Shares of Common Stock shall not be deemed to have been issued unless the consideration per share (determined pursuant to Section 3(d)(iv)) of such Additional Shares of Common Stock would be less than the Conversion Price in effect on the date of and immediately prior to such issue, or such record date, as the case may be, and provided further that in any such case in which Additional Shares of Common Stock are deemed to be issued:

(1) except as provided in Section 3(d)(ii)(2), no further adjustment in the Conversion Price shall be made upon the subsequent issue of Convertible Securities or shares of Common Stock upon the exercise of such Options or conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities;

(2) if such Options or Convertible Securities by their terms provide, with the passage of time or otherwise, for any change in the consideration payable to the Corporation, or change in the number of shares of Common Stock issuable, upon the exercise, conversion or exchange thereof (other than under or by reason of provisions designed to protect against dilution), the Conversion Price computed upon the original issue thereof (or upon the occurrence of a record date with respect thereto) and any subsequent adjustments based thereon, shall, upon any such increase or decrease becoming effective, be recomputed to reflect such increase or decrease insofar as it affects such Options or the rights of conversion or exchange under such Convertible Securities; and

(3) no readjustment pursuant to clause (2) above shall have the effect of increasing the Conversion Price.

iii. ADJUSTMENT OF CONVERSION PRICE UPON ISSUANCE OF ADDITIONAL SHARES OF COMMON STOCK. Except as provided by Section 3(d)(ii)(2). In the event the Corporation shall issue Additional Shares of Common Stock (including Additional Shares of Common Stock deemed to be issued pursuant to Section 3(d)(ii)) without consideration or for a consideration per share less than the Conversion Price of the Series B Preferred in effect on the date of and immediately prior to such issue, then and in each such event the Conversion Price of the Series B Preferred shall be reduced to the price (calculated to the nearest cent) [ILLEGIBLE] which the Additional Shares of Common Stock are issued.

iv. DETERMINATION OF CONSIDERATION. For purposes of this Section 3(d), the consideration received by the Corporation for the issue of any Additional Shares of Common Stock shall be determined after payment of all commissions paid or discounts given in connection with the issuance or deemed issuance of the shares and shall be computed as follows:

(1) CASH AND PROPERTY: Such consideration shall:

(a) insofar as it consists of cash, be computed at the aggregate amount of cash received by the Corporation;

(b) insofar as it consists of property other than cash, be computed at the fair value thereof at the time of such issue, as determined by the Board of Directors in the good faith exercise of its reasonable business judgment: and

(c) in the event Additional Shares of Common Stock are issued together with other shares or securities or other assets of the Corporation for consideration that covers both, be the proportion of such consideration so received for the Additional Shares of Common Stock, computed as provided in clauses (a) and (b) above, as determined by the Board of Directors in the good faith exercise of its reasonable business judgment.

(2) OPTIONS AND CONVERTIBLE SECURITIES. The consideration per share received by the Corporation for Additional Shares of Common Stock deemed to have been issued pursuant to Section 3(d)(ii), relating to Options and Convertible Securities, shall be determined by dividing:

(a) the total amount, if any, received or receivable by the Corporation as consideration for the issue of such Options or Convertible Securities, plus the minimum aggregate amount of additional consideration (as set forth in the instruments relating thereto, without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such consideration) payable to the Corporation upon the exercise of such Options or the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, or in the case of Options for Convertible Securities, the exercise of such Options for Convertible Securities and the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities, by

(b) the maximum number of shares of Common Stock (as set forth in the instruments relating thereto, without regard to any provision contained therein for a subsequent adjustment of such number) issuable upon the exercise of such Options or the conversion or exchange of such Convertible Securities.

v. OTHER ADJUSTMENTS.

(a) SUBDIVISIONS, COMBINATIONS, OR

CONSOLIDATIONS OF SERIES B COMMON STOCK. In the event the outstanding shares of Series B Common Stock shall be subdivided, combined or consolidated, by stock split, stock dividend, combination or like event, into a greater or lesser number of shares of Series B Common Stock, the Conversion Price of the Series B Preferred in effect immediately prior to such subdivision, combination, consolidation or stock dividend shall, concurrently with the effectiveness of such subdivision, combination or consolidation, be proportionately adjusted to achieve the result that, upon conversion of the Series B Preferred into Series B Common Stock, the Holder shall receive, as nearly as possible, the same percentage of the outstanding shares of Series B Common Stock that it would have had the Series B Preferred been converted immediately prior to such subdivision, combination or consolidation.

(b) RECLASSIFICATIONS. In the case, at any time after the date of this Certificate, of any capital reorganization or any reclassification of the stock of the Corporation (other than as a result of a subdivision, combination or consolidation of shares), or the consolidation or merger of the Corporation with or into another person (other than a consolidation or merger (A) in which the Corporation is the continuing entity and that does not result in any change in the Common Stock or (B) that is treated as a liquidation pursuant to Section 2(b)), the Conversion Price shall be adjusted so that the shares of the Series B Preferred shall, after such reorganization, reclassification, consolidation or merger, be convertible into the kind and number of shares of stock or other securities or property of the Corporation or otherwise to which the Holder would have been entitled if immediately prior to such reorganization, reclassification, consolidation or merger if the Holder had converted the shares of the Series B Preferred into Series B Common Stock. The provisions of this clause 3(d)(v)(b) shall similarly apply to [ILLEGIBLE] reorganizations, reclassifications, consolidations or mergers.

e. NO ADJUSTMENTS TO CONVERSION VALUE. The Corporation shall not effect any stock split, stock dividend, combination or recapitalization of the Series B Preferred and, therefore, the Conversion Value of the Series B Preferred will not be adjusted.

f. CERTIFICATE AS TO ADJUSTMENTS. Upon the occurrence of each adjustment or readjustment of the Conversion Price of the Series B Preferred pursuant to this Section 3, the Corporation at its expense shall promptly compute such adjustment or readjustment in accordance with the terms of this Certificate and furnish to the Holder a certificate setting forth such adjustment or readjustment and showing in detail the facts upon which such adjustment or readjustment is based. The Corporation shall, upon the written request at any time of the Holder, furnish or cause to be furnished to the Holder a like certificate setting forth (i) such adjustments and readjustments,

(ii) the Conversion Price of the Series B Preferred at the time in effect, and

(iii) the number of shares of Series B Common Stock and the amount, if any, of other property which at the time would be received upon the conversion of the Series B Preferred.

g. STATUS OF CONVERTED STOCK. In case any shares of Series B Preferred shall be converted pursuant to Section 3, the shares so converted shall be canceled, shall not be reissuable and shall cease to be part of the outstanding capital stock of the Corporation.

h. FRACTIONAL SHARES. In lieu of any fractional shares of Series B Common Stock to which the Holder would otherwise be entitled upon conversion, the Corporation shall pay cash equal to such fraction multiplied by the fair market value of one share of Series B Common Stock as determined by the Board of Directors in the good faith exercise of its reasonable business judgment.

i. Miscellaneous.

i. All calculations under this Section 3 shall be made to the nearest cent or to the nearest one hundredth (1/100) of a share, as the case may be.

ii. The Holder shall have the right to challenge any determination by the Board of Directors of fair market value pursuant to this Section 3, in which case such determination of fair market value shall be made by an independent appraiser selected jointly by the Board of Directors and the Holder, the cost of such appraisal to be borne equally by the Corporation and the Holder.

iii. No adjustment in the Conversion Price of the Series B Preferred need be made if such adjustment would result in a change in such Conversion Price of less than $0.01. Any adjustment of less than $0.01 that is not made shall be carried forward and shall be made at the time of and together with any subsequent adjustment that, on a cumulative basis, amounts to an adjustment of $0.01 or more in such conversion Price.

j. RESERVATION OF STOCK ISSUABLE UPON CONVERSION. The Corporation shall at all times reserve and keep available out of its authorized but unissued shares of Series B Common Stock, solely for the purpose of effecting the conversion of the shares of Series B Preferred, such number of its shares of Series B Common Stock as shall from time to time be sufficient to effect the conversion of all outstanding shares of Series B Preferred. If at any time the number of authorized but unissued shares of Series B Common Stock shall not be sufficient to effect the conversion of all then outstanding shares of Series B Preferred, the Corporation will take such corporate action as may, in the opinion of its counsel, be necessary to increase its authorized but unissued shares of Series B Common Stock to such number of shares as shall be sufficient for such purpose.

4. VOTING RIGHTS.

a. Except as otherwise required by law and Subsection 4(b), the Holder shall have no voting rights with respect to the Series B Preferred.

b. So long as any of the shares of Series B Preferred are outstanding, the written consent of the Holder shall be necessary for authorizing, affecting or validating the amendment, alteration, or repeal of any of the provisions of the Articles of Incorporation of the Corporation or of any certificate amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto (including any certificate of amendment or any similar document relating to any series of preferred stock) that would adversely affect the powers, preferences, or special rights of the Series B Preferred, including the creation or authorization of any class of Senior Shares or Parity Shares. Any amendment or any resolution or action of the Board of Directors that would create or issue any series of Junior Shares out of the authorized shares of preferred stock, or that would authorize, create, or issue any other Junior Shares (whether or not already authorized), shall not be considered to affect adversely the powers, preferences, or special rights of the outstanding shares of the Series B Preferred.

5. REDEMPTION.

a. OPTIONAL REDEMPTION. If the Holder exercises its Conversion Rights pursuant to Section 3, then instead of effecting the conversion, the Corporation may, by giving written notice to the Holder (a "Notice of Redemption") not later than one Business Day after receiving the Conversion Notice, elect to redeem all (but not less than all) of the Series B Preferred outstanding on the Redemption Date.

b. REDEMPTION VALUE. Upon any redemption of the Series B Preferred, the Corporation shall pay out of funds legally available therefor in cash a sum per share equal to the Conversion Value, together with (i) all accrued but unpaid dividends (including any interest accrued thereon) calculated as of the Redemption Date, (ii) if the Redemption Date is a date other than the last day of a Payment Period, the Interim Payment; and (iii) all other costs, fees, expenses, or amounts the Corporation is required to pay Holder pursuant to the Stock Purchase Agreement, regardless of the reason for such redemption or such costs, fees, expenses, or amounts (collectively the "Redemption Value").

c. NOTICE OF REDEMPTION. Any Notice of Redemption given by the Corporation shall be delivered to the Holder, notifying the Holder of the redemption to be effected. The Notice of Redemption shall:

i. State that the Series B Preferred is to be redeemed;

ii. Specify the date (the "Redemption Date") on which the Series B Preferred is to be redeemed, which shall be not more than ten Business Days following the date the Corporation receives the Conversion Notice from the Holder;

iii. Request wire transfer or other instructions for the payment of the Redemption Value.

d. TRANSFER INSTRUCTIONS. Not less than one Business Day after delivery of the Notice of Redemption, the Holder shall provide the Corporation with instructions for wire or other transfer of the Redemption Value to the Holder.

e. COMPLETING THE REDEMPTION. On the Redemption Date:

i. The Holder shall surrender to the Corporation at the principal offices of the Corporation the Holder's certificate or certificates representing the shares to be redeemed or provide a notice to the Corporation in writing that such certificates have been lost, stolen or destroyed and that the Holder agrees to indemnify the Corporation from any loss incurred by it in connection with such certificates; and

ii. The Corporation shall pay the Redemption Value to the Holder by wire or other transfer acceptable to the Holder, and thereupon each surrendered or lost certificate shall be canceled.

f. LACK OF LEGALLY AVAILABLE FUNDS. If the funds of the Corporation legally available for redemption of the Series B Preferred are insufficient to redeem the total number of shares of Series B Preferred required to be redeemed on the Redemption Date, then, at the Holder's election in its sole discretion, the Corporation either shall redeem that number of shares of Series B Preferred for which the Corporation has funds legally available or shall not redeem any of the Series B Preferred.

g. EFFECT OF REDEMPTION. From and after the payment of the Redemption Value, all rights of the Holder shall cease with respect to such shares, and such shares shall not thereafter be transferred on the books of the Corporation or be deemed to be outstanding for any purpose whatsoever.

6. NOTICE OF RECORD DATE. In the event of any taking by the Corporation of a record of the holders of any class of securities for the purpose of determining the holders thereof who are entitled to receive any dividend or other distribution, any right to subscribe for [ILLEGIBLE] otherwise acquire any shares of stock of any class or any other securities or property, or to receive any other right, the Corporation shall notify the Holder, at least 10 days prior to the date specified therein, a notice specifying the date on which any such record is to be taken for the purpose of such dividend, distribution or right, and the amount and character of such dividend, distribution or right.

7. NOTICES. All notices and other communications provided for in this Certificate shall be given or made in writing and telecopied, mailed by certified mail return receipt requested or delivered to the intended recipient at such address as shall be designated by such person in a notice to each other relevant person given in accordance with this Section, in addition to any other notices that may be required by law. All such communications shall be deemed to have been duly given when transmitted by telecopy, subject to telephone confirmation or receipt, or when personally delivered or, in the case of a mailed notice, upon receipt, in each case given or addressed as provided herein.

8. WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL. TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, THE CORPORATION HEREBY IRREVOCABLY AND EXPRESSLY WAIVES ALL RIGHT TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY ACTION, PROCEEDING, OR

COUNTERCLAIM (WHETHER BASED UPON CONTRACT, TORT, OR OTHERWISE) ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THE SERIES B PREFERRED SHARES, THE STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED THEREBY OR THE ACTIONS OF THE HOLDER IN THE NEGOTIATION, ADMINISTRATION, OR ENFORCEMENT THEREOF.

9. INTEREST. Any amounts required to be paid under this Certificate that are not paid on the first day such payment may be made and any dividends in arrears shall bear interest from that date at the lesser of (a) the Maximum Rate or (b) the sum of four percent plus the rate per annum publicly announced from time to time by NationsBank, N.A. as its prime rate in effect at its principal office in Charlotte, North Carolina.

10. MAXIMUM RATE. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, in the event the Series B Preferred shall be deemed to be debt instead of equity, no provisions of this Certificate shall require the payment or permit the collection of interest in excess of the Maximum Rate. If any excess of interest in such respect shall be adjudicated to be so provided in this Certificate or otherwise in connection with the Series B Preferred, the provisions of this paragraph shall govern and prevail, and neither the Corporation nor the successor or assigns of the Corporation shall be obligated to pay the excess amount of such interest, or any other excess sum paid with respect to the Series B Preferred. If, for any reason, interest in excess of the Maximum Rate shall be deemed charged, required or permitted by any court of competent jurisdiction, any such excess shall be applied as a payment and reduction of the principal of indebtedness deemed to be evidenced by the Series B Preferred; and, if such principal has been paid in full, any remaining excess shall forthwith be paid to the Corporation. In determining whether or not the interest paid or payable exceed the Maximum Rate, the Corporation and the Holder shall, to the extent permitted by applicable law, (i) characterize any nonprincipal payment as an expense, fee, or premium rather than as interest, (ii) exclude voluntary prepayments and the effects thereof [ILLEGIBLE] (iii) amortize, prorate, allocate, and spread in equal or unequal parts the total amount of interest throughout the entire term of the indebtedness deemed to be evidenced by the Series B Preferred so that the interest for the entire period does not exceed the Maximum Rate.

11. DEFINITIONS.

a. Capitalized terms used in this Certificate and not otherwise defined have the meanings given to those terms in the Series B Stock Purchase Agreement between the Corporation and Blue Ridge Investments, LLC, dated August 30, 1996.

b. "Additional Amounts" means such amounts, if any, as are necessary to compensate the Holder for any costs incurred by Holder which the Holder determines are attributable, directly or indirectly, to its purchase or holding of the Series B Preferred or any reduction in any amount receivable by the Holder as a holder of the Series B Preferred to the extent such costs and reductions in amount are not reflected in any dividends, fees, reimbursements or other amounts received by the Holder hereunder or under the Stock Purchase Agreement, resulting from (i) an increase (over the dividend rate paid hereunder) in the cost of funding the purchase of the Series B Preferred, or (ii) any Regulatory Change which:

(A) changes the basis of taxation of any amounts payable generally to NationsBank under Eurodollar loans (other than taxes imposed on the overall net income of NationsBank or its applicable lending office for any of such loans by the jurisdiction in which NationsBank has its principal office or such applicable lending office);

(B) imposes or modifies any reserve, special deposit, minimum capital, capital ratio, or similar requirement relating to any extensions of credit or other assets of, or any deposits with or other liabilities or commitments of, NationsBank (including any of such loans or any deposits referred to in the definition of "Floating Rate" herein); or

(C) imposes any other condition generally affecting loans by NationsBank or any of such extensions of credit or liabilities or commitments.

c. "Additional Shares of Common Stock" means all shares of Common Stock issued (or, pursuant to Section 3(d)(ii), deemed to be issued) by the corporation after the date of this Certificate, other than shares of Common Stock issued or issuable:

i. upon conversion of shares of Series B Preferred;

ii. as a dividend or distribution on Series B Preferred;

iii. in a transaction described in Section 3(d)(v);

iv. by way of dividend or other distribution on shares of Common Stock excluded from the definition of Additional Shares of Common Stock.

d. "Affiliate" has the meaning given that term in Rule 405 promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission under the Securities Act.

e. "Business Day" means (a) any day on which commercial banks are not authorized or required to close in Charlotte, North Carolina and (b) with respect to all payments, Conversions, Payment Periods, and notices, any day which is a Business Day described in clause (a) above and which is also a day on which dealings in dollar deposits are carried out in the London interbank market.

f. "Common Stock" means shares of the Corporation's common stock, par value $0.25 per share, serial common stock, or other securities entitled generally to vote in the election of directors of the Corporation.

g. "Conversion Date" has the meaning given in Section 3(c).

h. "Conversion Notice" has the meaning given in Section 3(c).

i. "Conversion Price" has the meaning given in Section 3(b).

j. "Conversion Value" has the meaning given in Section 3(b).

k. "Convertible Securities" means any evidences of indebtedness, shares or other securities convertible into or exchangeable for Common Stock, except the Series B Preferred.

l. "Corporation" means AMERCO, a Nevada corporation.

m. "Excess Equity Offering" means any offer or sale of equity securities of the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries, whether public or private, after the date of this Certificate, other than (i) the offer and sale of Series B Preferred issued to Holder, (ii) the offer and sale by the Corporation of up to $125,000,000 of equity securities in a single transaction occurring on or before March 1, 1997, and (iii) issuances of equity securities to employees of the Corporation or its subsidiaries pursuant to written employee benefit plans existing on the date of this Certificate in the maximum amount permitted under such plans or arrangements on the date of this Certificate.

n. "Floating Rate" means, for any Payment Period, the rate per annum that is the lesser of (x) the sum of (i) two and one-quarter percent (2.25 %), and (ii) the rate per annum (rounded upwards, if necessary, to the nearest 1/100 of 1%) appearing on Telerate Page 3750 (or any successor page) as the London interbank offered rate for deposits in Dollars at approximately 11:00 a.m. (London time) two Business Days prior to the first day of such Payment Period for a term comparable to such Payment Period, or if for any reason such rate is not available, the rate per annum (rounded upwards, if necessary, to the nearest 1/100 of 1%) appearing on Reuters Screen LIBO Page (or any successor page) as the London interbank offered rate for deposits in Dollars at approximately 11:00 a.m. (London time) two Business Days prior to the first day of such Payment Period for a term comparable to such Payment Period; provided, however, if more than one rate is specified on Reuters Screen LIBO Page, the applicable rate shall be the [ILLEGIBLE] mean of all such rates, or (y) the Maximum Rate. Dividends shall be computed on the basis of a year of 360 days and the actual number of days elapsed (including the first day but excluding the last day) during the Payment Period unless such calculation would result in the dividends exceeding the Maximum Rate, in which case dividends shall be calculated on the basis of a year of 365 or 366 days, as the case may be. Notwithstanding the first sentence of this paragraph, if at any time the dividend is limited by the terms of this Certificate to the Maximum Rate, then any subsequent reduction in the Floating Rate shall not reduce the dividend below the Maximum Rate until the aggregate amount of dividends accrued [ILLEGIBLE] the aggregate amount of dividends which would have accrued on the Series B Preferred if the dividend specified in the first sentence of this paragraph had at all times been in effect.

o. "Holder" means the holder or holders of record of the Series B Preferred.

p. "Interim Payment" means such amount or amounts as shall be sufficient to compensate the Holder for any loss, cost, or expense incurred by the Holder as a result of any payment or prepayment for any reason on a date other than the last day of a Payment Period. Without limiting the effect of the preceding sentence, such compensation shall include an amount equal to the excess, if any, of (i) the amount of dividends which otherwise would have accrued on the Conversion Value of the Series B Preferred redeemed from the period from the date of such redemption to the last day of the Payment Period at the applicable rate of dividends for such Series B Preferred provided for herein, over (ii) the interest component of the amount the Holder would have bid in the London interbank market for dollar deposits of leading banks in amounts comparable to the Conversion Value of the Series B Preferred redeemed and with the maturities comparable to the applicable Payment Period.

q. "Junior Shares" means all classes and series of shares that, by the terms of the Corporation's Articles of Incorporation, or by law, shall be subordinate to the Series B Preferred with respect to the right of the holders thereof to receive dividends and to participate in the assets of the Corporation distributable to shareholders upon any liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the Corporation.

r. "Liquidation Date" has the meaning given in Section 2(a).

s. "Maximum Rate" means the maximum rate of [ILLEGIBLE] interest permitted from day to day by applicable law, and calculated after taking into account any and all relevant fees, payments, and other charges contracted for, charged or received which are deemed to be interest under applicable law.

t. "NationsBank" means NationsBank Corporation, a Delaware corporation.

u. "Options" means rights, options or warrants to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire either Common Stock or Convertible Securities, other than the Series B Preferred.

v. "Parity Shares" means all classes and series of shares that, by the terms of the Corporation's Articles of Incorporation, or by law, shall be on parity with the Series B Preferred with respect to the right of the holders thereof to receive dividends and to participate in the [ILLEGIBLE] of the Corporation distributable to shareholders upon any liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the Corporation.

w. "Payment Period" means each period commencing on the date any shares of Series B Preferred are first issued or, in the case of each subsequent, successive Payment Period, the last day of the next preceding Payment Period, and ending on the numerically corresponding day in the first, second or third calendar month thereafter, as the Holder may select by written notice to the Corporation at least three days before the commencement of the applicable Payment Period, except that each such Payment Period which commences on the last Business Day of a calendar month (or on any day for which there is no numerically corresponding day in the appropriate subsequent calendar month) shall end on the last Business Day of the appropriate subsequent calendar month. Notwithstanding the foregoing: (a) each Payment Period which would otherwise end on a day which is not a Business Day shall end on the next succeeding Business Day (or, if such succeeding Business Day falls in the next succeeding calendar month, on the next preceding Business Day); (b) any Payment Period which would otherwise extend beyond a Conversion Date, Redemption Date or Liquidation Date shall end on the Conversion Date, Redemption Date or Liquidation Date, as appropriate; and (c) no Payment Period shall have a duration of less than one (1) month. If Holder shall fail to give the Corporation a notice of the length of a Payment Period prior to the end of the then current Payment Period, such Payment Period shall automatically be continued on the last day thereof as Payment Period having a term of one month.

x. "Picacho" means Picacho Peak Investment Co., a Nevada corporation.

y. "Redemption Date" has the meaning given in Section 5(c).

z. "Regulatory Change" means any change after the date of this Certificate in United States federal, state or foreign laws or regulations (including Regulation D of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System as the same may be amended or supplemented from time to time) or the adoption or making after such date of any interpretations, directives or requests applying to a class of institutions including NationsBank of or under any United States federal, state or foreign laws or regulations (whether or not having the force of law) by any court or governmental or monetary authority charged with the interpretation or administration thereof.

aa. "Senior Shares" means all classes and series of shares, including the Corporation's Series A 8(1/2)% Preferred Stock, that, by the terms of the Corporation's Articles of Incorporation, or by law, shall be senior to the Series B Preferred with respect to the right of the holders thereof to receive dividends and to participate in the assets of the Corporation distributable to shareholders upon any liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of the Corporation.

bb. "Series B Common Stock" means the Series B common stock, $0.25 par value per share, of the Corporation.

cc. "Stock Purchase Agreement" means the Series B Stock Purchase Agreement between the Corporation and Blue Ridge Investments, LLC, dated August 30, 1996.

REORCO J, INC.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, that we the undersigned, have this day adopted, made and subscribed in triplicate to the following Articles of Incorporation, for the purpose of forming a corporation under the laws of the state of Arizona.

ARTICLE I

The name of this corporation shall be REORCO J, INC.,

ARTICLE II

The principal place of business of the corporation shall be at 2727 North Central Avenue, Phoenix, Arizona, County of Maricopa.

ARTICLE III

The purpose or purposes for which the corporation is organized are to transact the business of advertising, both as principal and agent, promoting and developing the business of other corporations, partnerships, or individuals for hire, or upon commission, or otherwise, by and through the means of preparing advertising for other corporations, partnerships, or individuals, and of advertising the business, commodities, or other property, real, personal or mixed, of other corporations, partnerships, or individuals in newspapers, books, booklets, prospectuses, magazines, circulars, pamphlets, or other similar literature and advertising media.

EXHIBIT 3.6

BY-LAWS OF

REORCGO J, INC.

An Arizona Corporation

ARTICLE I

DATE: May 18, 1970

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the state of Arizona shall be located in the city of Phoenix. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the state of Arizona as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the Third Monday in May of each year, at the office of the corporation in the state of Arizona or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for the election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer of persons calling the meeting, to each, shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the state of Arizona. Notice of the special meetings will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

Voting at all shareholders meetings. A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the tellers for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Officers:

A board of three (3) to 5 Directors shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the term of office of all or any of the Directors by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies on the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the state of Arizona.

SECTION 4. Special Meeting:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specified called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the state of Arizona.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws, but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE IV
POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trade-marks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgment may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.
3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee the notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the state of Arizona, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the Arizona statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. [ILLEGIBLE] Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of Vice-President:

The Vice-President shall have such powers and perform such duties as may be assigned to him by the Board of Directors of the corporation and in the absence or inability of the President, the Vice-President shall perform the duties of the President.

SECTION 4. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

SECTION 5. Powers and Duties of Treasurer:

The Treasurer shall have the care and custody of all funds and securities of the corporation, and deposit the same in the name of the corporation in such bank or banks or other depository as the Directors may select. He shall sign checks, drafts, notices, and orders for the payment of money, and he shall pay out and dispose of the same under the direction of the Board of Directors, but checks may be signed as directed by the Board by resolution. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer at all reasonable time to exhibit his books and accounts to any Director or stockholder of the corporation upon application at the office of the corporation during business hours, and generally perform the duties of and act as the financial agent for the corporation for the receipts and disbursements of its funds. He shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the Board of Directors may determine. The office of the Treasurer of said corporation, may be held by the same person holding the President, Vice-President or Secretary's office, provided the Board of Directors indicates the combination of these offices.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Arizona, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and the stock thereby represented is transferrable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signer of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the number of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such pre-emptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each calendar year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of this corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing By-Laws of REORGO J, INC., are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

This PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER dated this 4th day of January, 1991, entered into by Amerco Real Estate Company, a Nevada Corporation, the surviving corporation and Boston Trailer Manufacturing Company, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation the absorbed Corporation, and together referred [ILLEGIBLE] as the Constituent Corporations hereby witnesseth that:

The respective Boards of Directors and the Sole Shareholder by resolution have determined it to be advisable that the Absorbed Corporation be merged into the Surviving Corporation under the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth in accordance with the applicable provisions of the General Corporation Law of the States of Nevada and Massachusetts which laws permit such mergers.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties hereto do agree as follows:

I

The Articles of Incorporation of the Surviving Corporation shall continue to be its Articles of Incorporation, unless altered or amended below, following the effective date of the merger.

II

The executed PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER is on file at the Surviving Corporation's principal office. The location of that office is John A. Lorentz, 2721 N. Central Avenue, Phoenix, Arizona 85004.

III

The provisions for handling the shares of stock of the Constituent Corporations are as follows:

- (1) All issued and outstanding shares of stock of the Absorbed Corporation shall be cancelled.
- (2) On the effective date of the merger and when the aforementioned cancellation has been effected, the outstanding shares of stock of the Surviving Corporation shall be deemed for all corporate purposes to evidence the ownership of the Surviving Corporation.

IV

The number of shares outstanding and the number of shares entitled to vote upon such PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER, and the number of shares voted for and against such PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER as to each corporation was as follows:

COMPANY NAME -----	NUMBER OF SHARES OUTSTANDING -----	NUMBER OF SHARES ENTITLED TO VOTE -----	NUMBER VOTED FOR -----	NUMBER VOTED AGAINST -----
AMERCO REAL ESTATE COMPANY	100,000	100,000	100,000	-0-
BOSTON TRAILER MANUFACTURING COMPANY, INC.	2,786	2,786	2,786	-0-

V

The Constituent Corporations shall take or cause to be taken all action or do or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable under the laws of the States of Nevada and Massachusetts to consummate and make effective this merger, subject, however to the appropriate vote or consent to the stockholders of the Constituent Corporation in accordance with the requirements of the States of Nevada and Massachusetts.

VI

The Surviving Corporation hereby irrevocable appoints The Corporation Trust Company as its agent to accept service of process in any suit or other proceeding and to enforce against the surviving Corporation any obligation of any Constituent Domestic Corporation or enforce the rights of a dissenting shareholder of any Constituent Domestic Corporation. A copy of any such process may be mailed to John A. Lorentz, P. O. Box 21502, Phoenix, Arizona 85036.

VII

The Surviving Corporation shall pay all expenses of accomplishing the merger, and assumes the responsibility for all tax liabilities of the Absorbed Corporation.

RESTATED

OF

AMERCO REAL ESTATE COMPANY

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: That we, the undersigned, have voluntarily associated ourselves together for the purpose of forming a corporation under the laws of the State of Nevada, and we do certify:

ARTICLE I

The name of the corporation is: AMERCO REAL ESTATE COMPANY

ARTICLE II

The principal place of business of the corporation shall be at:

1325 Airmotive Way, Suite #170, Reno, Nevada

ARTICLE III

The nature of the business and the objects and purposes to be transacted, promoted, or carried on by the Corporation are to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organized under the General Corporation Law of Nevada.

ARTICLE IV

The number of shares of common stock which this corporation is authorized to issue is twenty million (20,000,000) shares with a par value of one Cent ($0.01) per share. In addition to the common stock authorized to be issued, the corporation is authorized to issue five million (5,000,000) shares of preferred stock, with the Board of Directors having authority to issue such shares in one or more series, with a par value of One Cent ($0.01) per share, with limited voting powers or without voting powers, and with such designations, preferences and relative, participating, optional or other special rights, or qualifications, limitations or restrictions thereof as shall be stated or expressed in the resolution regarding such stock adopted by the Board of Directors pursuant to the authority expressly vested in it by this provision of the Articles of Incorporation, or any amendment hereto.

ARTICLE V

For the management of the business, and for the conduct of the affairs of the corporation, and for the further definition, limitation, and regulation of the powers of the corporation and its directors and stockholders, it is further provided:

A. BOARD Of DIRECTORS. The Board of Directors shall consist of not less than 4 nor more than 8 directors, the exact number of directors to be determined from time to time solely by a resolution adopted by an affirmative vote of a majority of the entire Board of Directors. The directors shall be divided into four classes, designated Class I, Class II, Class III, and Class IV. Subject to applicable law, each class shall consist, as nearly as may be possible, of one-fourth of the total number of directors constituting the entire Board of Directors. At the 1990 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, Class I directors shall be elected for a one-year term, Class II directors for a two-year term, Class III directors for a three-year term, and Class IV directors for a four-year term. At each succeeding annual meeting of stockholders, commencing in 1991, successors to the class of directors whose term expires at the annual meeting shall be elected or reelected for a four-year term.

If the number of directors is changed, any increase or decrease shall be apportioned among the classes of directors so as to maintain the number of directors in each class as nearly equal as possible, but in no case will a decrease in the number of directors shorten the term of any incumbent director. When the number of directors is increased by the Board of Directors and any newly created directorships are filled by the Board of Directors, there shall be no classification of the additional directors until the next annual meeting of stockholders.

A director shall hold office until the meeting for the year in which his or her term expires and until his or her successor shall be elected and shall qualify, subject, however, to prior death, resignation, retirement, disqualification or removal from office.

This Article V may be amended only by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of the corporation entitled to vote, which vote must be by ballot at a duly constituted meeting of the stockholders, the notice of which meeting must include the proposed amendment.

Directors need not be stockholders. The names and addresses of the initial Board are:

Mark V. Shoen	2727 N. Central Avenue Phoenix, AZ 85004
Edward J. Shoen	2727 N. Central Avenue Phoenix, AZ 85004
Paul F. Shoen	2727 N. Central Avenue Phoenix, AZ 85004
John H. Dodds	2727 N. Central Avenue Phoenix, AZ 85004
Aubrey K. Johnson	2727 N. Central Avenue Phoenix, AZ 85004
Gary B. Horton	1325 Airmotive Way, Suite 170 Reno, NV 89502
James P. Shoen	1325 Airmotive Way, Suite 170 Reno, NV 89502

B. POWERS OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS. In furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by the laws of the State of Nevada, the Board of Directors is expressly authorized and empowered:

(i) To make, alter, amend, and repeal the bylaws, subject to the power of the stockholders to amend the bylaws, which power may be exercised only by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of the corporation entitled to vote, which vote must be by ballot at a duly constituted meeting of the stockholders, the notice of which meeting must include the proposed amendment. This Article 6.3(i) may be amended only by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of the corporation entitled to vote, which vote must by ballot at duly constituted meeting of the stockholders, the notice of which meeting must include the proposed amendment;

(ii) Subject to the applicable provisions of the bylaws then in effect, to determine, from time to time, whether and to what extent, and at what times and places, and under what conditions and regulations, the accounts and books of the corporation, or any of them, shall be open to stockholder inspection. No stockholder shall have any right to inspect any of the accounts, books or documents of the corporation, except as permitted by law, unless and until authorized to do so by resolution of the Board of Directors or of the stockholders of the corporation;

(iii) To authorize and issue, without stockholder consent, obligations of the corporation, secured and unsecured, under such terms and conditions as the Board of Directors, in its sole discretion, may determine, and to pledge or mortgage, as security therefor, any real or personal property of the corporation, including after-acquired property;

(iv) To determine whether any and if so, what part, of the earned surplus of the corporation shall be paid in dividends to the stockholders, and to direct and determine other use and disposition of any such earned surplus;

(v) To fix, time time to time, the amount of the profits of the corporation to be reserved as working capital or for any other lawful purpose;

(vi) To establish bonus, profit-sharing, stock option, or other types of incentive compensation plans for the employees, including officers and directors, of the corporation, and to fix the amount of profits to be shared or distributed, and to determine the persons to participate in any such plans and the amount of their respective participations;

(vii) To designate, by resolution or resolutions passed by a majority of the entire Board of Directors, one or more committees, each consisting of two or more directors, which, to the extent permitted by law and authorized by the resolution or the bylaws, shall have and may exercise the powers of the Board of Directors;

(viii) To provide for the reasonable compensation of its own members, and to fix the terms and conditions upon which such compensation will be paid;

(ix) In addition to the powers and authority hereinbefore, or by statute, expressly conferred upon it, the Board of Directors may exercise all such powers and of all such acts and things as may be exercised or done by the corporation, subject, nevertheless, to the provisions of the laws of the State of Nevada, of these Articles of Incorporation, and of the bylaws of the corporation.

C. LIMITATION OF DIRECTOR LIABILITY. A director or officer of the corporation shall not be personally liable to this corporation or its stockholders for damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director or officer, but this Article 6.C shall not eliminate or limit the liability of a director or officer for (i) acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct, fraud or a knowing violation of law, or (ii) the unlawful payment of dividends. Any repeal or modification of this Article 6.C by the stockholders of the corporation shall be prospective only, and shall not adversely affect any limitation on the personal liability of a director or officer of the corporation for acts or omissions prior to such repeal or modification.

ARTICLE VI

The names and address of each of the incorporators are:

John A. Lorentz	2727 N. Central Ave., Phoenix, AZ 85004
George R. Olds	2727 N. Central Ave., Phoenix, AZ 85004
Blanche I. Passolt	2727 N. Central Ave., Phoenix, AZ 85004

ARTICLE VII

The period of existence of the corporation shall be:

Perpetual

ARTICLE VIII

Except as otherwise provided by the Board of Directors, no holder of any shares of the stock of the corporation shall have any preemptive right to purchase, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire any shares of stock of the corporation of any class now or hereafter authorized, or any securities exchangeable for or convertible into such shares, or any warrants or other instruments evidencing rights or options to subscribe for, purchase or otherwise acquire such shares.

ARTICLE IX

The affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds (2/3) of the outstanding shares of common stock of this corporation entitled to vote shall be required to approve, adopt or authorize:

- A. Any agreement for the merger, consolidation, amalgamation or combination of this corporation with or into any other corporation which is an Interested Stockholder (as hereafter defined);
- B. Any sale, lease, exchange or other disposition to or with this corporation of any assets of any Interested Stockholder;
- C. Any sale, lease, exchange or other disposition by this corporation of all or substantially all of the assets of this corporation to or with an Interested stockholder;
- D. Any plan or proposal for liquidation or dissolution of this corporation if any stockholder of this corporation is an Interested Stockholder; or shares of any class of stock or convertible securities of this corporation, directly or indirectly owned by an Interested stockholder.
- E. Any reclassification of securities (including any reverse stock split) or recapitalization of this corporation which has the effect, directly or indirectly, of increasing the proportionate share of the outstanding

As used herein, Interested stockholder shall mean any person, firm, corporation or other entity which, as of the record date for the determination of stockholders entitled to notice of and to vote on any of the above transactions, is the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of more than five percent (5%) of any class of voting stock of this corporation. For the purposes hereof, any person, firm, corporation or other entity shall be deemed to be the beneficial owner of any shares of voting stock of this corporation which (i) it has the right to acquire pursuant to any agreement or upon exercise of conversion rights, warrants or options, or otherwise, or (ii) are owned, directly or indirectly (including shares deemed owned through the application of clause (i) above), by any other person, firm, corporation or other entity with which it has any agreement, arrangement or understanding with respect to the acquisition, holding, voting or disposition of stock of this corporation, or which is its "affiliate" or "associate" as those terms are defined in the Rules and Regulations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

The Board of Directors of this corporation shall have the power and duty, by resolution adopted by the affirmative vote of a majority of the entire Board of Directors, to determine (and such determination shall be conclusive) for the purposes of this Article 9, on the basis of information known to it, whether (i) any person, firm, corporation or other entity is the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of more than five percent (5%) of any class of voting stock of this corporation, (ii) any proposed sale, lease, exchange or other disposition involves all or substantially all of the assets of this corporation, or (iii) any person, firm, corporation or other entity has any agreement, arrangement or understanding with respect to the acquisition, holding, voting or disposition of stock of this corporation with any other person, firm, corporation or other entity.

Notwithstanding any other provision of these Articles of Incorporation, the affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds (2/3) of the outstanding shares of common stock of this corporation entitled to vote shall be required to amend, alter, change or repeal, or to adopt any provision inconsistent with, this Article 9.

The respective two-thirds voting requirements specified above for any of the transactions referred to in any one or more of paragraphs A through E above, or to amend, alter, change or repeal, or to adopt any provision inconsistent with, this Article 9, shall not be applicable to a proposed action which has been approved or recommended by majority of the Disinterested

Directors, as used herein, a "Disinterested Director" means (i) any Director named in these Articles of Incorporation as one of the first members of the corporation's Board of Directors, (ii) any Director of the corporation who is elected by the stockholders or appointed by the Board of Directors of this corporation and was not at the time of such election or appointment associated with or an affiliate of an Interested Stockholder directly or indirectly involved in the transaction or proposal before the Board of Directors, or (iii) a person designated, before his election or appointment as a director, as a Disinterested Director by a majority of Disinterested Directors then on the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE X

Shareholder action by written consent is prohibited. This Article 10 may be amended only by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of the corporation entitled to vote, which vote must be by ballot at a duly constituted meeting of the stockholders, the notice of which meeting must include the proposed amendment.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have executed the foregoing Re-Styled Articles of Incorporation of Amerco Real Estate Company this 19th day of September, 1990.

EXHIBIT 3.8

BYLAWS OF

AMERCO REAL ESTATE COMPANY

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office and registered office of the corporation shall be located in the State of Nevada at such locations as the Board of Directors may from time to time authorize by resolution. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

SECTION 2. References:

Any reference herein made to law will be deemed to refer to the law of the State of Nevada, including any applicable provisions of Chapter 78 of title 7, Nevada Revised Statutes (or its successor), as at any given time in effect. Any reference herein made to the Articles will be deemed to refer to the applicable provision or provisions of the Articles of Incorporation of the corporation, and all amendments thereto, as at any given time on file with the office of the clerk of Washoe County, Nevada.

SECTION 3. Shareholders of Record:

The word "shareholder" as used herein shall mean one who is a holder of record of shares in the corporation.

ARTICLE II

SHAREHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

An annual meeting of the shareholders for the election of directors to succeed those whose terms expire and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting shall be held on the last Saturday of September of each year at a time of day and place as determined by the Board of Directors, or on such other date as may be determined by the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Meetings:

a. Special meetings of the shareholders may be held whenever and wherever called by the Chairman of the Board, a majority of the Board of Directors, or upon the delivery of proper written request of the holders of not less than fifty percent (50%) of all the shares outstanding and entitled to vote at such meeting. The business which may be conducted at any such special meeting will be confined to the purpose stated in the notice thereof, and to such additional matters as the Chairman of such meeting may rule to be germane to such purposes.

b. For purposes of this Section, proper written request for the call of a special meeting shall be made by a written request specifying the purposes for any special meeting requested and providing the information required by Section 5 of this Article II hereof. Such written request must be delivered either in person or by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, to the Chairman of the Board, or such other person as may be specifically authorized by law to receive such request. Within thirty (30) days after receipt of proper written request, a special meeting shall be called and notice given in the manner required by these bylaws and the meeting shall be held at a time and place selected by the Board of Directors, but not later than ninety (90) days after receipt of such proper written request. The shareholder(s) who request a special meeting of shareholders must pay the corporation the corporation's reasonably estimated cost of preparing and mailing a notice of a meeting of shareholders before such notice is prepared and mailed.

SECTION 3. Notice:

Notice of any meeting of the shareholders will be given by the corporation as provided by law to each shareholder entitled to vote at such meeting. Any such notice may be waived as provided by law.

SECTION 4. Right to Vote:

For each meeting of the shareholders, the Board of Directors will fix in advance a record date as contemplated by law, and the shares of stock and the shareholders "entitled to vote" (as that or any similar term is herein used) at any meeting of the shareholders will be determined as of the applicable record date. The Secretary (or in his or her absence an Assistant Secretary) will see to the making and production of any record of shareholders entitled to vote that is required by law. Any such entitlement may be exercised through proxy, or in such other manner as is specifically provided by law. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy. In the event of contest, the burden of proving the validity of any undated, irrevocable, or otherwise contested proxy will rest with the person seeking to exercise the same. A telegram, cablegram, or facsimile appearing to have been transmitted by a shareholder (or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact) may, in the discretion of the tellers, if any, be accepted as a sufficiently written and executed proxy.

SECTION 5. Manner of Bringing Business Before the Meeting:

At any annual or special meeting of shareholders only such business (including nomination as a director) shall be conducted as shall have been properly brought before the meeting. In order to be properly brought before the meeting, such business must have either been (A) specified in the written notice of the meeting (or any supplement thereto) given to shareholders on the record date for such meeting by or at the direction of the Board of Directors, (B) brought before the meeting at the direction of the Board of Directors or the Chairman of the meeting, selected as provided in Section 9 of this Article II, or (C) specified in a written notice given by or on behalf of a shareholder on the record date for such meeting entitled to vote thereat or a duly authorized proxy for such shareholder, in accordance with all of the following requirements. A notice referred to in clause (C) hereof must be delivered personally to, or mailed to and received at, the principal executive office of the corporation, addressed to the attention of the Secretary, not more than ten (10) days after the date of the initial notice referred to in clause (A) hereof, in the case of business to be brought before a special meeting of shareholders, and not less than one hundred and twenty (120) days prior to the anniversary date of the initial notice referred to in clause (A) hereof with respect to the previous year's annual meeting, in the case of business to be brought before an annual meeting of shareholders. Such notice referred to in clause (C) hereof shall set forth (i) a full description of each such item of business proposed to be brought before the meeting and the reasons for conducting such business at such meeting, (ii) the name and address of the person proposing to bring such business before the meeting, (iii) the class and number of shares held of record, held beneficially, and represented by proxy by such person as of the record date for the meeting, if such date has been made publicly available, or as of a date not later than thirty (30) days prior to the delivery of the initial notice referred to in clause (A) hereof, if the record date has not been made publicly available, (iv) if any item of such business involves a nomination for director, all information regarding each such nominee that would be required to be set forth in a definitive proxy statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Section 14 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or any successor thereto, and the written consent of each such nominee to serve if elected, (v) any material interest of such shareholder in the specified business, (vi) whether or not such shareholder is a member of any partnership, limited partnership, syndicate, or other group pursuant to any agreement, arrangement, relationship, understanding, or otherwise, whether or not in writing, organized in whole or in part for the purpose of acquiring, owning, or voting shares of the corporation, and (vii) all other information that would be required to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission if, with respect to the business proposed to be brought before the meeting, the person proposing such business was a participant in a solicitation subject to Section 14 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or any successor thereto. No business shall be brought before any meeting of the shareholders of the corporation otherwise than as provided in this Section.

Notwithstanding compliance with the foregoing provisions, the Board of Directors shall not be obligated to include information as to any shareholder nominee for director or any other shareholder proposal in any proxy statements or other communication sent to shareholders.

The Chairman of the meeting may, if the facts warrant, determine that any proposed item of business or nomination as director was not brought before the meeting in accordance with the foregoing procedure, and if he should so determine, he shall so declare to the meeting and the improper item of business or nomination shall be disregarded.

SECTION 6. Right to Attend:

Except only to the extent of persons designated by the Board of Directors or the Chairman of the meeting to assist in the conduct of the meeting, and except as otherwise permitted by the Board or such Chairman, the persons entitled to attend any meeting of shareholders may be confined to (i) shareholders entitled to vote thereat and (ii) the persons upon whom proxies valid for purposes of the meeting have been conferred or their duly appointed substitutes (if the related proxies confer a power of substitution); provided, however, that the Board of Directors or the Chairman of the meeting may establish rules limiting the number of persons referred to in clause (ii) as being entitled to attend on behalf of any shareholder so as to preclude such an excessively large representation of such shareholder at the meeting as, in the judgment of the Board or such Chairman, would be unfair to other shareholders represented at the meeting or be unduly disruptive to the orderly conduct of business at such meeting (whether such representation would result from fragmentation of the aggregate number of shares held by such shareholder for the purpose of conferring proxies, from the naming of an excessively large proxy delegation by such shareholder, or from employment of any other device). A person otherwise entitled to attend any such meeting will cease to be so entitled if, in the judgment of the Chairman of the meeting, such person engages thereat in disorderly conduct impeding the proper conduct of the meeting in the interests of all shareholders as a group.

SECTION 7. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 8. Tellers:

The Board of Directors, in advance of any shareholders meeting may appoint one or more tellers to act at such meeting (and any adjournment thereof), and may appoint one or more alternate tellers to serve (in the order designated) in the absence of any teller or tellers so appointed. If any person appointed as teller or alternate teller fails to appear or to act, a substitute may be appointed by the Chairman of the meeting. The tellers (acting through a majority of them on any disputed matter) will determine the number of shares outstanding, the authenticity, validity and effect of proxies, the credentials of the persons purporting to be shareholders or persons named or referred to in proxies, and the number of shares represented at the meeting in person and by proxy; they will receive and count votes, ballots and consents and announce the results thereof; they will hear and determine all challenges and questions pertaining to proxies and voting; and, in general, they will perform such acts as may be proper to conduct elections and voting with complete fairness to all shareholders. No such teller need be a shareholder of the corporation. Each shareholder shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him or her, and in the event a shareholder holds a fraction of a share or full shares plus a fraction, any such fractional share shall be entitled to a proportionate fraction of one vote.

SECTION 9. Organization and Conduct of Business:

Each shareholders meeting will be called to order and thereafter chaired by the Chairman of the Board if there then is one; or, if not, or if the Chairman of the Board is absent or so requests, then by the President; or if both the Chairman of the Board and the President are unavailable, then by such other officer of the corporation or such shareholder as may be appointed by the Board of Directors. The Secretary (or in his or her absence an Assistant Secretary) of the corporation will act as secretary of each shareholders meeting; if neither the Secretary nor an Assistant Secretary is in attendance, the Chairman of the meeting may appoint any person (whether a shareholder or not) to act as secretary thereat. After calling a meeting to order, the Chairman thereof may require the registration of all shareholders intending to vote in person, and the filing of all proxies, with the teller or tellers, if one or more have been appointed (or, if not, with the secretary of the meeting). After the announced time for such filing of proxies has ended, no further proxies or changes, substitutions, or revocations of proxies will be accepted. The Chairman of a meeting will, among other things, have absolute authority to determine the order of business to be conducted at such meeting and to establish rules for, and appoint personnel to assist in, preserving the orderly conduct of the business of the meeting (including any informal, or question and answer, portions thereof). Any informational or other informal session of shareholders conducted under the auspices of the corporation after the conclusion of or otherwise in conjunction with any formal business meeting of the shareholders will be chaired by the same person who chairs the formal meeting, and the foregoing authority on his or her part will extend to the conduct of such informal session.

SECTION 10. Voting:

The number of shares voted on any matter submitted to the shareholders which is required to constitute their action thereon or approval thereof will be determined in accordance with applicable law, the Articles, and these bylaws, if applicable. Voting will be by ballot on any matter as to which a ballot vote is demanded, prior to the time the voting begins, by any person entitled to vote on such matter; otherwise, a voice vote will suffice. No ballot or change of vote will be accepted after the polls have been declared closed following the ending of the announced time for voting.

SECTION 11. Shareholder Approval or Ratification:

The Board of Directors may submit any contract or act for approval or ratification at any duly constituted meeting of the shareholders, the notice of which either includes mention of the proposed submittal or is waived as provided by law. If any contract or act so submitted is approved or ratified by a majority of the votes cast thereon at such meeting, the same will be valid and as binding upon the corporation as it would be if approved and ratified by each and every shareholder of the corporation.

SECTION 12. Informalities and Irregularities:

All informalities or irregularities in any call or notice of a meeting, or in the areas of credentials, proxies, quorums, voting, and similar matters, will be deemed waived if no objection is made at the meeting.

SECTION 13. Action Without a Meeting:

No action which may be taken by a vote of the shareholders may be taken unless taken at a meeting held pursuant to Section 1 or Section 2 of this Article II.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Directors:

The Board of Directors shall consist of not less than 4 nor more than 8 directors, the exact number of directors to be determined from time to time solely by a resolution adopted by an affirmative vote of a majority of the entire Board of Directors. The directors shall be divided into four classes, designated class I, Class II, Class III and Class IV. Subject to applicable law, each class shall consist, as nearly as may be possible, of one-fourth of the total number of directors constituting the entire Board of Directors. At each annual meeting of shareholders, successors to the class of directors whose term expires at the annual meeting shall be elected or reelected for a four-year term.

If the number of directors is changed, any increase or decrease shall be apportioned among the classes of directors so as to maintain the number of directors in each class as nearly equal as possible, but in no case will a decrease in the number of directors shorten the term of any incumbent director. When the number of directors is increased by the Board of Directors and any newly created directorships are filled by the Board, there shall be no classification of the additional directors until the next annual meeting of shareholders.

A director shall hold office until the meeting for the year in which his or her term expires and until his or her successor shall be elected and shall qualify, subject, however, to prior death, resignation, retirement, disqualification or removal from office.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

Newly created directorships resulting from an increase in the number of the directors and any vacancy on the Board of Directors shall be filled by an affirmative vote of a majority of the Board of Directors then in office. If the number of directors then in office is less than a quorum, such newly created directorships and vacancies may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, although less than a quorum, or by the sole remaining director. A director elected by the Board of Directors to fill a vacancy shall hold office until the next meeting of shareholders called for the election of directors and until his or her successor shall be elected and shall qualify.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Regular meetings, other than the annual ones, may be held at regular intervals at such times and places as the Board of Directors may provide.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any one member of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 5. Notice:

No notice need be given of regular meetings of the Board of Directors. Notice of the time and place (but not necessarily the purpose or all of the purposes) of any special meeting will be given to each director in person or by telephone, or via mail or telegram addressed in the manner then appearing on the corporation's records. Notice to any director of any special meeting will be deemed given sufficiently in advance when (i) if given by mail, the same is deposited in the United States mail at least four days before the meeting date, with postage thereon prepaid, (ii) if given by telegram, the same is delivered to the telegraph office for fast transmittal at least 48 hours prior to the convening of the meeting, (iii) if given by facsimile transmission, the same is received by the director or an adult member of his or her office staff or household, at least 24 hours prior to the convening of the meeting, or (iv) if personally delivered or given by telephone, the same is handed, or the substance thereof is communicated over the telephone, to the director or to an adult member of his or her office staff or household, at least 24 hours prior to the convening of the meeting. Any such notice may be waived as provided by law. No call or notice of a meeting of directors will be necessary if each of them waives the same in writing or by attendance. Any meeting, once properly called and noticed (or as to which call and notice have been waived as aforesaid) and at which a quorum is formed, may be adjourned to another time and place by a majority of those in attendance.

SECTION 6. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by law or by these bylaws, but if at any meeting of the Board less than a quorum is present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 7. Action by Telephone or Consent:

Any meeting of the Board or any committee thereof may be held by conference telephone or similar communications equipment as permitted by law in which case any required notice of such meeting may generally describe the arrangements (rather than the place) for the holding thereof, and all other provisions herein contained or referred to will apply to such meeting as though it were physically held at a single place. Action may also be taken by the Board or any committee thereof without a meeting if the members thereof consent in writing thereto as contemplated by law.

SECTION 8. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at its meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st Roll Call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of the preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE IV

POWER OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. GENERALLY:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. SPECIAL POWERS:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and goodwill, patents, trademarks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgment may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation when they deem it advisable.

2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.
3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidence of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee the notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.
4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.
5. To adopt, modify and amend the bylaws of this corporation.
6. To periodically determine by Resolution of the Board the amount of compensation to be paid to members of the Board of Directors in accordance with Article 6, Section B, Subsection viii of the Articles of Incorporation.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by law.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a President, one or more Vice-Presidents, Secretary, Assistant Secretaries, Treasurer, Assistant Treasurer, a resident agent and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there must be quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of Chairman of the Board:

The Chairman of the Board of Directors will serve as a general executive officer, but not necessarily as a full-time employee, of the corporation. He or she shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors, shall have the powers and duties set forth in these bylaws, and shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary or Assistant Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the bylaws of the corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

SECTION 4. Powers and Duties of Vice-President:

The Vice-President shall have such powers and perform such duties as may be assigned to him by the Board of Directors of the corporation and in the absence or inability of the President, the Vice-President shall perform the duties of the President.

SECTION 5. Powers and Duties of the Secretary and Assistant Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct. In the absence or inability of the Secretary, the Assistant Secretary shall perform the duties of the Secretary.

Execution of Instruments:

In addition to the provisions of any previous bylaws respecting the execution of instruments of the corporation, the Board of Directors may from time to time direct the manner in which any officer or officers or by whom any particular deed, transfer, assignment, contract, obligation, certificate, promissory note, guarantee and other instrument or instruments may be signed on behalf of the corporation and any acts of the Board of Directors subsequent to the 1st day of December, 1978 in accordance with the provision of this bylaw are hereby adopted, ratified and confirmed as actions binding upon and enforceable against the corporation.

SECTION 6. Powers and Duties of Treasurer and Assistant Treasurer:

The Treasurer shall have the care and custody of all funds and securities of the corporation, and deposit the same in the name of the corporation in such bank or banks or other depository as the Directors may select. He shall sign checks, drafts, notices, and orders for the payment of money, and he shall pay out and dispose of the same under the direction of the Board of Directors, but checks may be signed as directed by the Board by resolution. The Treasurer shall generally perform the duties of and act as the financial agent for the corporation for the receipt and disbursement of its funds. He shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the Board of Directors may determine. The office of the Treasurer of said corporation may be held by the same person holding the President, Vice-President or Secretary's office, provided the Board of Directors indicates the combination of these offices. In the absence or inability of the Treasurer, the Assistant Treasurer shall perform the duties of the Treasurer.

SECTION 7. Indemnification:

The corporation shall indemnify, to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by law, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than such law permitted the corporation to provide prior to such amendment), any person made, or threatened to be made, a defendant or witness to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative, investigative or otherwise) by reason of the fact that he or she, or his or her testator or intestate, is or was a director or officer of the corporation or by reason of the fact that such director or officer, at the request of the corporation, is or was serving any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise. Nothing contained herein shall diminish any rights to indemnification to which employees or agents other than directors or officers may be entitled by law, and the corporation may indemnify such employees and agents to the fullest extent and in the manner permitted by law. The rights to indemnification set forth in this Article VI, Section 7 shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which any person may be entitled under any statute, provision of the Articles of Incorporation, bylaw, agreement, contract, vote of shareholders or disinterested directors, or otherwise.

In furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by statute:

1. The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is serving in any capacity, at the request of the corporation, any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, against any liability or expense incurred by him or her in any such capacity, or arising out of his or her status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him or her against such liability or expense under the provisions of law; and

2. The corporation may create a trust fund, grant a security interest or lien on any assets of the corporation and/or use other means (including, without limitation, letters of credit, guaranties, surety bonds and/or other similar arrangements), and enter into contracts providing indemnification to the full extent authorized or permitted by law and including as part thereof provisions with respect to any or all of the foregoing to ensure the payment of such amounts as may become necessary to effect indemnification as provided therein, or elsewhere.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary or Assistant Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and that the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the Assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificates for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Right of First Refusal on Its Outstanding Common Stock;

a. In case any holder of shares of Common Stock of the corporation shall wish to make any sale, transfer or other disposition of all or any part of the shares held by him, he shall first notify the Secretary of the corporation in writing designating the number of shares which he desires to dispose of, the name(s) of the person(s) to whom such shares are to be disposed of and the bona fide cash price at which such shares are to be so disposed of.

b. The corporation shall have a period of 30 calendar days following the date of its receipt of such notice to determine whether it wishes to purchase such shares at the price stated therein. Such determination shall be made by the corporation by its delivery to such holder of a written acceptance of such offer within such 30-day period. Such written acceptance shall specify the date (to be not later than the tenth calendar day following the date on which such 30-day period expired), time and place at which such holder shall deliver to the corporation the certificate(s) for the shares of Common Stock to be so sold against the delivery by the corporation of a certified or bank cashier's check in the amount of the purchase price therefor.

c. If the corporation shall not so accept such offer within such 30-day period, then such holder shall be entitled, for a period of 90 days commencing on the first day after the date on which such 30-day period expires, to dispose of all or any part of the shares of Common Stock designated in such notice to the corporation at the price set forth therein to the prospective named transferee(s) and such transferee(s) shall be entitled to have such shares transferred upon the books of the corporation upon its acquisition thereof at such price. If such holder shall not dispose of all or any part of such shares within such 90-day period (or, in the event of a sale of part thereof, the shares remaining untransferred), such shares shall continue to be subject in all respects to the provision of this Article VII, Sec. 2.

d. All certificates for shares of Common Stock shall, so long as the provisions of this Article VII, Sec. 2 shall be in effect, bear the following legend:

"The transfer of the shares represented by this certificate is subject to a right of first refusal by the corporation as provided in its bylaws, and no transfer of this certificate or the shares represented hereby shall be valid or effective unless and until such provision of the bylaws shall have been met. A copy of the bylaws of the corporation is available for inspection at the principal office of the corporation."

e. The provisions of this Article VII, Sec. 2 may be terminated or modified at any time by the affirmative vote of not less than a majority of the then number of directors of the corporation. Each holder of shares of Common Stock shall be notified of any such termination and shall have the right to exchange his outstanding certificate for such shares for a certificate without the aforesaid legend.

SECTION 3. Lost Certificates:

In the event of the loss, theft or destruction of any certificate representing shares of stock of this corporation, the corporation may issue (or, in the case of any such stock as to which a transfer agent and/or registrar have been appointed, may direct such transfer agent and/or registrar to countersign, register and issue) a replacement certificate in lieu of that alleged to be lost, stolen or destroyed, and cause the same to be delivered to the owner of the stock represented thereby, provided that the owner shall have submitted such evidence showing the circumstances of the alleged loss, theft or destruction, and his or her ownership of the certificate as the corporation considers satisfactory, together with any other facts which the corporation considers pertinent, and further provided that an indemnity agreement and/or indemnity bond shall have been provided in form and amount satisfactory to the corporation and to its transfer agents and/or registrars, if applicable.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be fixed by resolution of the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BYLAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of Bylaws by the Board of Directors;

The bylaws may be amended by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of this corporation at any meeting of the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Shareholder Amendment of Bylaws:

The bylaws may be amended by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of all of the outstanding shares of common stock entitled to vote, which vote must be by ballot at a duly constituted meeting of the shareholders, the notice of which meeting must include the proposed amendment.

EXHIBIT 3.10

BY-LAWS OF

AMERCO REAL ESTATE COMPANY OF ALABAMA, INC.

AN ALABAMA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: July 26, 1991

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Alabama shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Alabama as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the Third Thursday in May of each year, at the office of the corporation in the State of Alabama or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the State of Alabama. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as Inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the tellers for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Office:

A board of one (1) or more Directors, as required by law, shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the term of office of all or any of the Directors by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Alabama.

SECTION 4. Special Meeting:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specifically called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Alabama.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or these By-Laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

SECTION 7. Meetings By Telephone:

If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property Including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other judgment may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.
3. To Issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Alabama, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.
4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statues regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President;

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the By-Laws of the corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers;

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Alabama, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of Issue, and the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefore, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or Issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such pre-emptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of each year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of this corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing By-Laws of Amerco Real Estate Company of Alabama, Inc. are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

BY-LAWS OF

AMERCO REAL ESTATE COMPANY, INC.

AN TEXAS CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: March 28, 1990

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Texas shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Texas as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the first day of April of each year, at the office of the corporation in the State of Texas or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the State of Texas. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the tellers for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Office:

A board of one (1) or more Directors, as required by law, shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the term of office of all or any of the Directors by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Texas.

SECTION 4. Special Meeting:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specifically called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Texas.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or these By-laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

SECTION 7. Meetings By Telephone:

If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other Judgment may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.
3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Texas, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.
4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statues regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the By-Laws of the corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Texas, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such preemptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of this corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing By-Laws of Amerco Real Estate Company, Inc. are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

OF

AMERCO REAL ESTATE SERVICES, INC.

I, the undersigned incorporator, for the purpose of forming a corporation under Title 7, Chapter 78 of the Nevada Revised Statutes, as amended ("NRS"), do hereby adopt and make the following Articles of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I

The name of the corporation (hereinafter the "Corporation") is AMERCO REAL ESTATE SERVICES, INC.

ARTICLE II

The principal place of business of the Corporation shall be:

2727 North Central Avenue, Phoenix, AZ 85004

The Corporation's resident agent shall be:

The Corporation Trust Company of Nevada 6100 Neil Road, Suite 500 Reno, Nevada 89511

ARTICLE III

The nature of the business and of the purposes to be conducted and promoted by the Corporation, is to engage real estate brokerage activities and all other lawful purposes.

ARTICLE IV

The Corporation shall have authority to issue 1,000 shares of common stock.

ARTICLE V

The members of the governing board of the Corporation are styled as directors. The number of directors constituting the initial Board of Directors of the Corporation is one(1). The number of directors may be changed by an action of the Board to no less than one (1) or no more than nine (9) members.

The following person shall serve as the director of the Corporation, effective as of the date of the effectiveness of these Articles of Incorporation:

Name	Address
-----	-----
Carlos Vizcarra	2727 North Central Avenue, Phoenix, AZ 85004
Matthew Braccia	2727 North Central Avenue, Phoenix, AZ 85004

ARTICLE VI

The name and address of the incorporator is:

Jennifer M. Settles, Esq.
2727 North Central Avenue, 11th Floor
Phoenix, AZ 85004

ARTICLE VII

The period of existence of the Corporation shall be perpetual.

ARTICLE VIII

In furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by statute, the Board of Directors is expressly authorized to make, alter, amend or repeal the Bylaws of the Corporation in accordance with the terms thereof.

ARTICLE IX

The corporation shall indemnify, to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by law, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than such law permitted the corporation to provide prior to such amendment), any person made, or threatened to be made, a defendant or witness to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative, investigative or otherwise) by reason of the fact that he or she, or his or her testator or intestate, is or was a director or officer of the corporation or by reason of the fact that such director or officer, at the request of the corporation, is or was serving any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise. Nothing contained herein shall diminish any rights to indemnification to which employees or agents other than directors or officers may be entitled by law, and the corporation may indemnify such employees and agents to the fullest extent and in the manner permitted by law. The rights to indemnification set forth in this Article IX shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which any person may be entitled under any statute, provision of the Articles of Incorporation, bylaw, agreement, contract, vote of shareholders or directors, otherwise. Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary, the following shall govern: Any indemnification shall be fully subordinated to any obligations respecting the Property and shall not constitute a claim against the Corporation in the event that cash flow is insufficient to pay such obligations.

In furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by statute:

1. The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is serving in any capacity, at the request of the corporation, any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, against any liability or expense incurred by him or her in any such capacity, or arising out of his or her status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him or her against such liability or expense under the provisions of law; and
2. The corporation may create a trust fund, grant a security interest or lien on any assets of the corporation and/or use other means (including, without limitation, letters of credit, guaranties, surety bonds and/or other similar arrangements), and enter into contracts providing indemnification to the full extent authorized or permitted by law and including as part thereof provisions with respect to any or all of the foregoing to ensure the payment of such amounts as may become necessary to effect indemnification as provided therein, or elsewhere.

ARTICLE X

No director or officer shall be personally liable to the corporation or its stockholders for damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director or officer, except the liability of a director or officer shall not be limited or eliminated for:

(a) Acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct, fraud or a knowing violation of law; or

(b) The payment of distribution in violation of Nevada revised Statutes 78,300.

Dated as of March 5, 2001.

BYLAWS OF

AMERCO REAL ESTATE SERVICES, INC.

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

GENERAL

1.01 References. Any reference herein made to law will be deemed to refer to the law of the state of Nevada, including any applicable provisions of Chapter 78 of Title 7, Nevada Revised Statutes (or its successor), as of any given time in effect. Any reference herein made to the Articles will be deemed to refer to the applicable provision or provisions of the Articles of Incorporation of AMERCO REAL ESTATE SERVICES, INC. (the "Corporation"), and all amendments thereto, as at any given time on file with the Nevada Secretary of State, together with any and all certificates filed by the Corporation with the Nevada Secretary of State (or any successor to its functions) pursuant to applicable law.

1.02 Seniority. The Articles will in all respects be considered senior and superior to these Bylaws, with any inconsistency to be resolved in favor of the Articles, and with these Bylaws to be deemed automatically amended from time to time to eliminate any such inconsistency which may then exist.

1.03 Offices. The principal office of the Corporation shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The Corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

1.04 Change Thereof. The Board of Directors may change the Corporation's principal office or its statutory agent from time to time by filing a statement with the Nevada Secretary of State pursuant to applicable law.

1.05 Stockholders of Record. The word "stockholder" as used herein shall mean one who is a holder of record of shares in the corporation as defined in Section 2.04.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

2.01 Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation shall be held on the Second Tuesday in February of each year, at the office of the Corporation in the State of Nevada or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

2.02 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the stockholders may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2.03 of this Article.

2.03 Notices. Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each stockholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the Corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of stockholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting. Any stockholder may waive call or notice of any annual, deferred annual, or special meeting (and any adjournment thereof) at any time before, during which or after it is held. Attendance of a stockholder at any such meeting in person or by proxy will automatically evidence his waiver of call and notice of such meeting (and any adjournment thereof) unless he or his proxy is attending the meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of business because the meeting has not been properly called or noticed.

2.04 Stockholders of Record. For each meeting, or consent to corporate action without a meeting, of stockholders (and at any adjournment of such meeting), or in order to make a determination of stockholders for determining those stockholders entitled to receive payment of any dividend, or for any other lawful action, the Board of Directors may fix in advance a record date which shall not be more than sixty (60) nor less than ten (10) days prior to the date of such meeting or other action.

If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors for determining stockholders entitled to notice of, and to vote at, a meeting of stockholders, the record date shall be at four o'clock in the afternoon on the day before the notice is given, or, if notice is waived, at the commencement of the meeting. If no record date is fixed for determining stockholders entitled to express written consent to corporate action without a meeting, the record date shall be the time of the day on which the first written consent is served upon an officer or director of the Corporation.

A determination of stockholders of record entitled to notice of, and to vote at, a meeting of stockholders shall apply to any adjournment of the meeting; provided, however, that the Board of Directors may fix a new record date for the adjourned meeting, and further provided that the adjournment or adjournments of any such meeting do not exceed thirty (30) days in the aggregate.

2.05 Tellers. At all meetings of stockholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each stockholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

2.06 Proxies. Any stockholder entitled to vote thereat may vote by proxy at any meeting of the stockholders (and at any adjournment thereof) which is specified in such proxy, provided that his or her proxy is executed in writing by such stockholder or his or her duly authorized attorney-in-fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise specifically provided therein. The burden of proving the validity of any undated, irrevocable or otherwise contested proxy at a meeting of the stockholders will rest with the person seeking to exercise the same. A telegram or cablegram appearing to have been transmitted by a stockholder or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact may be accepted as a sufficiently written and executed proxy.

2.07 Voting. Except for the election of directors (which will be governed by cumulative voting pursuant to applicable law) and except as may otherwise be required by the Corporation's Articles, these Bylaws or by statute, each issued and outstanding share of the Corporation (specifically excluding shares held in the treasury of the corporation) represented at any meeting of the stockholders in person or by a proxy given pursuant to Section 2.06 above, will be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote of the stockholders at such meeting. Unless otherwise required by the Corporation's Articles or by applicable law, any question submitted to the stockholders will be resolved by a majority of the votes cast thereon, provided that such votes constitute a majority of the quorum of that particular meeting, whether or not such quorum is then present. Voting will be by ballot on any question as to which a ballot vote is demanded prior to the time the voting begins by any person entitled to vote on such question; otherwise, a voice vote will suffice. No ballot or change of vote will be accepted after the polls have been declared closed following the ending of the announced time for voting.

2.08 Quorum. At any meeting of the stockholders, the presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares of the Corporation issued, outstanding and entitled to vote at the meeting will constitute a quorum of the stockholders for all purposes. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting may be adjourned from time to time by its chairman, without notice other than by announcement at the meeting, until a quorum is formed. At any such adjourned meeting at which a quorum is present, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting as originally noticed. Once a quorum has been formed at any meeting, the stockholders from time to time remaining in attendance may continue to transact business until adjournment, notwithstanding the prior departure of enough stockholders to leave less than a quorum. If an adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days, or if after the adjournment a new record date is fixed for the adjourned meeting, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each stockholder of record entitled to vote at the meeting.

2.09 Order of Business.

1st All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the tellers for verification.

2nd Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th Reports of officers and committees.

5th Election of Directors.

6th Unfinished business.

7th New business.

8th Adjournment.

2.10 Action by Stockholders Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, is signed by stockholders holding at least eighty-five percent (85%) of the outstanding common stock.

ARTICLED III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

3.01 Number and Term of Directors. The Board of Directors will be comprised of not less than one nor more than nine members who need not be stockholders of the Corporation. The directors will regularly be elected at each annual meeting of the stockholders, but directors may be elected at any other meeting of the stockholders. The Board of Directors will have the power to increase or decrease its size within the aforesaid limits and to fill any vacancies by majority vote which may occur in its membership, whether resulting from an increase in the size of that board or otherwise, and shall hold office until the next annual meeting of the stockholders. Each director elected by the stockholders or the Board of Directors shall hold office until his or her successor is duly elected and qualified. However, the holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the term of office of all or any of the Directors by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in this Section.

3.02 Regular Meetings. After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation, the newly elected directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

3.04 Quorum. A quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting or adjourned meeting of the Board of Directors will consist of a majority of those then in office. Once a quorum has been formed, the directors from time to time remaining in attendance at such meeting prior to its adjournment will continue to be legally competent to transact business properly brought before the meeting, notwithstanding the prior departure from the meeting of enough directors to leave less than a quorum.

3.05 Voting. Any matter submitted to a meeting of the Board of Directors will be resolved by a majority of the votes cast thereon.

3.06 Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

1st Roll call; a quorum being present.

2nd Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.

3rd Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.

4th Reports of officials and committees.

5th Unfinished business.

6th Miscellaneous business.

7th New business.

8th Adjournment.

3.12 Meetings by Conference Telephone. If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

4.01 Generally: The Government in control of the Corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

4.02 Special Powers: The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, but expressly subject to the limitations set forth in the Articles, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner real property and any personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks, contracts and interests thereunder, and other property that in the judgment of the Board of Directors may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the Corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

COMMITTEES

5.01 Committees: From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

6.01 Officers: And the officers of the Corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the Corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

6.02 Powers and Duties of President: The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the Corporation.

He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the Corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the Corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the Corporation. The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the stockholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the stockholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the Bylaws of the Corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the Corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the Corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

6.03 Powers and Duties of the Secretary: The Secretary of the Corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the Corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the Corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

RESIGNATIONS AND VACANCIES

7.01 Resignations. Any director, committee member, or officer may resign from his or her office at any time by written notice delivered or addressed to the Corporation at its principal office. Any such resignation will be effective upon its receipt by the Corporation unless some later time is therein fixed, and then from that time; the acceptance of a resignation will not be required to make it effective.

7.02 Vacancies. If the office of any director, committee member, or officer becomes vacant by reason of his or her death, resignation, disqualification, removal or otherwise, the Board of Directors may choose a successor to hold office for the unexpired term.

ARTICLE VIII

SEAL

8.01 Form Thereof. The Board of Directors may provide for a seal of the Corporation which will have inscribed thereon the name of the Corporation, the state and year of its incorporation, and the words "Corporate Seal."

ARTICLE IX

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

9.01. Stock and Certificates and Transfers: All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the Corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the Corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the Corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the Corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefore, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the Corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

ARTICLE X

DIVIDENDS

10.01 Subject to such restrictions or requirements as may be imposed by applicable law or the Corporation's Articles or as may otherwise be binding upon the Corporation, the Board of Directors may from time to time declare and the Corporation may pay dividends on shares of the corporation outstanding on the dates of record fixed by the board, to be paid in cash, in property or in shares of the Corporation on or as of such payment or distribution dates as the Board may prescribe.

ARTICLE XI

FISCAL YEAR

11.01 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March each year.

ARTICLE XII

AMENDMENTS

12.01 Amendment of Bylaws: The Bylaws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of the Corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting. Also, said Bylaws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the stockholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the stockholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

EIGHT PAC COMPANY

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: January 23, 1995

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Nevada shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the second Saturday in June of each year, at the office of the corporation in the State of Nevada or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the teller(s) for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Directors:

A board of one (1) or more Directors, as required by law, shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the terms of office of all or any of the Directors, by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors, though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specifically called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll Call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

SECTION 7. Meetings by Telephone:

If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks In contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgement may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.

2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the By-Laws of the corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and that the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the Assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such preemptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of this corporation at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing Re-stated By-Laws of Eight PAC Company are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

eMove, Inc.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: That I, the undersigned, for the purpose of forming a corporation under the laws of the State of Nevada, do certify:

ARTICLE I

The name of the corporation is: eMove, Inc.

ARTICLE II

The principal place of business of this Corporation shall be: 2721 N. Central Avenue, Phoenix, Arizona.

ARTICLE III

The corporation's resident agent shall be: The Corporation Trust Company of Nevada, 6100 Neil Rd, Reno, Nevada 89511.

ARTICLE IV

The nature of the business and the objects and purposes to be transacted, promoted, or carried on by the corporation are to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organized under the General Corporation Law of Nevada.

ARTICLE V

The corporation shall have authority to issue the following:

The number of shares of common stock which this corporation is authorized to issue is One Thousand (1,000) shares with a par value of One Cent ($.01) per share.

ARTICLE VI

The Board of Directors shall consist of one (1) to three (3) individuals, as determined by resolution of the Board of Directors. The initial Board of Directors shall consist of three people, who shall serve as Director until the annual meeting of shareholders or until his successor is elected and qualified. The initial directors shall be:

Edward J. Shoen
2721 N. Central Avenue Phoenix, Arizona 85004

John C. Taylor
2721 N. Central Avenue Phoenix, Arizona 85004

Samuel J. Shoen
2721 N. Central Avenue Phoenix, Arizona 85004

ARTICLE VII

The name and address of the incorporator is:

Thomas F. Tollison
2721 N. Central Avenue, 11th Floor
Phoenix, Arizona 85003

ARTICLE VIII

The period of existence of the Corporation shall be perpetual.

ARTICLE IX

The corporation shall indemnify, to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by law, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended, any person made, or threatened to be made, a defendant or witness to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative, investigative or otherwise) by reason of the fact that he or she, or his or her testator or intestate, is or was a director or officer of the corporation or by reason of the fact that such director or officer, at the request of the corporation, is or was serving any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise. Nothing contained herein shall diminish any rights to indemnification to which employees or agents other than directors or officers may be entitled by law, and the corporation may indemnify such employees and agents to the fullest extent and in the manner permitted by law. The rights to indemnification set forth in this Article shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which any person may be entitled under any statute, provision of the Articles of Incorporation, Bylaw, agreement, contract, vote of shareholders or directors, or as otherwise provided.

In furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by statute:

1. The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is serving in any capacity, at the request of the corporation, any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, against any liability or expense incurred by him or her in any such capacity, or arising out of his or her status as such,

whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him or her against such liability or expense under the provisions of law; and

2. The corporation may create a trust fund, grant a security interest or lien on any assets of the corporation and/or use other means (including, without limitation, letters of credit, guaranties, surety bonds and/or other similar arrangements), and enter into contracts providing indemnification to the full extent authorized or permitted by law and including as part thereof provisions with respect to any or all of the foregoing to ensure the payment of such amounts as may become necessary to effect indemnification as provided therein, or elsewhere.

No director or officer shall be personally liable to the corporation or its stockholders for damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director or officer, except the liability of a director or officer shall not be limited or eliminated for: (a) acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct, fraud or a knowing violation of law; or (b) the payment of distribution in violation of Nevada Revised Statutes Section 78.300.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I, the aforementioned incorporator, have signed the Articles of Incorporation this 18th day of October, 2001.

/s/ Thomas F. Tollison

EXHIBIT 3.20

BYLAWS
OF eMOVE, INC.
A NEVADA CORPORATION

Dated: October 20, 2001

ARTICLE I

LOCATION AND CORPORATE SEAL

Section 1. Home Office of the Company

The home office of the company shall be at Phoenix, Maricopa County, Arizona. Offices may also be maintained at such other place or places as may be designated from time to time by the Board of Directors, where the business of the Company may be transacted. Meetings of stockholders and of the Board of Directors may be held at any place with the same effect as though done or held at said Home Office.

Section 2. Corporate Seal.

The company shall have a common seal, consisting of a circle having on the circumference thereof "eMOVE, Inc." and in the center "Incorporated Nevada 2001"

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

Section 1. Annual Meetings of Stockholders.

The first annual meeting of the stockholders of the company shall be held on or before the first business day following the expiration of two months from and after the filing of the articles of incorporation, but succeeding annual meetings of stockholders shall be held on the third Wednesday of October of each year beginning in 2002 (or on the next succeeding business day if such be a holiday), at such place as may be specified by the secretary in a notice to be issued by him not less than thirty days before such meeting.

Section 2. Special Meetings.

Special meetings of the stockholders may be held at any place upon call of the Board of Directors of the president, and the secretary shall give thirty days' notice of such meetings. Only such business as may be specified in the notice may be transacted at special meetings.

Section 3. Quorum.

At any meeting of the stockholders, a majority of the issued and outstanding stock shall constitute a quorum and in the absence of a quorum, the meeting shall be adjourned from time to time until a quorum shall be present.

Section 4. Voting.

At any meeting of the stockholders, each stockholder shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock owned by him, except in the case of election of directors, when cumulative voting shall apply. Voting may be in person or by proxy and proxies may be given for more than one meeting.

Section 5. Waiver of Notice.

Any meeting shall be deemed to have been validly and legally called and held if all of the stockholders of record on the day of the meeting sign a written waiver of notice, either before or after the meeting. No such waiver shall be necessary in case all stockholders are actually present in person at the meeting, in which event notice shall conclusively be deemed to have been waived.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Section 1. Number and Election.

The Board of Directors shall consist of not less than one nor more than nine. At succeeding annual meetings, the stockholders shall elect five directors for one-year terms expiring at the annual meeting. Between annual meetings, the remaining directors shall elect directors to fill vacancies occurring from any cause, but any director so elected shall serve only until the next annual meeting.

Section 2. Powers and Duties.

It shall be the duty of the Board of Directors to control and manage the property and business of the corporation, to appoint from its own membership or otherwise the officers of the corporation who may serve under written or oral contract at the pleasure of the Board. The Board shall have the power to enter into written contracts with officers for terms extending beyond their own terms of office. Generally and without limitation, the Board shall have the power and shall operate the business of the corporation in a prudent and careful manner to the best interests of the policyholders and stockholders.

Section 3. Regular Meetings.

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Arizona. Regular meetings, other than annual ones, may be held at regular intervals at such times and places as the Board of Directors may provide.

Section 4. Special Meetings.

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any one member of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meetings may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said Board at any such meetings. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Arizona.

Section 5. Quorum.

A majority of the membership of the Board of Directors, but not less than five, shall constitute a quorum.

ARTICLE IV

OFFICERS

Section 1. Designation of Titles.

The titles of officers of the corporation may be, but shall not be, required to include a Chairman of the Board, a President, one or more Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and such Assistant Secretaries, Registrar, Assistant Treasurers and other officers as may be deemed necessary or expedient for the proper conduct of the business of the corporation. Any two or more of such offices, except those of President and Secretary, may be held by the same person. The Board of Directors may leave any office vacant indefinitely, so long as there be a President or a Vice-President and a Secretary or an Assistant Secretary available to act.

Section 2. Selection of Officers.

The directors shall choose the officers of the corporation, who shall serve at the pleasure of the Board and may be removed from office at any time by the Board, by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares issued and outstanding at a regular or special meeting, or by an authorization in writing signed by the holders of a majority of the shares issued and outstanding.

Section 3. Chairman of the Board.

The Chairman of the Board (if one shall be selected) shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors, and shall perform such other duties as may be from time to time assigned to him. If the position of Chairman of the Board shall be unfilled, the President shall perform the duties of the office.

Section 4. President.

The President shall preside at all meetings of stockholders. He shall sign all policies, all deeds and conveyances, all contracts and agreements, and all other instruments requiring execution on behalf of the corporation, and shall act as operating and directing head of the corporation, subject to policies established by the Board of Directors.

Section 5. Vice-Presidents.

There shall be as many Vice-Presidents as shall be from time to time determined and they shall perform such duties as may be from time to time assigned to them. Any one of the Vice-Presidents, as authorized by the Board, shall have all the powers and perform all the duties of the President in case of the temporary absence of the President or in case of his temporary inability to act. In case of the permanent absence or inability of the President to act, the office shall be declared vacant by the Board of Directors and a successor chosen by the Board.

Section 6. Secretary.

The Secretary shall see that the minutes of all meetings of stockholders, of the Board of Directors and of any standing committees are kept. He shall be the custodian of the corporate seal, and shall affix it to all proper instruments. He shall give or cause to be given notices of all meetings of the stockholders and of the Board of Directors. He shall have charge of all the books and records of the Company except the books of account and in general shall perform all the duties incident to the office of Secretary of a corporation and such other duties as may be assigned to him.

Section 7. Treasurer.

The treasurer shall have general custody of all of the funds and securities of the Company except such as may be required by law to be deposited with any state official; he shall see to the deposit of the funds of the company in such bank or banks as the Board of Directors may designate. Regular books of account shall be kept under his direction and supervision, and he shall render financial statements to the President, directors, policyholders and stockholders at proper times. He shall have charge of the preparation and filing of such reports and financial statements and returns as may be required by law. He shall give to the Company such fidelity bonds as may be required, and the premium therefore shall be paid for by the Company as an operating expense.

Section 8. Assistant Secretaries.

There may be such number of Assistant Secretaries as may be from time to time determined by the Board of Directors, and such persons shall perform such functions as may be from time to time assigned to them.

Section 9. Assistant Treasurers.

There may be such number of Assistant Treasurers as the Board of Directors shall from time to time fix, and such persons shall perform such functions as may be from time to time assigned to them.

Section 10. Registrars.

There may be such number of Registrars as the Board of Directors shall from time to time fix, and such persons shall perform such functions as may be from time to time assigned to them.

ARTICLE V

COMMITTEES

Section 1. Executive Committee.

At the option of the Board of Directors, there shall be an Executive Committee, which shall consist of such persons as shall be from time to time appointed to such committee by the Board. The Executive Committee shall have all of the powers and perform all of the functions of the Board of Directors between regular or special meetings of the Board of Directors.

Section 2 Additional Standing Committees.

At the Option of the Board of Directors, there may be standing Investment, Acquisitions, and Merger Committees and the Board of Directors shall delegate such additional standing committees, as it may deem advisable. The Board of Directors shall delegate to such standing committees such functions, duties, and responsibilities as it may chose, and shall from time to time fix, appoint, and remove the personnel of such committees.

Section 3. Special Committees.

The Board of Directors or the President may at any time designate such special committees as it or he may deem advisable, may fix the duties of such committees, and appoint and remove their personnel.

Section 4. Minutes and Record of Committees.

A record shall be kept of the proceedings and determination of all standing committees and the reports of all Special Committees. The minutes of the meetings of the standing Executive, Investment, Acquisitions, and Merger committees (if such committees shall be organized) shall be preserved in the same manner as are preserved the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VI

AMENDMENTS

Section 1. Repeal, alteration, or amendment.

These bylaws may be repealed, altered, or amended, or substitute bylaws may be adopted only by a majority of the Board of Directors at any time.

ARTICLE VII

LIABILITY AND INDEMNIFICATION

Section 1. Personal Liability of Directors.

No director of the corporation shall be personally liable to the corporation or its shareholders for monetary damages for a breach of fiduciary duty as a director; provided, however, that this Article shall not eliminate or limit the liability of a director for (I) any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its shareholders; (II) acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional conduct or a knowing violation of law;

(III) authorizing the unlawful payment of a dividend or other distribution on the corporation's capital stock or the unlawful purchase of its capital stock; (IV) a violation of Arizona Revised Statutes Section 10041 director conflicts of interest; or (V) any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit.

Section 2. Corporate Indemnification Language Directors and Officers.

The Company shall indemnify, to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by law, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the Company to provide broader indemnification rights than such law permitted the Company to provide prior to such amendment), any person made, or threatened to be made, a defendant or witness to any threatened, pending or completed action, suite, or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative, investigative or otherwise) by reason of the fact that he or she, or his or her testator or intestate, is or was a director or officer of the company or by reason of the fact that such director or officer, at the request of the Company, is or was serving any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise. Nothing contained herein shall diminish any rights to indemnification to which employees or agents other than directors or officers may be entitled by law, and the Company may indemnify such employees and agents to the fullest extent and in the manner permitted by law. The rights to indemnification set forth in this Article XIV shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which any person may be entitled under any statute, provision of the Articles of Incorporation, bylaw, agreement, contract, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors, or otherwise.

In furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by statute:

1. The Company may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the Company, or is serving in any capacity, at the request of the Company, any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, against any liability or expense incurred by him or her in any such capacity, or arising out of his or her status as such, whether or not the Company would have the power to indemnify him or her against such liability or expense under the provisions of law; and

2. The Company may create a trust fund, grant a security interest or lien on any assets of the Company and/or use other means (including, without limitation, letters of credit, guaranties, surety bonds and/or other similar arrangements), and enter into contracts providing indemnification to the full extent authorized or permitted by law and including as part thereof provisions with respect to any or all of the foregoing to ensure the payment of such amounts as may become necessary to effect indemnification as provided therein, or elsewhere.

BYLAWS OF

FIFTEEN PAC COMPANY

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

GENERAL

1.01 References. Any reference herein made to law will be deemed to refer to the law of the state of Nevada, including any applicable provisions of Chapter 78 of Title 7, Nevada Revised Statutes (or its successor), as of any given time in effect. Any reference herein made to the Articles will be deemed to refer to the applicable provision or provisions of the Articles of Incorporation of FIFTEEN PAC COMPANY (the "Corporation"), and all amendments thereto, as at any given time on file with the Nevada Secretary of State, together with any and all certificates filed by the Corporation with the Nevada Secretary of State (or any successor to its functions) pursuant to applicable law.

1.02 Seniority. The Articles will in all respects be considered senior and superior to these Bylaws, with any inconsistency to be resolved in favor of the Articles, and with these Bylaws to be deemed automatically amended from time to time to eliminate any such inconsistency which may then exist.

1.03 Offices. The principal office of the Corporation shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The Corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

1.04 Change Thereof. The Board of Directors may change the Corporation's principal office or its statutory agent from time to time by filing a statement with the Nevada Secretary of State pursuant to applicable law.

1.05 Stockholders of Record. The word "stockholder" as used herein shall mean one who is a holder of record of shares in the corporation as defined in Section 2.04.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

2.01 Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation shall be held on the Second Saturday in August of each year, at the office of the Corporation in the State of Nevada or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

2.02 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the stockholders may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2.03 of this Article.

2.03 Notices. Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each stockholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the Corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of stockholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting. Any stockholder may waive call or notice of any annual, deferred annual, or special meeting (and any adjournment thereof) at any time before, during which or after it is held. Attendance of a stockholder at any such meeting in person or by proxy will automatically evidence his waiver of call and notice of such meeting (and any adjournment thereof) unless he or his proxy is attending the meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of business because the meeting has not been properly called or noticed.

2.04 Stockholders of Record. For each meeting, or consent to corporate action without a meeting, of stockholders (and at any adjournment of such meeting), or in order to make a determination of stockholders for determining those stockholders entitled to receive payment of any dividend, or for any other lawful action, the Board of Directors may fix in advance a record date which shall not be more than sixty (60) nor less than ten (10) days prior to the date of such meeting or other action.

If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors for determining stockholders entitled to notice of, and to vote at, a meeting of stockholders, the record date shall be at four o'clock in the afternoon on the day before the notice is given, or, if notice is waived, at the commencement of the meeting. If no record date is fixed for determining stockholders entitled to express written consent to corporate action without a meeting, the record date shall be the time of the day on which the first written consent is served upon an officer or director of the Corporation.

A determination of stockholders of record entitled to notice of, and to vote at, a meeting of stockholders shall apply to any adjournment of the meeting; provided, however, that the Board of Directors may fix a new record date for the adjourned meeting, and further provided that the adjournment or adjournments of any such meeting do not exceed thirty (30) days in the aggregate.

2.05 Tellers. At all meetings of stockholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each stockholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

2.06 Proxies. Any stockholder entitled to vote thereat may vote by proxy at any meeting of the stockholders (and at any adjournment thereof) which is specified in such proxy, provided that his or her proxy is executed in writing by such stockholder or his or her duly authorized attorney-in-fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise specifically provided therein. The burden of proving the validity of any undated, irrevocable or otherwise contested proxy at a meeting of the stockholders will rest with the person seeking to exercise the same. A telegram or cablegram appearing to have been transmitted by a stockholder or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact may be accepted as a sufficiently written and executed proxy.

2.07 Voting. Except for the election of directors (which will be governed by cumulative voting pursuant to applicable law) and except as may otherwise be required by the Corporation's Articles, these Bylaws or by statute, each issued and outstanding share of the Corporation (specifically excluding shares held in the treasury of the corporation) represented at any meeting of the stockholders in person or by a proxy given pursuant to Section 2.06 above, will be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote of the stockholders at such meeting. Unless otherwise required by the Corporation's Articles or by applicable law, any question submitted to the stockholders will be resolved by a majority of the votes cast thereon, provided that such votes constitute a majority of the quorum of that particular meeting, whether or not such quorum is then present. Voting will be by ballot on any question as to which a ballot vote is demanded prior to the time the voting begins by any person entitled to vote on such question; otherwise, a voice vote will suffice. No ballot or change of vote will be accepted after the polls have been declared closed following the ending of the announced time for voting.

2.08 Quorum. At any meeting of the stockholders, the presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares of the Corporation issued, outstanding and entitled to vote at the meeting will constitute a quorum of the stockholders for all purposes. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting may be adjourned from time to time by its chairman, without notice other than by announcement at the meeting, until a quorum is formed. At any such adjourned meeting at which a quorum is present, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting as originally noticed. Once a quorum has been formed at any meeting, the stockholders from time to time remaining in attendance may continue to transact business until adjournment, notwithstanding the prior departure of enough stockholders to leave less than a quorum. If an adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days, or if after the adjournment a new record date is fixed for the adjourned meeting, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each stockholder of record entitled to vote at the meeting.

2.09 Order of Business.

1st All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the tellers for verification.

2nd Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th Reports of officers and committees.

5th Election of Directors.

6th Unfinished business.

7th New business.

8th Adjournment.

2.10 Action by Stockholders Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, is signed by stockholders holding at least eighty-five percent (85%) of the outstanding common stock.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

3.01 Number and Term of Directors. The Board of Directors will be comprised of not less than one nor more than nine members who need not be stockholders of the Corporation. The directors will regularly be elected at each annual meeting of the stockholders, but directors may be elected at any other meeting of the stockholders. The Board of Directors will have the power to increase or decrease its size within the aforesaid limits and to fill any vacancies by majority vote which may occur in its membership, whether resulting from an increase in the size of that board or otherwise, and shall hold office until the next annual meeting of the stockholders. Each director elected by the stockholders or the Board of Directors shall hold office until his or her successor is duly elected and qualified. However, the holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the term of office of all or any of the Directors by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in this Section.

3.02 Regular Meetings. After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation, the newly elected directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

3.04 Quorum. A quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting or adjourned meeting of the Board of Directors will consist of a majority of those then in office. Once a quorum has been formed, the directors from time to time remaining in attendance at such meeting prior to its adjournment will continue to be legally competent to transact business properly brought before the meeting, notwithstanding the prior departure from the meeting of enough directors to leave less than a quorum.

3.05 Voting. Any matter submitted to a meeting of the Board of Directors will be resolved by a majority of the votes cast thereon.

3.06 Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

1st Roll call; a quorum being present.

2nd Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.

3rd Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.

4th Reports of officials and committees.

5th Unfinished business.

6th Miscellaneous business.

7th New business.

8th Adjournment.

3.12 Meetings by Conference Telephone. If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

4.01 Generally: The Government in control of the Corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

4.02 Special Powers: The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, but expressly subject to the limitations set forth in the Articles, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner real property and any personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks, contracts and interests thereunder, and other property that in the judgment of the Board of Directors may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the Corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

COMMITTEES

5.01 Committees: From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

6.01 Officers: And the officers of the Corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the Corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

6.02 Powers and Duties of President: The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the Corporation.

He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the Corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the Corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the Corporation. The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the stockholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the stockholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the Bylaws of the Corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the Corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the Corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

6.03 Powers and Duties of the Secretary: The Secretary of the Corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the Corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the Corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

RESIGNATIONS AND VACANCIES

7.1 Resignations. Any director, committee member, or officer may resign from his or her office at any time by written notice delivered or addressed to the Corporation at its principal office. Any such resignation will be effective upon its receipt by the Corporation unless some later time is therein fixed, and then from that time; the acceptance of a resignation will not be required to make it effective.

7.2 Vacancies. If the office of any director, committee member, or officer becomes vacant by reason of his or her death, resignation, disqualification, removal or otherwise, the Board of Directors may choose a successor to hold office for the unexpired term.

ARTICLE VIII

SEAL

8.01 Form Thereof. The Board of Directors may provide for a seal of the Corporation which will have inscribed thereon the name of the Corporation, the state and year of its incorporation, and the words "Corporate Seal."

ARTICLE IX

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

9.01. Stock and Certificates and Transfers: All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the Corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the Corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the Corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the Corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefore, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the Corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

ARTICLE X

DIVIDENDS

10.01 Subject to such restrictions or requirements as may be imposed by applicable law or the Corporation's Articles or as may otherwise be binding upon the Corporation, the Board of Directors may from time to time declare and the Corporation may pay dividends on shares of the corporation outstanding on the dates of record fixed by the board, to be paid in cash, in property or in shares of the Corporation on or as of such payment or distribution dates as the Board may prescribe.

ARTICLE XI

FISCAL YEAR

11.01 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March each year.

ARTICLE XII

AMENDMENTS

12.01 Amendment of Bylaws: The Bylaws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of the Corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting. Also, said Bylaws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the stockholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the stockholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

BY-LAWS OF

FIVE PAC COMPANY

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: December 22, 1994

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Nevada shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the second Saturday in June of each year, at the office of the corporation in the State of Nevada or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the teller(s) for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Directors:

A board of one (1) or more Directors, as required by law, shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the terms of office of all or any of the Directors, by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors, though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specifically called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll Call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

SECTION 7. Meetings by Telephone:

If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks in contracts, and Interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgement may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.

2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the By-Laws of the corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and that the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the Assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such preemptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of this corporation at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing Re-stated By-Laws of Five PAC Company are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Directors:

A board of one (1) or more Directors, as required by law, shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the terms of office of all or any of the Directors, by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors, though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specifically called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll Call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

SECTION 7. Meetings by Telephone:

If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which In their judgement may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.

2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the By-Laws of the corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and that the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the Assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such preemptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of this corporation at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing Re-stated By-Laws of Four PAC Company are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION

OF

FOURTEEN PAC COMPANY

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: That I, the undersigned, for the purpose of forming a corporation under the laws of the State of Nevada, do certify:

ARTICLE I

The name of the corporation is: FOURTEEN PAC COMPANY.

ARTICLE II

The principal place of business of the corporation shall be 1325 Airmotive Way, Suite 100, Reno, NV 89502.

ARTICLE III

The corporation's resident agent shall be: The Corporation Trust Company of Nevada, One East First Street, Reno, Nevada 89501.

ARTICLE IV

The nature of the business and the objects and purposes to be transacted, promoted, or carried on by the corporation are to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organized under the General Corporation Law of Nevada.

ARTICLE V

The corporation shall have authority to issue the following:

The number of shares of commons stock which this corporation is authorized to issue is One Hundred Thousand (100,000) shares with a par value of One Cent ($.01) per share.

ARTICLE VI

The Board of Directors shall consist of one (1) to nine (9) individuals, as determined by resolution of the Board of Directors. The initial Board of Directors shall consist of one person, who shall serve as Director until the annual meeting of shareholders or until his successor is elected and qualified. Such person shall be Charles J. Bayer, 2721 N. Central Avenue, Phoenix, AZ 85004.

ARTICLE VII

The name and address of the incorporator is:

Jennifer M. Settles 2721 N. Central Avenue, 11th Floor Phoenix, Arizona 85003

ARTICLE VIII

The period of existence of the Corporation shall be perpetual.

ARTICLE IX

The corporation shall indemnify, to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by law, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended, any person made, or threatened to be made, a defendant or witness to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative, investigative or otherwise) by reason of the fact that he or she, or his or her testator or intestate, is or was a director or officer of the corporation or by reason of the fact that such director or officer, at the request of the corporation, is or was serving any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise. Nothing contained herein shall diminish any rights to indemnification to which employees or agents other than directors or officers may be entitled by law, and the corporation may indemnify such employees and agents to the fullest extent and in the manner permitted by law. The rights to indemnification set forth in this Article shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which any person may be entitled under any statute, provision of the Articles of Incorporation, Bylaw, agreement, contract, vote of shareholders or directors, or as otherwise provided.

In furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by statute:

1. The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is serving in any capacity, at the request of the corporation, any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, against any liability or expense incurred by him or her in any such capacity, or arising out of his or her status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him or her against such liability or expense under the provisions of law; and
2. The corporation may create a trust fund, grant a security interest or lien on any assets of the corporation and/or use other means (including, without limitation, letters of credit, guaranties, surety bonds and/or other similar arrangements), and enter into contracts providing indemnification to the full extent authorized or permitted by law and including as part thereof provisions with respect to any or all of the foregoing to ensure the payment of such amounts as may become necessary to effect indemnification as provided therein, or elsewhere.

No director or officer shall be personally liable to the corporation or its stockholders for damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director or officer, except the liability of a director or officer shall not be limited or eliminated for: (a) acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct, fraud or a knowing violation of law; or (b) the payment of distribution in violation of Nevada Revised Statutes Section 78.300.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I, the aforementioned incorporator, have signed the Articles of Incorporation this 23rd day of July, 1999

EXHIBIT 3.28

BY-LAWS OF

FOURTEEN PAC COMPANY

A NEVADA CORPORATION

DATE: July 26, 1999

ARTICLE I

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Arizona shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Arizona as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the first Monday in July of each year, at the office of the corporation in the State of Arizona or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the State of Arizona. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

Voting at all shareholders meetings. A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the tellers for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Office:

A board of one (1) to three (3) Directors shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the term of office of all or any of the Directors by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Arizona.

SECTION 4. Special Meeting:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specified called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Arizona.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll Call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks in contracts, and Interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgment may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Arizona, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees, shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the Arizona statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation. The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

SECTION 4. Powers and Duties of Treasurer:

The Treasurer, if one is appointed, shall have the care and custody of all funds and securities of the corporation, and deposit the same in the name of the corporation in such bank or banks or other depository as the Directors may select. He shall pay out and dispose of funds of the corporation under the direction of the Board of Directors, but checks may be signed as directed by the Board by resolution. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer at all reasonable time to exhibit his books and accounts to any Director or stockholder of the corporation upon application at the office of the corporation during business hours, and generally perform the duties of and act as the financial agent for the corporation for the receipts and disbursements of its funds. He shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the Board of Directors may determine. The office of the Treasurer of said corporation may be held by the same person holding the President, Vice-President, or Secretary's office, provided the Board of Directors indicates the combination of these offices.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Arizona, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and that the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer record shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the Assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such pre-emptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of each year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of this corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the Directors are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing By-Laws are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

The Articles of Incorporation of NATIONWIDE COMMERCIAL CO. are amended to add the following provisions as Articles XII and XIII as set forth below:

ARTICLE XII

The corporation shall indemnify, to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by law, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than such law permitted the corporation to provide prior to such amendment), any person made, or threatened to be made, a defendant or witness to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative, investigative or otherwise) by reason of the fact that he or she, or his or her testator or intestate, is or was a director or officer of the corporation or by reason of the fact that such director or officer, at the request of the corporation, is or was serving any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise. Nothing contained herein shall diminish any rights to indemnification to which employees or agents other than directors or officers may be entitled by law, and the corporation may indemnify such employees and agents to the fullest extent and in the manner permitted by law. The rights to indemnification set forth in this Article XII shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which any person may be entitled under any statute, provision of the Articles of Incorporation, bylaw, agreement, contract, vote of shareholders or directors, otherwise.

In furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by statute:

1. The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is serving in any capacity, at the request of the corporation, any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, against any liability or expense incurred by him or her in any such capacity, or arising out of his or her status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him or her against such liability or expense under the provisions of law; and
2. The corporation may create a trust fund, grant a security interest or lien on any assets of the corporation and/or use other means (including, without limitation, letters of credit, guaranties, surety bonds and/or other similar arrangements), and enter into contracts providing indemnification to the full extent authorized or permitted by law and including as part thereof provisions with respect to any or all of the foregoing to ensure the payment of such amounts as may become necessary to effect indemnification as provided therein, or elsewhere.

ARTICLE XIII

No director or officer shall be personally liable to the corporation or its stockholders for damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director or officer, except the liability of a director or officer shall not be limited or eliminated for:

- (a) Any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its shareholders.
- (b) Acts or omissions which are not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law.
- (c) Authorizing the unlawful payment of a dividend or other distribution on the corporation's capital stock or the unlawful purchase of its capital stock.
- (d) Any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit.
- (e) A violation of A.R.S. section 10-041.

OF

ARIZONA COMMERCIAL CO.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: That we, the undersigned, have this day adopted, made and subscribed in triplicate to the following Articles of Incorporation, for the purpose of forming a corporation under the laws of the State of Arizona.

ARTICLE I

The name of this corporation shall be ARIZONA COMMERCIAL CO.

ARTICLE II

The principal place of business of the corporation shall be at 2503 North Central Avenue, Phoenix, in the County of Maricopa, State of Arizona.

ARTICLE III

The nature of the business and the objects and purposes to be transacted, promoted, or carried on by the corporation are to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organized under the General Corporation Law of Arizona including but not limited to:

Issuing, buying, or otherwise acquiring commercial paper or other security for debts; making loans with such paper as security; or otherwise borrowing and lending money, collecting or foreclosing, including the bringing of any necessary legal actions, upon such loans or security; and generally carrying on a finance business.

ARTICLE IV

The authorized amount of capital stock of this corporation shall be Ten Million ($10,000,000.00) Dollars, divided into one million (1,000,000) shares of the par value of Ten ($10.00) Dollars each. Said capital stock shall be paid in at such time and upon such conditions as the Board of Directors may by resolution direct, either in cash, or by services rendered to the corporation, or by real or personal property transferred to it. Shares of stock when issued in exchange for services or property pursuant to a resolution of the Board of Directors shall thereupon become and be fully paid the same as though paid for in cash at par, and shall be non-assessable forever, and the determination of the Board of Directors as to the value of any property or services received by the corporation in exchange for stock shall be conclusive.

ARTICLE V

The time of the commencement of this corporation shall be the date of the issuance to it of a certificate of incorporation by the Corporation Commission of the State of Arizona, and the time of its duration shall be twenty-five (25) years from and after said date, with the privilege of renewal in the manner provided by law.

ARTICLE VI

This corporation shall have three directors initially. The number of directors may be increased or diminished from time to time in accordance with the by-laws adopted by the stockholders, but shall never be less than three.

ARTICLE VII

The affairs of this corporation shall be conducted by the Board of Directors and by such officers as the said board of directors may from time to time elect or appoint. Said directors shall be elected by the stockholders at the annual meeting of the corporation to be held on the third Saturday of May and shall hold office until their successors are elected.

ARTICLE VIII

The corporation shall not incur or subject itself to a total indebtedness or liability, direct or contingent, in an amount exceeding two-thirds (2/3) of its authorized capital stock unless authorized by three-fourths (3/4) of the vote cast with respect thereto at a lawfully held shareholders meeting, and approved by the Corporation Commission of the State of Arizona.

ARTICLE IX

Except as to the amount of any unpaid stock subscription owing to this corporation, the private property of the stockholders of this corporation shall be exempt from liability for its debts and obligations.

ARTICLE X

The statutory agent for the corporation shall be C. T. Corporation, 14 North 18th Avenue, Phoenix, Arizona. C. T. Corporation is a corporation empowered by its articles to act as a statutory agent.

ARTICLE XI

The incorporators of this corporation are:

AGREEMENT OF MERGER

THIS AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF MERGER dated December 1, 1970 made by and between Arizona Commercial Co., an Arizona Corporation, and a majority of the directors thereof, herein referred to as SURVIVOR, and Nationwide Commercial Co., an Illinois Corporation, and a majority of the directors thereof, parties of the second part, said two corporations being hereinafter sometimes referred to as SURVIVOR AND ABSORBED, respectively, or, together as the Constituent Corporations, WITNESSETH THAT:

WHEREAS, SURVIVOR is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Arizona with its registered office in the State of Arizona being located at 14 North 18th Avenue, Phoenix, Arizona, and the name of its Registered Agent at such office is C. T. Corporation; and

WHEREAS, SURVIVOR has a capitalization consisting of 1,000,000 authorized shares of Common Stock, of the par value of $10.00 Dollars each, none of which have been as yet issued; and

WHEREAS, ABSORBED is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Illinois with its registered office in the State of Illinois being located at 208 S. LaSalle Street, Chicago, Illinois, and the name of its Registered Agent at such office is C. T. Corporation System; and

WHEREAS, ABSORBED has an authorized capitalization of 100 shares of capital stock having a par value of $10.00 per share, all of which have been issued, with 100 shares being outstanding; and

WHEREAS, the respective Boards of Directors of the Constituent Companies have determined that it is advisable that ABSORBED be merged into SURVIVOR, on the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, in accordance with the applicable provisions of the laws of the State of Arizona and of the State of Illinois, which laws permit such merger;

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the promises and of the mutual agreements, covenants and provisions hereinafter contained, the parties hereto agree that ABSORBED be merged into SURVIVOR, and that the term and conditions of such merger, the mode of carrying the same into effect, and the manner and basis of converting the shares of ABSORBED into shares of SURVIVOR shall be as follows:

ARTICLE I. ABSORBED and SURVIVOR shall be merged into a single corporation, in accordance with the applicable provisions of the laws of the State of Arizona and of the State of Illinois, by ABSORBED merging into SURVIVOR, which shall be the surviving corporation. The separate existence of ABSORBED shall cease and the existence of SURVIVOR shall continue unaffected and unimpaired by the merger with all the rights, privileges, immunities and powers, and subject to all the duties and liabilities of a corporation organized under the General Corporation Law of the State of Arizona.

ARTICLE II. 1. The Articles of Incorporation of SURVIVOR SHALL continue to be its Articles of Incorporation following the effective date of the merger, until the same shall be altered or amended.

2. The By-Laws of SURVIVOR shall be and remain the By-Laws of SURVIVOR until altered, amended or repealed.

3. The Board of Directors of SURVIVOR as of the effective date of the merger shall be as follows:

Michael L. Dougherty Samuel J. Briggs Arthur G. Seifert

The officers of SURVIVOR as of the effective date of the merger shall be:

President - Michael L. Dougherty Vice President - Treasurer - Samuel J. Briggs Secretary - Arthur G. Seifert

The above-named officers and directors of SURVIVOR shall continue in office until the next regular annual meeting of shareholders and directors of SURVIVOR and until their successors shall have been elected.

ARTICLE III. On the effective date of the merger:

1. SURVIVOR shall possess all the rights, privileges, immunities, powers and franchises as well of a public as of a private nature, and shall be subject to all of the restrictions, disabilities and duties of each of the Constituent Corporations; and all property, real, personal and mixed, including all patents, applications for patents, trademarks, trademark registrations and applications for registration of trademarks, together with the good will of the business in connection with which said patents and marks are used, and all debts due on whatever account, including subscriptions to shares of capital stock, and all other choses in action all and every other interest of or belonging to or due to each of the Constituent corporations shall be deemed to be transferred to and vested in

SURVIVOR without further act or deed, and the title to any real estate, or any interest therein, vested in either of the Constituent Corporations shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of the merger.

2. SURVIVOR shall be responsible and liable for all the liabilities and obligations of each of the Constituent Corporations; and any claim existing or action or proceedings pending by or against either of the Constituent Corporations may be prosecuted to judgment as if the merger had not taken place, or SURVIVOR may be substituted in its place and neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of either of the Constituent Corporations shall be impaired by the merger. SURVIVOR shall execute and deliver any and all documents which may be required for it to assume or otherwise comply with outstanding obligations of ABSORBED.

3. SURVIVOR agrees to perform the obligations of ABSORBED to the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago under Revolving Credit Agreement and a Security Agreement, both dated as of September 29, 1967, as amended, or otherwise incurred.

ARTICLE IV. The manner and basis of converting the shares of stock of each of the Constituent Corporations into shares of stock of SURVIVOR are as follows:

1. All outstanding shares of stock of ABSORBED shall be surrendered to SURVIVOR, in return for which SURVIVOR shall issue its stock to the shareholders of ABSORBED on a share-for-share basis, in order that the effect of such exchange shall be that the shareholders of ABSORBED shall become the shareholders of SURVIVOR to the same extent of percentage of ownership as they previously were of ABSORBED.

2. On the effective date of the merger, and when the aforementioned exchange has been effected, the outstanding stock of SURVIVOR shall be deemed for all corporate purposes to evidence the ownership of the Constituent Corporations.

ARTICLE V. ABSORBED shall pay all expenses of accomplishing the merger.

ARTICLE VI. If at any time SURVIVOR shall consider or be advised that any further assignment or assurance in law are necessary or desirable to vest or to perfect or confirm of record in SURVIVOR the title to any property or rights of ABSORBED, OR TO otherwise carry out the provisions hereof, the proper officers and directors of ABSORBED as of the effective date of the merger shall execute and deliver any and all proper deeds, assignments and assurances in law, and do all things necessary or proper to vest, perfect or confirm title to such property or rights in SURVIVOR, and otherwise to carry out the provisions hereof.

ARTICLE VII. Each of the Constituent Corporations shall take or cause to be taken, all action or do or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or either of such States, to consummate and make effective the merger, subject, however, to the appropriate vote or consent of the stockholders of each of the Constituent Corporations in accordance with the requirements of the applicable provisions of the laws of the State of Arizona and of the State of Illinois.

ARTICLE VIII. The effective date of the merger shall be at the close of business on December 31, 1970. The officers and directors of ABSORBED are authorized and directed to perform all actions required for accomplishing and filling the merger under the laws of the State of Arizona and the State of Illinois.

ARTICLE IX. The Article of Incorporation of SURVIVOR shall be amended to change its name to Nationwide Commercial Co.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the corporate parties hereto, pursuant to authority given by their respective Board of Directors, have caused this Agreement and Plan of Merger to be entered into and signed by their respective directors, or a majority of them, and in their respective corporate names by their respective President or Vice-Presidents, and their corporate seals to be hereunto affixed, and to be attested by their respective Secretaries or Assistant Secretaries, all as of the date and year first above written.

BY-LAWS OF

ARIZONA COMMERCIAL CO.

AN ARIZONA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: November 30, 1970

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the state of Arizona shall be located in the city of Phoenix. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the state of Arizona as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the Third Saturday in May of each year, at the office of the corporation in the state of Arizona or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for the election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer of persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the state of Arizona.

Notice of the special meetings will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

Voting at all shareholders meetings. A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the tellers for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Officers:

A board of three (3) Directors shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the term of office of all or any of the Directors by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies on the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the state of Arizona.

SECTION 4. Special Meeting:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specified called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the state of Arizona.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws, but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

1st. Roll call; a quorum being present.

2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.

3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.

4th. Reports of officials and committees.

5th. Unfinished business.

6th. Miscellaneous business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trade-marks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgment may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.
3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee the notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Arizona, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the Arizona statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officer and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of Vice-President:

The Vice-President shall have such powers and perform such duties as may be assigned to him by the Board of Directors of the corporation and in the absence or inability of the President, the Vice-President shall perform the duties of the President.

SECTION 4. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

SECTION 5. Powers and Duties of Treasurer:

The Treasurer shall have the care and custody of all funds and securities of the corporation, and deposit the same in the name of the corporation in such bank or banks or other depository as the Directors may select. He shall sign checks, drafts, notices, and orders for the payment of money, and he shall pay out and dispose of the same under the direction of the Board of Directors, but checks may be signed as directed by the Board by resolution. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer at all reasonable time to exhibit his books and accounts to any Director or stockholder of the corporation upon application at the office of the corporation during business hours, and generally perform the duties of and act as the financial agent for the corporation for the receipts and disbursements of its funds. He shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the Board of Directors may determine. The office of the Treasurer of said corporation, may be held by the same person holding the President, Vice-President or Secretary's office, provided the Board of Directors indicates the combination of these offices.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Arizona, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signer of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the number of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such preemptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

SECTION 3. Restrictions on Transfer:

No shareholder shall transfer, alienate, or in any way dispose of any share of the corporation unless such share shall first have been offered for sale to the corporation. The corporation reserves and shall have the exclusive right in adoption to purchase such shares at a price equal to the book value thereof within sixty days after such offer. After the expiration of such time, the shareholder, if the corporation shall not have exercised his option to purchase such share, shall be free to transfer, alienate or otherwise dispose of such share without any restrictions whatsoever. Provided, however, that this restriction shall not apply to inter vivos gifts or transfer without consideration by operation of law of shares of stock by shareholders to members of the immediate family of such shareholders.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each calendar year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of this corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing By-Laws of ARIZONA COMMERCIAL CO., are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

BY-LAWS OF

NINE PAC COMPANY

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: January 23, 1995

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Nevada shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the second Saturday in June of each year, at the office of the corporation in the State of Nevada or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the teller(s) for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Directors:

A board of one (1) or more Directors, as required by law, shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the terms of office of all or any of the Directors, by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors, though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specifically called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll Call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

SECTION 7. Meetings by Telephone:

If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgement may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.

2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the By-Laws of the corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and that the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the Assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such preemptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of this corporation at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing Re-stated By-Laws of Nine PAC Company are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: December 6, 1994

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Nevada shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the second Saturday in June of each year, at the office of the corporation in the State of Nevada or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be trans-acted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the teller(s) for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Directors:

A board of one (1) or more Directors, as required by law, shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the terms of office of all or any of the Directors, by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors, though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specifically called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll Call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

SECTION 7. Meetings by Telephone:

If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgement may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.
3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.
4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the By-Laws of the corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and that the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the Assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such preemptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of this corporation at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing Re-stated By-Laws of One PAC Company are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

PF&F HOLDINGS CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

MEETINGS OF STOCKHOLDERS

Section 1. Annual Meetings. The annual meetings of the stockholders shall be held at such place as may be fixed from time to time by the Board of Directors, or in the absence of direction by the Board of Directors, by the Chairman, President or Secretary of the Corporation, either within or outside the State of Delaware, as shall be stated in the notice of the meeting or in a duly executed waiver of notice thereof.

Section 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders, for any purpose or purposes whatsoever, may be called at any time by the Chairman of the Board of Directors, by the president, or by one or more stockholders holding, in the aggregate, not less than forty percent (40%) of the voting power of the corporation.

Section 3. Calls and Notices. Notices of all meetings of the stockholders shall conform to the provisions of Article IV of these By-Laws.

Section 4. Chairman. The Chairman of the Board, and in his absence, the president, shall preside at all meetings.

Section 5. Voting and Proxies. Every person entitled to vote at any election for directors shall have the right to accumulate his votes and to give one candidate a number of votes equal to the number of directors to be elected, multiplied by the number of votes to which his shares are entitled, or to distribute his votes on the same principal among as many candidates as he shall think fit. The candidates receiving the highest number of votes, up to the number of directors to be elected, shall be elected. On matters other than the election of directors, each share of stock shall be entitled to one vote, which may be cast by ballot or voice vote, as the case may be.

Every person entitled to vote shall have the right to do so either in person or by one or more agents authorized by a written proxy executed by such person or his duly authorized agent and filed with the secretary of the corporation. Any proxy duly executed is not revoked and continues in full force and effect until an instrument revoking it, or a newly executed proxy bearing a later date, is filed with the secretary of the corporation; provided, however, that no proxy shall be valid after the expiration of three (3) years from the date of its execution, unless the person executing it specifies therein a longer period of time for which such proxy is to continue in force.

Section 6. Stockholders of Record. Only such persons shall be entitled to vote in person or by proxy as appear as stockholders upon the transfer books of the corporation thirty (30) days preceding the date of the meeting; provided, however, that stockholders by a resolution, adopted by a majority vote of the issued and outstanding stock represented at the meeting, may grant the privilege of voting to persons appearing as stockholders upon the transfer books of the corporation at a transfer date less than thirty (30) days preceding the meeting.

Section 7. Quorum. The presence, in person or by proxy, of persons entitled to vote a majority of the voting shares at any meeting shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The stockholders present at a meeting at which a quorum is present may continue to do business until adjournment, notwithstanding the withdrawal of enough stockholders to leave less than a quorum.

Any stockholders' meeting, annual or special, whether or not a quorum is present, may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the voting shares, the holder of which are either present in person or represented by proxy; but in the absence of a quorum, no other business may be transacted at such meeting. At any adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the original meeting.

Section 8. Informalities. All informalities or irregularities, or both, in calls, notices of meetings, the manner of voting, form of proxies, credentials, and method of ascertaining those present, shall be deemed waived if no objection is made at the meeting.

ARTICLE II BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Section 1. Powers. Subject to limitations of the Articles of Incorporation and of Delaware Corporation Law as to action to be authorized or approved by the stockholders, all corporate powers shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be controlled by the Board of Directors.

Section 2. Number of Directors. The authorized number of directors of the corporation shall be not less than one (1) nor more than three (3) directors.

Section 3. Vacancies. Vacancies on the Board of Directors may be filled by a majority of the remaining directors, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director, and each director so elected shall hold office until his successor is elected at an annual or a special meeting of the stockholders.

A vacancy or vacancies on the Board of Directors shall be deemed to exist in the case of the death, resignation, or removal of any director, or if the authorized number of directors is increased, or if the stockholders fail, at any annual or special meeting of the stockholders at which a director, or directors, is elected, to elect the full authorized number of directors to be voted for at that meeting.

The stockholders may elect a director, or directors, at any time to fill any vacancy, or vacancies, not filled by the directors. If the Board of Directors accepts the resignation of a director intended to take effect at a future time, the board or the stockholders shall have the power to elect a successor to take office when the resignation becomes effective.

Section 4. Organization Meetings. Immediately following each annual meeting of the stockholders, the Board of Directors shall hold a regular meeting for the purpose of organization, election of officers, and the transaction of other business. Notice of such meeting shall not be required.

Section 5. Other Regular Meetings. Other regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held without call or notice at such other times, at regular intervals, as the Board of Directors may from time to time by resolution specify.

Section 6. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board of Directors for any purpose or purposes, shall be called at any time by the Chairman of the Board or, if he is absent or unable to refuse to act, by the president or by any two directors. Notices of special meetings shall conform to the provisions of Article IV of these By-Laws.

Section 7. Quorum. A majority of the authorized number of directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except to adjourn. Every act or decision done or made by a majority of the directors present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be regarded as the act of the Board of Directors, unless a greater number be required by law.

Sections 8. Adjournment. A quorum of the directors may adjourn any directors meeting to meet again at a stated date and hour; provided, however, that in the absence of a quorum, a majority of the directors present at any directors meeting, either regular or special, may adjourn from time to time until the time fixed for the next regular meeting of the board.

Notice of the time or place of holding an adjourned meeting need not be given to absent directors if the time and place be fixed at the meeting adjourned.

Section 9. Fees and Compensation. Directors and members of committees may receive such compensation, if any, for their services, and such reimbursement for expenses, as may be fixed or determined by resolution of the board.

ARTICLE III OFFICERS

Section 1. Officers. The officers of the corporation shall be a Chairman of the Board, a president, secretary and a treasurer. The corporation may also have, at the discretion of the Board of Directors, one or more vice-presidents, one or more assistant secretaries, one or more assistant treasurers, and such other officers as may be appointed in accordance with the provisions of Section 3 of this Article. One person may hold any number of offices.

Section 2. Election. The officers of the corporation, except such officers as may be appointed in accordance with the provisions of Section 3 or 5 of this Article, shall be chosen annually by the Board of Directors, and each shall hold his office until he shall resign, be removed, otherwise become disqualified to serve, or his successor shall be elected and qualify.

Section 3. Subordinate Officers. The Board of Directors may appoint such other officers as the business of the corporation may require, each of whom shall hold office for such period, have such authority, and perform such duties as are provided in the By-Laws or as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

Section 4. Removal and Resignation. Any officer may be removed, either with or without cause, by the Board of Directors, at any regular or special meeting thereof, or, except in the case of an officer chosen by the Board of Directors, by any officer upon whom such power or removal may be conferred by the Board of Directors.

Any officer may resign at any time by giving written notice to the Board of Directors, or to the president, or to the secretary of the corporation. Any such resignation shall take effect at the date of the receipt of such notice or at any later time specified therein; and, unless otherwise specified therein, the acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

Section 5. Vacancies. A vacancy in any office because of death, resignation, removal disqualification, or any other cause, shall be filled in the manner prescribed in the By-Laws for regular appointments to such office.

Section 6. Chairman of the Board. The Chairman of the Board shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation and shall, subject to the control of the Board of Directors, have general supervision, direction, and control of the business and officers of the corporation.

Section 7. President. The president shall be the Chief Operating Officer of the corporation and shall have all general powers and duties of management usually vested in the office of president of a corporation, and shall have such other powers and duties as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors or the By-Laws.

Section 8. Vice-President. In the absence or disability of the president, the vice-presidents, in order of their rank as fixed by the Board of Directors, or if not ranked, the vice-president designated by the Board of Directors, shall perform all of the duties of the president, and when so acting shall have all the powers of, and be subject to all the restrictions upon, the president. The vice-president shall have such other powers and perform such other duties as may from time to time be prescribed for them respectively by the Board of Directors or by the By-Laws.

Section 9. Secretary. The secretary shall keep or cause to be kept, at the principal office or at such other place as the Board of Directors may order, a book of minutes of all meetings of the directors and stockholders, with the time and place of holding, whether regular or special, and if special, how authorized, the notice thereof given, the names of shares present at the director's meetings, the number of shares present or represented at the stockholders meetings and the proceedings thereof.

The secretary shall keep, or cause to be kept, at the principal office or at the office of the corporation's transfer agent, a share register, or a duplicate share register, showing the names of the stockholders and their addresses, the number and classes of shares held by each, the number and date of certificates issued for the shares, and the number and date of cancellation of every certificate surrendered for cancellation.

The secretary shall give, or cause to be given, notice of all meetings of the stockholders and of the Board of Directors required by the By-Laws or by any law to be given, and shall keep the seal of the corporation in safe custody, and shall have such other powers and perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors or the By-Laws.

Section 10. Treasurer. The treasurer shall keep and maintain, or cause to be kept and maintained, adequate and correct accounts of the properties and the business transactions of the corporation, including accounts of its assets, liabilities, receipts, disbursements, gains, losses, capital, surplus, and shares. Any surplus, including earned surplus, paid in surplus and surplus arising from a reduction of capital, shall be classified according to the source and shown in a separate account. The books of account shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by any director.

The treasurer shall deposit all monies and other valuables in the name and to the credit of the corporation, with such depositories as may be designated by the Board of Directors. He shall disburse the funds of the corporation as may be ordered by the Board of Directors, shall render the president and directors, whenever they request it, an account of all his transactions as treasurer, and of the financial condition of the corporation, and shall have such other powers and perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors or the By-Laws.

ARTICLE IV NOTICES OF MEETINGS

Section 1. General. Whenever all of the stockholders shall meet in person or by proxy, such meetings shall be valid for all purposes, and at such meetings any corporate action may be taken that could be taken at a meeting duly called and noticed. Whenever all of the directors meet, such meetings shall be valid for all purposes, and at such meetings any corporate action may be taken that could be taken at a meeting duly called and noticed.

Section 2. Notice of Meetings. Written notice of each annual meeting of the stockholders shall be given to each stockholder entitled to vote, either personally or by mail or other written means of communication, charges prepaid, addressed to the stockholder at his address appearing on the books of the corporation or given by him to the corporation for the purpose of notice. If a stockholder gives no address, notice shall be deemed to have been given if sent by mail or other means of written communication addressed to the place where the principal office of the corporation is situated, or if published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which such office is located. All such notices shall be sent to each stockholder entitled thereto, not less than ten (10) days before each annual meeting. Such notices shall specify the place, the day, and the hour of such meeting, and shall state such other matters, if any, as may be expressly required by statute.

Except in special cases where other express provision is made by statute, notice of special meetings of stockholders shall be given in the same manner as for annual meetings of the stockholders. Notice of any special meetings shall specify, in addition to the place, date and hour of such meeting, the general nature of the business to be transacted.

The transactions of any meetings of stockholders, either annual or special, however called and noticed, shall be as valid as though conducted at a meeting duly held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present either in person or by proxy, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the persons entitled to vote, not present in person or by proxy, signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to the holding of such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents, or approvals, shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Written notice of the time and place of special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be delivered personally to each director, or sent to each director by mail or by other form of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to him at his address as it is shown upon the records, or if it is not so shown on such records or is not readily ascertainable, at the place where the meetings of the directors are regularly held. In the case such notice is mailed or telegraphed, it shall be deposited in the United States mail or delivered to the telegraph company in the place in which the principal office of the corporation is located, at least forty-eight (48) hours prior to the time of holding the meeting. In case such notice is delivered as provided above, it shall be so delivered at least twenty-four (24) hours prior to the time of holding of the meeting. Such mailing telegraphing, or delivery, as above provided, shall be due, legal and personal notice to such director.

The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called and noticed, or whenever held, shall be as valid as though conducted at a meeting duly held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waiver, consents, or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

ARTICLE V STOCK CERTIFICATES

Section 1. Form of Certificates. Each certificate for a share or shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall express on its face the par value of a share as established in the Article of Incorporation, and shall expressly state that the share, or shares, is fully paid up and nonassessable.

Section 2. Issuance. All certificates of stock shall be signed by the Chairman of the Board or president and the secretary or assistant secretary, or be authenticated by facsimiles of the signatures of the Chairman of the Board or the president and the written signature of the secretary or assistant secretary. Each certificate shall have the seal of the corporation impressed thereon. The name of the owner of each certificate and the number of shares represented by the certificate shall be entered on its stub, and each certificate issued by the corporation shall be receipted for by the person receiving it or by his duly authorized agent, either on the stub of the certificate or on a separate receipt which shall be kept by the secretary.

Section 3. Investment Legend. Each certificate of stock issued shall bear the following legend:

"The shares represented by this certificate have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933. The shares have been acquired for investment and may not be pledged or hypothecated and may not be sold or transferred in the absence of an effective registration statement for the shares under the Securities Act of 1933 or an opinion of counsel of the issuer that registration is not required under said Act."

Section 4. Transfer. Certificates of stock shall be transferred by assignment made by the owner, his attorney in fact or legal representative, and by delivery of the certificate to the secretary of the corporation for transfer. Each certificate surrendered for transfer shall be marked "Cancelled" by the secretary and an incision on the certificate shall be made through the names of the subscribing officers, and the cancelled certificate shall be affixed to its stub.

Sections 5. Lost Certificates. Should the owner of any certificate of stock make application to the corporation for the issuance of a duplicate certificate by reason of the loss or destruction of his certificate, he shall accompany his application with an affidavit setting forth the time, place and circumstances of such loss or destruction. Should the Board of Directors be satisfied, from the matters set forth in the affidavit, that the certificate has been lost or destroyed, the Board of Directors may thereupon call upon the owner of the certificate to file with the secretary of the corporation a bond in such amount, and with such surety or sureties, as the board may determine, indemnifying the corporation against any loss it may suffer by reason of the issuance of a duplicate certificate or the refusal to recognize the certificate that was lost or destroyed. In the event of the approval of such bond by the Board of Directors, the board may thereupon authorize the issuance of a duplicate certificate. The duplicate certificate will be marked "Duplicate" and the stub of the certificate lost or destroyed shall indicate the issuance of this duplicate.

ARTICLE VI MISCELLANEOUS

Section 1. Record Date and Closing of Stock Books. The Board of Directors may affix a time, in the future, not exceeding thirty (30) days prior to the date of any meeting of stockholders, or the date fixed for the payment of any dividends or distributions, or for the allotment of rights, or when a change or conversion or exchange of shares shall go into effect, as the record date for the determination date for the stockholders entitled to notice of and to vote at any such meeting, or entitled to receive any such dividend or distribution, or any such allotment of rights, or to exercise their rights in respect to any such change, conversion, or exchange of shares. In such case, only stockholders of record on the date so fixed shall be entitled to receive notice of and to vote at such meeting or to receive such dividend, distribution, or allotment of rights, or to exercise his rights, as the case may be, notwithstanding the transfer of shares on the books of the corporation after the record date as fixed. The Board of Directors may close the books of the corporation against transfers of shares during the whole, or any part, of any such period.

Section 2. Checks, Drafts, Etc. All checks, drafts, or other orders for the payment of money, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness, issued in the name of or payable to the corporation, shall be signed or endorsed by such person or persons and in such manner as, from time to time, shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors.

Section 3. Contracts, Etc., How Executed. The Board of Directors, except as otherwise provided in the By-Laws, may authorize any officer or officers, or agent or agents, to enter into any contract or execute any instrument in the name of and on behalf of the corporation, and such authority may be general or confined to specific instances; and, unless so authorized by the Board of Directors, no officer, agent, or employee shall have any power or authority to bind the corporation by any contract or engagement or to pledge its credit or to render it liable for any purpose or to any amount.

Section 4. Representation of Shares of the Corporation. The Chairman of the Board or the president, or the vice-president, or the secretary or assistance secretary of this corporation, are authorized to vote, represent, and exercise on behalf of this corporation all rights incident to any and all shares of any other corporation or corporations standing in the name of this corporation. The authority granted to said officers to vote or represent, on behalf of this corporation, any and all shares held by this corporation in any other corporation or corporations, may be exercised either by such officers in person or by any other person authorized so to do by proxy or by power of attorney duly executed by said officers.

Section 5. Inspection of Corporate Records. The share register or duplicate share register, the books of account, and the minutes of proceedings of the stockholders and directors and of the executive and other committees of the directors, shall be open to inspection upon the written demand of any stockholder or holder of a voting trust certificate, at any reasonable time, and for a purpose reasonably related to his interest as a stockholder, or as a holder of a voting trust certificate. Such inspection may be made in person or by an agent or attorney and shall include the right to make extracts. Demand for inspection, other than at a stockholders meeting, shall be made in writing, upon the president, secretary, assistant secretary, or general manager of the corporation.

The corporation shall keep at its principal office for the transaction of business the original or a copy of the By-Laws, as amended or otherwise altered to date, which shall be open to inspection by the stockholders at all reasonable times during office hours.

Section 6. Indemnification. The corporation shall indemnify its officers, directors, employees and agents to the extent permitted by the General Corporation Law of Delaware.

Section 7. Limitation on Actions. None of the following actions shall be made without the majority approval of a quorum of the Board of Directors:

- a. Sale of any substantial portion of the corporation's assets.
- b. Borrowing of additional capital, except for the loan committed as of the date of these By-Laws by the First National Bank of Arizona.
- c. The paying of employees' bonuses.
- d. Amendment of the Certificate of Incorporation or the By-Laws.
- e. Hiring or replacing of key personnel of the corporation.

ARTICLE VII
INFORMALITIES

Section 1. Stockholders. Any action which may be taken at a meeting of the stockholders, may be taken without a meeting if, before or after the action, a written consent thereto is signed by stockholders holding at least a majority of the voting power, except that if a different proportion of voting power is required for such an action at a meeting, then that proportion of written consents is required.

Section 2. Directors. Any action required or permitted to be taken by the Board of Directors may be taken without a meeting, and with the same force and effect as a unanimous vote of the directors, if all members of the board individually or collectively consent, in writing, to such action.

Section 3. Miscellaneous. The authorization, approval, or consent provided in this Article may be expressed prior or subsequent to the particular action authorized, approved, or consented to. It is the sense of the provisions of this Article to permit informality in the conduct of the corporation's affairs and informality in the approval of its actions so long as the stockholders, where appropriate, or the Board of Directors, where appropriate, individually or collectively either before, at the time of, or at any time subsequent to, any particular action requiring their authorization, approval, or consent, can be shown to have so authorized, approved, or consented.

ARTICLE VIII
AMENDMENTS

These By-Laws may be amended or repealed, or new By-Laws may be adopted at any meeting of the Board of Directors by a resolution adopted by the majority of the directors. Notice need not be given of any action in respect to these By-Laws previous to such meeting if the proposed amendment, repeal, or adoption of new By-Laws is in furtherance of the purposes and objectives of this corporation and is not arbitrary or capricious.

CERTIFICATE OF SECRETARY

1. That I am the duly elected and acting Secretary of PF&F HOLDINGS CORPORATION, a Delaware corporation; and
2. That the foregoing By-Laws constitute the By-Laws of said Corporation as adopted by the Written Consent in Lieu of Organizational Meeting duly executed by the sole member of the Board of Directors dated as of December 19, 2002.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto subscribed my name this 19th of December 2002.

BY-LAWS OF

SEVEN PAC COMPANY

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: January 23, 1995

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Nevada shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the second Saturday in June of each year, at the office of the corporation in the State of Nevada or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the teller(s) for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Directors:

A board of one (1) or more Directors, as required by law, shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the terms of office of all or any of the Directors, by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors, though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specifically called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll Call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

SECTION 7. Meetings by Telephone:

If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgement may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.

2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the By-Laws of the corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and that the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the Assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such preemptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of this corporation at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing Re-stated By-Laws of Seven PAC Company are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

BYLAWS OF

SEVENTEEN PAC COMPANY

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

GENERAL

1.01 References. Any reference herein made to law will be deemed to refer to the law of the state of Nevada, including any applicable provisions of Chapter 78 of Title 7, Nevada Revised Statutes (or its successor), as of any given time in effect. Any reference herein made to the Articles will be deemed to refer to the applicable provision or provisions of the Articles of Incorporation of SEVENTEEN PAC COMPANY (the "Corporation"), and all amendments thereto, as at any given time on file with the Nevada Secretary of State, together with any and all certificates filed by the Corporation with the Nevada Secretary of State (or any successor to its functions) pursuant to applicable law.

1.02 Seniority. The Articles will in all respects be considered senior and superior to these Bylaws, with any inconsistency to be resolved in favor of the Articles, and with these Bylaws to be deemed automatically amended from time to time to eliminate any such inconsistency which may then exist.

1.03 Offices. The principal office of the Corporation shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The Corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

1.04 Change Thereof. The Board of Directors may change the Corporation's principal office or its statutory agent from time to time by filing a statement with the Nevada Secretary of State pursuant to applicable law.

1.05 Stockholders of Record. The word "stockholder" as used herein shall mean one who is a holder of record of shares in the corporation as defined in Section 2.04.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

2.01 Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation shall be held on the Second Friday in December of each year, at the office of the Corporation in the State of Nevada or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

2.02 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the stockholders may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2.03 of this Article.

2.03 Notices. Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each stockholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the Corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of stockholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting. Any stockholder may waive call or notice of any annual, deferred annual, or special meeting (and any adjournment thereof) at any time before, during which or after it is held. Attendance of a stockholder at any such meeting in person or by proxy will automatically evidence his waiver of call and notice of such meeting (and any adjournment thereof) unless he or his proxy is attending the meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of business because the meeting has not been properly called or noticed.

2.04 Stockholders of Record. For each meeting, or consent to corporate action without a meeting, of stockholders (and at any adjournment of such meeting), or in order to make a determination of stockholders for determining those stockholders entitled to receive payment of any dividend, or for any other lawful action, the Board of Directors may fix in advance a record date which shall not be more than sixty (60) nor less than ten (10) days prior to the date of such meeting or other action.

If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors for determining stockholders entitled to notice of, and to vote at, a meeting of stockholders, the record date shall be at four o'clock in the afternoon on the day before the notice is given, or, if notice is waived, at the commencement of the meeting. If no record date is fixed for determining stockholders entitled to express written consent to corporate action without a meeting, the record date shall be the time of the day on which the first written consent is served upon an officer or director of the Corporation.

A determination of stockholders of record entitled to notice of, and to vote at, a meeting of stockholders shall apply to any adjournment of the meeting; provided, however, that the Board of Directors may fix a new record date for the adjourned meeting, and further provided that the adjournment or adjournments of any such meeting do not exceed thirty (30) days in the aggregate.

2.05 Tellers. At all meetings of stockholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each stockholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

2.06 Proxies. Any stockholder entitled to vote thereat may vote by proxy at any meeting of the stockholders (and at any adjournment thereof) which is specified in such proxy, provided that his or her proxy is executed in writing by such stockholder or his or her duly authorized attorney-in-fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise specifically provided therein. The burden of proving the validity of any undated, irrevocable or otherwise contested proxy at a meeting of the stockholders will rest with the person seeking to exercise the same. A telegram or cablegram appearing to have been transmitted by a stockholder or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact may be accepted as a sufficiently written and executed proxy.

2.07 Voting. Except for the election of directors (which will be governed by cumulative voting pursuant to applicable law) and except as may otherwise be required by the Corporation's Articles, these Bylaws or by statute, each issued and outstanding share of the Corporation (specifically excluding shares held in the treasury of the corporation) represented at any meeting of the stockholders in person or by a proxy given pursuant to Section 2.06 above, will be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote of the stockholders at such meeting. Unless otherwise required by the Corporation's Articles or by applicable law, any question submitted to the stockholders will be resolved by a majority of the votes cast thereon, provided that such votes constitute a majority of the quorum of that particular meeting, whether or not such quorum is then present. Voting will be by ballot on any question as to which a ballot vote is demanded prior to the time the voting begins by any person entitled to vote on such question; otherwise, a voice vote will suffice. No ballot or change of vote will be accepted after the polls have been declared closed following the ending of the announced time for voting.

2.08 Quorum. At any meeting of the stockholders, the presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares of the Corporation issued, outstanding and entitled to vote at the meeting will constitute a quorum of the stockholders for all purposes. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting may be adjourned from time to time by its chairman, without notice other than by announcement at the meeting, until a quorum is formed. At any such adjourned meeting at which a quorum is present, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting as originally noticed. Once a quorum has been formed at any meeting, the stockholders from time to time remaining in attendance may continue to transact business until adjournment, notwithstanding the prior departure of enough stockholders to leave less than a quorum. If an adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days, or if after the adjournment a new record date is fixed for the adjourned meeting, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each stockholder of record entitled to vote at the meeting.

2.09 Order of Business.

1st All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the tellers for verification.

2nd Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th Reports of officers and committees.

5th Election of Directors.

6th Unfinished business.

7th New business.

8th Adjournment.

2.10 Action by Stockholders Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, is signed by stockholders holding at least eighty-five percent (85%) of the outstanding common stock.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

3.01 Number and Term of Directors. The Board of Directors will be comprised of not less than one nor more than nine members who need not be stockholders of the Corporation. The directors will regularly be elected at each annual meeting of the stockholders, but directors may be elected at any other meeting of the stockholders. The Board of Directors will have the power to increase or decrease its size within the aforesaid limits and to fill any vacancies by majority vote which may occur in its membership, whether resulting from an increase in the size of that board or otherwise, and shall hold office until the next annual meeting of the stockholders. Each director elected by the stockholders or the Board of Directors shall hold office until his or her successor is duly elected and qualified. However, the holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the term of office of all or any of the Directors by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in this Section.

3.02 Regular Meetings. After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation, the newly elected directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

3.04 Quorum. A quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting or adjourned meeting of the Board of Directors will consist of a majority of those then in office. Once a quorum has been formed, the directors from time to time remaining in attendance at such meeting prior to its adjournment will continue to be legally competent to transact business properly brought before the meeting, notwithstanding the prior departure from the meeting of enough directors to leave less than a quorum.

3.05 Voting. Any matter submitted to a meeting of the Board of Directors will be resolved by a majority of the votes cast thereon.

3.06 Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

1st Roll call; a quorum being present.

2nd Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.

3rd Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.

4th Reports of officials and committees.

5th Unfinished business.

6th Miscellaneous business.

7th New business.

8th Adjournment.

3.12 Meetings by Conference Telephone. If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

4.01 Generally: The Government in control of the Corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

4.02 Special Powers: The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, but expressly subject to the limitations set forth in the Articles, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner real property and any personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks, contracts and interests thereunder, and other property that in the judgment of the Board of Directors may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the Corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

COMMITTEES

5.01 Committees: From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

6.01 Officers: And the officers of the Corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the Corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

6.02 Powers and Duties of President: The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the Corporation.

He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the Corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the Corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the Corporation. The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the stockholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the stockholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the Bylaws of the Corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the Corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the Corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

6.03 Powers and Duties of the Secretary: The Secretary of the Corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the Corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the Corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

RESIGNATIONS AND VACANCIES

7.01 Resignations. Any director, committee member, or officer may resign from his or her office at any time by written notice delivered or addressed to the Corporation at its principal office. Any such resignation will be effective upon its receipt by the Corporation unless some later time is therein fixed, and then from that time; the acceptance of a resignation will not be required to make it effective.

7.02 Vacancies. If the office of any director, committee member, or officer becomes vacant by reason of his or her death, resignation, disqualification, removal or otherwise, the Board of Directors may choose a successor to hold office for the unexpired term.

ARTICLE VIII

SEAL

8.01 Form Thereof. The Board of Directors may provide for a seal of the Corporation which will have inscribed thereon the name of the Corporation, the state and year of its incorporation, and the words "Corporate Seal."

ARTICLE IX

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

9.01. Stock and Certificates and Transfers: All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the Corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the Corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the Corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the Corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefore, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the Corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

ARTICLE X

DIVIDENDS

10.01 Subject to such restrictions or requirements as may be imposed by applicable law or the Corporation's Articles or as may otherwise be binding upon the Corporation, the Board of Directors may from time to time declare and the Corporation may pay dividends on shares of the corporation outstanding on the dates of record fixed by the board, to be paid in cash, in property or in shares of the Corporation on or as of such payment or distribution dates as the Board may prescribe.

ARTICLE XI

FISCAL YEAR

11.01 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March each year.

ARTICLE XII

AMENDMENTS

12.01 Amendment of Bylaws: The Bylaws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of the Corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting. Also, said Bylaws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the stockholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the stockholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

EXHIBIT 3.42

BY-LAWS OF

SIX PAC COMPANY

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: January 5, 1995

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Nevada shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the second Saturday in June of each year, at the office of the corporation in the State of Nevada or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the teller(s) for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Directors:

A board of one (1) or more Directors, as required by law, shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the terms of office of all or any of the Directors, by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors, though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specifically called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll Call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

SECTION 7. Meetings by Telephone:

If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgement may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.

2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the By-Laws of the corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and that the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the Assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such preemptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of this corporation at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing Re-stated By-Laws of Six PAC Company are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION

OF

SIXTEEN PAC COMPANY

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: That I, the undersigned, for the purpose of forming a corporation under the laws of the State of Nevada, do certify:

ARTICLE I

The name of the corporation is: SIXTEEN PAC COMPANY.

ARTICLE II

The principal place of business of the corporation shall be 1325 Airmotive Way, Suite 100, Reno, NV 89502.

ARTICLE III

The corporation's resident agent shall be: The Corporation Trust Company of Nevada, 6100 Neil Road, Suite 500, Reno, Nevada 89511.

ARTICLE IV

The nature of the business and the objects and purposes to be transacted, promoted, or carried on by the corporation are to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organized under the General Corporation Law of Nevada.

ARTICLE V

The corporation shall have authority to issue the following:

The number of shares of commons stock which this corporation is authorized to issue is One Hundred Thousand (100,000) shares with a par value of One Cent ($.01) per share.

ARTICLE VI

The Board of Directors shall consist of one (1) to nine (9) individuals, as determined by resolution of the Board of Directors. The initial Board of Directors shall consist of one person, who shall serve as Director until the annual meeting of shareholders or until his successor is elected and qualified. Such person shall be Charles J. Bayer, 2721 N. Central Avenue, Phoenix, AZ 85004.

ARTICLE VII

The name and address of the incorporator is:

Nancy K. Ventre
2721 N. Central Avenue, 11th Floor
Phoenix, Arizona 85003

ARTICLE VIII

The period of existence of the Corporation shall be perpetual.

ARTICLE IX

The corporation shall indemnify, to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by law, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended, any person made, or threatened to be made, a defendant or witness to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative, investigative or otherwise) by reason of the fact that he or she, or his or her testator or intestate, is or was a director or officer of the corporation or by reason of the fact that such director or officer, at the request of the corporation, is or was serving any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise. Nothing contained herein shall diminish any rights to indemnification to which employees or agents other than directors or officers may be entitled by law, and the corporation may indemnify such employees and agents to the fullest extent and in the manner permitted by law. The rights to indemnification set forth in this Article shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which any person may be entitled under any statute, provision of the Articles of Incorporation, Bylaw, agreement, contract, vote of shareholders or directors, or as otherwise provided.

In furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by statute:

1. The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is serving in any capacity, at the request of the corporation, any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, against any liability or expense incurred by him or her in any such capacity, or arising out of his or her status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him or her against such liability or expense under the provisions of law; and
2. The corporation may create a trust fund, grant a security interest or lien on any assets of the corporation and/or use other means (including, without limitation, letters of credit, guaranties, surety bonds and/or other similar arrangements), and enter into contracts providing indemnification to the full extent authorized or permitted by law and including as part thereof provisions with respect to any or all of the foregoing to ensure the payment of such amounts as may become necessary to effect indemnification as provided therein, or elsewhere.

No director or officer shall be personally liable to the corporation or its stockholders for damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director or officer, except the liability of a director or officer shall not be limited or eliminated for: (a) acts or omissions which involve intentional misconduct, fraud or a knowing violation of law; or (b) the payment of distribution in violation of Nevada Revised Statutes Section 78.300.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I, the aforementioned incorporator, have signed the Articles of Incorporation this 1 day of August, 2000.

/s/ Nancy K. Ventre

Nancy K. Ventre, Incorporator

BYLAWS OF

SIXTEEN PAC COMPANY

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

GENERAL

1.01 References. Any reference herein made to law will be deemed to refer to the law of the state of Nevada, including any applicable provisions of Chapter 78 of Title 7, Nevada Revised Statutes (or its successor), as of any given time in effect. Any reference herein made to the Articles will be deemed to refer to the applicable provision or provisions of the Articles of Incorporation of SIXTEEN PAC COMPANY, (the "Corporation"), and all amendments thereto, as at any given time on file with the Nevada Secretary of State, together with any and all certificates filed by the Corporation with the Nevada Secretary of State (or any successor to its functions) pursuant to applicable law.

1.02 Seniority. The Articles will in all respects be considered senior and superior to these Bylaws, with any inconsistency to be resolved in favor of the Articles, and with these Bylaws to be deemed automatically amended from time to time to eliminate any such inconsistency which may then exist.

1.03 Offices. The principal office of the Corporation shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The Corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

1.04 Change Thereof. The Board of Directors may change the Corporation's principal office or its statutory agent from time to time by filing a statement with the Nevada Secretary of State pursuant to applicable law.

1.05 Stockholders of Record. The word "stockholder" as used herein shall mean one who is a holder of record of shares in the corporation as defined in Section 2.04.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

2.01 Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation shall be held on the Third Monday in August of each year, at the office of the Corporation in the State of Arizona or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

2.02 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the stockholders may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2.03 of this Article.

2.03 Notices. Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each stockholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the Corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of stockholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting. Any stockholder may waive call or notice of any annual, deferred annual, or special meeting (and any adjournment thereof) at any time before, during which or after it is held. Attendance of a stockholder at any such meeting in person or by proxy will automatically evidence his waiver of call and notice of such meeting (and any adjournment thereof) unless he or his proxy is attending the meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of business because the meeting has not been properly called or noticed.

2.04 Stockholders of Record. For each meeting, or consent to corporate action without a meeting, of stockholders (and at any adjournment of such meeting), or in order to make a determination of stockholders for determining those stockholders entitled to receive payment of any dividend, or for any other lawful action, the Board of Directors may fix in advance a record date which shall not be more than sixty (60) nor less than ten (10) days prior to the date of such meeting or other action.

If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors for determining stockholders entitled to notice of, and to vote at, a meeting of stockholders, the record date shall be at four o'clock in the afternoon on the day before the notice is given, or, if notice is waived, at the commencement of the meeting. If no record date is fixed for determining stockholders entitled to express written consent to corporate action without a meeting, the record date shall be the time of the day on which the first written consent is served upon an officer or director of the Corporation.

A determination of stockholders of record entitled to notice of, and to vote at, a meeting of stockholders shall apply to any adjournment of the meeting; provided, however, that the Board of Directors may fix a new record date for the adjourned meeting, and further provided that the adjournment or adjournments of any such meeting do not exceed thirty (30) days in the aggregate.

2.05 Tellers. At all meetings of stockholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each stockholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

2.06 Proxies. Any stockholder entitled to vote thereat may vote by proxy at any meeting of the stockholders (and at any adjournment thereof) which is specified in such proxy, provided that his or her proxy is executed in writing by such stockholder or his or her duly authorized attorney-in-fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise specifically provided therein. The burden of proving the validity of any undated, irrevocable or otherwise contested proxy at a meeting of the stockholders will rest with the person seeking to exercise the same. A telegram or cablegram appearing to have been transmitted by a stockholder or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact may be accepted as a sufficiently written and executed proxy.

2.07 Voting. Except for the election of directors (which will be governed by cumulative voting pursuant to applicable law) and except as may otherwise be required by the Corporation's Articles, these Bylaws or by statute, each issued and outstanding share of the Corporation (specifically excluding shares held in the treasury of the corporation) represented at any meeting of the stockholders in person or by a proxy given pursuant to Section 2.06 above, will be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote of the stockholders at such meeting. Unless otherwise required by the Corporation's Articles or by applicable law, any question submitted to the stockholders will be resolved by a majority of the votes cast thereon, provided that such votes constitute a majority of the quorum of that particular meeting, whether or not such quorum is then present. Voting will be by ballot on any question as to which a ballot vote is demanded prior to the time the voting begins by any person entitled to vote on such question; otherwise, a voice vote will suffice. No ballot or change of vote will be accepted after the polls have been declared closed following the ending of the announced time for voting.

2.08 Quorum. At any meeting of the stockholders, the presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares of the Corporation issued, outstanding and entitled to vote at the meeting will constitute a quorum of the stockholders for all purposes. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting may be adjourned from time to time by its chairman, without notice other than by announcement at the meeting, until a quorum is formed. At any such adjourned meeting at which a quorum is present, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting as originally noticed. Once a quorum has been formed at any meeting, the stockholders from time to time remaining in attendance may continue to transact business until adjournment, notwithstanding the prior departure of enough stockholders to leave less than a quorum. If an adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days, or if after the adjournment a new record date is fixed for the adjourned meeting, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each stockholder of record entitled to vote at the meeting.

2.09 Order of Business.

1st All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the tellers for verification.

2nd Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th Reports of officers and committees.

5th Election of Directors.

6th Unfinished business.

7th New business.

8th Adjournment.

2.10 Action by Stockholders Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, is signed by stockholders holding at least eighty-five percent (85%) of the outstanding common stock.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

3.01 Number and Term of Directors. The Board of Directors will be comprised of not less than one nor more than nine members who need not be stockholders of the Corporation. The directors will regularly be elected at each annual meeting of the stockholders, but directors may be elected at any other meeting of the stockholders. The Board of Directors will have the power to increase or decrease its size within the aforesaid limits and to fill any vacancies by majority vote which may occur in its membership, whether resulting from an increase in the size of that board or otherwise, and shall hold office until the next annual meeting of the stockholders. Each director elected by the stockholders or the Board of Directors shall hold office until his or her successor is duly elected and qualified. However, the holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the term of office of all or any of the Directors by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in this Section.

3.02 Regular Meetings. After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation, the newly elected directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

3.04 Quorum. A quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting or adjourned meeting of the Board of Directors will consist of a majority of those then in office. Once a quorum has been formed, the directors from time to time remaining in attendance at such meeting prior to its adjournment will continue to be legally competent to transact business properly brought before the meeting, notwithstanding the prior departure from the meeting of enough directors to leave less than a quorum.

3.05 Voting. Any matter submitted to a meeting of the Board of Directors will be resolved by a majority of the votes cast thereon.

3.06 Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

1st Roll call; a quorum being present.

2nd Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.

3rd Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.

4th Reports of officials and committees.

5th Unfinished business.

6th Miscellaneous business.

7th New business.

8th Adjournment.

3.12 Meetings by Conference Telephone. If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

4.01 Generally: The Government in control of the Corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

4.02 Special Powers: The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, but expressly subject to the limitations set forth in the Articles, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner real property and any personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks, contracts and interests thereunder, and other property that in the judgment of the Board of Directors may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the Corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

COMMITTEES

5.01 Committees: From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

6.01 Officers: And the officers of the Corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the Corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

6.02 Powers and Duties of President: The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the Corporation.

He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the Corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the Corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the Corporation. The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the stockholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the stockholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the Bylaws of the Corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the Corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the Corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

6.03 Powers and Duties of the Secretary: The Secretary of the Corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the Corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the Corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

RESIGNATIONS AND VACANCIES

7.01 Resignations. Any director, committee member, or officer may resign from his or her office at any time by written notice delivered or addressed to the Corporation at its principal office. Any such resignation will be effective upon its receipt by the Corporation unless some later time is therein fixed, and then from that time; the acceptance of a resignation will not be required to make it effective.

7.02 Vacancies. If the office of any director, committee member, or officer becomes vacant by reason of his or her death, resignation, disqualification, removal or otherwise, the Board of Directors may choose a successor to hold office for the unexpired term.

ARTICLE VIII

SEAL

8.01 Form Thereof. The Board of Directors may provide for a seal of the Corporation which will have inscribed thereon the name of the Corporation, the state and year of its incorporation, and the words "Corporate Seal."

ARTICLE IX

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

9.01. Stock and Certificates and Transfers: All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the Corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the Corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the Corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the Corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefore, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the Corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

ARTICLE X

DIVIDENDS

10.01 Subject to such restrictions or requirements as may be imposed by applicable law or the Corporation's Articles or as may otherwise be binding upon the Corporation, the Board of Directors may from time to time declare and the Corporation may pay dividends on shares of the corporation outstanding on the dates of record fixed by the board, to be paid in cash, in property or in shares of the Corporation on or as of such payment or distribution dates as the Board may prescribe.

ARTICLE XI

FISCAL YEAR

11.01 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March each year.

ARTICLE XII

AMENDMENTS

12.01 Amendment of Bylaws: The Bylaws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of the Corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting. Also, said Bylaws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the stockholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the stockholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

Dated as of August 2, 2000.

BY-LAWS OF

TEN PAC COMPANY

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: January 23, 1995

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Nevada shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the second Saturday in June of each year, at the office of the corporation in the State of Nevada or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the teller(s) for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Directors:

A board of one (1) or more Directors, as required by law, shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the terms of office of all or any of the Directors, by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors, though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specifically called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll Call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

SECTION 7. Meetings by Telephone:

If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgement may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.

2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the By-Laws of the corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and that the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney In Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the Assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered pro rata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such preemptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of this corporation at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing Re-stated By-Laws of Ten PAC Company are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

BY-LAWS OF

THREE PAC COMPANY

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: December 6, 1994

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Nevada shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the second Saturday in June of each year, at the office of the corporation in the State of Nevada or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be trans-acted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the teller(s) for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Directors:

A board of one (1) or more Directors, as required by law, shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the terms of office of all or any of the Directors, by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors, though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specifically called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Arizona.

SECTION 4. Special Meeting:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specified called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Arizona.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll Call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks in contracts, and Interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgment may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Arizona, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees, shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the Arizona statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation. The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

SECTION 4. Powers and Duties of Treasurer:

The Treasurer, if one is appointed, shall have the care and custody of all funds and securities of the corporation, and deposit the same in the name of the corporation in such bank or banks or other depository as the Directors may select. He shall pay out and dispose of funds of the corporation under the direction of the Board of Directors, but checks may be signed as directed by the Board by resolution. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer at all reasonable time to exhibit his books and accounts to any Director or stockholder of the corporation upon application at the office of the corporation during business hours, and generally perform the duties of and act as the financial agent for the corporation for the receipts and disbursements of its funds. He shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the Board of Directors may determine. The office of the Treasurer of said corporation may be held by the same person holding the President, Vice-President, or Secretary's office, provided the Board of Directors indicates the combination of these offices.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Arizona, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and that the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer record shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the Assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such pre-emptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of each year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of this corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting or at a special meeting called for that purpose. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the Directors are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing By-Laws are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

BY-LAWS OF

TWO PAC COMPANY

A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: December 6, 1994

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Nevada shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the second Saturday in June of each year, at the office of the corporation in the State of Nevada or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Notice of the special meeting will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be trans-acted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the teller(s) for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Directors:

A board of one (1) or more Directors, as required by law, shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the terms of office of all or any of the Directors, by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies of the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors, though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specifically called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st. Roll Call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

SECTION 7. Meetings by Telephone:

If all the directors consent, a director may participate in a meeting of the board or of a committee of the board by means of such telephone or other communications facilities as permit all persons participating in the meeting to hear each other, and a director participating in such a meeting by such means is deemed to be present at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally;

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trademarks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgement may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.
3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.
4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers;

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President and Secretary, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the By-Laws of the corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and that the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signing of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the Assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such pre-emptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of this corporation at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing Re-stated By-Laws of Two PAC Company are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

EXHIBIT 3.54

BY-LAWS OF

ARCOA MANAGEMENT CONSULTANTS, INC.

AN ARIZONA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: February 20, 1979

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the state of Arizona shall be located at such place as the Board of Directors may from time to time select. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the state of Arizona as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the second Friday of June of each year, at the office of the corporation in the state of Arizona or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for the election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer of persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the state of Arizona. Notice of the special meetings will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

Voting at all shareholders meetings. A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

- 1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the tellers for verification.
- 2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.
- 3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.
- 4th. Reports of officers and committees.
- 5th. Election of Directors.
- 6th. Unfinished business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Office:

A board of one (1) to three (3) Directors shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the term of office of all or any of the Directors by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies on the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the state of Arizona.

SECTION 4. Special Meeting:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specified called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the state of Arizona.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws, but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

1st. Roll call; a quorum being present.

2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.

3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.

4th. Reports of officials and committees.

5th. Unfinished business.

6th. Miscellaneous business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trade-marks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgment may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.
3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee the notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Arizona, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the Arizona statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of Vice-president:

The Vice-President shall have such powers and perform such duties as may be assigned to him by the Board of Directors of the corporation and in the absence or inability of the President, the Vice-President shall perform the duties of the President.

SECTION 4. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

SECTION 5. Powers and duties of Treasurer:

The Treasurer shall have the care and custody of all funds and securities of the corporation, and deposit the same in the name of the corporation in such bank or banks or other depository as the Directors may select. He shall pay out and dispose of funds of the corporation under the direction of the Board of Directors, but checks may be signed as directed by the Board by resolution. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer at all reasonable time to exhibit his books and accounts to any Director or stockholder of the corporation upon application at the office of the corporation during business hours, and generally perform the duties of and act as the financial agent for the corporation for the receipts and disbursements of its funds. He shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the Board of Directors may determine. The office of the Treasurer of said corporation may be held by the same person holding the President, Vice-President or Secretary's office, provided the Board of Directors indicates the combination of these offices.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-president, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Arizona, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning, the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signer of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the number of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such preemptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of this corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing By-Laws of Arcoa Management Consultants, Inc., are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

BYLAWS OF U-HAUL INTERNATIONAL, INC.
A NEVADA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office and registered office of the corporation shall be located in the State of Nevada at such locations as the Board of Directors may from time to time authorize by resolution. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

SECTION 2. References:

Any reference herein made to law will be deemed to refer to the law of the State of Nevada, including any applicable provisions of Chapter 78 of Title 7, Nevada Revised Statutes (or its successor), as at any given time in effect. Any reference herein made to the Articles will be deemed to refer to the applicable provision or provisions of the Articles of Incorporation of the corporation, and all amendments thereto, as at any given time on file with the office of the clerk of Washoe County, Nevada.

SECTION 3. Shareholders of Record:

The word "shareholder" as used herein shall mean one who is a holder of record of shares in the corporation.

ARTICLE II
SHAREHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

An annual meeting of the shareholders for the election of directors to succeed those whose terms expire and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting shall be held on the last Saturday of September of each year at a time of day and place as determined by the Board of Directors, or on such other date as may be determined by the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Meetings:

a. Special meetings of the shareholders may be held whenever and wherever called by the Chairman of the Board, a majority of the Board of Directors, or upon the delivery of proper written request of the holders of not less than fifty percent (50%) of all the shares outstanding and entitled to vote at such meeting. The business which may be conducted at any such special meeting will be confined to the purpose stated in the notice thereof, and to such additional matters as the Chairman of such meeting may rule to be germane to such purposes.

b. For purposes of this Section, proper written request for the call of a special meeting shall be made by a written request specifying the purposes for any special meeting requested and providing the information required by Section 5 of this Article II hereof. Such written request must be delivered either in person or by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, to the Chairman of the Board, or such other person as may be specifically authorized by law to receive such request. Within thirty (30) days after receipt of proper written request, a special meeting shall be called and notice given in the manner required by these bylaws and the meeting shall be held at a time and place selected by the Board of Directors, but not later than ninety (90) days after receipt of such proper written request. The shareholder(s) who request a special meeting of shareholders must pay the corporation the corporation's reasonably estimated cost of preparing and mailing a notice of a meeting of shareholders before such notice is prepared and mailed.

SECTION 3. Notice:

Notice of any meeting of the shareholders will be given by the corporation as provided by law to each shareholder entitled to vote at such meeting. Any such notice may be waived as provided by law.

SECTION 4, Right to Vote:

For each meeting of the shareholders, the Board of Directors will fix in advance a record date as contemplated by law, and the shares of stock and the shareholders "entitled to vote" (as that or any similar term is herein used) at any meeting of the shareholders will be determined as of the applicable record date. The Secretary (or in his or her absence an Assistant Secretary) will see to the making and production of any record of shareholders entitled to vote that is required by law. Any such entitlement may be exercised through proxy, or in such other manner as is specifically provided by law. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy. In the event of contest, the burden of proving the validity of any undated, irrevocable, or otherwise contested proxy will rest with the person seeking to exercise the same. A telegram, cablegram, or facsimile appearing to have been transmitted by a shareholder (or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact) may, in the discretion of the tellers, if any, be accepted as a sufficiently written and executed proxy.

SECTION 5. Manner of Bringing Business Before the Meeting:

At any annual or special meeting of shareholders only such business (including nomination as a director) shall be conducted as shall have been properly brought before the meeting. In order to be properly brought before the meeting, such business must have either been (A) specified in the written notice of the meeting (or any supplement thereto) given to shareholders on the record date for such meeting by or at the direction of the Board of Directors, (B) brought before the meeting at the direction of the Board of Directors or the Chairman of the meeting, selected as provided in Section 9 of this Article II, or (C) specified in a written notice given by or on behalf of a shareholder on the record date for such meeting entitled to vote thereat or a duly authorized proxy for such shareholder, in accordance with all of the following requirements. A notice referred to in clause (C) hereof must be delivered personally to, or mailed to and received at, the principal executive office of the corporation, addressed to the attention of the Secretary, not more than ten (10) days after the date of the initial notice referred to in clause (A) hereof, in the case of business to be brought before a special meeting of shareholders, and not less than one hundred and twenty (120) days prior to the anniversary date of the initial notice referred to in clause (A) hereof with respect to the previous year's annual meeting, in the case of business to be brought before an annual meeting of shareholders. Such notice referred to in clause (C) hereof shall set forth (i) a full description of each such item of business proposed to be brought before the meeting and the reasons for conducting such business at such meeting, (ii) the name and address of the person proposing to bring such business before the meeting, (iii) the class and number of shares held of record, held beneficially, and represented by proxy by such person as of the record date for the meeting, if such date has been made publicly available, or as of a date not later than thirty (30) days prior to the delivery of the initial notice referred to in clause (A) hereof, if the record date has not been made publicly available, (iv) if any item of such business involves a nomination for director, all information regarding each such nominee that would be required to be set forth in a definitive proxy statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Section 14 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or any successor thereto, and the written consent of each such nominee to serve if elected, (v) any material interest of such shareholder in the specified business, (vi) whether or not such shareholder is a member of any partnership, limited partnership, syndicate, or other group pursuant to any agreement, arrangement, relationship, understanding, or otherwise, whether or not in writing, organized in whole or in part for the purpose of acquiring, owning, or voting shares of the corporation, and (vii) all other information that would be required to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission if, with respect to the business proposed to be brought before the meeting, the person proposing such business was a participant in a solicitation subject to Section 14 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or any successor thereto. No business shall be brought before any meeting of the shareholders of the corporation otherwise than as provided in this Section.

Notwithstanding compliance with the foregoing provisions, the Board of Directors shall not be obligated to include information as to any shareholder nominee for director or any other shareholder proposal in any proxy statements or other communication sent to shareholders.

The Chairman of the meeting may, if the facts warrant, determine that any proposed item of business or nomination as director was not brought before the meeting in accordance with the foregoing procedure, and if he should so determine, he shall so declare to the meeting and the improper item of business or nomination shall be disregarded.

SECTION 6. Right to Attend:

Except only to the extent of persons designated by the Board of Directors or the Chairman of the meeting to assist in the conduct of the meeting, and except as otherwise permitted by the Board or such Chairman, the persons entitled to attend any meeting of shareholders may be confined to (i) shareholders entitled to vote thereat and (ii) the persons upon whom proxies valid for purposes of the meeting have been conferred or their duly appointed substitutes (if the related proxies confer a power of substitution); provided, however, that the board of Directors or the Chairman of the meeting may establish rules limiting the number of persons referred to in clause (ii) as being entitled to attend on behalf of any shareholder so as to preclude such an excessively large representation of such shareholder at the meeting as, in the judgment of the Board or such Chairman, would be unfair to other shareholders represented at the meeting or be unduly disruptive to the orderly conduct of business at such meeting (whether such representation would result from fragmentation of the aggregate number of shares held by such shareholder for the purpose of conferring proxies, from the naming of an excessively large proxy delegation by such shareholder, or from employment of any other device). A person otherwise entitled to attend any such meeting will cease to be so entitled if, in the judgment of the Chairman of the meeting, such person engages thereat in disorderly conduct impeding the proper conduct of the meeting in the interests of all shareholders as a group.

SECTION 7. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 8. Tellers:

The Board of Directors, in advance of any shareholders meeting may appoint one or more tellers to act at such meeting (and any adjournment thereof), and may appoint one or more alternate tellers to serve (in the order designated) in the absence of any teller or tellers so appointed. If any person appointed as teller or alternate teller fails to appear or to act, a substitute may be appointed by the Chairman of the meeting. The tellers (acting through a majority of them on any disputed matter) will determine the number of shares outstanding, the authenticity, validity and effect of proxies, the credentials of the persons purporting to be shareholders or persons named or referred to in proxies, and the number of shares represented at the meeting in person and by proxy; they will receive and count votes, ballots and consents and announce the results thereof; they will hear and determine all challenges and questions pertaining to proxies and voting; and, in general, they will perform such acts as may be proper to conduct elections and voting with complete fairness to all shareholders. No such teller need be a shareholder of the corporation. Each shareholder shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him or her, and in the event a shareholder holds a fraction of a share or full shares plus a fraction, any such fractional share shall be entitled to a proportionate fraction of one vote.

SECTION 9. Organization and Conduct of Business:

Each shareholders meeting will be called to order and thereafter chaired by the Chairman of the Board if there then is one; or, if not, or if the Chairman of the Board is absent or so requests, then by the President; or if both the Chairman of the Board and the President are unavailable, then by such other officer of the corporation or such shareholder as may be appointed by the Board of Directors. The Secretary (or in his or her absence an Assistant Secretary) of the corporation will act as secretary of each shareholders meeting; if neither the Secretary nor an Assistant Secretary is in attendance, the Chairman of the meeting may appoint any person (whether a shareholder or not) to act as secretary thereat. After calling a meeting to order, the Chairman thereof may require the registration of all shareholders intending to vote in person, and the filing of all proxies, with the teller or tellers, if one or more have been appointed (or, if not, with the secretary of the meeting). After the announced time for such filing of proxies has ended, no further proxies or changes, substitutions, or revocations of proxies will be accepted. The Chairman of a meeting will, among other things, have absolute authority to determine the order of business to be conducted at such meeting and to establish rules for, and appoint personnel to assist in, preserving the orderly conduct of the business of the meeting (including any informal, or question and answer, portions thereof). Any informational or other informal session of shareholders conducted under the auspices of the corporation after the conclusion of or otherwise in conjunction with any formal business meeting of the shareholders will be chaired by the same person who chairs the formal meeting, and the foregoing authority on his or her part will extend to the conduct of such informal session.

SECTION 10. Voting:

The number of shares voted on any matter submitted to the shareholders which is required to constitute their action thereon or approval thereof will be determined in accordance with applicable law, the Articles, and these bylaws, if applicable. Voting will be by ballot on any matter as to which a ballot vote is demanded, prior to the time the voting begins, by any person entitled to vote on such matter; otherwise, a voice vote will suffice. No ballot or change of vote will be accepted after the polls have been declared closed following the ending of the announced time for voting.

SECTION 11. Shareholder Approval or Ratification:

The Board of Directors may submit any contract or act for approval or ratification at any duly constituted meeting of the shareholders, the notice of which either includes mention of the proposed submittal or is waived as provided by law. If any contract or act so submitted is approved or ratified by a majority of the votes cast thereon at such meeting, the same will be valid and as binding upon the corporation as it would be if approved and ratified by each and every shareholder of the corporation.

SECTION 12. Informalities and Irregularities:

All informalities or irregularities in any call or notice of a meeting, or in the areas of credentials, proxies, quorums, voting, and similar matters, will be deemed waived if no objection is made at the meeting.

SECTION 13. Action Without a Meeting:

No action which may be taken by a vote of the shareholders may be taken unless taken at a meeting held pursuant to Section 1 or Section 2 of this Article II.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Directors:

The Board of Directors shall consist of not less than 4 nor more than 8 directors, the exact number of directors to be determined from time to time solely by a resolution adopted by an affirmative vote of a majority of the entire Board of Directors. The directors shall be divided into four classes, designated Class I, Class II, Class III and Class IV. Subject to applicable law, each class shall consist, as nearly as may be possible, of one-fourth of the total number of directors constituting the entire Board of Directors. At each annual meeting of shareholders, successors to the class of directors whose term expires at the annual meeting shall be elected or reelected for a four-year term.

If the number of directors is changed, any increase or decrease shall be apportioned among the classes of directors so as to maintain the number of directors in each class as nearly equal as possible, but in no case will a decrease in the number of directors shorten the term of any incumbent director. When the number of directors is increased by the Board of Directors and any newly created directorships are filled by the Board, there shall be no classification of the additional directors until the next annual meeting of shareholders.

A director shall hold office until the meeting for the year in which his or her term expires and until his or her successor shall be elected and shall qualify, subject, however, to prior death, resignation, retirement, disqualification or removal from office.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

Newly created directorships resulting from an increase in the number of the directors and any vacancy on the Board of Directors shall be filled by an affirmative vote of a majority of the Board of Directors then in office. If the number of directors then in office is less than a quorum, such newly created directorships and vacancies may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, although less than a quorum, or by the sole remaining director. A director elected by the Board of Directors to fill a vacancy shall hold office until the next meeting of shareholders called for the election of directors and until his or her successor shall be elected and shall qualify.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the State of Nevada. Regular meetings, other than the annual ones, may be held at regular intervals at such times and places as the Board of Directors may provide.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any one member of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the State of Nevada.

SECTION 5. Notice:

No notice need be given of regular meetings of the Board of Directors. Notice of the time and place (but not necessarily the purpose or all of the purposes) of any special meeting will be given to each director in person or by telephone, or via mail or telegram addressed in the manner then appearing on the corporation's records. Notice to any director of any special meeting will be deemed given sufficiently in advance when (i) if given by mail, the same is deposited in the United States mail at least four days before the meeting date, with postage thereon prepaid, (ii) if given by telegram, the same is delivered to the telegraph office for fast transmittal at least 48 hours prior to the convening of the meeting, (iii) if given by facsimile transmission, the same is received by the director or an adult member of his or her office staff or household, at least 24 hours prior to the convening of the meeting, or (iv) if personally delivered or given by telephone, the same is handed, or the substance thereof is communicated over the telephone, to the director or to an adult member of his or her office staff or household, at least 24 hours prior to the convening of the meeting. Any such notice may be waived as provided by law. No call or notice of a meeting of directors will be necessary if each of them waives the same in writing or by attendance. Any meeting, once properly called and noticed (or as to which call and notice have been waived as aforesaid) and at which a quorum is formed, may be adjourned to another time and place by a majority of those in attendance.

SECTION 6. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by law or by these bylaws, but if at any meeting of the Board less than a quorum is present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 7. Action by Telephone or Consent:

Any meeting of the Board or any committee thereof may be held by conference telephone or similar communications equipment as permitted by law in which case any required notice of such meeting may generally describe the arrangements (rather than the place) for the holding thereof and all other provisions herein contained or referred to will apply to such meeting as though it were physically held at a single place. Action may also be taken by the Board or any committee thereof without a meeting if the members thereof consent in writing thereto as contemplated by law.

SECTION 8. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may, from time to time, determine the order of business at its meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 1st Roll Call; a quorum being present.
- 2nd. Reading of minutes of the preceding meeting and action thereon.
- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE IV

POWER OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers, the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and goodwill, patents, trademarks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgment may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation when they deem it advisable.

2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.
3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidence of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee the notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Nevada, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.
4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.
5. To adopt, modify and amend the bylaws of this corporation.
6. To periodically determine by Resolution of the Board the amount of compensation to be paid to members of the Board of Directors in accordance with Article 6, Section B, Subsection viii of the Articles of Incorporation.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by law.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

The officers of the corporation shall consist of a President, one or more Vice-Presidents, Secretary, Assistant Secretaries, Treasurer, Assistant Treasurer, a resident agent and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there must be quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of Chairman of the Board:

The Chairman of the Board of Directors will serve as a general executive officer, but not necessarily as a full-time employee, of the corporation. He or she shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors, shall have the powers and duties set forth in these bylaws, and shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary or Assistant Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in the bylaws of the corporation, the Board may at any time and from time to time direct the manner in which any person or persons by whom any particular contract, document, note or instrument in writing of the corporation may or shall be signed by and may authorize any officer or officers of the corporation to sign such contracts, documents, notes or instruments.

SECTION 4. Powers and Duties of Vice-President:

The Vice-President shall have such powers and perform such duties as may be assigned to him by the Board of Directors of the corporation and in the absence or inability of the President, the Vice-President shall perform the duties of the President.

SECTION 5. Powers and Duties of the Secretary and Assistant Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct. In the absence or inability of the Secretary, the Assistant Secretary shall perform the duties of the Secretary.

Execution of Instruments:

In addition to the provisions of any previous bylaws respecting the execution of instruments of the corporation, the Board of Directors may from time to time direct the manner in which any officer or officers or by whom any particular deed, transfer, assignment, contract, obligation, certificate, promissory note, guarantee and other instrument or instruments may be signed on behalf of the corporation and any acts of the Board of Directors subsequent to the 1st day of December, 1978 in accordance with the provision of this bylaw are hereby adopted, ratified and confirmed as actions binding upon and enforceable against the corporation.

SECTION 6. Powers and Duties of Treasurer and Assistant:

The Treasurer shall have the care and custody of all funds and securities of the corporation, and deposit the same in the name of the corporation in such bank or banks or other depository as the Directors may select. He shall sign checks, drafts, notices, and orders for the payment of money, and he shall pay out and dispose of the same under the direction of the Board of Directors, but checks may be signed as directed by the Board by resolution. The Treasurer shall generally perform the duties of and act as the financial agent for the corporation for the receipt and disbursement of its funds. He shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the Board of Directors may determine. The office of the Treasurer of said corporation may be held by the same person holding the President, Vice-President or Secretary's office, provided the Board of Directors indicates the combination of these offices. In the absence or inability of the Treasurer, the Assistant Treasurer shall perform the duties of the Treasurer.

SECTION 7. Indemnification:

The corporation shall indemnify, to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by law, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than such law permitted the corporation to provide prior to such amendment), any person made, or threatened to be made, a defendant or witness to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative, investigative or otherwise) by reason of the fact that he or she, or his or her testator or intestate, is or was a director or officer of the corporation or by reason of the fact that such director or officer, at the request of the corporation, is or was serving any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise. Nothing contained herein shall diminish any rights to indemnification to which employees or agents other than directors or officers may be entitled by law, and the corporation may indemnify such employees and agents to the fullest extent and in the manner permitted by law. The rights to indemnification set forth in this Article VI, Section 7 shall not be exclusive of any other rights to which any person may be entitled under any statute, provision of the Articles of Incorporation, bylaw, agreement, contract, vote of shareholders or disinterested directors, or otherwise.

In furtherance and not in limitation of the powers conferred by statute:

1. The corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is serving in any capacity, at the request of the corporation, any other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise, against any liability or expense incurred by him or her in any such capacity, or arising out of his or her status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him or her against such liability or expense under the provisions of law; and

2. The corporation may create a trust fund, grant a security interest or lien on any assets of the corporation and/or use other means (including, without limitation, letters of credit, guaranties, surety bonds and/or other similar arrangements), and enter into contracts providing indemnification to the full extent authorized or permitted by law and including as part thereof provisions with respect to any or all of the foregoing to ensure the payment of such amounts as may become necessary to effect indemnification as provided therein, or elsewhere.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock, and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary or Assistant Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Nevada, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and that the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the name of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the Assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificates for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Right of First Refusal on Its Outstanding Common Stock:

a. In case any holder of shares of Common Stock of the corporation shall wish to make any sale, transfer or other disposition of all or any part of the shares held by him, he shall first notify the Secretary of the corporation in writing designating the number of shares which he desires to dispose of, the name(s) of the person(s) to whom such shares are to be disposed of and the bona fide cash price at which such shares are to be so disposed of.

b. The corporation shall have a period of 30 calendar days following the date of its receipt of such notice to determine whether it wishes to purchase such shares at the price stated therein. Such determination shall be made by the corporation by its delivery to such holder of a written acceptance of such offer within such 30-day period. Such written acceptance shall specify the date (to be not later than the tenth calendar day following the date on which such 30-day period expired), time and place at which such holder shall deliver to the corporation the certificate(s) for the shares of Common Stock to be so sold against the delivery by the corporation of a certified or bank cashier's check in the amount of the purchase price therefor.

c. If the corporation shall not so accept such offer within such 30-day period, then such holder shall be entitled, for a period of 90 days commencing on the first day after the date on which such 30-day period expires, to dispose of all or any part of the shares of Common Stock designated in such notice to the corporation at the price set forth therein to the prospective named transferee(s) and such transferee(s) shall be entitled to have such shares transferred upon the books of the corporation upon its acquisition thereof at such price. If such holder shall not dispose of all or any part of such shares within such 90-day period (or, in the event of a sale of part thereof, the shares remaining untransferred), such shares shall continue to be subject in all respects to the provision of this Article VII, Sec. 2.

d. All certificates for shares of Common Stock shall, so long as the provisions of this Article VII, Sec. 2 shall be in effect, bear the following legend:

"The transfer of the shares represented by this certificate is subject to a right of first refusal by the corporation as provided in its bylaws, and no transfer of this certificate or the shares represented hereby shall be valid or effective unless and until such provision of the bylaws shall have been met. A copy of the bylaws of the corporation is available for inspection at the principal office of the corporation."

e. The provisions of this Article VII, Sec. 2 may be terminated or modified at any time by the affirmative vote of not less than a majority of the then number of directors of the corporation. Each holder of shares of Common Stock shall be notified of any such termination and shall have the right to exchange his outstanding certificate for such shares for a certificate without the aforesaid legend.

SECTION 3. Lost Certificates:

In the event of the loss, theft or destruction of any certificate representing shares of stock of this corporation, the corporation may issue (or, in the case of any such stock as to which a transfer agent and/or registrar have been appointed, may direct such transfer agent and/or registrar to countersign, register and issue) a replacement certificate in lieu of that alleged to be lost, stolen or destroyed, and cause the same to be delivered to the owner of the stock represented thereby, provided that the owner shall have submitted such evidence showing the circumstances of the alleged loss, theft or destruction, and his or her ownership of the certificate as the corporation considers satisfactory, together with any other facts which the corporation considers pertinent, and further provided that an indemnity agreement and/or indemnity bond shall have been provided in form and amount satisfactory to the corporation and to its transfer agents and/or registrars, if applicable.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall be fixed by resolution of the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BYLAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of Bylaws by the Board of Directors:

The bylaws may be amended by a majority vote of the Board of Directors of this corporation at any meeting of the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Shareholder Amendment of Bylaws:

The bylaws may be amended by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of all of the outstanding shares of common stock entitled to vote, which vote must be by ballot at a duly constituted meeting of the shareholders, the notice of which meeting must include the proposed amendment.

EXHIBIT 3.56

AMENDED RE-STATED BY-LAWS OF

U-HAUL CO. OF ALABAMA, INC.

An Alabama Corporation

ARTICLE I

DATE: June 25, 2001

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the state of Alabama shall be located in the city of Birmingham. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the state of Alabama as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the Third Thursday in May of each year, at the office of the corporation in the state of Alabama or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for the election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer of persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the state of Alabama. Notice of the special meetings will be held as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

Voting at all shareholders meetings. A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

- 1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the tellers for verification.
- 2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.
- 3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.
- 4th. Reports of officers and committees.
- 5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Officers:

A board of three (3) Directors shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the term; of office of all or any of the Directors by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes, Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies on the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the state of Alabama.

SECTION 4. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specified called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the state of Alabama.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws, but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

- 3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.
- 4th. Reports of officials and committees.
- 5th. Unfinished business.
- 6th. Miscellaneous business.
- 7th. New business.
- 8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trade-marks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgment may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.

2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.

3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee the notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the state of Alabama, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the Alabama statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there shall be a quorum, present and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officers and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of Vice-President:

The Vice-President shall have such powers and perform such duties as may be assigned to him by the Board of Directors of the corporation and in the absence or inability of the President, the Vice-President shall perform the duties of the President.

SECTION 4. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct,

SECTION 5. Powers and Duties of Treasurer:

The Treasurer shall have the care and custody of all funds and securities of the corporation, and deposit the same in the name of the corporation in such bank or banks or other depository as the Directors may select. He shall sign checks, drafts, notices, and orders for the payment of money, and he shall pay out and dispose of the same under the direction of the board of Directors, but checks may be signed as directed by the Board by resolution. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer at all reasonable time to exhibit his books and accounts to any Director or stockholder of the corporation upon application at the office of the corporation during business hours, and generally perform the duties of and act as the financial agent for the corporation for the receipts and disbursements of its funds, lie shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the Board of Directors may determine. The office of the Treasurer of said corporation, may be held by the same person holding the President, Vice-President or Secretary's office, provided the Board of Directors indicates the combination of these offices.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Alabama, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and the stock thereby represented is transferable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signer of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued, and the number of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefore, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during each such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such pre-emptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of April of each calendar year and shall close on the 31st day of March of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of this corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are give legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing By-Laws of U-HAUL CO. OF ALABAMA, INC are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

PLAN AND AGREEMENT

OF MERGER

THIS PLAN AND AGREEMENT OF MERGER dated this 10th day of December, 1971 made by and between U-HAUL CO. OF ALASKA, an Alaska corporation, hereinafter sometimes referred to as SURVIVOR or Surviving Corporation, and AUTOMATED MULTITEST MEDICAL LABORATORIES, INC., an Alaska corporation, hereinafter sometimes referred to as ABSORBED or ABSORBED CORPORATION, and together with SURVIVOR as "Constituent Corporations."

WITNESSETH THAT:

WHEREAS:

1. SURVIVOR is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Alaska with its registered office in that state being located at 200 National Bank of Alaska Building, Juneau, Alaska 99801, c/o C.T. Corporation System;
2. SURVIVOR has an authorized capitalization of 1,000 shares of common stock having a per value of $10.00 per share, 100 of which are issued, outstanding, and owned by AMERCO, a Nevada corporation;
3. ABSORBED CORPORATION is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Alaska with its registered office in that state being located at 200 National Bank of Alaska Building, Juneau, Alaska 99801, c/o C.T. Corporation System;
4. ABSORBED has an authorized capitalization of 10,000 shares of stock having a par value of $10.00 per share none of which has been issued or is outstanding;
5. The respective Boards of Directors of the Constituent Corporations have determined that it is advisable that the ABSORBED CORPORATION be merged into SURVIVOR, under the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, in accordance with the applicable provisions of the laws of the State of Alaska, which laws permit such merger;

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and of the mutual agreements, covenants and provisions hereinafter contained, the parties hereto do hereby agree as follows:

I

ABSORBED and SURVIVOR shall be merged into a single corporation in accordance with the applicable provisions of the laws of the State of Alaska, by ABSORBED merging into SURVIVOR which shall be the surviving corporation. The separated existence of the ABSORBED CORPORATION shall cease and the existence of SURVIVOR shall continue unaffected and unimpaired by the merger with all the rights, privileges, immunities and powers, and subject to all the duties and liabilities of a corporation organized under the Business Corporation Act of the State of Alaska.

II

1. The Articles of Incorporation of SURVIVOR shall continue to be its Articles of Incorporation until altered or amended, following the effective date of the merger.
2. The By-Laws of SURVIVOR shall be and remain the By-Laws of SURVIVOR until altered, amended or repealed.
3. The directors and officers of SURVIVOR as of the effective date of the merger shall be the officers and directors of SURVIVOR, as follows:

DIRECTORS: David Helsten John A. Lorentz James V. Scoggin

OFFICERS: John A. Lorentz - President John A. Lorentz - Vice-President David Helsten - Secretary David Helsten - Treasurer

III

On the effective date of the merger:

1. SURVIVOR shall possess all the rights, privileges, immunities, powers and franchises as well of a public as of a private nature, and shall be subject to all of the restrictions, disabilities, and duties of each of the Constituent Corporations; and all property, real, personal and mixed, including all patents, applications for patents, trademarks, trademark registrations and applications for registration of trademarks, together with the good will of the business in connection with which said patents and marks are used, and all debt due on whatever account, including subscriptions to shares of stock, and all other [ILLEGIBLE] in action and all and every other interest of or belonging to or due to each of the Constituent Corporations shall be deemed to be transferred to and vested in SURVIVOR without further act or deed, and title to any real estate, or any interest therein, vested in any of the Constituent Corporations shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of the merger.

2. SURVIVOR shall be responsible and liable for all the liabilities and obligations of each of the Constituent Corporations; and any claim existing or action or proceeding pending by or against either of the Constituent Corporations may be prosecuted to judgment as if the merger had not taken place, or SURVIVOR may be substituted in its place and neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of either of the Constituent Corporations shall be impaired by the merger. SURVIVOR shall execute and deliver any and all documents which may be required for it to assume or otherwise comply with outstanding obligations of the ABSORBED CORPORATIONS.

IV

The provisions for handling the shares of stock of the Constituent Corporations are as follows:

On the effective date of the merger the outstanding stock of SURVIVOR shall be deemed for all corporate purposes to evidence the ownership of the Constituent Corporations.

V

SURVIVOR shall pay all [ILLEGIBLE] of accomplishing the merger.

VI

If at any time SURVIVOR shall consider or be advised that any further assignment or assurances in law are necessary or desirable to vest or to perfect or confirm of record in SURVIVOR the title to any property or rights of the ABSORBED CORPORATIONS, or to otherwise carry out the provisions hereof, the proper officers and directors of the ABSORBED CORPORATIONS as of the effective date of the merger shall execute and deliver any and all proper deeds, assignments, and assurances in law, and do all things necessary or proper to vest, perfect or confirm title to such property or rights in SURVIVOR, and otherwise to carry out the provisions hereof.

VII

Each of the Constituent Corporations shall take or cause to be taken, all action or do or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable under the laws of the State of Alaska to consummate and make effective the merger, subject, however, to the appropriate vote or consent of the stockholders of each of the Constituent Corporations in accordance with the requirements of the applicable provisions of the laws of the State of Alaska.

VIII

The effective date of the merger for accounting purposes, shall be at the close of business on December 31, 1971. The officers and directors of SURVIVOR are authorized and directed to perform all actions required for accomplishing and filing the merger under the laws of the State of Alaska.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the corporate parties hereto, pursuant to authority given by their respective Boards of Directors, have caused this Plan and Agreement of Merger to be entered into, by their respective Presidents or Vice-Presidents and Secretaries or Assistant Secretaries, all as of the date and year first above written.

of

AUTOMATED MULTITEST MEDICAL LABORATORIES, INC.

An Alaska Corporation

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: that we, the undersigned, have this day adopted, made and subscribed in duplicate to the following Articles of Incorporation, for the purpose of forming a corporation under the Business Corporation Act of the state of Alaska.

ARTICLE I

The name of the corporation shall be AUTOMATED MULTITEST MEDICAL LABORATORIES, INC.

ARTICLE II

The period of duration of this corporation shall be perpetual.

ARTICLE III

THE PRINCIPAL PURPOSE OF THIS CORPORATION SHALL BE THE PERFORMANCE OF MULTIPHASIC SCREENING TESTS. MULTIPHASIC SCREENING IS THE SEQUENTIAL PERFORMANCE OF A SERIES OF PREDETERMINED MEDICAL TESTS WHICH ARE GENERALLY STANDARD MEDICAL PROCEDURES OF RECOGNIZED VALUE. THEY ARE PERFORMED ON HUMAN SUBJECTS BY MEDICAL PERSONNEL LESS HIGHLY TRAINED THAN A GRADUATE PHYSICIAN, USING AUTOMATED EQUIPMENT WHEREVER TECHNICALLY AND ECONOMICALLY FEASIBLE. A DETAILED QUESTIONNAIRE-TYPE MEDICAL HISTORY IS ALSO PERFORMED. THE TEST RESULTS FOR EACH PATIENT ARE THEN COLLECTED AND DISPLAYED IN A FORM WHICH IS SUITABLE FOR INTERPRETATION BY A PHYSICIAN. A COMPUTER MAY BE USED FOR COLLECTION, DISPLAY AND ANALYTICAL PURPOSES. THE MEDICAL INFORMATION THUS OBTAINED IS USED BY A PHYSICIAN FOR DIAGNOSTIC AND/OR PREVENTIVE MEDICAL PURPOSES.

Further purposes shall include, but not be limited to:

To carry out medical analysis, research, perform blood analysis, obtain chemical analysis, perform tests, perform laboratory work, operate a bio-chemical laboratory and to furnish such results or services to hospitals, medical institutions, clinics, physicians, surgeons and the entire medical profession or such other group, business or individual as may desire such results or services.

To establish, equip, own, operate and maintain pathological and X-ray laboratories, bio-chemical laboratories or other laboratories of medical or scientific nature.

To manufacture, compound, mix, prepare, buy or otherwise acquire, and to sell, distribute at wholesale and retail, exploit, promote, and advertise, as principal or agent, any and all drugs, chemicals, chemical compounds, solutions, medicinal preparations, drug sundries, drug and like products, pharmaceutical supplies, medical goods and appliances generally.

To carry on the business of chemists, druggists, chemical dealers, importers, exporters, manufacturers and traders in chemical, pharmaceutical, medicinal and other preparations and chemicals.

To maintain, conduct, manage and carry on any kind of commercial or manufacturing business or businesses; and to engage in research, experimental, laboratory, development, exploitation and exploration work in connection with any or all of the foregoing businesses.

To build, erect, construct, purchase, hold or otherwise acquire, own, provide, maintain, establish, lease and operate, buy, sell, exchange or otherwise dispose of manufacturing facilities, laboratories, warehouses, agencies, factories, buildings, structures, offices, and plants with suitable, necessary, useful, or advisable in connection with the attainment of any or all of the objects herein set forth.

To manufacture, buy, sell, rent, deal in and to engage in, conduct and carry on the business of manufacturing, buying, selling, renting, and dealing in goods, wares and merchandise of every class and description necessary or useful for the operations of this Corporation.

To improve, manage, develop, sell, assign, transfer, lease, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of or turn to account or deal with all or any part of the property of the Corporation and from time to time to vary any investment or employment of capital of the Corporation.

To borrow money and to make and issue notes, bonds, debentures, obligations and evidences of indebtedness of all kinds whether secured by mortgage, pledge or otherwise without limit as to amount, and to secure the same by mortgage, pledge or otherwise; and generally to make and perform agreements and contracts of every kind and description.

To the same extent as natural persons might or could do, to purchase or otherwise acquire, and to hold, own, maintain, work, develop, sell, lease, exchange, hire, convey, mortgage or otherwise dispose of and deal in, lands and leaseholds, and any interest, estate and rights in real property, and any personal or mixed property, and any franchises, rights, licenses or privileges necessary, convenient or appropriate for any of the purposes herein expressed.

To apply for, obtain, register, purchase, lease or otherwise to acquire and to hold, own, use, develop, operate, and introduce, and to sell, assign, grant licenses or territorial rights in respect to, or otherwise to turn to account or dispose of, any copyrights, trade marks, trade names, brands, labels, patent rights, letters patent of the United States or of any other country or government, inventions, improvements and processes, whether used in connection with or secured under letters patent or otherwise.

To do all and everything necessary, suitable and proper for the accomplishment of any of the purposes or the attainment of any of the objects or the furtherance of any of the powers hereinbefore set forth, either alone or in association with other corporations, firms or individuals, and to do every other act or acts, thing or things incidental or appurtenant to or growing out of or connected with the aforesaid business or powers or any part or parts thereof, provided the same be not inconsistent with the laws under which this Corporation is organized.

To acquire by purchase, subscription or otherwise, and to hold for investment or otherwise and to use, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge or otherwise deal with or dispose of stocks, bonds, or any other obligations or securities of any corporation or corporations; to merge or consolidate with any corporation in such manner as may be permitted by law; to aid in any manner any corporation whose stocks, bonds or other obligations are held or in any manner guaranteed by this Corporation, or in which this Corporation is in any way interested; and to do any other acts or things for the preservation, protection, improvement or enhancement of the value of any such stock, bonds or other obligations; and while owner of any such stock, bonds or other obligations to exercise all the rights, powers and privileges of ownership thereof, and to exercise any and all voting powers thereon; to guarantee the payment of dividends upon any stock, or the principal or interest or both, of any bonds or other obligations, and the performance of any contracts.

The business or purpose of the Corporation is from time to time to do any one or more of the acts and things hereinabove set forth, and it shall have power to conduct and carry on its said business, or any part thereof, and to have one or more offices, and to exercise any or all of its corporate powers and rights, in the state of Alaska, and in the various other states, territories, colonies and dependencies of the United States, in the District of Columbia, and in all or any foreign countries.

The enumeration herein of the objects and purposes of this Corporation shall be construed as powers as well as objects and purposes and shall not be deemed to exclude by inference any powers, objects or purposes which this Corporation is empowered to exercise, whether expressly by force of the laws of the state of Alaska now or hereafter in effect or impliedly by the reasonable construction of the said laws.

To engage in any legal activity except banking, insurance, public utilities or building and loan activities.

ARTICLE IV

The authorized amount of capital stock of this corporation shall be One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars, divided into ten thousand (10,000) shares of the par value of Ten ($10.00) Dollars each.

All shareholders shall have pre-emptive rights to purchase, subscribe for or otherwise acquire any unissued share of stock of this corporation of any class now or hereafter authorized.

ARTICLE V

The respective Boards of Directors and the Sole Shareholder by resolution have determined it to be advisable that the Absorbed Corporation be merged into the Surviving Corporation under the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth in accordance with the applicable provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Alaska, which laws permit such merger.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties hereto do agree as follows:

I

The Articles of Incorporation of the Surviving Corporation shall continue to be its Articles of Incorporation, unless altered or amended below, following the effective date of the merger.

II

The executed PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER is on file at the Surviving Corporations's principal office. The location that office is 4751 Old Seward Hwy., Anchorage, Alaska 99503.

III

The provisions for handling the shares of stock of the Constituent Corporations are as follows:

(1) All issued and outstanding shares of stock of the Constituent Corporation shall be cancelled.

(2) On the effective date of the merger and when the aforementioned cancellation has been effected, the outstanding shares of stock of the Surviving Corporation shall be deemed for all corporate purposes to evidence the ownership of the Constituent Corporations.

IV

The number of shares outstanding and the number of shares entitled to vote upon such PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER, and the number of shares voted for and against such PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER as to each corporation was as follows:

COMPANY NAME -----	NUMBER OF SHARES OUTSTANDING -----	NUMBER OF SHARES ENTITLED TO VOTE -----	NUMBER VOTED FOR ---	NUMBER VOTED AGAINST -----
U-HAUL CO. OF ALASKA	1,000	1,000	1,000	0
MOVERS WORLD OF ALASKA, INC.	500	500	500	0

V

The Constituent Corporations shall take or cause to be taken all action or do or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable under the laws of the State of Alaska, to consummate and make effective this merger, subject, however to the appropriate vote or consent to the stockholders of the Constituent Corporation in accordance with the requirements of the State of Alaska.

VI

The Surviving Corporation hereby irrevocable appoints C. T. Corporation System, as its agent to accept service of process in any suit or other proceeding and to enforce against the surviving Corporation any obligation of any Constituent Domestic Corporation or enforce the rights of a dissenting shareholder of any Constituent Domestic Corporation. A copy of any such process may be mailed to John A. Lorentz, P. O. Box 21502, Phoenix, Arizona 85036.

VII

The Surviving Corporation shall pay all expenses of accomplishing the merger, and assumes the responsibility for all tax liabilities of the Absorbed Corporation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the corporate parties hereto execute this PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER this 22st day of June, 1988.

EXHIBIT 3.58

BY-LAWS OF

U-HAUL CO. of ALASKA

AN ALASKA CORPORATION

ARTICLE I

DATE: March 12, 1969

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the state of Alaska shall be located in the city of Juneau, Alaska. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the state of Alaska as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the second Monday in March of each year, at the office of the corporation in the state of Alaska or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for the election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer of persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the state of Alaska. Notice of the special meetings will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

Voting at all shareholders meetings. A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding share of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the tellers for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Officers:

A board of three (3) Directors shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the term of office of all or any of the Directors by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies on the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, disqualification or other cause, the remaining Directors though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the state of Alaska.

SECTION 4. Special Meeting:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specified called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the state of Alaska.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws, but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

1st. Roll Call; a quorum being present.

2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding minutes and action thereon.

3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.

4th. Reports of officials and committees.

5th. Unfinished business.

6th. Miscellaneous business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trade-marks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgment may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.
3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee the notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Alaska, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the Alaska statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President, Vice-President, and Secretary and Treasurer, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officer and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of Vice-President:

The Vice-president shall have such powers and perform such duties as may be assigned to him by the Board of Directors of the corporation and in the absence or inability of the President, the Vice-president shall perform the duties of the President.

SECTION 4. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorized by the Board of Directors, and when so ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

SECTION 5. Powers and Duties of Treasurer:

The Treasurer shall have the care and custody of all funds and securities of the corporation, and deposit the same in the name of the corporation in such bank or banks or other depository as the Directors may select. He shall sign checks, drafts, notices, and orders for the payment of money, and he shall pay out and dispose of the same under the direction of the Board of Directors, but checks may be signed as directed by the Board by resolution. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer at all reasonable time to exhibit his books and accounts to any Director or stockholder of the corporation upon application at the office of the corporation during business hours, and generally perform the duties of and act as the financial agent for the corporation for the receipts and disbursements of its funds. He shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the Board of Directors may determine. The office of the Treasurer of said corporation, may be held by the same person holding the President, Vice-President or Secretary's office, provided the Board of Directors indicates the combination of these offices.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-President, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Alaska, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and the stock thereby represented is transferrable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signer of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the number of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such pre-emptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

SECTION 3. Restrictions on Transfer:

No shareholder shall transfer, alienate, or in any way dispose of any share of the corporation unless such share shall first have been offered for sale to the corporation. The corporation reserves and shall have the exclusive right in adoption to purchase such shares at a price equal to the book value thereof within sixty days after such offer. After the expiration of such time, the shareholder, if the corporation shall not have exercised his option to purchase such share, shall be free to transfer, alienate or otherwise dispose of such share without any restrictions whatsoever. Provided, however, that this restriction shall not apply to inter vivos gifts or transfer without consideration by operation of law of shares of stock by shareholders to members of the immediate family of such shareholders.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of January of each calendar year and shall close on the 31st day of December of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of this corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing By-Laws of U-HAUL CO. OF ALASKA, are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

Re: Fiscal Year Date

Gentlemen :

We request that you mail this office a letter advising the fiscal date, of above corporation, in order to enable us to compute the fees due.

The law provides that on or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month, (3 months & 15 days), after the close of the fiscal year adopted by the corporation, all corporation are required each year to file an annual report and pay a registration fee.

A "FISCAL YEAR: for Arizona State is defined as follows: Fiscal year is the accounting period of twelve months ending on the last day of any month including December."

If in need of further assistance please call 271-4146.

Yours truly,

/s/ May S. Oates

EXHIBIT 3.60

BY-LAWS OF

U-HAUL CO. OF ARIZONA

An Arizona Corporation

ARTICLE I

DATE: April 9, 1970

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the state of Arizona shall be located in the city of Glendale. The corporation may have such other offices either within or without the state of Arizona as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the first Friday in February of each year, at the office of the corporation in the state of Arizona or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for the election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer of persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the state of Arizona. Notice of the special meetings will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

Voting at all shareholders meetings. A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.

SECTION 5. Quorum Requirements:

A majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of the shareholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, the majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting originally called.

SECTION 6. Tellers:

At all meetings of shareholders, the Chairman may appoint three tellers who shall act as inspectors of elections and determine the validity of the proxies and press upon the qualifications of all persons offering to vote at each meeting and count the ballots. The election shall be by secret ballot, or in case there is only one nomination for a certain office, the election may be by acclamation. Each shareholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock held by him.

SECTION 7. Order of Business:

1st. All persons claiming to hold proxies shall present them to the tellers for verification.

2nd. Proof of due notice of meeting when applicable.

3rd. Reading and disposal of all unapproved minutes.

4th. Reports of officers and committees.

5th. Election of Directors.

6th. Unfinished business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE III

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Number and Term of Officers:

A board of three (3) Directors shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at their annual meeting. The holders of the majority of the outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote may at any time pre-emptorily terminate the term of office of all or any of the Directors by a vote at a meeting called for such purposes. Such removal shall be effective immediately even if successors are not elected simultaneously and the vacancies on the Board of Directors resulting therefrom shall be filled by the stockholders, or by the Board of Directors as provided in Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 2. Vacancies:

In case of any vacancy among the Directors through death, resignation, dis-qualification or other cause, the remaining Directors though less than a quorum, shall by vote of a majority of their number elect a successor to hold office for the unexpired portion of the term of the Director whose place shall be vacant.

SECTION 3. Regular Meetings:

After the adjournment of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company, the newly elected Directors shall meet for the purpose of organization, the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting. No notice shall be required for such meeting. The meeting may be held within or without the state of Arizona.

SECTION 4. Special Meeting:

Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at the place specified called therefor, and notice thereof. Said special meeting of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the President or by any two members of the Board giving written notice thereof to the President of said corporation, or said special meeting may be called without notice by unanimous written consent of all the members by the presence of all the members of said board at any such meeting. The special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held within or without the state of Arizona.

SECTION 5. Quorum:

A majority of the Board of Directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except where otherwise provided by statute or by these By-Laws, but if any meeting of the Board be less than a quorum present, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum is obtained.

SECTION 6. Order of Business:

The Board of Directors may from time to time, determine the order of business at their meetings. The usual order of business at such meetings shall be as follows:

1st. Roll call; a quorum being present.

2nd. Reading of minutes of preceding meeting and action thereon.

3rd. Consideration of communications of the Board of Directors.

4th. Reports of officials and committees.

5th. Unfinished business.

6th. Miscellaneous business.

7th. New business.

8th. Adjournment.

ARTICLE IV

POWERS OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. Generally:

The Government in control of the corporation shall be vested in the Board of Directors.

SECTION 2. Special Powers:

The Board of Directors shall have, in addition to its other powers the express right to exercise the following powers:

1. To purchase, lease, and acquire, in any lawful manner any and all real or personal property including franchises, stocks, bonds and debentures of other companies, business and good will, patents, trade-marks in contracts, and interests thereunder, and other rights and properties which in their judgment may be beneficial for the purpose of this corporation, and to issue shares of stock of this corporation in payment of such property, and in payment for services rendered to this corporation, when they deem it advisable.
2. To fix and determine and to vary, from time to time, the amount or amounts to be set aside or retained as reserve funds or as working capital of this corporation.
3. To issue notes and other obligations or evidences of the debt of this corporation, and to secure the same, if deemed advisable, and endorse and guarantee the notes, bonds, stocks, and other obligations of other corporations with or without compensation for so doing, and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of the property of this corporation, subject, however, to the laws of the State of Arizona, governing the disposition of the entire assets and business of the corporation as a going concern.

4. To declare and pay dividends, both in the form of money and stock, but only from the surplus or from the net profit arising from the business of this corporation, after deducting therefrom the amounts, at the time when any dividend is declared which shall have been set aside by the Directors as a reserve fund or as a working fund.

ARTICLE V

SECTION 1. Committees:

From time to time the Board of Directors, by affirmative vote of a majority of the whole Board may appoint any committee or committees for any purpose or purposes, and such committee or committees shall have and may exercise such powers as shall be conferred or authorized by the resolution of appointment. Provided, however, that such committee or committees shall at no time have more power than that authorized by the Arizona statutes regulating the appointment of committees.

ARTICLE VI

SECTION 1. Officers:

And the officers of the corporation shall consist of a President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer, and such other officers as shall from time to time be provided for by the Board of Directors. Such officers shall be elected by ballot or unanimous acclamation at the meeting of the Board of Directors after the annual election of Directors. In order to hold any election there be a quorum present, and any officer receiving a majority vote shall be declared elected and shall hold office for one year and until his or her respective successor shall have been duly elected and qualified; provided, however, that all officers, agents and employees of the corporation shall be subject to removal from office pre-emptorily by vote of the Board of Directors at any meeting.

SECTION 2. Powers and Duties of President:

The President shall at all times be subject to the control of the Board of Directors. He shall have general charge of the affairs of the corporation. He shall supervise over and direct all officer and employees of the corporation and see that their duties are properly performed. The President, in conjunction with the Secretary, shall sign and execute all contracts, notes, mortgages, and all other obligations in the name of the corporation, and with the Secretary shall sign all certificates of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the shareholders and of the Board of Directors and by virtue of his office he shall be a member and Chairman of the executive committee if one is appointed. The President shall each year present an annual report of the preceding year's business to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held immediately preceding the annual meeting of the shareholders, which report shall be read at the annual meeting of the shareholders. The President shall do and perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors to him.

SECTION 3. Powers and Duties of Vice-President:

The Vice-President shall have such powers and perform such duties as may be assigned to him by the Board of Directors of the corporation and in the absence or inability of the President, the Vice-President shall perform the duties of the President.

SECTION 4. Powers and Duties of the Secretary:

The Secretary of said corporation shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board of Directors and the minutes of all meetings of the shareholders, and also when requested by a committee, the minutes of such committee, in books provided for the purpose. He shall attend to the giving and serving of notice of the corporation. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to sign with the President, in the name of the corporation, all contracts, notes, mortgages, and other instruments and other obligations authorised by the Board of Directors, and when [ILLEGIBLE] ordered by the Board of Directors, he shall affix the Seal of Corporation thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of all books, documents, and papers properly belonging to his office, and of such other books and papers as the Board of Directors may direct.

SECTION 5. Powers and Duties of Treasurer:

The Treasurer shall have the care and custody of all funds and securities of the corporation, and deposit the same in the name of the corporation in such bank or banks or other depository as the Directors may select. He shall sign checks, drafts, notices, and orders for the payment of money, and he shall pay out and dispose of the same under the direction of the Board of Directors, but checks may be signed as directed by the Board by resolution. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer at all reasonable time to exhibit his books and accounts to any Director or stockholder of the corporation upon application at the office of the corporation during business hours, and generally perform the duties of and act as the financial agent for the corporation for the receipts and disbursements of its funds. He shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the Board of Directors may determine. The office of the Treasurer of said corporation, may be held by the same person holding the President, Vice-President or Secretary's office, provided the Board of Directors indicates the combination of these offices.

ARTICLE VII

STOCK AND CERTIFICATES AND TRANSFERS

SECTION 1. Stock and Certificates and Transfers:

All certificates for the shares of the capital stock of the corporation shall be signed by the President or Vice-president, and Secretary. All certificates shall be consecutively numbered in progression beginning with number one. Each certificate shall show upon its face that the corporation is organized under the laws of Arizona, the number and par value, if any, of each share represented by it, the name of the person owning the shares represented thereby, with the number of each share and the date of issue, and the stock thereby represented is transferrable only upon the books of the corporation and upon the signer of such certificates. A stock transfer book, known as the stock register shall be kept, in which shall be entered the number of each certificate issued and the number of the person owning the shares thereby represented, with the number of such shares and the date of issue. The transfer of any share or shares of stock in the corporation may be made by surrender of the certificate issued therefor, and the written assignment thereof by the owner or his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. Upon such surrender and assignment, a new certificate shall be issued to the assignee as he may be entitled, but without such surrender and assignment no transfer of stock shall be recognized by the corporation. The Board of Directors shall have the power concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificate for agents and registrars of transfer, and may require all stock certificates to bear signatures of either or both. The stock transfer books shall be closed ten days before each meeting of the shareholders and during such period no stock shall be transferred.

SECTION 2. Pre-Emptive Rights:

Any issue or shares or securities of the corporation in addition to the shares subscribed to or issued at the date of these By-Laws shall be first offered prorata to the shareholders of record in relation to their then existing percentage of ownership of the outstanding stock of this corporation. Such preemptive rights shall apply to any original authorized but unissued stock of this corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

FISCAL YEAR

SECTION 1. Fiscal Year:

The fiscal year of the corporation shall commence with the opening of business on the first day of January of each calendar year and shall close on the 31st day of December of the year.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

SECTION 1. Amendment of By-Laws:

The By-Laws may be amended by a majority vote of all shareholders of this corporation entitled to vote at a regular annual meeting. Also, said By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of the shareholders of said corporation at any special meeting called for that object and purpose, and provided all the shareholders are given legal notice of the object and purpose of said meeting.

The foregoing By-Laws of U-HAUL CO. OF ARIZONA, are hereby accepted and adopted as the By-Laws of said corporation, and we, the undersigned, do hereby certify that the above foregoing By-Laws are duly adopted by the Board of Directors and that the same do now constitute the By-Laws of this corporation.

PLAN AND AGREEMENT

OF MERGER

THIS PLAN AND AGREEMENT OF MERGER dated this 13th day of December, 1971 made by and between AMERCO MARKETING CO. OF ARKANSAS, an Arkansas corporation, hereinafter sometimes referred to as SURVIVOR or Surviving Corporation, and AUTOMATED MULTITEST MEDICAL LABORATORIES, INC. and E Z MOVE, INC., both Arkansas corporations, hereinafter sometimes referred to as ABSORBED (1) and ABSORBED (2) respectively or collectively as ABSORBED CORPORATIONS, and together with SURVIVOR as "Constituent Corporations."

WITNESSETH THAT:

WHEREAS:

1. SURVIVOR is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the state of Arkansas with its registered office in that state being located at 221 West Second Street, Little Rock, Arkansas, c/o The Corporation Company;
2. SURVIVOR has an authorized capitalization of 10,000 shares of common stock having a par value of $10.00 per share, 500 of which are issued, outstanding, and owned by U-HAUL CO., an Oklahoma corporation;
3. ABSORBED CORPORATIONS are both corporations organized and existing under the laws of the state of Arkansas with their registered offices in that state both being located at 221 West Second Street, Little Rock, Arkansas, c/o The Corporation Company;
4. ABSORBED (1) has authorized capitalization of 10,000 shares of stock having a par value of $10.00 per share none of which has been issued or is outstanding;
5. ABSORBED (2) has an authorized capitalization of 500 shares of stock having a par value of $10.00 per share none of which has been issued or is outstanding;

6. The respective Boards of Directors of the Constituent Corporations have determined that it is advisable that the ABSORBED CORPORATIONS be merged into SURVIVOR, under the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, in accordance with the applicable provisions of the laws of the state of Arkansas, which laws permit such merger;

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and of the mutual agreements, covenants and provisions hereinafter contained, the parties hereto do hereby agree as follows:

I

ABSORBED CORPORATIONS and SURVIVOR shall be merged into a single corporation in accordance with the applicable provisions of the laws of the state of Arkansas, by ABSORBED CORPORATIONS merging into SURVIVOR which shall be the surviving corporation. The separated existence of the ABSORBED CORPORATIONS shall cease and the existence of SURVIVOR shall continue unaffected and unimpaired by the merger with all the rights, privileges, immunities and powers, and subject to all the duties and liabilities of a corporation organized under the Business Corporation Act of the state of Arkansas.

II

1. The Articles of Incorporation of SURVIVOR shall continue to be its Articles of Incorporation until altered or amended, following the effective date of the merger.
2. The By-Laws of SURVIVOR shall be and remain the By-Laws of SURVIVOR until altered, amended or repealed.
3. The directors and officers of SURVIVOR as of the effective date of the merger shall be the officers and directors of SURVIVOR, as follows:

DIRECTORS: Gerald Bailey
Jim Munson
Juanita Bailey

OFFICERS: Gerald Bailey - President David Helsten - Vice-President Jim Munson - Vice-President Juanita Bailey - Secretary Juanita Bailey - Treasurer John A. Lorentz - Assistant Secretary

III

On the effective date of the merger:

1. SURVIVOR shall possess all the rights, privileges, immunities, powers and franchises as well of a public as of a private nature, and shall be subject to all of the restrictions, disabilities, and duties of each of the Constituent Corporations; and all property, real, personal and mixed, including all patents, applications for patents, trademarks, trademark registrations and applications for registration of trademarks, together with the good will of the business in connection with which said patents and marks are used, and all debt due on whatever account, including subscriptions to shares of stock, and all other choses in action and all and every other interest of or belonging to or due to each of the Constituent Corporations shall be deemed to be transferred to and vested in SURVIVOR without further act or deed, and title to any real estate, or any interest therein, vested in any of the Constituent Corporations shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of the merger.

2. SURVIVOR shall be responsible and liable for all the liabilities and obligations of each of the Constituent Corporations; and any claim existing or action or proceeding pending by or against any of the Constituent Corporations may be prosecuted to judgment as if the merger had not taken place, or SURVIVOR may be substituted in its place and neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of any of the Constituent Corporations shall be impaired by the merger. SURVIVOR shall execute and deliver any and all documents which may be required for it to assume or otherwise comply with outstanding obligations of the ABSORBED CORPORATIONS.

IV

The provisions for handling the shares of stock of the Constituent Corporations are as follows:

On the effective date of the merger the outstanding stock of SURVIVOR shall be deemed for all corporate purposes to evidence the ownership of the Constituent Corporations.

V

SURVIVOR shall pay all expenses of accomplishing the merger.

VI

If at any time SURVIVOR shall consider or be advised that any further assignment or assurances in law are necessary or desirable to vest or to perfect or confirm of record in SURVIVOR the title to any property or rights of the ABSORBED CORPORATIONS, or to otherwise carry out the provisions hereof, the proper officers and directors of the ABSORBED CORPORATIONS as of the effective date of the merger shall execute and deliver any and all proper deeds, assignments, and assurances in law, and do all things necessary or proper to vest, perfect or confirm title to such property or rights in SURVIVOR, and otherwise to carry out the provisions hereof.

VII

Each of the Constituent Corporations shall take or cause to be taken, all action or do or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable under the laws of the state of Arkansas to consummate and make effective the merger, subject, however, to the appropriate vote or consent of the stockholders of each of the Constituent Corporations in accordance with the requirements of the applicable provisions of the laws of the state of Arkansas.

VIII

The effective date of the merger for accounting purposes shall be at the close of business on December 31, 1971. The officers and directors of SURVIVOR are authorized and directed to perform all actions required for accomplishing and filing the merger under the laws of the state of Arkansas.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the corporate parties hereto, pursuant to authority given by their respective Boards of Directors, have caused this Plan and Agreement of Merger to be entered into, by their respective Presidents or Vice-Presidents and Secretaries or Assistant Secretaries, all as of the date and year first above written.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION
OF
AUTOMATED MULTITEST LABORATORIES, INC.
An Arkansas Corporation

We, the undersigned, in order to form a corporation for the purposes hereinafter stated, under and pursuant to the laws of the state of Arkansas do hereby certify as follows:

ARTICLE I

The name of this corporation is Automated Multitest Laboratories, Inc.

ARTICLE II

THE PRINCIPAL PURPOSE OF THIS CORPORATION SHALL BE THE PERFORMANCE OF MULTIPHASIC SCREENING TESTS. MULTIPHASIC SCREENING IS THE SEQUENTIAL PERFORMANCE OF A SERIES OF PREDETERMINED MEDICAL TESTS WHICH ARE GENERALLY STANDARD MEDICAL PROCEDURES OF RECOGNIZED VALUE. THEY ARE PERFORMED ON HUMAN SUBJECTS BY MEDICAL PERSONNEL LESS HIGHLY TRAINED THAN A GRADUATE PHYSICIAN, USING AUTOMATED EQUIPMENT WHEREVER TECHNICALLY AND ECONOMICALLY FEASIBLE. A DETAILED QUESTIONNAIRE-TYPE MEDICAL HISTORY IS ALSO PERFORMED. THE TEST RESULTS FOR EACH PATIENT ARE THEN COLLECTED AND DISPLAYED IN A FORM WHICH IS SUITABLE FOR INTERPRETATION BY A PHYSICIAN. A COMPUTER MAY BE USED FOR COLLECTION, DISPLAY AND ANALYTICAL PURPOSES. THE MEDICAL INFORMATION THUS OBTAINED IS USED BY A PHYSICIAN FOR DIAGNOSTIC AND/OR PREVENTIVE MEDICAL PURPOSES.

Further purposes shall include, but not be limited to:

To carry out medical analysis, research, perform blood analysis, obtain chemical analysis, perform tests, perform laboratory work, operate a bio- chemical laboratory and to furnish such results or services to hospitals, medical institutions, clinics, physicians, surgeons and the entire medical profession or such other group, business or individual as may desire such results or services.

To establish, equip, own, operate and maintain pathological and X-ray laboratories, bio-chemical laboratories or other laboratories of medical or scientific nature.

Page one of six pages

To manufacture, compound, mix, prepare, buy or otherwise acquire, and to sell, distribute at wholesale and retail, exploit, promote, and advertise, as principal or agent, any and all drugs, chemicals, chemical compounds, solutions, medicinal preparations, drug sundries, drug and like products, pharmaceutical supplies, medical goods and appliances generally.

To carry on the business of chemists, druggists, chemical dealers, importers, exporters, manufacturers and traders in chemical, pharmaceutical, medicinal and other preparations and chemicals.

To maintain, conduct, manage and carry on any kind of commercial or manufacturing business or businesses; and to engage in research, experimental, laboratory, development, exploitation and exploration work in connection with any or all of the foregoing businesses.

To build, erect, construct, purchase, hold or otherwise acquire, own, provide, maintain, establish, lease and operate, buy, sell, exchange or otherwise dispose of manufacturing facilities, laboratories, warehouses, agencies, factories, buildings, structures, offices, and plants with suitable, necessary, useful, or advisable in connection with the attainment of any or all of the objects herein set forth.

To manufacture, buy, sell, rent, deal in and to engage In, conduct and carry on the business of manufacturing, buying, selling, renting, and dealing in goods, wares and merchandise of every class and description necessary or useful for the operations of this Corporation.

To improve, manage, develop, sell, assign, transfer, lease, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of or turn to account or deal with all or any part of the property of the Corporation and from time to time to vary any investment or employment of capital of the corporation.

To borrow money and to make and issue notes, bonds, debentures, obligations and evidences of indebtedness of all kinds whether secured by mortgage, pledge or otherwise without limit as to amount, and to secure the same by mortgage, pledge or otherwise; and generally to make and perform agreements and contracts of every kind and description.

To the same extent as natural persons might or could do, to purchase or otherwise acquire, and to hold, own, maintain, work, develop, sell, lease, exchange, hire, convey, mortgage or otherwise dispose of and deal in lands and leaseholds, and any interest, estate and rights in real property, and any personal or mixed property, and any franchises, rights, licenses or privileges necessary, convenient or appropriate for any of the purposes herein expressed.

To apply for, obtain, register, purchase, lease or otherwise to acquire and to hold, own, use, develop, operate, and introduce, and to sell, assign, grant licenses or territorial rights in respect to, or otherwise to turn to account or dispose of, any copyrights, trade marks, trade names, brands, labels, patent rights, letters patent of the United States or of any other country or government, inventions, improvements and processes, whether used in connection with or secured under letters patent or otherwise.

To do all and everything necessary, suitable and proper for the accomplishment of any of the purposes or the attainment of any of the objects or the furtherance of any of the powers hereinbefore set forth, either alone or in association with other corporations, firms or individuals, and to do every other act or acts, thing or things incidental or appurtenant to or growing out of or connected with the aforesaid business or powers or any part or parts thereof, provided the same be not inconsistent with the laws under which this Corporation is organized.

To acquire by purchase, subscription or otherwise, and to hold for investment or otherwise and to use, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge or otherwise deal with or dispose of stocks, bonds, or any other obligations or securities of any corporation or corporations; to merge or consolidate with any corporation in such manner as may be permitted by law; to aid in any manner any corporation whose stocks, bonds or other obligations are held or in any manner guaranteed by this Corporation, or in which this Corporation is in any way interested; and to do any other acts or things for the preservation, protection, improvement or enhancement of the value of any such stock, bonds or other obligations; and while owner of any such stock, bonds or other obligations to exercise all the rights, powers and privileges of ownership thereof, and to exercise any and all voting powers thereon; to guarantee the payment of dividends upon any stock, or the principal or interest or both, of any bonds or other obligations, and the performance of any contracts.

The business or purpose of the Corporation is from time to time to do any one or more of the acts and things hereinabove set forth, and it shall have power to conduct and carry on its said business, or any part thereof, and to have one or more offices, and to exercise any or all of its corporate powers and rights, in the state of Arkansas, and in the various other states, territories, colonies and dependencies of the United States, in the District of Columbia, and in all or any foreign countries.

of

AUTOMATED MULTITEST MEDICAL LABORATORIES, INC.

An Arkansas Corporation

We, the undersigned, in order to form a corporation for the purposes hereinafter stated, under and pursuant to the laws of the state of Arkansas do hereby certify as follows:

ARTICLE I

The name of this corporation is Automated Multitest Medical Laboratories, Inc.

ARTICLE II

THE PRINCIPAL PURPOSE OF THIS CORPORATION SHALL BE THE PERFORMANCE OF MULTIPHASIC SCREENING TESTS. MULTIPHASIC SCREENING IS THE SEQUENTIAL PERFORMANCE OF A SERIES OF PREDETERMINED MEDICAL TESTS WHICH ARE GENERALLY STANDARD MEDICAL PROCEDURES OF RECOGNIZED VALUE. THEY ARE PERFORMED ON HUMAN SUBJECTS BY MEDICAL PERSONNEL LESS HIGHLY TRAINED THAN A GRADUATE PHYSICIAN, USING AUTOMATED EQUIPMENT WHEREVER TECHNICALLY AND ECONOMICALLY FEASIBLE. A DETAILED QUESTIONNAIRE-TYPE MEDICAL HISTORY IS ALSO PERFORMED. THE TEST RESULTS FOR EACH PATIENT ARE THEN COLLECTED AND DISPLAYED IN A FORM WHICH IS SUITABLE FOR INTERPRETATION BY A PHYSICIAN. A COMPUTER MAY BE USED FOR COLLECTION, DISPLAY AND ANALYTICAL PURPOSES. THE MEDICAL INFORMATION THUS OBTAINED IS USED BY A PHYSICIAN FOR DIAGNOSTIC AND/OR PREVENTIVE MEDICAL PURPOSES.

Further purposes shall include, but not be limited to:

To carry out medical analysis, research, perform blood analysis, obtain chemical analysis, perform tests, perform laboratory work, operate a bio-chemical laboratory and to furnish such results or services to hospitals, medical institutions, clinics, physicians, surgeons and the entire medical profession or such other group, business or individual as may desire such results or services.

To establish, equip, own, operate and maintain pathological and X-ray laboratories, bio-chemical laboratories or other laboratories of medical or scientific nature.

To manufacture, compound, mix, prepare, buy or otherwise acquire, and to sell, distribute at wholesale and retail, exploit, promote, and advertise, as principal or agent, any and all drugs, chemicals, chemical compounds, solutions, medicinal preparations, drug sundries, drug and like products, pharmaceutical supplies, medical goods and appliances generally.

To carry on the business of chemists, druggists, chemical dealers, importers, exporters, manufacturers and traders in chemical, pharmaceutical, medicinal and other preparations and chemicals.

To maintain, conduct, manage and carry on any kind of commercial or manufacturing business or businesses; and to engage in research, experimental, laboratory, development, exploitation and exploration work in connection with any or all of the foregoing businesses.

To build, erect, construct, purchase, hold or otherwise acquire, own, provide, maintain, establish, lease and operate, buy, sell, exchange or otherwise dispose of manufacturing facilities, laboratories, warehouses, agencies, factories, buildings, structures, offices, and plants with suitable, necessary, useful, or advisable in connection with the attainment of any or all of the objects herein set forth.

To manufacture, buy, sell, rent, deal in and to engage in, conduct and carry on the business of manufacturing, buying, selling, renting, and dealing in goods, wares and merchandise of every class and description necessary or useful for the operations of this Corporation.

To improve, manage, develop, sell, assign, transfer, lease, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of or turn to account or deal with all or any part of the property of the Corporation and from time to time to vary any investment or employment of capital of the corporation.

To borrow money and to make and issue notes, bonds, debentures, obligations and evidences of indebtedness of all kinds whether secured by mortgage, pledge or otherwise without limit as to amount, and to secure the same by mortgage, pledge or otherwise; and generally to make and perform agreements and contracts of every kind and description.

To the same extent as natural persons might or could do, to purchase or otherwise acquire, and to hold, own, maintain, work, develop, sell, lease, exchange, hire, convey, mortgage or otherwise dispose of and deal in, lands and leaseholds, and any interest, estate and rights in real property, and any personal or mixed property, and any franchises, rights, licenses or privileges necessary, convenient or appropriate for any of the purposes herein expressed.

To apply for, obtain, register, purchase, lease or otherwise to acquire and to hold, own, use, develop, operate, and introduce, and to sell, assign, grant licenses or territorial rights in respect to, or otherwise to turn to account or dispose of, any copyrights, trade marks, trade names, brands, labels, patent rights, letters patent of the United States or of any other country or government, inventions, improvements and processes, whether used in connection with or secured under letters patent or otherwise.

To do all and everything necessary, suitable and proper for the accomplishment of any of the purposes or the attainment of any of the objects or the furtherance of any of the powers hereinbefore set forth, either alone or in association with other corporations, firms or individuals, and to do every other act or acts, thing or things incidental or appurtenant to or growing out of or connected with the aforesaid business or powers or any part or parts thereof, provided the same be not inconsistent with the laws under which this Corporation is organized.

To acquire by purchase, subscription or otherwise, and to hold for investment or otherwise and to use, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge or otherwise deal with or dispose of stocks, bonds, or any other obligations or securities of any corporation or corporations; to merge or consolidate with any corporation in such manner as may be permitted by law; to aid in any manner any corporation whose stocks, bonds or other obligations are held or in any manner guaranteed by this Corporation, or in which this Corporation is in any way interested; and to do any other acts or things for the preservation, protection, improvement or enhancement of the value of any such stock, bonds or other obligations; and while owner of any such stock, bonds or other obligations to exercise all the rights, powers and privileges of ownership thereof, and to exercise any and all voting powers thereon; to guarantee the payment of dividends upon any stock, or the principal or interest or both, of any bonds or other obligations, and the performance of any contracts.

The business or purpose of the Corporation is from time to time to do any one or more of the acts and things hereinabove set forth, and it shall have power to conduct and carry on its said business, or any part thereof, and to have one or more offices, and to exercise any or all of its corporate powers and rights, in the state of Arkansas, and in the various other states, territories, colonies and dependencies of the United States, in the District of Columbia, and in all or any foreign countries.

The enumeration herein of the objects and purposes of this Corporation shall be construed as powers as well as objects and purposes and shall not be deemed to exclude by inference any powers, objects or purposes which this Corporation is empowered to exercise, whether expressly by force of the laws of the state of Arkansas now or hereafter in effect or impliedly by the reasonable construction of the said laws.

To engage in any legal activity except banking, insurance, public utilities or building and loan activities.

PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER

This PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER dated this 28st day of June, 1988, entered into by U-HAUL CO. OF ARKANSAS, INC., the Surviving Corporation, and MOVERS WORLD OF ARKANSAS, INC., the Absorbed Corporation, both corporations of the State of Arkansas, and together referred to as the Constituent Corporations hereby witnesseth that:

The respective Boards of Directors and the Sole Shareholder by resolution have determined it to be advisable that the Absorbed Corporation be merged into the Surviving Corporation under the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth in accordance with the applicable provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Arkansas, which laws permit such merger.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties hereto do agree as follows:

I

The Articles of Incorporation of the Surviving Corporation shall continue to be its Articles of Incorporation, unless altered or amended below, following the effective date of the merger.

II

The executed PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER is on file at the Surviving Corporations's principal office. The location that office is 6600 Allied Way, Little Rock, Arkansas 72209.

III

The provisions for handling the shares of stock of the Constituent Corporations are as follows:

(1) All issued and outstanding shares of stock of the Constituent Corporation shall be cancelled.

(2) On the effective date of the merger and when the aforementioned cancellation has been effected, the outstanding shares of stock of the Surviving Corporation shall be deemed for all corporate purposes to evidence the ownership of the Constituent Corporations.

IV

The number of shares outstanding and the number of shares entitled to vote upon such PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER, and the number of shares voted for and against such PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER as to each corporation was as follows:

COMPANY NAME	NUMBER OF SHARES OUTSTANDING	NUMBER OF SHARES ENTITLED TO VOTE	NUMBER VOTED FOR	NUMBER VOTED AGAINST
U-HAUL CO. OF ARKANSAS, INC.	500	10,000	10,000	0
MOVERS WORLD OF ARKANSAS, INC.	100	500	500	0

V

The Constituent Corporations shall take or cause to be taken all action or do or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable under the laws of the State of Arkansas, to consummate and make effective this merger, subject, however to the appropriate vote or consent to the stockholders of the Constituent Corporation in accordance with the requirements of the State of Arkansas.

VI

The Surviving Corporation hereby irrevocable appoints The Corporation Company as its agent to accept service of process in any suit or other proceeding and to enforce against the surviving Corporation any obligation of any Constituent Domestic Corporation or enforce the rights of a dissenting shareholder of any Constituent Domestic Corporation. A copy of any such process may be mailed to John A. Lorentz, P. O. Box 21502, Phoenix, Arizona 85036.

VII

The Surviving Corporation shall pay all expenses of accomplishing the merger, and assumes the responsibility for all tax liabilities of the Absorbed Corporation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the corporate parties hereto execute this PLAN/AGREEMENT/ARTICLES OF MERGER this 28st day of June, 1988.

An Arkansas Corporation

ARTICLE I

DATE: February 27, 1970

SECTION 1. Offices:

The principal office of the corporation in the state of Arkansas shall be located in the city of little Rock. The corporation may have such other officers either within or without the state of Arkansas as the Board of Directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

ARTICLE II

STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting:

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the corporation shall be held on the Third Friday in January of each year, at the office of the corporation in the state of Arkansas or otherwise as provided in the notice of said meeting. The purpose of said annual meeting shall be for the election of directors and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may be brought before said meeting. The Board of Directors may change the time and place of the annual meeting providing such change of time and place be preceded by a notice of such change to all stockholders of record. If said day of the annual meeting is a legal holiday, then said meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day not a holiday.

SECTION 2. Notice of Shareholders Meeting:

Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of special meeting, the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten or more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary or the officer of persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the stock transfer book of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Provided, however, that notice of any meeting of shareholders whether regular or special, may be waived either before, at or after such meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings:

Special meetings of the shareholders may be called by the President, the Board of Directors, or the holders of not less than one-tenth of all the shares entitled to vote at the meeting. All meetings of the shareholders may be held within or without the state of Arkansas. Notice of the special meetings will be had as provided under Section 2 of this Article.

SECTION 4. Voting:

Voting at all shareholders meetings. A shareholder may vote either in person or by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized Attorney in Fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution unless otherwise provided by the proxy.
